Hope Bill Will Pass

Senator William Pearson has succeeded in having reported out of committee his bill providing for the establishment in East Jordan of a normal school. East Jordan has given about everything in sight to secure such a school. It has offered the state sixteen acres of land, splendid dormitories, a fine school building and $50,000 in cash. That is some drawing card and Sen. Pearson has the bill out of committee and without a doubt he will put it through the senate.

SNOW PLOW IS COMING THIS WAY

Started From Boyne City This Morning. So They Say

The condition of the country roads linking Charlevoix with its sister cities in the county is a matter of keen interest to the car owner of this section who has been for weeks impatiently chafing at the stubborn attitude of Old Man Winter, who despite some prayers and much profanity, has refused to die on schedule time.

Realizing this keen interest on the part of many of our readers, we have interviewed "the powers" and find that according to their plans, the tractor-plough should have started out today from Boyne City to break the road through to this city. Clerk Ernest Paskie, of the County Road Commission, assures us that every one in his department is on the job and that we may expect at least passable roads for automobile traffic by the first of next week. At the Boyne City-East Jordan end, the work is being carried on under the supervision of Frank House, superintendent of maintenance, assisted by Joseph Courier, superintendent of construction.

The road between Boyne City and Boyne Falls has already been ploughed out and attention will next be given to the East Jordan road. Mr. Paskie states that the plough may have to make more than one trip over each section of road to render it fit for automobile travel. The snow and ice are very hard and as the top layer softens, this must be ploughed to get down to a hard wearing surface again. Disking does very little good and in many cases the drifts are so deep and packed so hard that a plough is almost useless. Near Hippie's corner on the East Jordan road, there are places where the drifts are eight or ten feet deep. However, everyone is doing his best, including Old Sol and it is probable that patience will be rewarded in a few days.

HAMMOND GETS HAR-BOR SPGS. ROAD CONTRACT

Charlevoix Man In The Clear By Sum Of $300.00

O. D. Hammond, of this city, was the successful bidder on nine miles of gravel road, lying west of Pellston on the Pellston-Harbor Springs road, the bids closing on Monday, at Petoskey. This is a state reward proposition, the highway department furnishing one quarter of the necessary amount.

There were five bidders on this job and the proposals were close, the next lowest being only three hundred dollars higher than Mr. Hammond's. The latter's bid was $55,000.00.

Mr. Hammond expects to start work on this job by May 1st, and has purchased a new Dodge ton and a half dump truck to be used at that time.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Charlevoix People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first. But if you find 'tis from the kidneys, that serious kidney troubles may follow.

That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will be glad to know the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Charlevoix citizen.

Mrs. Elwin Johnson, 803 Bridge St., says: "When I had kidney trouble, my back was stiff and lame and when I did any stooping, sharp pains caught me in the small of my back. I had a great deal of headache and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended and after using them, I was cured in a fine way."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Johnson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

AUTO LICENSE FUND GROWING

First Quarter Returns Are Nearly Half Million More Than 1922

More than five million dollars was collected from auto owners in the state for license fees during the first quarter, figures made public last week showed. The amount for this quarter, $5,116,758.07, is $470,606 in excess of the figures for a like period last year. On this basis, it was asserted, total receipts for the year would be two million dollars greater than for last year, or close to fifteen million dollars.

The amounts received from various counties, together with the amount apportioned to those counties for road work are as follows:

Charlevoix	$4,409.85	$2,204.92
Cheboygan	2,350.75	1,175.17
Emmet	4,753.43	2,376.72

HARTWELL-EAGLETON WEDDING WEDNESDAY

Contracting Parties Are Well-Known Here

George W. Eagleton, well-known citizen of Charlevoix, who has but lately returned from Winter Park, Florida, where he has been spending the winter months, was married last Wednesday evening to Mrs. Belle O'Brien Hartwell, also of this city, at the home of the bride's father, James O'Brien. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. W. Long, of the Congregational church.

Mr. and Mrs. Eagleton are now at home to their many friends at the Eagleton residence on Mason street. The Courier wishes them all possible joy and prosperity in their married life.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Milton Block submitted to an operation at the hospital last Sunday and will be going home in a few days.

Edward Cole, of Beaver Island, had a growth removed from his knee last Sunday.

Mrs. James O'Brien and baby, who came to the hospital a week ago Sunday, will return to their home in this city, Thursday. Mrs. O'Brien submitted to an operation the day following her admission to the hospital.

Mrs. William Mayberry was admitted to the hospital last Saturday for a two weeks' medical treatment.

Mrs. Barnheisel, of the nursing staff, was called to Grand Rapids Thursday, on business. She will return home soon.

Mrs. Anna Paulson, who has been employed at the hospital during the winter, is leaving Friday morning for Grand Rapids, where she will stay with her sons awhile.

Miss Mary Finnan assisted the nursing staff of the hospital on a case one day last week.

ago, and one per cent below the ten-year average. For the country as a whole, it is 75.2 per cent as compared with 78.4 per cent last year and 84.3 per cent, the ten-year average. Michigan rye shows an average condition of 85 per cent, three per cent below last year and the ten-year average. The United States' crop averages about seven per cent below last year and the ten-year average.

There was a marked increase during 1922 in the number of hogs on farms. Corn was plentiful and the price of hogs was high in comparison with that of the crops. The number of head shipped to Detroit stock yards from September 1, 1922 to March 1, 1923 was over 50 per cent greater than during the corresponding period, one year ago. The inquiry made through the rural mail carriers in December showed that 7.4 per cent more sows would be bred for farrowing this spring than had

UNDER THE DOME AT LANSING

Report of 52nd Session's Opening Work From Standpoint Of Banking and Farming Interests

In a last minute effort to make no for lost time and really accomplish something worth while this session the lawmakers have been working night and day during the past week. In the House sessions have lasted far into the night. Minor appropriations bills are being passed in large numbers. Other routine legislation is being cleared away and some of the big issues confronting this session are being settled.

Taxation measures still rank in first place. Rep. Byrum's Income Tax bill has been reported favorably and is now receiving attention on the floor of the House. There is every indication that it will pass this body. If it does it may well be regarded as the greatest achievement of the session. The bill provides a flat income tax of 1 per cent on all personal incomes earned in Michigan after allowing exemptions of $1,000 for a single person, $2,000 for a married person and $400 for each child under 18, or other dependent. The purpose of the bill is to entirely remove the necessity for the general property tax for state purposes.

Another tax bill which is receiving attention along with the income tax is a measure to limit the rate of tax which may be assessed on real estate. A new tax bill which was presented during the week is aimed at the billion dollars on deposit in Michigan banks, trust, deposit, and security companies. It provides a one mill annual specific tax to be paid by the bank and deducted from the depositor's account. It is estimated that the tax would raise more than $1,000,000 annually.

One of the biggest battles of the session has been over the proposed amendments to the corporation franchise tax passed two years ago. The senate finally raised the maximum fee from $10,000 to $50,000, reduced the minimum from $50 to $10 and reduced the rate from 3-1/2 mills to 2-1/2 mills. After considerable debate the house has raised the maximum to $450,000 and passed the bill by a 71 to 25 vote. The Senate has refused to agree to this change, however, and probably the two Houses will have some difficulty in reaching an agreement regarding a maximum figure.

Tax Reform Biggest Problem
There is a general feeling on the part of most of the law-makers that some radical reform in Michigan's taxation system must be adopted to relieve general property of its disproportionate share of the taxation burden and secure more returns from intangible property and earning power. As Rep. John M. Espley, of Eagle, said in a recent debate "This state cannot endure half, taxed and half tax free."

In line with this policy, Sen. Charles R. Sligh, of Grand Rapids, has introduced a bill which would repeal the present law exempting county, township, municipal and school district bonds from taxation. The House is also considering a measure by Rep. Baxter, also of Grand Rapids, which is aimed to place all personal property on the tax roll.

While the chief topic of the interest in the legislature was whether or not the Governor would veto the Warner two cent gas tax, the taxation committee of the Senate recommended that Sen. Johnson's companion bill to the gas tax which eliminates the horsepower rating in figuring license fees and places the basis entirely on the weight of the car. The rate per horsepower would be 75 cents on cars weighing up to 2,000 pounds, while for heavier cars the rate would be increased 5 cents per hundred for each additional thousand pounds. This scale would reduce the auto license in Ford's to less than half the present amount, while the heavier cars would not be noticeably affected.

Gas Tax Gains Strength
Consideration in this measure at this particular time is regarded as very opportune and is stealing a lot of the Governor's thunder. Now that it is proposed to reduce the auto licenses, the automobile companies are beginning to line up behind the two cent gas tax idea. Sen. Connelly received a long telegram from the Packard Motor Car Co. which shows this change in attitude on the part of the big automobile manufacturing concerns. This telegram was in part as follows:

"We favor it strongly as a substitute for part of all of the less equitable weight or horsepower tax."

"We agree with the American Automobile Association, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the National Automobile

Mortgage Sale
Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Ney P. Smith, a single man, to Fred E. Frazier dated the 12th day of June, A. D. 1919, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix and the State of Michigan, on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1919, in Liber 57 of Mortgages, on page 345, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the sum of Seven Hundred Fifty (750) Dollars and fifty-six (56) Cents, and an Attorney's fee of Thirty Dollars, provided for in said mortgage and in addition the amount of taxes paid thereon, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Now, Therefore, By virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Friday, the 6th day of July, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, I shall sell at Public Auction to the highest bidder, at the East front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan (that being the place where the Charlevoix is held,) the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with seven per cent interest, and all legal costs, together with an attorney's fee of thirty Dollars, and the taxes paid thereon, as provided by law and as covenanted for therein, the premises being described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: The Northeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section Thirty-three (33) Township thirty-four (34) North, Range Eight (8) West, in the Township of Charlevoix and County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan.

Dated April 3rd, 1923.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale
Default having been made in the conditions of two certain real estate mortgages whereby the power of sale therein contained has become operative, which said mortgages were given respectively as follows, to-wit: the first of said mortgages dated March 21st, 1919 by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife, of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, on the twenty-second day of March, 1919, in Liber forty of mortgages on page two hundred and forty-six, and the second of said mortgages dated November 15, 1920, was given by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife, of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, on the fifth day of May, 1921 in Liber forty of mortgages on page four hundred and nineteen; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said first mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Six Hundred and Forty-two Dollars, principal and interest, and Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee as provided for by said mortgage; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said second mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Eleven Hundred and Forty-nine Dollars and Twenty-three cents, principal and interest, and the sum of Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee provided for by said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the money by either of said mortgages or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgages and of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgages will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due thereon of the said mortgages of principal and interest, together with the costs and expenses of foreclosure on these mortgages including the Attorney fees therein provided for, at Public Auction to the highest bidder thereon, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held,) on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day. The premises described in said mortgages being described as follows: to-wit: In said first mortgage, the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township Thirty-four (34) North of Range Eight (8) West, containing Forty (40) acres of land more or less, according to the government survey thereof; and in said second mortgage, the West half of the North East quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township thirty-four (34) North of Range eight (8) West containing twenty (20) acres more or less, according to the government survey thereof; both said descriptions being located in the Township of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan.

Dated March 21, 1923.

BIRTHDAY PARTY AT EMREY HOME

"Bobby" Celebrates His Fifth Anniversary

"Bobby," the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emrey, gave a party to some fourteen of his young friends and playmates at the home of his parents on Clinton Street, last Monday afternoon, in honor of his fifth birthday.

There was the usual cake, crowned with five candles and many nice presents were brought by the little guests for Master Bobby. Games were played and everybody had a good time generally. An ice cream eating contest was a novel feature of the affair and the honors went to Jack Rose, who, they tell us, was on his fourth dish when time was called.

companion that Charlevoix was the only place for boating, where tides and mud are unknown, and won from him a promise to visit us this summer. Mr. Powers stated that he had personally placed 400 signs, at various points along the line of his Michigan-Florida journey by automobile and return, bidding the traveler to visit Charlevoix, the Beautiful.

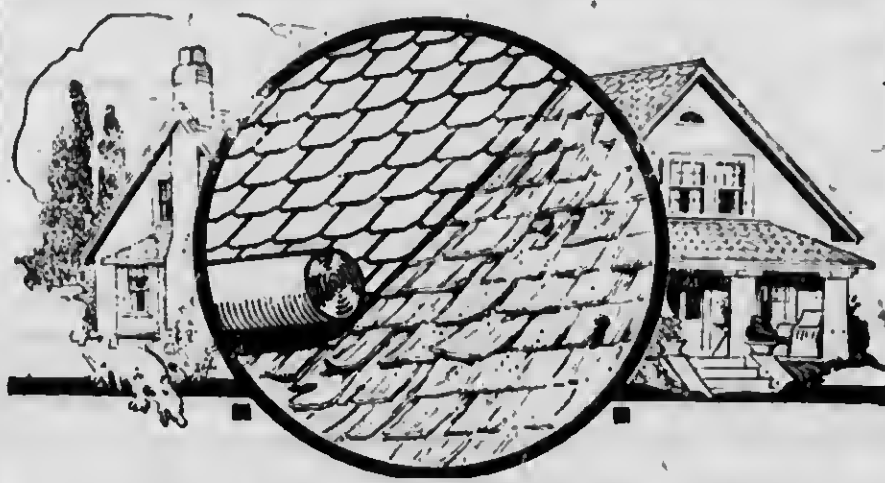

R. A. Herman was the next speaker and modestly confessed that his chief mission on his trip south was to follow Mr. Powers and see that he had put up the signs faithfully and correctly. This, and the personal absorption of "several million dollars worth of Florida sunshine," he averred, were the main features of his vacation.

Rev. Herman Burns was the next speaker on the program and expressed himself as being thoroughly at home in the atmosphere of a commercial association, since he was in the habit of frequently attending the meetings of a similar body in his home town. He spoke of his pleasure at having been permitted to become a resident of this city, which, he assured his hearers, had grown very dear to him as was the little congregation over which he presided and who claimed him as their pastor, and extolled Charlevoix's many desirable and delightful features.

While he confessed to unfamiliarity with the peculiar problems of a resort community, there were some phases of our social life that needed correction, he said. His real-life stories of the fourteen year old boy of excellent parentage whose chief ambition in life it was to become a bootlegger and that of the man who sat in the poker game with the lawyer and so felt immune from the law's penalties were tales to arouse even the most hardened and lethargic conscience in his audience in spite of the laughter provoked by their amusing aspect. Truly, such conditions in a modern, supposedly civilized community simply shrink for remedy.

The program closed with the remarks of Mr. Burns and the meeting was adjourned until one month from the date.

The ladies of the Congregational Church will serve one of their famous thirty-five cent suppers in the dining-room of the church on Wednesday, April 25th.—Adv. 15-12.

ANNOUNCEMENT

OF INTEREST TO—

MILLIONS of FAMILIES

"I will build a car for a multitude"

Said Henry Ford in 1903—Read how the fulfillment of that prophecy is now made possible through the

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today. Stop in and talk it over, with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

AIRPLANES FLY TO THE RESCUE

STARVING FOX ISLANDERS' APPEAL IS ANSWERED

As in Bible Times, Manna Drops From the Sky Upon Their Desolate Winter Prison

On Monday of last week started a drama that equals in the sensational features it has produced and the thrills it has created any scenario of the silver screen filmed in the "far frozen North" to startle our jaded natures and quicken our pulse beats. Three men, battling the elements, suffering from cold, tossed in an angry sea; struggling over treacherous, breaking ice, sometimes rowing with frost bitten hands, again dragging their frail and leaking craft over the ice to open water, starving, weak and all but hopeless—such was the plight of Edward Horn, Carl Cooper and Ellis Sayres, struggling to find aid for themselves and their suffering comrades, left on the lonely and isolated South Fox Island, with only a few frozen potatoes between them and death by starvation.

For sixty hours they fought against almost insurmountable odds, finally reaching the mainland at Northport at eight-thirty o'clock Thursday morning. Here they told their story to Gilbert M. Dame, manager of the Francis H. Haserot Oratorical and former State food and dairy commissioner, who at once got in touch with the Grand Rapids Herald, told the situation and appealed for an airplane from the Selfridge field near Mt. Clemens, to take food to the starving unfortunates marooned on South Fox island.

The island colony, (strangely enough) thirteen in number—twelve men and a woman, the wife of the cook, have been on the island since last November. The men have been cutting timber for the Zapf Fruit & Package Co. of Northport and Traverse City. When they opened camp last fall, they had sufficient provisions for several months. The unusual duration of cold weather was, however, not taken into consideration and three weeks ago all supplies gave out, with the exception of a few frozen potatoes. Previous to the successful trip that brought them to Northport, various members of the party had made two desperate attempts to get across to the mainland, but breaking ice and blinding snow forced them back, two of them nearly drowning.

In answer to the call for help from Northport, a De Havilland plane, piloted by Lieut. Russell Meredith, U. S. A. (the man who took Dr. Armstrong to the Beavers in February), left Selfridge Field at about nine o'clock Friday morning. At about the same time, W. A. Parker, wealthy airplane importer of Chicago, and his pilot, John Miller, left the Checkerboard Aviation Field at Maywood, Ill., just out of Chicago, in a giant Liberty Biplane bombing machine, capable of carrying six persons. Meredith was to get his provisions at Northport. Parker carried no provisions but had two Chicago Herald-Examiner reporters with him to investigate conditions. A previous attempt to reach the island, made Thursday morning, by Lieut. E. C. Whitehead and Harold V. Wilcox of the Selfridge field had failed; their plane, an Army Jenny, crashing through slush-ice into the waters of the lake, as the pilot attempted a landing off Northport, eighteen miles from his goal, the passengers barely escaping with their lives.

CROSSED STRAITS ON ICE IN MAY 1846

Chronic weather kickers, disgruntled by the apparent unwilliness of Old Man Winter to leave upper Michigan and take with him the thick layer of ice covering the Straits of Mackinac, can find at least a small measure of comfort in the weather stories of the "old timers."

Here is a story whose accuracy is vouched for by one of its characters. In the month of May, 1846, a boat builder on St. Helena island found his supply of nails almost exhausted. He sent an assistant to St. Ignace to replenish the stock, the trip being made on foot across the ice. The assistant is the man who relates this anecdote.

During the same year, it is said, a Maypole dance, symbol of spring-time and all that goes with that verdant season, was held on the ice in the straits near Mackinac Island.

Another man tells of a trip he made across the ice from Mackinac City to St. Ignace on a stage on the twenty-third day of April. The year of this occurrence is unknown, but its relator says that it was before the advent of railroads in the northern Michigan district.

But the story which gives most food for thought is that which sets forth that in the year 1816 there was a layer of snow on the ground during the entire summer season. This last story is the one upon which the pessimists are basing their predictions that northern Michigan is doomed to a summerless year.

MEET "MISS CHARLEVOIX"

SHE IS BRADY & SON'S NEW SPEED CRAFT

A Copy of Car Wood's "Miss America"—She will Cleave the Waves At A 45 Mile Clip

Murder-hoing fans hereabouts and many others will be interested to learn about the new speed-craft that is rapidly nearing completion at the shop of H. L. Brady & Son on the shore of Round Lake, just east of the Logan Thompson boat house. The new record-breaker-to-be is 22 feet long by 6 foot beam, and is built to the design of John L. Hacker, noted marine architect. She is of the hydroplane, racing type, almost identical with Car Wood's famous "Miss America." In fact, she is to be christened "Miss Charlevoix."

A four cylinder, 100 H. P., Hall-cot marine gasoline engine will drive this new beauty. (For a beauty she is) at an estimated speed of 45 miles per hour. According to the Hackley plans, she could carry safely a 300 H. P. motor and with such equipment could reach a speed of 60 miles per hour. Mr. Brady, however, has preferred the lighter-powered engine, which means, of course, less gasoline consumption and longer life for his new craft.

The design on which this craft is built is by no means new and untried, as it has been followed by speed-craft builders since 1913. A peculiar feature of the craft is the "hydroplane" construction of the hull, a double bottom for about one third the length of the vessel forward projecting below the remainder of the hull, giving her the appearance, when viewed from the side of being cut away for about two thirds of her length.

At this point on the hull, just ahead of the engine bed, strange as it may seem to the layman unskilled in modern marine architecture, the rudder is placed—the reason for this unusual construction being the position of the propeller in the rear, which leaves no room for a rudder. The engine is connected through a forward drive gear box with the propeller and the gas tank is located under the after deck. She is steered from a rear seat with the usual automobile type of wheel and similarly controlled.

The frame of the new boat is of second growth white ash, as specified in the Hackley plans, and the underplanking—bottoms and sides, of Washington white pine; also according to specifications. She is finished and decked in Philippine mahogany, to receive two coats of waterproof varnish. Screws are used in the construction, deeply countersunk and the holes filled with wooden plugs, chiseled flush and varnished so that one can hardly tell that a screw has been set at any place, without close examination.

Every part of the hull is built to the Hackley dimensions, exact to 1/16th of an inch. Full sized templates were cut at the start and every part cut to fit. All fittings are special.

The Bradys expect to launch the "Miss Charlevoix," about the 15th of June. She will be used by them as a demonstration-hoing, as they are planning the construction of several more crafts this season; one, another Hackley design, 26 feet in length by 6 foot beam. Besides this, they have a contract with the Regal Gas Engine Company, of Coldwater, Michigan, to build six smaller boats, designed for trolling purposes. These will be 15 ft. long by 4 foot beam, of standardized design. They will be equipped with Model Y. 2 H. P. Regal gasoline engines.

The building of these boats bids fair to become quite an industry. Both Mr. Brady and his son have had long experience in their line and should make a success of it. Roy Brady's specialty is the designing and installation of marine engines and he is well equipped for this delicate and exacting work.

D. F. MEECH WILL OPEN MARKET SOON

C. J. Garn to Have Fruit and Vegetable Stand

Darwin F. Meech is having his market at 410 Bridge Street redecorated—walls, ceiling, vegetable trays and orange bins having received the attention of the painter.

He expects to be open for business on Tuesday of next week and will carry a full line of meats, fish and poultry. With him is associated C. J. Garn, formerly of Petoskey, who will handle the fancy fruit and vegetable end of the business. The store bids fair to be one of the most attractive in town when the work of repair and renovation is completed.

ATHLETICS A GREAT BENEFIT

THEY PROMOTE CLEAN LIVING AND BETTER MANHOOD

Roosevelt Believed Then, To Be Best Antidote For Overcivilization

A group of forty enthusiastic young athletes are working hard in preparation for two big meets to take place in the near future. The first, a state meet to be held at Kalamazoo Normal, May 12, and the other at Cadillac, May 25 and 26. Track athletics are very important to the young person. They teach good living, manliness, self control, and above all a wholesome respect for superiors.

The following item is taken from a pamphlet published by the navy department, Washington—and portrays the great benefit from wholesome athletics:

"The tendency, with the increasing material development of modern times is to undue bodily comfort and luxury, the over emphasis of soft living. A soft body tends to build a soft character. One of our jobs in this country in the coming years will be to fight to retain the temper of the national alloy, the temper which has made and kept us a nation. I recall a line from Kipling which runs something like this:

"Idols of greasy altars built for the spirits ease; Smug little brazen beads and talking fetishes."

Substitute "body" for "spirit" in the first line—and this is what we have to guard against, and clean, healthy sport is one of the means we have of saving ourselves. In this country we have not to be careful that we don't lose our game-fish and breed a race of bottom living mud-fish."—Theodore Roosevelt.

Colonel Roosevelt has issued here a plea and a warning that should carry far. As a nation grows in wealth and power, it is also inclined to lean more and more to luxury and soft living. It is usually the uphill fight that molds the worthwhile sinew.

The chance for softer living through the automobile and other pleasant luxuries, has come upon college men with greatly increasing extension. The worth of football, for example, in combating this enormous. Football is mainly judged by the pageantry and hullabaloo of the big game.

The grind of training, the sacrifice, the drudgery and the discipline are forgotten.

Football means service as well as glory—discipline as well as fame. It teaches early "to suffer and get strong."

Bill Roper had his entire Princeton squad reporting every day at three o'clock, with not one member of the squad one minute late all autumn.

The Tiger delegation learned in three months what promptness, sacrifice, discipline and hard work meant.

It has been argued by many that college athletes have grown into an importance that is all out of focus. But through football, baseball, crew, track, basketball, swimming, hockey, tennis, golf, etc., they have now reached 90 per cent of the student body in the big mass movement of the times. These men must also keep up their student work.

There may be over emphasis upon a few big games and a few football stars, but this is a minor detail when placed against the vast good accomplished upon and down the roll call.

And a few such sports are needed to help create and develop interest. It can't be all drudgery in training. There must be some reward that is in no sense financial. Big football games may be over-played—not in amount of space used, but in the over-importance placed upon an individual mistake. The football player should be made to feel that he can make a mistake, two or three if necessary, without being damned for eternity. But along this line there is a growing tendency to give one team credit for winning rather than to feed the losing team criticism for defeat.

The growth of sport and athletics in general, have proved an even greater gain in luring out the average citizen between 30 and 75, mainly for golf and tennis. Added to this has been the astonishing athletic development among the women, where thousands upon thousands

ORATORS FROM NINE SCHOOLS COMPETED FRIDAY

Traverse City, and Cheboygan Contestants Won First Places At Sub-District Meet

On Friday evening of last week, the Sub-District Oratorical and Declamatory contest was held in the auditorium of the Charlevoix high school. The contestants in oratory were five in number—the following schools being represented: Traverse City, Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Kingsley and Charlevoix.

Glen Morey, of Traverse City, took as his subject, "East Is East and West Is West," and received first award. He showed considerable oratorical ability. Marjorie Brown, of Charlevoix, took second place. Her subject, "The Japanese Must Go," was handled very creditably, though in a slightly different manner from Mr. Morey. James Mack, of Petoskey, came third, with "The Open Road to the Sea."

Representatives from Traverse City, Albia, Kingsley, Pellston, Boyne City, Petoskey, Charlevoix, Cheboygan and Harbor Springs took part in the declamatory contest. They were all top-notchers and the judges had a hard time making awards.

Verna Harrington, of Cheboygan, stood at the head of the list, her subject being "The South and Its Problem." Catherine Windsor, of Albia, followed with "The Divinity of War." "The New South" was handled well and forcefully by Theodore Dietz, of Pellston, who took third prize.

The successful contestants in both oratorical and declamatory contests will take part in a higher contest, which will be held either in Cadillac or Traverse City in the near future.

MIAMI BELIEVES IN ADVERTISING

SPENT $144,120.00 DURING THE PAST YEAR

Claims Tourists' Expenditures Over $25,000,000 as Result of Publicity Campaign

Just a word about advertising. The Petoskey Evening News, in one of its recent issues, speaks of receiving a letter from I. W. Leach, resident of that city, now at his winter home in Orlando, Fla.

In this letter, Mr. Leach says that Florida cities have found that, it pays well to advertise well. Miami, he writes, spent $144,120.00 for advertising the last season. As a result, the Miami chamber of commerce reports that the tourists spent more than $25,000,000.00 in Miami alone, this last season, and in addition, real estate sales totalled $15,000,000.00. More than 20,000 people were turned away from Miami because of lack of accommodations. The big advertising campaign is given as the reason for the wonderful season.

The Charlevoix chamber of commerce, in issuing the attractive booklet for the season of 1923 and planning its wide distribution has taken a step in the right direction. Although a large number of these pamphlets, describing the "beauties" and "advantages" of Charlevoix as a summer resort, have already been sent to various points, the city has ordered 5,000 more of them to be distributed. The more than 400 residents and the guests at their various hotels before their departure for the north. The more than 400 signs placed along the main-travelled route to Florida by Alonzo Powers, of this city, directing the traveler to Charlevoix, should also be productive of very gratifying results this summer.

SHADES OF SHAKESPEARE WERE PARADED

Local Club Staged Novel Entertainment Tuesday

The Shakespeare Club held an attractive costume party Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Crane, which was a novel affair and well attended.

Each of the guests appeared in the proper garb of one of the Shakespearean characters and much cleverness and ingenuity were displayed in the various portrayals of the ancient styles. Mrs. R. B. Armstrong, as Petruchio, and Mrs. Robert Bridge in the character of Rosalind, were especially striking.

Dainty refreshments were served and before the members departed Allen Arnold was summoned to appear with his trusty camera and make an impressive record of the quaint and motley crew.

ARBOR AND BIRD DAY DESIGNATED BY THE GOVERNOR

For more than half a century, our people have been accustomed to observe in appropriate ways a day proclaimed as Arbor Day. This year we asked also to name the week which begins on April 29th Tree Planting Week. The purpose of these observances is, of course, to call attention not only to the economic value of our forests, once the pride of the commonwealth though now sadly depleted, and to the need of reforestation, but to encourage the individual planting of trees, shade trees, fruit trees, nut trees.

We need a comprehensive, workable forestry program, and our State Department of Conservation is intelligently and steadily working toward that goal.

It is fitting too, since birds and trees are intimately associated in our minds, that Bird Day should be combined with Arbor Day.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I do hereby designate Friday, May 4th, 1923, to be set apart as Arbor and Bird Day, and I urge it upon the people of Michigan in general and the teachers of our schools in particular that suitable Arbor and Bird Day programs be arranged for that day.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this seventeenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-seventh.

TYPE-A SEDAN

Its dependability is taken for granted—its economy of operation is proverbial.

Comment, as a rule, is directed to the richness of its fittings, and the dignified beauty of its coach work.

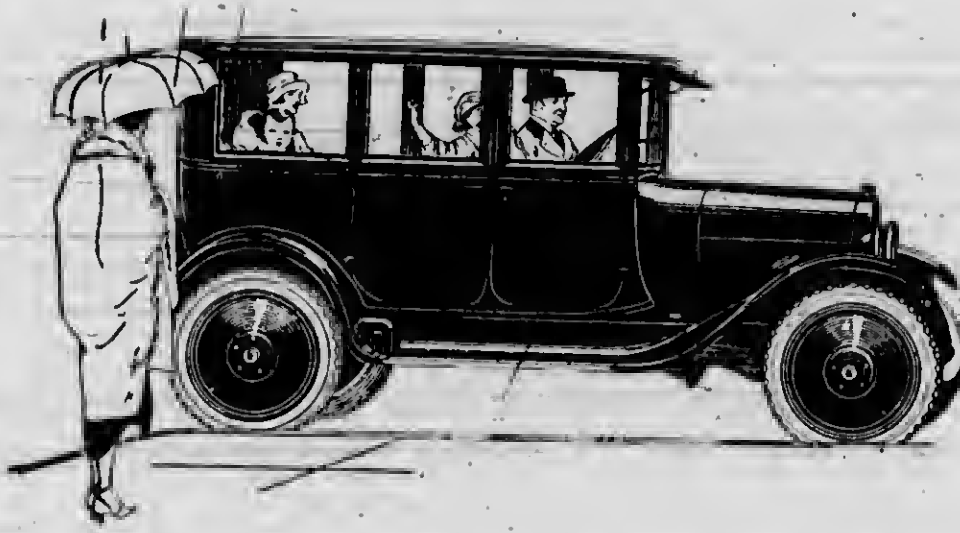

This beauty is not a superficial thing. It goes much deeper than mere external adornments.

Like all creations of genuine excellence, it emanates from the honest value which Dodge Brothers have built into the car.

You sense it in the depth and comfort of the seats—richly upholstered in genuine mohair velvet. It makes itself known the instant you close the doors—which snap solidly shut, like the doors of a safe. It emanates unmistakably from every line and curve of the sturdy body.

It becomes most evident when you discover that in smart company, where a car of less distinction would appear at its worst, Dodge Brothers Type-A Sedan appears at its best.

LEGION TO OPEN ORPHANS' HOME

STATE COMMANDER HARKNESS PLANS NEW INSTITUTION NEAR OTTER LAKE

CHILDREN ARE TO BE ITS GUESTS

A Children's Bill for the orphans of Michigan's veterans of all wars will be the great constructive work of the American Legion in 1923, according to Dr. Robert B. Harkness, of Houghton, state commander.

This home will be located at Otter Lake, a beautiful site near the corner lines of Genesee, Lapier and Tuscola counties. It will be as different from the usual child "institution" as is the American Legion hospital for tubercular veterans at Battle Creek, Legion officials say.

Wants It To Be Real Home.

Dr. Harkness, as ex-officio chairman of the committee, wants the bill to be a real home. "The children there are to be regarded as the guests of the Legion, which will thus serve its comrades who have gone West." So far as is possible, the mothers of the children will be assisted; it is planned to afford some of them employment at the home itself.

The Legion itself will take care of the finances of the home from its own funds. It has been assisted in the obtaining of a suitable site and building by several Legion posts and philanthropic individuals, and it plans also to receive memorial contributions from men and women who lost sons or other relatives in the Great War. These funds, however, will be put to special purposes and the general expenses, according to Dr. Harkness, will be covered by the Legion itself.

Was Formerly a Sanitarium.

The grounds and buildings for the proposed home were formerly used as a sanitarium. The grounds are ample and the buildings of far better than average construction. "Broad shady" spaces afford excellent play spots for the children.

"The Legion's greatest task," says Commander Harkness, "is to care for its disabled comrades and for the children and families of the men who made the supreme sacrifice. Our hospital for tubercular patients at Battle Creek is our answer to our first duty, and the orphanage at Otter Lake will fulfill our second one."

"Plans for opening the home are not yet complete, but we want the names of any orphans of veterans whom we can help."

for the part these lands are unfit for agricultural purposes and that the land should be taken before entry is made.

"It will be the unvarying attitude of the state department of agriculture," Mr. Watkins says, "to protect the innocent settler from taking up lands within the state that obviously is unfit for agricultural purposes."

Mr. Watkins is well known in regard to land in the state of Michigan. His warning should be heeded by all ex-service men contemplating making entry upon the land in question.

FUNDS OF INCOMPETENT VETS TO BE GUARDED

The American Legion national rehabilitation committee has started a campaign to see that money allotted to mentally incompetent ex-service men, administered through their guardians, must be spent in the proper manner, and if it is not action will be taken against the guardians by the committee. Joe Sparks, chairman of the committee, has stated that in a number of cases, guardians of the unfortunate veterans have diverted the funds assigned by the government to their own use, affording the man for whom the money was intended only the bare necessities of life.

General, their expenses being defrayed by the Chicago Tribune. They were instructed to keep together, the army plane acting as pilot. Postmaster George Weaver, of this city, received telegraphic notification Friday morning to prepare a landing for Lee and Woodridge on the Charlevoix aviation field, south of the Lincoln school and have a supply of gas and oil on hand for the planes when they should arrive at about 12:30 p. m.

This was done and a reception committee waited at the field until late in the afternoon, but no planes appeared. The day was bright but the ground was overhung with a light haze of mist and the air seemed smoky. At about two o'clock, the noise of airplane engines was heard but no one could locate the craft. It was at this time, it was later ascertained, that the planes flew over Charlevoix on their way to the north, having lost their bearings in the fog that filled the upper air at the altitude they were holding, about 8,000 feet. The watchers on the field grew weary and one by one the cars assembled nearby left the scene, the oil wagon drove away and the planes were given up for lost.

Finally, at about twenty minutes past four, the noise of an engine was again heard and a big yellow plane, the "268," E. Hamilton Lee, pilot, skimmed down over the field, circled two or three times and landed near the beacon fire in the center of the field which had been lit at the first sound of the engine to guide the plane to earth. Quite a crowd had gathered again and pilot Lee had no trouble in securing assistance in turning his machine around and "taxiing" under power, with two bystanders steering the tail of the plane, up into the northeast corner of the field, where he could take on gas and oil at a safe distance from the fire. The oil wagon drove up and the crowd gathered around with the reporters in the foreground to listen to pilot Lee's story of the trip, while the plane took on fuel.

Lee and his partner, Merrill Tinsley, of the Tribune, left the Charlevoix field, near Chicago, at about 9:30 p. m. Their first landing was Muskegon, which they made without mishap, taking on about 75 to 80 pounds of supplies and some 27 gallons of gas. Pilot Lee had already been in the air most of the day before, having left Omaha, Nebraska, Thursday morning on his regular mail run, reaching Chicago at 3:00 p. m. Leaving Muskegon, where they were joined by Woodridge and Krumpholtz, the army plane, they flew out over Lake Michigan, rising at times to an altitude of 14,000 feet, where, as Tinsley graphically described the sensation, it was "colder than hell."

The two planes kept together; the mail plane above, the army plane below. When abreast of the Manitowish, some forty miles south of this city, the machines took the course through the channel between the islands and the mainland and it was here that Lee lost sight of the companion plane, its regulation army blue blending confusingly with the dark waters beneath them.

Pilot Lee, unable to use his compass on account of the vibration of his machine, travelling at the rate of 135 miles per hour, and unable to see through the gathering mists, sailed completely over Charlevoix and tore on through the gloom until near E. Doufette, on the shores of the northern peninsula, where the mists lifted a trifle and he was able to see his mistake. Realizing that he was miles out of his course he swung about and headed back following the shoreline over Northport and swooping out over the Reavers, then back to the mainland and Charlevoix.

After consultation with Capt. Bonner and other Charlevoixians familiar with the Fox Island district and much poring over maps, Mr. Lee decided not to make the try for the islands that night, so hired Paul Heise to watch the machine until morning and he and Tinsley went to the Hotel Charlevoix, which must have seemed pretty good to them, as Tinsley said they had had but one meal "piece" and one hour's sleep since the day before.

Lee had planned to get away by eight o'clock Saturday morning, but decided to wait until the weather cleared up a bit, it being still a trifle foggy. They finally left the school house field at about eleven o'clock and rose steadily in the direction of Charlevoix until an altitude of 18,000 feet was attained, this being an ideal flying level for the condition of the weather. The veteran mail pilot bought a number of tools here with the idea of assisting in the repair of the big French bomber, with W. A. Parker, general manager of the Major Engineering Corporation, and his party of newspaper men, which Lieut. Woodridge reported from Northport he had found on Fox Island in a wrecked condition.

Lee returned to this city at about two p. m., Saturday, having successfully made his landing on the island and effected the delivery of his supplies. He brought with him as a passenger, riding in the forward mail compartment of the plane, Mr. Parker, who had a weird story to tell.

One of the men on the island, Howard Smith, of Traverse City, was apparently ill with appendicitis, having a severe pain in his side. "It was apparent that conditions on the island were terrible," Parkes stated,

Invest in a Thriving Furniture Factory

Grand Rapids has dozens of prosperous furniture factories. The stock in most of them is owned by just a few persons and the public generally does not participate in the profits. The Thwaites Furniture Co. offers you an opportunity to share in its profits through the sale of a limited amount of $10 par value common stock.

BILLIONS are being spent building homes. There is an extraordinary demand for furniture to furnish them. Factories are busy and earnings are big. Would you like to share in the profits of the only fiber furniture manufacturer in Grand Rapids, the world's greatest furniture center?

The Thwaites Furniture Co. sales were over $300,000 last year. Orders now booked run it to capacity throughout the season. Much more business is in sight, if production facilities can be enlarged to handle it. To secure capital for expansion, a limited amount of $10 par value common stock is being sold, owners of which will participate fully in the profits of the business. There is no preferred stock.

An Unusual Record of Earnings 15% Dividend Last December

This company was started in November, 1918, with just $100 capital. On August 1, 1922, its paid in capital was $75,000, all from accumulated earnings put back into the business. It manufactures the famous FIBER-KRAFT line of durable, inexpensive fiber furniture, sold throughout the country and in big demand. Its president and general manager is John Thwaites, who has had 30 years' experience in making fiber furniture, and who founded and was for nearly 10 years head of the Ypsilanti Reed Furniture Co., which paid 15% dividends semi-annually during his connection.

"We landed on the island safely," Parker said, "and made our way to the camp. When we got there, we found the lumbermen had tied up their foreman, a swede, named Ask, and another man whom they called the 'roughneck,' claiming that he had acted as Ask's bully. It was open mutiny."

The woodmen told Parker that they had had nothing to eat except frozen potatoes and beans. Ask and his bully had attempted to keep them in subjection, had abused them and threatened them with guns. The gang finally succeeded in getting the guns away from their bosses and tying them up with ropes. It was after this, they said, that Horn, Cooper and Snyder made their perilous journey to the mainland for assistance.

One of the men on the island, Howard Smith, of Traverse City, was apparently ill with appendicitis, having a severe pain in his side. "It was apparent that conditions on the island were terrible," Parkes stated,

"I stayed in the camp all night and knew." He induced the men, he said, to release their prisoners, but they were kept under strong guard.

Soon after their arrival Friday, Parker and his party attempted to fly back to the main land with the sick man but got only eight miles from the island when a connecting rod broke. Unable to volplane back, on account of their low altitude, pilot Miller drove the engine for all she was worth and reached the South Fox again safely, but with the engine in a sad wreck, a piston, connecting rod and spark plug shot. It was in this condition that Woodridge, driving the plane that accompanied Lee from Muskegon, found them when he made his successful landing on Friday morning. Lieut. Woodridge reported having found both the other army planes disabled at Northport, on his return to that place. Lieut. Russell Meredith having broken his landing gear in coming down at that point and Lieut. Whitehead and Harold V. off.

Wilcox, his companion, resting after their narrow escape from drowning when their plane went nose first through the soft ice.

Mr. Parker left this city Saturday by train for Chicago and Lee, remaining here over Saturday night, hopped off for Chicago at 2:15 p. m. Sunday, arriving there, according to the Chicago Tribune, at 5 p. m. On the trip up from Chicago, he burned 90 gallons of gas and maintained an average speed of 135 miles per hour and an altitude of 8,000 feet. They were down in Muskegon only two hours. Most of the way from Chicago, a forty mile gale backed them up and cut down gas consumption. Mr. Lee reported the ice pretty well broken up in the southern half of the lake but solid as a rock from the Manitowish north.

Sunday, according to the reports, a car ferry from Frankfort succeeded in reaching the stranded survivors on the island and took them all off.

PRIMARY DISTRIBUTION PASSES HOUSE

Merrison Bill Wins There By Vote Of 72 to 22

By a vote of 72 to 22, the Michigan legislature, at its session in Lansing, today passed the primary distribution bill. The bill provides for the distribution of the primary school fund on the basis of the free school law passed by the House Monday. The bill presents a line theory of equal distribution and of aid to the poor districts of the northern part of the state, but it likewise puts Wayne county of nearly $1,000,000 and takes from the city of Grand Rapids and proximately $100,000.

The bill was passed after another big wind storm in which all the regulars and some others talked their heads off about the magnanimous sentiments of the richer districts and the awful needs of the poor ones. But strange as it may seem it was from many of the districts which lose by the passage of the bill that much of the support for the bill came.

At Dykstra, of Grand Rapids, led the opposition to the bill and his only support came from John Holland of Gogebic county. On the other hand Rep. Merrison of Antrim county, introducer of the bill and perhaps the clearest speaker in the House as well as one of the most influential members, led the battle for his bill. He was supported by Rep. Miles of Mecosta, Espie of Clinton, Butler of Lapeer, Roxborough of Osceola, Lennon of Genesee and Munwaring of Washtenaw.

DEATH TAKES HIM WITHOUT WARNING

"Daddy" Glasgow Stricken By A Brain Hemorrhage

Samuel Glasgow, perhaps better known here as "Daddy," dropped dead last Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

He was in the basement of the Hotel Charlevoix, where he was employed as janitor, busy about his duties, when the end came. Drs. Armstrong and McMillan were called and pronounced the cause of his death as heart failure. A post mortem examination revealed the fact that a cerebral hemorrhage had also occurred.

Mr. Glasgow was forty-four years of age. He was born in Belfast, Ireland, a son of the late William and Jane Glasgow. He came to Smithson Camp, near Norwood, when very young with his widowed mother and his brothers; later moving to Charlevoix, where the greater part of his life was spent. He was the youngest of a family of fourteen children, of which four are now living—David, of Cookstown, Ireland; John, of Glasgow, Scotland; William, of Harbor Springs and George M., of Charlevoix.

Mrs. Charles Hull Dies at Ripe Age of Nearly 86

Mrs. Charles Hull, aged resident of this city, passed away at her home in this city last Thursday, April 19, a victim of apoplexy.

Mrs. Hull was born in New York state on September 2, 1837, and was eighty-five years and seven months and a half old at the time of her death.

She was the mother of Will (with whom she lived), Bud, Charley, and Fred Hull, and of Mrs. Tom Taylor, all of this city. There are also quite a number of grandchildren.

The funeral was held from her son's home on Saturday of last week and the body was interred at Brookside. Four of her grandsons acted as pall bearers.

Introduced as "atmosphere" in the Paramount picturization of "To Have and To Hold," which comes to the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday, April 28 and 29, are Shakespeare, Ben Johnson, Van Dyke and many others famous in the history of art and letters. Much of the action of the picture takes place at the Court of King James I. of England, and the many court festivities and revels are realistically pictured.

The man who escaped from a burning hut in "Above All Law," the picture coming to the Palace Theatre next Wednesday, May 2, had his costume, searched. The hut, built of flimsy material especially for this scene, burned faster than was expected and the fleeing actor put more energy than usual into his work. The picture is dramatic and thrilling.

Suggestions From County Agent Hagerman Worthwhile Your Closest Attention

Leguminous Crop Proves Worth In State—Acreage Increase Great In Last Three Years

Although Charlevoix county has had a great increase in her acreage of alfalfa during the past three years, coming from only 1,590 acres in 1919, to 3,915 acres in 1922 (according to figures given out by Verne H. Church, of Lansing, federal crops statistician for Michigan,) there is room for a still further increase, in the interests of more efficient farming in the county.

Realization of the value of this leguminous crop has been general over the entire state, the state increase in acreage planted to alfalfa having been 470 per cent since 1919. The state cut 248,000 acres in 1922, as against 75,000 in 1919.

The effectiveness of alfalfa in cheapening the production of milk and meat, and in soil improvement, should prove a great advantage to these farming sections which have taken up alfalfa on an increased scale. Present conditions warrant still further substantial increases in the area planted to alfalfa in Charlevoix county.

During the past twenty years alfalfa has commanded more interest in Michigan in proportion to the acreage grown than any other forage crop.

At the present time those who have had experience with growing it are fairly well divided into two classes. One is the enthusiastic group made up of those who have worked out successful methods of handling this crop, and who have grown alfalfa under adapted conditions. These are inclined to speak in glowing terms of the high yield of hay secured, its superiority for feeding purposes and the value of alfalfa in improving the land.

The other, the doubtful or pessimistic group, is composed of those who have not made a success with alfalfa or who have planted it under conditions not suited to its growth. They are often equally emphatic in stating that alfalfa cannot be considered as a dependable crop for Michigan.

Through the experience of those who have succeeded and those who have failed in alfalfa growing, the production of alfalfa has at the present time become quite well established. Its acreage is increasing steadily each year. The success of this crop rightly handled, and the value of alfalfa may as a feed, has been demonstrated to the extent that it is apparent that a much greater acreage of alfalfa is warranted in Michigan.

Successful crops may be found growing on soils ranging in texture from light sands, light enough to blow, to heavy clays which work with difficulty. Good drainage is a characteristic of all soils where thrifty alfalfa is found.

Alfalfa fields may be found well distributed throughout the southern peninsula and in certain of the more developed upper peninsula counties. This crop is of greatest value in the older farming sections and has no great place at present in newly cleared sections of northern Michigan where June grass comes in with surprising vigor and clover is easily secured.

Experience has shown that ordinary methods of culture which may give good results with our better known forage crops, cannot be depended upon to give successful results with alfalfa, but if the requirements and culture of this crop are thoroughly understood, dependable and profitable returns may be secured under a wide variety of soil and climatic conditions.

While a comparatively few farmers located on favorable soils may secure a good stand with little effort, it is necessary for the majority who wish to grow alfalfa to understand the requirements of this crop and make proper preparations before seeding.

Increase in the production of alfalfa will be largely in proportion to the spread of accurate information regarding the proper handling of this crop. An increased alfalfa acreage will insure the production and increase the yield of leguminous hay, so necessary in feeding economically.

Information of this kind will be brought out in the Dairy and Alfalfa campaign which will start April 30.

Better Bulls Will Improve County Dairy Farms

(By Prof. O. E. Reed.)

There should be more dairy sires in Charlevoix county. The cows now in the county, according to production records given in the statistics, are just average cows with production marks near the state average of a little under 4,000 pounds of milk a year.

In short, there is abundant room for improvement in the production of Charlevoix county cows, and better sires to head the herds of the district are a vital factor in this improvement. All the bulls used for milk herds in the county should be of the best type and best production that it is possible to obtain.

It is impossible for the average farmer with six to a dozen cows to own a bull that is good enough to make an increase of production in the heifer calves from the best cows that he has in the herd. This is impossible, simply because it would cost him too much for service for heifer calves obtained from the bull. This is exactly why the production of the average cow is what it is today because the farmer has not been able to own or obtain the service of a good enough sire and has been content to use a scrub bull.

While it is not possible for an individual farmer with a few cows to own a good sire, it is entirely possible and feasible for a group of farmers living in one community to own a sire together. A few farmers that can work together, and who have 40 or 50 cows, can buy a sire that is bred for production and is sure to make an improvement on their cows, at a very small cost per cow. This is the thing that should be done, if Charlevoix farmers are going to continue to milk cows. It does not pay to milk the so-called average cow. She rarely pays the market price for the corn and oats and hay that she consumes, and if a cow does not do this, she hasn't any place on the farm. We can increase our production per cow and get greater efficiency per cow through the use of better sires.

The average herd of grade cows has been gotten together through purchase or by raising them and trying them out. When purchased, they are hand picked and when raised and tried out only the tops are kept.

The average bunch of cows properly fed, are fairly good producers. The only way to improve such herds is through the use of real pure bred bulls out of real cows. Such bulls are worth more and sell for a higher price than the farmer with a small herd can afford to pay, even though the price may be a normal one. The most feasible way of making a definite improvement through breeding is for several farmers to own a bull jointly and thereby breed the same kind of cattle and establish a real center for the breed chosen by the community.

Where several communities or groups are interested, it is possible to form a bull association, such as are in operation in several counties in Michigan and other states. By several groups working together, each group or community owning a sire and exchanging sires every two or three years, it is possible to obtain the services of the very best bulls for a very reasonable cost. In Alpena county, where such an association has been in operation for more than 12 years, the service fee has been less than one dollar per cow and they have used many good bulls, including a son of a cow that held the state butter fat record for her breed.

There are now many bull associations and bull clubs in the state.

The Agricultural College Extension specialists in dairying, in co-operation with the county agent, are able to give assistance in the organization of both cow testing associations and bull clubs or bull associations. Anyone interested can get details of such organization from the teams of specialists who will be in charge of the Charlevoix county Dairy-Alfalfa campaign, April 30 to May 11.

OLD MEN NOW WORKING FARMS

WHILE SONS RUSH TO CITIES FOR EASY JOBS

Figures Compiled by V. H. Church,
Federal Statistician, Bear
Out This Statement

That the old men are attempting to operate Michigan farms this year while the younger men are earning high wages in industrial centers, is the story being brought to Verne H. Church, federal statistician, working in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The industrial activities have taken all the able-bodied labor from the rural communities, the high wages have attracted the farmer's sons, and the certainty of a weekly pay check has attracted tenants and even the farm owners themselves, according to annotations on statistical reports sent to the government statistician.

While the majority of these reports come from the northern part of the lower peninsula, some are received from more southern counties. A Wayne farmer says 15 former farmers pass his farm every day going to and from their work in Detroit industrial plants. In many sections the owner is seeding down the farm, raising hay or haying livestock for summer pasturage and sale in the fall. In other sections, where state reward roads are being built, the wages paid for road work have come into competition with the production of farm crops.

Many Vacant Farms

"There are forty-nine vacant farms within a radius of nine miles," declared a Central Lake, Antrim county farmer. "I own 137 acres out at, not farming it, having found work more profitable. It takes 30 years to pay for a farm, and by that time the farmer is over out."

"There are one thousand acres of good farm land in this locality not being farmed this year," declared another note enclosed with a report. "Much more land will be only half taken care of because of the inability to pay the prevailing $8 to $12 a day for labor and get returns in the price of farm products. Even farm owners here are leaving their farms for the regular wages and the short day of the industrial centers."

Fifth of Farmers Leave

"One-fifth of the farms in Arenac county are letting their farms so much idle and are going to the city," declared a report from that county. "The farmers are taking care of the land they can farm themselves."

One fruit grower in Oceana county does not lament the passing of the younger laborers, declaring them "almost worthless," and that "they do not understand farm work and it is necessary to tell them how to do everything on the farm." He said he obtains better results from men fifty and sixty years old because "they are not on the farm to rest between football and baseball games." He declared that in this neighborhood (Shelby) 40 per cent more farm help was needed.

"Only half the necessary help available," declared another farmer. "More land is being seeded to grass and the farmers are growing more stock."

Farming Doesn't Pay

"It is impossible to make farming pay," declares another, "when the price of farm products is represented by German marks and it is necessary to pay the pound sterling for labor and farm machinery."

"Hired help is not available," declares another, who says "he has three sons in the city receiving from $35 to $50 a week. 'I am seeding my farm and will continue to keep it in grass until help is available.'"

"I am farming only a part of my land," says still another writer, who declares his neighbors are permitting their farm to lie idle while they go to the city to work.

Predicts Big Idleness

"Twenty per cent of the land will be idle," declares a statement from another community. "The vacant lands the writer says, will be allowed to grow up to weeds."

"Many farms have been abandoned," says another writer. He continues that there will be an increase in sugar beets and beans in his territory, the farmers concentrating on these two crops, and abandoning virtually all others.

"I cannot, and will not pay wages so high," declared another farmer, who added that his receipts the last year did not pay the taxes on his farm. He has one son working in Detroit.

"Twenty per cent of the farmers in this neighborhood have quit," continues another farmer. "The farms in the neighborhood are for sale, he announced, but there are no buyers. It blames railroad rates for the low prices of farm products."

Labor Steps Extension

"If I could get help I would double the proposed average this year," says another farmer, "but I cannot obtain the help."

"I raised no farm crops in 1922 and will raise none in 1923," is another report. "The expense of running a farm is too high. I buy sheep to pasture during the summer, selling them again in the fall."

"I am forced to do only the amount of farming that I can do alone," is another statement.

"Men owning from 80 to 200 acres in this locality are doing only the farm work they can accomplish alone," says the writer of another communication. "It is impossible to get help."

"The price of milk is not high enough to make it profitable to pay the running wages for farm hands," declared a dairy farmer.

"Five hundred farms will not be worked in Lenawee county this year," declares a correspondent from that section.

Mills Draw Men

"The farmers cannot meet the competition of the saw mills for labor," is the word from a man writing from the upper peninsula.

"That the condition shown in the communications, are such as to handicap the farm production of Michigan in the long run, is the opinion of Mr. Church."

"The statistician feels that the present industrial demand is not permanent and that when the farmers have established themselves as industrial workers, the need for them will cease, and that the farmers will face the necessity of reestablishing themselves in their former vocations, without stock or machinery with which to begin operations."

LEGION LEADER TOURS MICHIGAN

BIG CENTRAL RALLY AT BATTLE CREEK FOR SOUTHERN MICHIGAN VETERANS

Michigan has welcomed Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, for a short tour of the state, from April 15 to 29.

His itinerary was in the hands of the Robert B. Harbo, state commander, and Lyle D. Taber, state adjutant.

ALVIN M. OWSLEY

On account of business his visit was necessarily restricted to the larger cities in the lower peninsula of the state.

Owsley has been particularly interested in the Legion's work in behalf of the disabled. For this reason, he has given special attention to the Legion's hospital for tubercular veterans at Battle Creek, devoting all day April 20th, there for a big Legion rally.

His itinerary on the trip was: Detroit, Flint, Bay City, Saginaw, Lansing, Jackson, Grand Rapids, and Battle Creek. Legionnaires were invited from the smaller cities and towns near those centers of population to meet Commander Owsley and hear his Legion message.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale

Default having been made in the conditions of two certain real estate mortgages whereby the power of sale therein contained has become operative, which said mortgages were given respectively as follows, to-wit: the first of said mortgages dated March 21st, 1919 by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife, of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, on the twenty-second day of March, 1919, in Liber forty of mortgages on page two hundred and forty-six, and the second certain mortgage dated November 15, 1920, was given by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, on the 4th day of May, 1921, in Liber forty of mortgages on page four hundred and nineteen; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said first mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Six Hundred and Forty-two Dollars, principal and interest, and the sum of Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee provided for by said mortgage; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said second mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Eleven Hundred and Forty-nine Dollars and Twenty-three cents, principal and interest, and the sum of Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee provided for by said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the money by either of said mortgages or any part thereof. Now, therefore, notice is given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgages and of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgages will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due thereon of the said mortgages of principal and interest, together with the costs and expenses of foreclosure on these mortgages including the Attorney fees therein provided for, at Public Auction to the highest bidder thereon, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held), on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day. The premises described in said mortgages being described as follows: to-wit: In said first mortgage, the South West quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township, thirty-four (34) North, Range Eight (8) West, containing Forty (40) acres of land more or less, according to the government survey thereof; and in said second mortgage, the West half of the North East quarter of the South West quarter of a Section Thirty-four (34) Township, thirty-four (34) North, Range Eight (8) West, containing twenty (20) acres more or less, according to the government survey thereof; both said descriptions being located in the Township of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan.

Dated March 21, 1923.

Feathered Scavenger Looks For a Change of Diet

That sea gulls do not subsist on refuse and carrion alone, as is claimed by many, was proven on Monday of this week, when workmen employed on the construction work of L. Van-Skiver's resort hotel, "Big Fish Inn," discovered one of the birds at death grips with a fish of some kind in the over-flow water at the edge of the hotel grounds.

The bird, according to Mr. Van-Skiver, F. O. Gillett and E. J. Wilson, seemed to be having rough going in his endeavor to carry away his prize and, when their curiosity became sufficiently aroused, Van waded out to the scene of little and located a nineteen inch grass pike, "slightly disfigured, but still in the ring." The fish, although having yielded up a small amount of shoulder steak, was still alive and during the gull to do its worst.

A nineteen inch fish is considered a pretty fair catch for the average fisherman and this would weigh more than its captor. It had come in evidently, with the over-flow from the lake and, as the water receded, was left cut off from open water.

FUNDS SOUGHT FOR GRAVES IN FRANCE

LEGION PLANNING ENDOWMENT FOR CARE OF FALLEN HEROES' MOUNDS

SHOULD KEEP MEMORY GREEN

To decorate the graves of the 500 Michigan deceased veterans who sleep the eternal sleep overseas, the American Legion of Michigan is raising a Memorial Day Fund. This money will all go into a $100,000 endowment planned by the national organization of the Legion, which will provide an annual sum to care for the graves of these heroes in perpetuity.

This national fund will be expended in France and elsewhere overseas under the direction of Myron T. Herick, ambassador to France. In all, there are 32,100 graves to be cared for. Two francs fifty centimes will decorate one grave once a year.

In Michigan, the campaign for this fund is led by Dr. Frank R. Broderick, state welfare officer. He will receive contributions either by check or in cash at his office at 214 Lincoln Building, Detroit, Michigan. All funds whether received by mail or from individuals in person will be receipted and strictly accounted for. No donations in excess of $10 are requested, as the Legion feels that this collection should be a fund of the whole people.

"This money," says Dr. Broderick, "will be raised without a defilete campaign as such. We hope that a simple appeal to the people of Michigan will bring to us more than ample funds to care for Michigan's quota. The question is, shall we honor our Memorial Day the memory of those boys who died for us, and who now sleep overseas."

"The United States government now maintains these graves, keeps them in splendid appearance. But the Legion wants each grave to have an Memorial Day a little, direct personal tribute from the people of the United States. Will Michigan do its share."

If you haven't a square jaw like the pictured captain of injury, you are not going to impress others that you have by thrusting out the small one, you possess, but you may give them a good laugh that way.

It is at least an open question whether more time is saved by riding in an automobile than is spent in tinkering with it.

HARLEQUIN! RAH! RAH! RAH!

Did you ever hear of the Harlequin? No? Well, the Harlequin is the high school Annual. You know what sharks the students are for humor and funny things. Most of the townspeople are "just as worse." If you are, just scrape up one hundred and twenty-five pennies in nickels and dimes and trot along. Where? Where? What a question! Trot along to the high school assembly, at 1:30 p. m. on May 2nd.

Joe—"Gee, I need a hair-cut."

Joe—"Gee, I don't think I need a hair-cut."

The chapel service was opened Monday morning with reading from the Bible, by Mr. Hamilton. He read also from the works of Edgar A. Guest, and others. The last fifteen minutes of the service was given to the music memory contest. Miss Oliver played "The Anvil Chorus," from "Il Trovatore"—Verdi, and "The Swan," by St. Saens. Other numbers were reviewed. This is the last week of the contest.

Our baseball team is rounding out into shape. Mr. Hamilton is spending much time with the men and with the material he has to work with, hopes to turn out a winning nine.

Charlevoix is very fortunate in having a twirler of the ability of Dagwell, in the box. And with Todd as catcher, the critics have it figured that "one, two, three," will be the team motto.

A. Block—"May 1st."

Albert Widdfield, of the Harlequin staff, gave the seventh grade students a short talk Monday morning concerning the Annual. Richard Slightstall also talked to the normal class on the same subject at that time. The Annual will go like hot cakes in both these places, we're told.

The following was written by a Junior and was not intended for publication. But just to prove that the Muse of poetry is not dead in their young breasts, we place it before the world for its just acclaim or condemnation.

Mr. Altenberg has been working hard with his track men, and is developing a crew of much promise. Jones and Marshall will probably take charge of the dashes, while McMullin, Pierce, Smith, and others will excel in the longer runs. Cooper will probably be entered in both the dashes and distance events. Todd and Dagwell, in the high jump and shot-put, are "there," Joe Hamilton, captain of the squad, is perhaps our stellar hurdler. Joe should develop into a first class pole-vaulter, although the present equipment is far from sufficient to warrant that hope now. The team is sadly in need of standards, hurdles, etc. A good cinder track is greatly to be desired. But in spite of their handicaps, Mr. Altenberg's squad is making wonderful strides, and should carry off the honors at Cadillac next month. The first meet will be held here Friday, when two teams picked from the "40" will meet in competition. Be there.

A tennis club is in the process of formation, and it is hoped that with the improvement of the courts this game will take a more prominent place in school athletics than heretofore.

Four tireless calmity-strewn years of constant, diligent observance warrants the belated publication of this truthful inventory—an alibi of each worthy teacher, or, what they say when they don't know themselves:
The old favorite:

"Look that up for tomorrow."
Used in a pinch:
"You should have had that in the fifth grade."

"What's the dictionary back there on the shelf for, anyway?"

Always handy:
"Make a special report on that for tomorrow."

"Now, that's a nice little problem for the class."
The old standby:

"You'll get that a little later on. Don't get ahead of the text."

"I wouldn't attempt to explain it now, it's too complex for your minds to grasp."

"You'll get that in college."

In an emergency:
"Never mind that now, what I asked you was, etc., etc., etc."

GOVERNMENT STILL DISTRIBUTING SEED

Local Official Receives Supply To Give Out

Lyman E. Benton is in receipt of two big mail sacks full of garden seeds, sent out by "Uncle Sam" to superintendents of the poor in the counties of the state. While he has the seeds, no instructions came with them as to method of distribution. amount allotted per individual, etc. Mr. Benton has written Washington for these instructions and until he receives them will be unable to give out the seeds. A further announcement will appear in next week's Courier.

The sacks are filled with government envelopes, about five inches square. Each of these envelopes contains 5 packets of various garden seeds. There are different combinations of these seeds and the large envelope is printed to show what they are. One will contain squash turnip, lettuce, onion, beet; another, beet, carrot, cucumber, lettuce, onion.

This is the time for the annual government seed distribution. The practice of free seed distribution was abolished in the last congress, but the government had contracts with the growers which they could not rescind and so we get them again this year—probably for the last time.

It is probable that when the present supply is exhausted it will be impossible to get more seed. The Charlevoix hospital has already asked for a considerable allotment.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Alexander Rollins, formerly of the Herald and Times, of Gaylord, is now a member of the Courier printing department. He is staying at the Hotel Bartlett.

Harry Gregory, who has been ill with the flu and its baleful effects since the second week in February, is now somewhat on the mend and has been able to get out of doors once or twice lately. He has been very ill, however, and it will probably be some time before he recovers his strength.

O. E. S. INSTALL THEIR OFFICERS

PAST WORTHY MATRON PRESENTED WITH JEWEL

Mrs. Nettleton Briefly Sketches Order's Origin and Chapter's History

Charlevoix Chapter No. 72, O. E. S., held its annual installation ceremony last Wednesday evening, the following officers selected for the year 1923 being formally entrusted with the duties of their respective offices.

The new officers on the secretary's roster are as follows: W. M., Mrs. Effie Marshall; W. P., Horace Fowler; A. M., Mrs. Clara Todd; Sec'y., Mrs. Mildred Lamphear; Treas., Mrs. Louise Elston; Conductor, Mrs. Minnie Bonthron; Asst. Cond., Mrs. Amy Benndoin; Chaplain, Mrs. Sadie Faulkner; Marshall, Mrs. Nellie Johnson; Organist, Mrs. Pearl Partidge; Adm., Mrs. Jennie Smith; Ruth, Mrs. Anna Withers; Esther, Mrs. Alice Anne; Martha, Mrs. Marion Carey; Electra, Mrs. Ella Usher; Wander, Mrs. Fanny Siminow; Sentinel, Ernest Shafer.

The retiring Worthy Matron, Mrs. Rosa Nettleton, gave an interesting talk on the formation of the local lodge, which was instituted in October, 1890, with 75 charter members. The first Worthy Patron of the lodge was A. E. Mason and the first Worthy Matron was Mrs. Ida Emrey. The first Associate Matron was the late Miss Carrie Hilton. Mrs. Nettleton said that the active membership of the chapter had now increased to two hundred five but that of the original seventy-five charter members, some have moved, some have withdrawn from the order and some have passed on. The Order of the Eastern Stars, the speaker said, originated in France, in the seventeenth century and from that time to this has grown until now there are chapters in nearly every country of the world.

Light refreshments were served during the meeting and a pleasant evening was spent in dancing and conversation. At the close of the ceremonies, the retiring Worthy Matron was presented with a very handsome Past Matron's jewel by Worthy Patron Horace Fowler and responded to the gift with appropriate remarks.

The active charter members of the organization are John M. Ackert, Frank Hines, W. Herschel Miller, Mrs. Ida Ackert, Mrs. Sarah Anderson, Mrs. Minnie Bedford, Mrs. Maria Denton, Mrs. Mary Hilton, Mrs. Alice Hines, Mrs. Lottie Markham, Mrs. Kate Miller, Mrs. Sarah Myers, Mrs. Kate Price and Mrs. Vina MacNeill.

The past patrons are A. E. Mason, Sylvester Calkins, Ed. Guard, John Ackert, Leonard Kirby, Charles See, Henry Cooper, Rollie L. Lewis and S. M. Rose.

The past matrons are Mrs. Ida Emrey, Mrs. Kate Miller, Mrs. Minnie Glassford, Mrs. Alice Miller, Mrs. Sadie Faulkner, Mrs. Alice Hines, Mrs. Emma Butler, Mrs. Louise Elston, Mrs. Hattie Jeffries, Mrs. Lydia Alcock, Mrs. Rosamond Nettleton. Five others are now deceased—Mrs. Ruth Bedford, Mrs. Hattie Carr, Mrs. Martha Blair, Miss Carrie Hilton and Mrs. Phoebe Guard.

Dance at Ironton Grange Hall, Friday evening, May 4th. Good music, 75c per couple. Extra lady, 25c. Everybody welcome.—Adv. 17-12.

SUPREME COURT SUSTAINS JUDGMENT

Louis Orlovski Awarded $5,000.00 In Accident Case

The judgment awarded in the local circuit court last June to Louis Orlovski, in his accident case against the Pere Marquette railroad was affirmed last Saturday by the supreme court. The amount awarded Mr. Orlovski was $5,000.00. His attorneys at the trial of the case were Eddie L. Lewis, of this city and Judge J. M. Harris, of Boyne City, Charles Ward, of Grand Rapids and John W. Patchin, of Traverse City, were the railroad's legal battery.

The cause of this action, it will be remembered, was an accident that occurred in June 1920, when Mr. Orlovski and his daughter were driving through Ellsworth and their car became stalled on the railroad crossing in the path of the north-bound afternoon train which was just then pulling into the station. Mr. Orlovski suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, while the little girl was badly cut about the face and head. The car was a total wreck.

TOMATOES GROW IN FEBRUARY

STRAWBERRIES AND BLACKBERRIES ARE ALSO RIPE

No, Dear Reader, Not in Michigan But in Florida—Read What C. H. Miller Says About It

The following letter, received from C. H. Miller, formerly carrier on rural route No. 2 out of Charlevoix and now living with his family at Clearwater, Fla., would seem to indicate that Florida is another of those places where all of nature's blessings are concentrated, and where one is "out of luck" not to be.

"Clearwater, Fla., Apr. 25, 1923. Friend Usher:—I presume you are entertaining hopes of its coming spring pretty soon, so I am writing you a few lines from Clearwater, where it is springtime all the time.

Really, we have had a splendid season here and I don't believe I have ever seen as perfect weather as we have had during the last of March and all of April. The temperature runs from 67 degrees in the early morning to 80 or 82 degrees in the warmest part of the day. I believe it reached 84 degrees one day.

We had two light frosts in February, but garden beans and small tomatoes in my garden were not hurt to speak of, so you see they were not very hard frosts.

We are having pretty good times bathing in the gulf and going to "weenie" roasts and fishing parties, where we cook and eat under the trees. Strawberries are just about finished here, having been in the market since about Christmas. I had some ripe blackberries on my route today. Better come on down and we will pick some.

I have a thirty-six mile route and serve one hundred forty-six boxes and handle about double the mail I had in Charlevoix, but, as I can use Lizzie every day in the year, I don't mind that. I don't have any hills to speak of—only one that is as much of a grade as the Hooker hill on State street, and it is paved.

Now I am having some trouble getting our Courier, as in some way you have me on your mailing list as C. W. Miller and I wish you would change it and also send it to rural route number two—then I will have no trouble.

Trusting you and my other friends in Charlevoix are well, I am Yours truly,
C. H. Miller

Whassa Matter?

Floyd Everts created quite a little excitement Tuesday afternoon by driving a McCormick-Deering tractor through Van Pelt alley and up Bridge street at the hair raising rate of about ten miles an hour. We haven't found out yet what this display of speed and noise was all about, but presume it was in a good cause. He didn't need a horn.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB CELEBRATES PATRON'S BIRTHDAY

Members Appeared in Costumes, Representing Familiar Characters of His Plays

On April 23rd occurred the three-hundred and fifty ninth birthday of William Shakespeare, the greatest of all great dramatists and poets. All over the civilized world his plays are now brought before the public as never before. Celebrations of the birth of this great bard have occurred this year in every city, where the best in literature and the drama are appreciated.

The Shakespeare Study Club of this city, in accordance with plans made by its executive committee, consisting of Mrs. J. L. Crane, Mrs. H. S. Harsha, Mrs. Earl Young and Mrs. Irving Hallett; Shakespeare's birthday as well as the three hundredth anniversary of the first publication of his collective works and first folio appearing in sixteen twenty-three) was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Crane on Tuesday afternoon, April 24th.

The following characters were previously given the members of the club: Petruccio—Mrs. Armstrong; The Duke in Twelfth Night—Mrs. Auld; Hamlet—Mrs. A. P. Bridge; Rosalind—Mrs. Robert Bridge; Lady Macbeth—Mrs. Crane; Ophelia—Mrs. Ed. Edwards; Portia—Mrs. A. L. Fitch; Juliet—Mrs. Constance Gaskin; Cleopatra—Mrs. Irving Hallett; Desdemona—Mrs. Harsha; Bassanio—Mrs. E. J. Miller; Henry V.—Mrs. Iddings; Romeo—Mrs. Wm. Mitchell; Catherine in Taming of the Shrew—Mrs. Paddock; Othello—Mrs. G. W. Priest; Macbeth—Mrs. F. W. Mayne; Orlando—Mrs. Franklin Sears; Hermione—Mrs. Lisle Shaohann; Kate—Mrs. Swinton; Viola—Mrs. Earl Young.

The costumes were all well chosen, copied from pictures of leading actors and actresses. Each costume was an exact reproduction, as nearly as possible. At two-thirty o'clock the roll was called, each member responding with quotations, or speeches made by that individual character, taken from the play whom she represented.

Mrs. Crane, president of the club, gave a toast to the "Bard of Avon." Mrs. Earl Young then read of the publication of the first folio. Mrs. Hallett followed by giving a synopsis of a new play named "Will Shakespeare," which is being staged in New York at the present time. Each guest joined in naming a "play" to rhyme with verses composed for that purpose.

All took part in the march through the parlors to the dining room, where two beautifully decorated tables were spread for an English tea. Mrs. Crane and Mrs. Harsha—occupied places of honor, while Mrs. Young and Mrs. Hallett served tea. Mrs. Harsha gave a toast to "Tea," the toast having been written in seventeen hundred, and which will appear in the June number of the Ladies Home Journal.

The menu was simple and strictly English, consisting of sliced boiled ham, English fruit, biscuit, orange marmalade, tea, marble cake and pineapple ice. During the sunny hours of the afternoon, Mr. Arnold of the Priest studio, took out-door pictures of the club. The occasion was another pleasant event in the annals of the club, which was organized February 17, 1906.—Contributed.

NO MAIL SERVICE FOR THE BEAVERS

Letters and Parcels Waiting Here in Truck Loads

Due to ice conditions, the carrier service between Cross Village and St. James, Beaver Island, has been discontinued and the islands will not receive any mail until the opening of navigation.

Postmaster William J. Boyle, of St. James, has ordered all mail transferred to Charlevoix until such time as the weather will permit boat service. Several truck loads of mail matter, addressed to St. James are now lying in the local post office, awaiting the opening of navigation.

If you have a cottage to rent for the season, see or telephone Earl A. Young, phone 275 or 584.—Adv. 13-1f.

BIG FREIGHTERS FEEL THEIR WAY

"GRIFIN" AND "WESTERN OIL" NOSE THROUGH ICE

Navigation Formally Opened Tuesday Afternoon with Many Spectators

The swing bridge over the channel on Bridge street opened Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock for the first time this spring to the steamer "Griffin," Capt. James Gallagher, of Boyne City, through of her way to Chicago, where she will take on a load of grain for Buffalo. Her regular run to Escanaba is impracticable on account of the ice in the straits.

Captain Bonner was a passenger on the "Griffin" from Boyne City and was skillfully landed on the south shore of the channel by means of an improvised gang plank, while the big boat checked her engines to permit this feat. As she passed through, throngs of people lined the railings of the bridge abutment and Harry L. Ollihon fired a salute of two guns from the brow of the bluff back of his property and was promptly answered by the deep-throated whistle of the "Griffin."

For a time, after the prow of the big barge ploughed into the rotten ice just outside the harbor mouth, it was thought by the watchers on the shore that she would have to turn back, but she kept steadily though slowly on and before night fell was hull down on the horizon heading in a southerly direction. As she was landed light, it was possible for her to make fair headway even through the windrows of ice piled several feet high in her path.

Far out to the southwest might be seen another big freighter, the "Western Oil," now owned by the Petoskey Portland Cement Company, bound for her home port to load up for Sheboygan, Wis., and poking her nose slowly out from the south point. She is the vessel recently purchased from the U. S. shipping board by the Petoskey concern and has been hanging on and off Fisherman's Island since Saturday night. Monday night she drifted clear to the Fox Islands with the ice and back. As she disappeared for a while, it was thought that she had turned back but bobbed up again Tuesday afternoon and by sundown was lying off the North point. It is the opinion of local "sea-dogs" that she will not be able to make her port this week, as the ice in Little Traverse Bay is still in one solid mass.

It is reported that the "Missouri" of the Michigan Transportation Line, left her winter quarters at Manistee for Chicago on Monday and was to leave the latter port for Charlevoix and the north Tuesday night. She is expected here some time today, if the ice does not stop her.

Anyway, navigation is "open" once more and we are beginning to feel warmer already. Possibly a little "Coke treatment" could be used to advantage. "Every day in every way"—you know the rest.

ARE SPENDING JOHN D'S MONEY HERE

S. O. Station to Be "Thing of Beauty and Joy, Etc."

The Standard Oil station on Antrim street, corner of State, is to become one of the loveliest spots of the city.

A gang of men will be on the job this week, literally "raising the roof" of the station, which is to be extended over the driveways to form a porte cochere or archway, protecting the company's patrons from inclement weather. A flagpole will be set up on the grounds and attractive shrubbery planted.

We understand that the new manager of the district, who is responsible for the improvements, is a northern Michigan man and believes that the best is none too good for "The Best Little City Anywhere."

PLANNED A TREAT FOR THE OLD FOLKS

Forty Were Entertained Friday at M. E. Church

Last Friday afternoon, an old time party was held in the parlors of the M. E. Church in this city. This novel affair was the idea of three persons, M. E. Church, Mrs. William Pudey and Mrs. A. C. Belding, who were assisted in their plans by ladies of the various churches in the city, who called for the old folks in their cars and brought them to the church at two o'clock.

About 35 or 40 of the older people of the community were assembled in this way. The meeting was addressed by Rev. Mr. Quail and Rev. Mr. Long. A trio composed of Clara Usher, Andrew Davenport and Gilbert Saltunall sang several selections. Miss Irma Carey also delighted her audience with a solo and the Misses Vera and Lucille Belding played a piano duet which was much appreciated. A supper was served at five o'clock and the company departed for their homes at six p. m., feeling refreshed and happy.

CLERK READY WITH LICENSES

NON-RESIDENTERS MUST PAY FOR FISHING PRIVILEGE

Season on Brook Trout Opened With May 1—Information on Fish Licenses

Non-resident's hook and line fishing licenses for fishing in Michigan waters have been received by County Clerk Chas. H. Emrey and are now ready for issuance. A change in the fee has been made in the general non-resident anglers license since last season but the other fishing license remains the same.

As before, resident anglers are not required to secure a license to take fish in Michigan waters, but non-residents must secure a permit. The general hook and line license which permits the holder to take all kinds of fish, not protected by law, in season costs $5.00 which is a $1 advance over the price charged last season.

The special license which permits non-resident holders to take all kinds of fish except trout costs $2.00 as it did last year.

The season on brook trout in Michigan opened May 1 and continues to Sept. 1. Fish must be 7 inch long or over; 25 may be taken in one day and an angler may have 50 in his possession at one time.

The open season for large and small mouth black bass runs from June 16 to March 31, inclusive. Fish must be 10 inches long; ten may be taken in one day and a person may not have more than ten in his possession at one time.

Wall eyed pike may be caught from May 1 to February inclusive. Pike must be at least ten inches in length; but ten can be caught in one day and an angler may not have more than that number in his possession at one time. Grayling are protected by law and may not be taken at any time.

The season for white bass, calico bass, rock bass and crappies opens on June 16 continuing until March 31. All these fish taken must be not less than ten inches in length. Twenty-five may be taken in one day and that number is the most which the law allows a person to have in his possession at one time.

There is no closed season on perch or sunfish in Michigan. Of the former, 30 may be taken in one day and not more than 50 may be had in one's possession at one time. Perch taken for personal use must be 7 inches long. Sunfish must be 6 inches in length and anglers may not have more than 25 of them in their possession at one time.

FIREMAN'S DANCE WAS FINE AFFAIR

Seventy Couples Hugely Enjoyed The Evening

The firemen's dance at the bank hall last Friday night was a complete success from a social and financial point of view.

Seventy couples pirouetted over the well waxed floor to the strains of excellent music. It was a good crowd and lots of fun was the order of the evening.

BANQUET A PROGRESSIVE ONE

DICKENS CLUB TRAVELS FROM COURSE TO COURSE

Clever Program for Annual Social Event Made Occasion One To Be Remembered

Last Tuesday evening occurred the annual banquet of the Dickens Club. It took the form of a progressive dinner consisting of four courses, thereby dispensing with a regular program and also with a great deal of formality. The committee had done their work so well that everything indeed progressed very nicely.

The first course was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Miller. Covers were laid for thirty-two and decorations were pink geraniums. The program committee had worked out a scheme of place cards bearing the names of Dickens' characters closely associated in the various stories. These characters found each other and proved to be the wives and their own partners. Several music memory numbers were played, after which the president, Mrs. Mary Cooper, gave a most clever and unusual welcome. It consisted of ten of names and incidents in Dickens' books put together in such a fashion that the assembled company not only received again introductions to familiar characters, but were given an interesting description of the rest of the maneuver for the evening.

The party then proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Cooper, where the dinner course awaited them with Dickens' proverbial baked ham and all accessories. Here the guests were passed small posters, which were compliments of each other and thus new partners were found for the second course. Here the decorations were carnations and pussy willows.

Fessenden's drug store next presented a very attractive appearance with dimmed lights and spotless tables and decorations of red and white hearts. New partners were determined by drawing these hearts and a delicious salad course was enjoyed.

The rendezvous for the last course was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith. The decorations were red geraniums, Dickens' favorite flower. Here the guests were presented with place cards in the club colors, Chinese blue and yellow. These contained halves of quotations from "As You Like It," the only Shakespearean play studied by the club this year, and the guests again found their partners by completing their quotations, after which the dessert was enjoyed. At the close, the president again spoke and concluded with a treatise on "Friendship," by Daniel Webster. After this dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. The only guest of honor was Mr. Clarence Bridge. Everyone pronounced this affair "the best one ever."

CROOKED RIVER FLOWS BACKWARD AS FLOODS FILL BURT LAKE

A peculiar phenomenon occurred in Alanson, Emmet county, Friday. Crooked river completely reversed the direction of its flow, and instead of running north into Burt lake, the current ran south into Crooked lake. Large numbers of people visited River street bridge to witness the strange and unbelievable sight of a river running uphill. The only plausible explanation so far offered for this odd event is that the melting snows have caused the waters of Burt lake to rise above the level of Crooked lake. About 8 o'clock Friday evening the current again reversed itself and started back into Burt lake.

UNDER THE DOME AT LANSING

With May 5 adopted by both the Senate and House as the date for final adjournment of the present legislative session, the law-makers have shown increased activity in an effort to save a few of the nine hundred bills introduced to date from dying through lack of attention. Appropriation bills have had the right of way. Already requests totalling over $45,000,000 have been approved by either the House or the Senate and there is every indication that the total appropriations for the next two years will not fall behind the $58,000,000 appropriated for the last biennial period.

There has been very little disposition to argue the amounts of the appropriation bills reported by the committees, although the Senate and House have had difficulty in agreeing on the totals. Most of the appropriation bills have been passing with only a few negative votes. However, the appropriations for the State Department of Public Safety and for a stadium at the M. A. C. proved exceptions to this rule and received serious opposition.

of the appropriation bill for the State Department of Public Safety and it had but the narrow margin of three votes to spare when it passed the House on third reading. If this appropriation had been killed the state police would have been automatically put out of business. The appropriation for the stadium at the M. A. C. survived strenuous opposition and passed by a vote of 64 to 22. In reality this is not an appropriation but a loan which the state makes to the college for the purpose of providing the funds for the construction of a stadium in which athletic events will be held. The M. A. C. must repay this loan in 10 equal annual installments. It is planned that this will be done through the revenue secured from athletic events staged in the new stadium.

With the population of all the state corrective and penal institutions constantly increasing and with the demand for higher education also mounting by leaps and bounds and with the insistent demand that the state engage in a continually widening sphere of activities, there seems to be slight possibility that the total expense of state government can be decreased. Reforms in the matter of distributing the tax burden seem to offer the most logical hope of relief to the average citizen.

Tax Reforms Loom

Some rather belated progress is being made on the taxation program which was announced months ago at the opening of the session. Two bills calling for the removal of the present tax exemption on bonds were reported favorably by the house committee on general taxation. The first of these bills, introduced by Rep. Peter Lennon of Genesee, fixes an annual tax of five mills on foreign bonds, while its companion bill, by Rep. C. J. Town, of Jackson, provides a three mill levy on domestic securities.

A real attempt is being made by the house to prevent a continuation of the rapid increase of taxation on real property. The Evans bill, sponsored by the Michigan real estate association, was adopted by a vote of 62 to 25. This bill would limit the increase in the amount of taxes raised by any local governing unit, or two per cent additional each year, based on the 1922 levy. The bill contains provisions to take care of an emergency which might arise, if the increase is approved by a referendum vote.

A companion bill to this Evans tax limitation measure is being sponsored by Rep. Geo. Watson, of Capac, to keep down the state taxes. This measure has passed the house by a vote of 76 to 10, and if approved by the senate would require the submission at the November election in 1924 of a constitutional amendment which would limit the increase of state taxes imposed on general property to two per cent per year. The legislature, by two thirds majority, could declare that an emergency existed and could increase the amount of taxes for any given year.

To 'Uncover Intangible Wealth'

More complete listing of personal property on the tax rolls, is the object of a bill, sponsored by Rep. Baxter of Grand Rapids. This bill makes the matter of listing personal property a purely personal matter and, it is thought, would result in placing on the tax rolls a large amount of personal property which is now evading taxation. Rep. Baxter declared that personal property bears but 22 per cent of the tax burden in Michigan, while in the neighboring state of Ohio, where a law similar to the one he proposed is in effect, personal property bears 40 per cent of the burden. He thinks the operation of the law as proposed, would put one and a half billion dollars more of intangible wealth on the assessment rolls.

Another tax bill of particular interest to the northern part of the state was passed by the narrow margin of three votes in the house. This was Rep. Holland's bill, providing for the taxation of mineral rights. It seems that it is a custom in the mining districts to sell the surface land for agricultural purposes while the rights to any minerals beneath such land are reserved. Such reservations are regarded as being extremely valuable and it was thought that they should pay some tax.

However, the most important taxation measure, the Byrum income tax bill, has not as yet been reported from the senate taxation committee, and there seems little hopes of its passage this session.

Farmers Can't Dope Hogs

Farmers members of the house who stood solidly behind Rep. Evans in his fight for the gas tax and the income tax, deserted him when he sponsored a bill to allow farmers to vaccinate their own hogs, after taking a brief course of instruction given by the extension department of the M. A. C. In support of his bill Rep. Evans stated that lending hog growing states, such as Iowa, Kansas and Illinois, allowed farmers to do this work under proper restrictions, and that the results were most satisfactory.

However, Rep. John Espie, of Clinton county, seemed to voice a very popular sentiment when he said that he considered it a very dangerous bill and that it would probably result in a spread of this dread disease. The bill was finally defeated by a vote of 39 to 47.

Another bill which met its Waterloo on the same day was a proposed constitutional amendment by Rep. McEachron, which would abolish spring elections.

Farmer members were also divided over the Sanson bill, which would require the labeling of all wooler goods sold within the state. Friends of the bill allowed its opponents to unburden themselves and air all their grievances and were just on the point of giving their arguments in favor of the bill when, somebody moved the previous question and the motion carried, thus shutting off all further debate.

Gov.'s Weight Tax Up

Probably the biggest problem to be settled during the closing week of the session, is to agree upon some means of raising funds to finance state highway construction and maintenance and to pay the interest and establish a sinking fund for the retirement of the $50,000,000 of state highway bonds which have been authorized by the voters of the state, and of which $32,000,000 worth have already been issued and for which no provision for retirement has been made.

The Governor's weight tax bill, introduced in the senate by Sen. John Smith, of Port Huron, was liberally amended by its friends in the senate in an effort to put it in a workable form so that there would be some hopes of its passing the house. In its present form, it provides a straight license tax of 70 cents per hundred pounds, for all pleasure cars, while for commercial cars the rate starts at 70 cents and increases for the heavier trucks and busses. The control of the revenues to be derived is placed largely in the hands of the State Administrative Board.

When this bill came up for final passage in the senate, it was opposed by several senators who had been strong friends of the gas tax. Senator Charles Sligh, of Grand Rapids, made the most lengthy attack on the bill. He declared that the passage of the gas tax was in accordance with the overwhelming demand of the people of the state, and that Gov. Groesbeck overrode their almost unanimous desire when he vetoed it. He declared that the weight tax as proposed, was extremely unjust because it did not take into consideration at all the distance driven by the car and would not secure any revenue from the constantly increasing tourist travel, while Michigan autoists, motoring in neighboring states, would have to pay a gas tax.

Inconsistency Pointed Out

The evident inconsistency of the governor in declining in his veto message that the gas tax would produce twice as much as was needed and then proposing this bill which would raise a larger revenue than would have been secured by the gas tax and its companion bill to reduce auto license fees, was pointed out in detail by Sen. Sligh.

Sen. Smith, the introducer of the weight tax bill, admitted that his bill would raise from $13,000,000 to $15,000,000 annually and that he

A Grand Rapids Furniture Factory Invites You To Share In Its Profits

JOHN THWAITES
President and general manager; 30 years' experience making reed and fiber furniture.

Founder, and for ten years head of the Ypsilanti, Reed Furniture Co., which paid 15% semi-annually under his management.

The Thwaites Furniture Co. is the only manufacturer of fiber furniture in Grand Rapids, the world's furniture center. Last year its sales exceeded $300,000. Orders now booked will run it through the present season. Much more business awaits if the factory can be enlarged.

To secure capital for expansion, it is selling a limited amount of $10 par value common stock, owners of which will fully participate in earnings. There is no preferred stock. Last December it declared a 15% dividend.

In 1918 this company was started with $100 capital. Within four years its paid in capital grew to $75,000, all of which represented accumulated earnings put back into the business.

Let us send you full details about this conservatively managed company, its earnings and future, and the desirability of its common stock from an investment standpoint.

The High-Grade Gasoline

Gasoline Service is expressed in terms of mileage. When you buy 10 gallons of gasoline, in reality you are buying 150 miles of service, if you get 15 miles to the gallon.

Gasoline becomes a propelling force only when you cause it to vaporize and mix it with air.

The service which you receive is in exact ratio to the manner in which the gasoline vaporizes.

Red Crown Vaporizes to the Last Drop that's why there is no waste. Red Crown has a Perfect Chain of Boiling Point Fractions, adjusted so as to vaporize at just the correct temperature to produce instant starting Winter or Summer—a quick pickup—smooth acceleration—tremendous sustained pulling power—racing speed if you want it and a maximum of mileage.

All of which is summed up in two words "Real Service."

AGED MAN SUCCUMBS TO HIS INJURIES

Edgar Sanger Never Recovered From Bay Shore Accident

Edgar Azariah Sanger died at his home on Bridge street Sunday, April 29th, at 9:30 p. m., after a long illness. Plans for the funeral are as yet indefinite and are conditioned on the arrival of his sons from out of town, one of whom is on the Beavers, awaiting the opening of communication to the mainland.

Mr. Sanger was born September 18, 1852, at Troy, N. Y. When a young man, he removed to Palmer, Mass., where he married a Miss Elizabeth Kay, on February 7, 1872. Five children were born of this union, one of whom, William, died years ago.

Some time after the death of his first wife, he was married again to Miss Alice Eugenia Fulton, at Battledore, Vt., on August 17, 1887. Six children were born to them, one

ONE WEAK SPOT

Many Charlevoix People Have a Weak Part and Too Often
It's the Back

Many people have a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night.

Backache is often from weak kidneys. In such case a kidney medicine is needed.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. For backache and urinary ills.

Charlevoix people recommend the remedy.

Mrs. Frank Smith, 307 May St., Charlevoix says: "My kidneys were weak and irregular and there was a dull ache in my back. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I got a few boxes at Hines & Co.'s Drug Store, and they cured me completely."

of whom, Louis, died in infancy. The other sons, who with the widow, survive their father, are Robert, who is now on Beaver Island, having taken up a soldier's land grant there; Jesse and William, of Muskegon, who have wired that they will not be able to attend the funeral. George, who is now in the U. S. Army, and stationed at Lima, Ohio, and James, of Hope, R. I., who, according to a telegram received recently by his mother is on his way to Charlevoix and should arrive today.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanger came to Michigan in 1888, where their oldest son, Robert, was born. They left for Iowa a year later and returned to Michigan in 1897, settling on a farm near Niles, where they lived for three or four years when they came to Big Rapids by wagon and settled on a farm. They lived subsequently in Traverse City and Boyne City, finally coming to Charlevoix in 1917 and have made their home here since.

Mr. Sanger's death resulted from the effects of an accident at the Bay Shore lime kilns, where he was working, some five years ago when a huge stone fell from one of the bins, throwing him to the ground and inflicting internal injuries. He has been incapacitated since that time.

BASEBALL LEAGUE WILL HOLD MEET

Only Charlevoix and Emmet Represented There

The baseball league of northern Michigan will hold its first meeting of the season next Thursday night at Petoskey. Teams from Emmet and Charlevoix counties, only, will be represented.

It is uncertain whether Charlevoix county will have a team in the league this year, owing to the fact that last year's team lost so much money.

The Northern Michigan League is known and respected all over the state and it may be expected to produce some real fodder for the fans this summer.

Tax Sale Day

Tuesday was Tax Sale Day at the court house and County Treasurer Henry Cooper and a staff of assistants was the center of attraction for a crowd of buyers who filled the treasurer's office to overflowing. Yes, that was the reason for the unusual number of cars parked on State St.

This is an annual, but not very exciting event and the Courier reporter did not linger to gather any more of the thrilling details than you see above.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Clayton Coblentz suffered a relapse since leaving the hospital on the 29th and has returned there for further treatment.

Miss Margie Timmer, of Ellsworth, is being operated on today for ulcers of the stomach.

Mrs. Jacqueline Carpenter, of Ellsworth, had a serious abdominal operation performed yesterday. So far, her condition is good.

Mrs. Hattie Kemp, who was taken ill last week, had an operation performed on Monday. She is doing nicely.

Master Robert Wood, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood, of this city, had his adenoids removed last Thursday.

Mrs. Alice Williams, of East Jordan, was entered at the hospital yesterday and will be operated on tomorrow for the removal of a thyroid goitre.

Mrs. Myrtle Brown, of Atwood, was brought in on the 9th in a serious condition and was operated on immediately. She is returning home today, having recovered satisfactorily.

Captain Danny Martin, who has been at the hospital for several months, is still holding his own and getting along nicely.

The new physiotherapy outfit, recently purchased from the Saville Sanitarium at Petoskey by the local hospital will be ready for use about May 5th. Appointments for treatment may be made with the superintendent, Miss Cable, without securing a physician's authorization. The treatment will include electric cabinet baths, massages and the water treatment and has been found very satisfactory in cases of neuritis, rheumatism, and other kindred disorders that respond readily to this form of cure.

NEW PALACE THEATRE

ATTRACTIONS FOR THE COMING WEEK

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, MAY 5 and 6

Thomas Meighan in "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow." This picture also stars Theodore Roberts. Mysticism, drama, thrills, humor—all are happily combined in "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow." What did he see? Thomas Meighan will tell you.

Also a very interesting comedy, "Torchy Mixes In."

TUESDAY, MAY 8th

Elsie Ferguson in "The Outcast." Can a woman love one man and marry another for money and position? You will find an interesting situation in the "Out Cast." Also an Educational comedy, "Take Your Time."

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY, MAY 9 and 10

Bebe Daniels and Conard Nagel in "Singed Wings." Those who read the story in the Cosmopolitan magazine will want to see this great picture. The leading role is played by the famous Bebe Daniels.

We also offer a very good Educational comedy, "Nobody's Wife."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, MAY 12 and 13

Tom Mix in "Romance Land."

VERDI AND SAINT SAENS

These Are the Final Subjects in the State-Wide Music Memory Contest

Griseppe Verdi (Yoo-seppi) (Val-de) was born October, 1813, in Roncole. He was the composer of 26 operas. His musical history may be divided into three periods, and in the last he approached Wagner in greatness, and frequently surpassed him in beauty of idea. Wagner made both the librettist and the music of his operas, while Verdi took his opera stories from other authors. Both of these great men were born in the same year.

"Il Trovatore" came in the second period of the great composer's fame. Out of the chaff of Italian opera comes this opera, satisfying to the generation of today as it was to that first audience in Rome.

When Verdi was 10 years old, he was apprenticed to a grocer in Buseto, but he was a musical grocer and the musical atmosphere, which was life to Verdi, surrounded him.

He loved to sit at the spinet and hunt out new harmonious combinations.

"Il Trovatore"

The story belongs to the fifteenth century in Spain, and tells of the border wars of northern Spain, carried on in the provinces of Arragon and Biscay. Count de Luna is the leader of the Arragon forces and Maurice, the handsome troubador, leader of his gipsy band. They are rivals for the hand of Leonora, one of the suite of the princess of Arragon, who is in love with Maurice.

The scene of the Anvil Chorus is in the mountains of Biscay. A forge fire blazes through a doorway of tumbledown stones. Maurice lies wounded on a couch near the forge fire. Azucena, his gipsy mother, sits beside him watching. All night the gipsy band has been at work forging weapons with which to fight, and just before dawn they are discovered singing a fine song which they accompany by a rhythmic pounding upon the anvils.

Saint Saens, (Charles Camille) was born at Paris, October 9, 1835. Having lost his father, he was brought up by his mother and a great aunt. She taught him the elements of music and to this day the composer keeps the little old-fashioned instrument on which this dearly loved relative gave him his first lessons. At seven he began to study piano with Stamaty. He showed a marvelous aptitude for music. Saint Saens was only 16 when he composed his first symphony, which was performed with success by the Societe de Sainte Cecile.

In 1853 he became organist of the church of St. Merri and shortly after accepted the post of pianoforte professor at the conservatory.

Though overwhelmed with work, he found time for composing symphonies, chamber music and vocal and instrumental pieces. Perhaps his greatest composition is "Sanisson and Delilah," a sacred drama and opera in 4 acts.

He became an extensive traveller, paying visits in Russia, Spain, Germany, Australia and England.

His fame mainly rests on his instrumental music and on his masterly and effective manner of dealing with or headache—rub forehead, temples and back of neck with Vicks. Melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors.

the orchestra. In addition to his other claims to distinction, Saint Saens was a musical critic.

Le Cygne (The Swan)

This work belongs to that class of program or descriptive music in which the title suggests the mood or poetic thought of the composer. One would expect here a mood quite in contrast to the upward flight of the lark or the swift motions of a swallow, or the heavy beating of eagle's wings and quite differently represented.

Saint Saens has pictured the mood inspired by the stately bird floating with quiet dignity on the surface of the water in the dusk of evening. The theme is a slow melody over an accompaniment that ripples like the surface of a lake.

sides this the bill appropriates $1,000,000 a year from the general fund to the highway fund.

So while the gas tax would have removed the entire burden of state highway cost from the general property, this weight tax bill, which raises still more revenue, must be supplemented by $1,000,000 raised through general property tax. Sen. Sligh feels that in this respect the governor is hardly consistent, and that he has arrogated to himself, the legislative and judicial powers in addition to his complete executive and administrative authority.

The bill finally passed the senate 24 to 6, with only senators Bernie L. Case, Horton, Karcher, Leland, Sligh, and Young voting against it. Speculations are rife as to the fate of this bill in the house, where sentiment opposed to increasing the governor's authority is still stronger than in the senate and where any bill tending to decrease the authority or efficiency of the state highway department is bound to meet with strong opposition.

Mortgage Sale

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Ney P. Smith, a single man, to Fred E. Frazier dated the 12th day of June, A. D. 1919, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix and the State of Michigan, on the 12th day of June A. D. 1919, in Liber 59 of Mortgages, on page 345, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the sum of Seven Hundred Fifty (750) Dollars and fifty-six (56) Cents, and an Attorney's fee of Thirty Dollars, provided for in said mortgage and in addition the amount of taxes paid thereon, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof;

Now, Therefore, By virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Friday, the 6th day of July A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, I shall sell at Public Auction to the highest bidder, at the East front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan (that being the place where the Circuit Court for said County of Charlevoix is held,) the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with seven per cent interest, and all legal costs, together with an attorney's fee of thirty Dollars, and the taxes paid thereon, as provided by law and as covenanted for therein, the premises being described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: The Northeast Quarter of the Southwest quarter of Section thirty-three (33) Township thirty-four (34) North, Range Eight (8) West, in the Township of Charlevoix and County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan. Dated April 3rd, 1923.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale

Default having been made in the conditions of two certain real estate mortgages whereby the power of sale therein contained has become operative, which said mortgages were given respectively as follows, to-wit: the first of said mortgages dated March 21st, 1919 by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife, of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, on the twenty-second day of March, 1919, in Liber forty of mortgages on page two hundred and forty-six, and the second certain mortgage dated November 16, 1920, was given by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, on the fifth day of May, 1921 in Liber forty six mortgages on page four hundred and nineteen; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said first mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Six Hundred and Forty-two Dollars, principal and interest, and Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee as provided for by said mortgage; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said second mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Eleven Hundred and Forty-nine Dollars and Twenty-three cents, principal and interest, and the sum of Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee provided for by said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the money by either of said mortgages or any part thereof. Now, therefore, notice is given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgages and of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgages will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due thereon of the said mortgages of principal and interest, together with the costs and expenses of foreclosure on these mortgages including the Attorney fees therein provided for, at Public Auction to the highest bidder thereon, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held,) on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day. The premises described in said mortgages being described as follows; to-wit: In said first mortgage, the South West quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township thirty-four (34) North, Range Eight (8) West, containing Forty (40) acres of land more or less, according to the government survey thereof; and in said second mortgage, the West half of the North East quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township thirty-four (34) North, Range Eight (8) West, containing twenty (20) acres more or less, according to the government survey thereof; both said descriptions being located in the Township of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan.

Dated April 21, 1923.

Chet See is home from Detroit, where he has been spending the winter months.
Harold C. Laym, of Traverse City, was here on business Tuesday of this week.
John H. Garnsey, of Joliet, Ill., son-in-law of "Uncle George H. Van-

Pelt, was a visitor to the city on Saturday.

Allison Bugbee returned today from Detroit, where he has been working this winter.

Supt. of Schools, A. J. Duncanson, and Mrs. Duncanson, of East Jordan, were in the city Saturday.

The steamer, "Missouri," which is expected here today, will leave Chicago on her second trip, May 5th. Shippers please note.

W. E. Betts, of Benzonia, who has been buying considerable timber from the Arthur Beattie farm, this winter, is stopping at the Hotel Charlevoix for a couple of weeks.

John Ames, well-known representative of Armour & Company, was a guest at the Hotel Charlevoix Monday, having just recently recovered from a severe attack of the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Lucas and Mr. and Mrs. H. Vanderwerp and children, of Petoskey, were the first automobile party to stop for Sunday dinner at the Hotel Charlevoix this season.

Word comes to us just before going to press that Jay Adams was seriously injured at his home near this city today by being thrown from a sulky plow, when a wheel caught in a rut. More particulars later.

Alvie Snider, who has been working in Grand Rapids all winter, is expected home tomorrow by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Snider, of the East Marion district.

E. E. Cross has sold his house at 300 Dixon Avenue and will move into another dwelling owned by him on Petoskey Avenue. He is planning to erect a modern bungalow this summer on his Petoskey Avenue property.

Henry Wood is in Detroit this week. He was accompanied by John Baker and Ray Faulkner and son, and the party was to be joined at Detroit by Raymond Seymour, who has been working in Flint this winter. They will drive back five new Dodge cars.

H. L. Johnson, manager of the Michigan State Telephone Co.'s exchange at Petoskey, is here this week with a number of assistants, looking over the new exchange office and other business. A. E. Huntley, district superintendent from Saginaw, is with him.

Dr. W. W. Mitchell left for Grand Rapids, Friday, to drive back a new Hudson car. He was accompanied by Dr. Armstrong, who was met by his daughter, Helen, at Grand Rapids, on her way north from Chicago, where she has been spending the winter. The party drove back to Charlevoix Sunday.

Mrs. W. L. Kline, of Buffalo, arrived Monday to visit her son, Harry Gregory, who has been ill at his home here since February. She has found him so much improved that she returns to her home tonight, stopping en route at South Boardman, Mt. Pleasant and Flint to visit friends. Mrs. Kline is a former resident of this city.

About fifty guests were present at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan at the club rooms of the Loeb Farms last night. The rooms were prettily decorated with carnations and pussy-willows and refreshments were served. An orchestra from Charlevoix furnished music for dancing, which was the main feature of the evening.

HELD MEETING AT EAST JORDAN FRI.

County Agricultural Society Plans For 1923 Fair

The executive board of the county agricultural society met at East Jordan, Friday, April 27th, and made extensive plans for the coming fair.

A general revision of the premium list is to be made. Anyone having any suggestions to offer regarding same, kindly write the secretary, Frank F. Bird, Charlevoix, route 3.

A new feature of the 1923 fair will be a public wedding to take place on the free exhibition platform in front of the grand-stand, Friday afternoon, September 14th. Further particulars later.

The Courier would suggest that in order to make this a real, up-to-date affair, "Ben. of Benton Harbor" be engaged to stage a group wedding on the grounds (if he can be located.) Of course, this means minus the whiskers.

LITTLE MISS KLING CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Loeb Farms Young People Assisted Her

A delightful gathering of the younger social set of the Loeb Farms celebrated the twelfth birthday of Edith Kling at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kling, last Sunday afternoon.

Dainty refreshments were served and victrola and piano music whiled away the hours, the principal entertainment being the excellent piano solos by Edwin Kling, Edith's fourteen year old brother.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Kling, the only adults present were Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Webb and Mr. and Mrs. August Wallgren.

SEEDS NOW READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

L. E. Benton Has Them to Give Away—See Him

County Superintendent of the Poor Lyman E. Benton, has received his instructions from Washington relative to the free seed that were delivered to him last week and finds that they were intended for the use of the poor-farm.

However, since the poor-farm cannot use all of the supply that was sent to him by Frank Scott, our representative, he has decided to make a general distribution of the residue, so step up and get your seeds at number 307, Bridge street, but don't come at once.

BI-COUNTY LEAGUE ORGANIZED

REPRESENTATIVES MET AT PETOSKEY THURSDAY

Rules of Last Season to Be Unchanged—Local Team Needs Earnest Support

Harbor Springs, Pellston, Boyne City, Charlevoix and East Jordan sent representatives to Petoskey Thursday night to organize a six team baseball league. They met with Petoskey at the chamber of commerce rooms.

Dr. G. E. Frank, of Harbor Springs, was elected president and secretary and will lead the league during the present season. Henry Boehm, of Petoskey, was elected vice president and William Voght, of Boyne City, was elected treasurer and committee of one to form a schedule. Next Thursday, another meeting is to be held in Petoskey to adopt the schedule. The league season opens June 10th.

A large representation from Charlevoix and Emmet county cities were present and much interest and enthusiasm were displayed. No change will be made in the rules and regulations of last year, nor will there be any amendments. Each city in the league now has a good baseball field and much less difficulty in making preparations for the season's games is anticipated on this account.

The local organizations in the various cities of the league are expected to hold meetings this week and organize, elect officers, and prepare for the opening game.

Whether or not Charlevoix has a team in the league this summer depends largely upon the financial support given it by the fans and merchants of this city, but, if Charlevoix is represented, we will have a team that will be a top-notch, as usual. For three years Charlevoix has held second place in the league and this is a good showing for the local players.

A winning baseball team is a big asset to any community in this day and age and means good advertising and better business for the town it represents. It not only attracts large crowds from out of town on game days but forms a rallying point for the civic pride and enthusiasm which lies dormant in every burg, large or small, and only waits for some common interest to bring it out. Once aroused, it works in many other directions to the community's benefit and profit. So let's get behind the Charlevoix nine and help push it up into first place.

MISS CROSS ANNOU- CES ENGAGEMENT

At Informal Breakfast Last Saturday Morning

At an informal breakfast last Saturday morning, at eleven, Miss H. Mildred Cross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Cross, announced her engagement to Mr. Clair S. Webster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anna Webster. The guests were seated at small tables, having for centerpieces low vases of jonquils and the favors were unique hand-painted cupid. The color scheme of white and pink predominated in the decorations and menu.

The Misses Henrietta Baldwin and Ina Genett assisted with the serving. Mrs. A. L. Fochtman, sister of Miss Cross, was the only out-of-town guest; coming from Petoskey. The wedding will take place in the early fall.

DISABLED FISH TUG DRIFTS WITH FLOES

Her Rescuer, the "Christie," Makes 32 Hour Struggle

The fishing tug "Liberty," of the Beavers, Harold McCann, master and owner, was disabled off Grand Traverse point last Thursday morning by the breaking of her shaft and the loss of her propeller. She was on her way from Grand Haven, which she had left several days before, to St. James.

The tug started to blow distress signals at about seven o'clock Thursday morning. These signals were heard by the keeper of the Grand Traverse light-house, who telephoned Captain Partridge, of the local coast guard station, at seven-thirty. The latter immediately arranged by wire for a car ferry to go to McCann's assistance.

The "Liberty" drifted in the floes all day Thursday and Thursday night and at about eleven o'clock Friday morning was taken in tow by the barge "T. S. Christie," of the Hettler Lumber Company, of Chicago, on her way to this port. Word of this reaching the coast guard station here, the order for the car ferry was canceled at once.

The "Christie," with her prize in tow, battled the ice for thirty-two hours, finally arriving in the harbor here at eight p. m., Saturday.

HOSPITAL RE- PORTS 16 CASES

THESE WERE ADMITTED DURING MONTH OF APRIL

Financial Report Shows That They Have a Fair Sum On Hand at Month End

The Charlevoix hospital reports for April show, as usual, that this valuable institution has been busy at its wonderful work.

Sixteen patients were admitted to the hospital this month. Do you realize, good people of Charlevoix, what this means? Sixteen people given a fighting chance for life, health and happiness. Some of these patients come from every city and district in the county each month and many of them could not have a tenth part of the skilled care and treatment in their own homes that they get at the hospital. Many lives are saved that would otherwise be lost, many broken bodies are patched to serve for further years of useful, helpful service. Our only wonder is, as we look over the unrummled figures of the monthly reports, how did we ever get along without it.

Must Lock Doors

Postmaster George Weaver has received notice from the second assistant postmaster general to the effect that the lobby doors of the local post office must be kept locked at night, the office closing at 7:30 p. m. This order, which takes effect Saturday, May 12th, is a result of the recent depredations committed by young "roughnecks" in and about the post office premises. Once again the many suffer for the few.

SINCLAIR STA- TION IMPROVED

NEW PUMP, WASH-STAND AND COMPRESSOR PLANNED

An 18,000 Gallon Storage Tank Will Give Much Increased Capacity

Changes are taking place, as many must have noticed, in the property occupied by the Sinclair oil station of Brown & Wallace, corner of Bridge Street and Belvedere Avenue.

Those mysterious looking brick piers on the Bridge Street side are the supports of a new pump shed which is to be constructed on the south side of the present station, similar to the one now in operation in the front of the building.

The curb and sidewalk will be torn up on the Bridge Street side and a wide driveway built to extend in a quarter circle around the station to Belvedere Avenue. Just east of, and between the driveway and the present building, a space equipped with a wash-stand and drain will be reserved for washing cars, as the management feels that this is a feature generally overlooked in the design of an oil and gas station and one that will be appreciated by the local car owner as well as the tourist. The new driveway will be of width ample to accommodate the largest truck. When the building operations on top of the hill are completed, the bank of the gravel pit will be walled up to prevent caving.

A new pump will be put in on the Belvedere Avenue side and, with the one in the rear, will give the station three pumps, affording better service to patrons. An 18,000 gallon storage gasoline tank will be installed as part of the new equipment and, across the street, an automatic air compressor will be set up temporarily until after the season's heavy traffic is over and it can be removed to the station side. A new Ford truck has also been purchased for quick light delivery.

The contemplated changes will give Messrs. Brown & Wallace a capacity sufficient to take care of 1923 business in much better shape than formerly and the improvements in the property will add much to the appearance of this prominent corner where so much of the summer's traffic passes. While the late spring has held up the work of construction, William Wallace, who is acting as his own architect and personally superintending the job, believes that the new addition will be ready for business about the middle of summer.

ROTTED POLES CRASH DOWN ACROSS ROAD

Tangle of Live-Wires a Menace in the Dark

Last Thursday evening, two light and telephone poles, badly rotted at their base, fell across the road with their tangle of wires on Allee Street—one in front of Rueben Geer's place and the other, pulled down by the fall of its fellow, near the Correll residence.

One automobile narrowly escaped crashing into the pole and did, in fact, become badly tangled in the wires, two of which carried a lighting current of 400 volts. Judge Correll stopped another party approaching from the north, up the hill, and warned them back in time to avoid a catastrophe.

Lanterns were placed on the fallen poles and the light department notified. The wreckage was cleared away that evening and the poles replaced on the following day.

LITTLE MISS BROWE HOLDS CELEBRATION

Entertains Young Friends on Seventh Birthday

A delightful birthday party was given for little Dalarla Browe, at her home at 401 E. Lincoln Avenue, last Thursday, in honor of her seventh birthday.

Quite a number of little tots were present—the Misses Clementine Browe, Florence Smith, Dorothy Smith, Norma Smith, Rose Dodd, Violet Dodd, Betty Jean Cartier, and Masters William Gehenu, Victor Smith and Wilfred Browe.

A fine lunch was served and all had a good time playing games.

STILL PRODUCING RECORD HOLSTEINS

Loeb Farms Holstein Cow Produces 110.5 lbs. Butter in 30 Days

An excellent production record made by Maple Lane Zelle, Rihlet, owned by Loeb Farms, Charlevoix, Mich., is officially announced by the advanced registry department of the National Holstein Association.

At the age of six years and three months, this cow produced 586.3 lbs. of milk containing 24,999 lbs. of butterfat, in seven days. This butterfat production equals 31.2 lbs. of butter. Her thirty day record is 233.9 lbs. of milk and 88.379 lbs. of butterfat, equal to 110.5 lbs. of butter.

The Advanced Registry year book records all animals which produce up to the standard set for their age and length of test. A survey of sales shows that cows with official records of production sell easier and higher than cows without records of production.

Plant Shipment of Trout Fry
Thirty cans of brook trout fry were received by members of the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club Tuesday morning from the state hatchery at Oden and planted in McGeagh and Stover creeks. This is the second shipment received so far this year, with others to follow.

HOW WILL YOU ANSWER THESE

SUPT. HAMILTON ASKS A FEW "POSERS"

Parents, With Children in Our Schools, Should Read the Following Carefully

Supt. of Schools, Charles F. Hamilton, has a message this week for the parent and the rural teacher and pupil. The questionnaire, addressed to "Mr. School Patron," contains some very pertinent queries and should stir to self-examination the parents of all the city's children of school age.

Mr. School Patron:
Could you answer the following questions regarding your school? If not, why not?

1. Could you mention the studies your child is pursuing?

2. Could you name the branches in which your child is doing excellent work?

3. Could you tell a stranger what your schools are doing?

4. Do you know how your child acts away from home?

5. Do you know the teachers who teach your children and have you sought to enlighten them about any unusual condition with reference to your child so they may be better able to solve student problems?

6. Is your criticism constructive and is it made at the proper time and place so any misunderstanding may be adjusted and a better feeling exist between school and home, or do you tell it to some one interested in none other way than to stifle the efforts made by those interested in growth.

7. Can you say as you comment on the work of the school year, "It has been a reasonably successful year and I have played at least a small part in making it so?"

To rural pupils and teachers:

The coming Saturday will be the last prior to the 8th grade examination. You are urged to be present at the Saturday reviews on this, the last day they will be held. Teachers, come prepared to teach a class. Make this day the best we've had. Make an effort to have 80 present. Chas. Hamilton.

POMONA MEETS WITH ROCK ELM ON FRIDAY

W. F. Taylor, State Field Worker, Will Speak

Pomona Grange will meet with Rock Elm grange on May 11th. It is hoped that a large crowd will be present to enjoy the fine talks which will be given in the afternoon and evening. W. F. Taylor will be present.

In the evening the round-up for the dairy alfalfa campaign will take place. Everybody will be well-paid for attending.

I will be in Charlevoix, at Hookers barn, Thursday, with a bunch of work horses, weighing from 2,400 to 3,000—ages 4 to 7. Matt Somerville.—Adv. 19-11.

ETHICS OF THE PROFESSION

ARE ADOPTED BY TEACHERS OF MICHIGAN

What a Teacher May Do and May Not Do As Decided by the State Association

Michigan school teachers are to have a code of ethics that will become the "bible" of the teaching profession in this state, if the plan of the Michigan State Teachers' association is followed. A committee some time ago was appointed to draft a tentative code and this now is ready for submission to the teachers. The code has the following rules:

A teacher should actively affiliate with professional organizations of teachers.

A clear understanding of the law of contracts is incumbent upon a teacher. Since a teacher should scrupulously keep whatever agreement is made, he should refuse to sign a contract unjust and humiliating in form.

It is unprofessional for a teacher to resign unless his contract provides for release on giving proper notice.

It is unprofessional for a teacher to sign a yearly contract to teach for a wage that is not sufficient to cover living expenses for twelve months.

It is unprofessional for a teacher to underbid, knowingly, a rival in order to obtain a position. It is expected that a teacher will verify a rumor of vacancy before filing an application. In a graded school an application should be filed with the superintendent.

It is unprofessional for a teacher to interfere in any way in matters of discipline between another teacher and pupil.

It is unprofessional for a teacher to bear tales to the administration about another teacher. However, it should be considered an unprofessional not to report to the administration matters that involve the best interests and well-being of the school.

It is unprofessional for a teacher to remain in a system and not to cooperate with the administration of the system. Those in authority should be given the benefit of a doubt in matters of policy. (Continued on page eight)

MOTHER'S DAY TO BE OBSERVED MAY 13TH

Governor Groesbeck, in his Mother's Day proclamation, has set forth its sentiments in as fitting a manner that it seems superfluous to comment upon it. The proclamation follows:

In compliance with our beautiful custom, which in a few years has come to be universally observed throughout the land, the time has come to set apart a day in honor of American motherhood.

The American home is at once the cradle and the bulwark of all that is finest and best in our present day civilization, and the American mother is the heart of that home. If the home spirit is what it should be the major portion of the credit belongs to her.

It is impossible for us to compute the debt we owe our mothers, and it is only fitting that in this way we should pay our tribute of respect and devotion to the mothers of the nation, living and dead.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I do hereby designate and proclaim Sunday, May thirteenth, 1923, as Mother's Day, and I call upon our people, both old and young, to gather in their several places of worship and take part in services appropriate to the day.

And let absent sons and daughters take this occasion to visit the mother in the old home, or, where such a visit is impossible, let them send a message of cheer and greeting.

In accordance with a resolution of the Congress of the United States, I further request the people of Michigan on the day aforesaid to display the United States flag in their homes and in other suitable places, as a fitting expression of their desire to pay homage to American motherhood.

Alex J. Groesbeck, Governor.

PERMANENT ENAMEL BAKED ON STEEL

Eight years ago, when Dodge Brothers originated the all-steel motor car body, they took advantage of the absence of wood in the framework to bake an enamel finish on the surface of the steel.

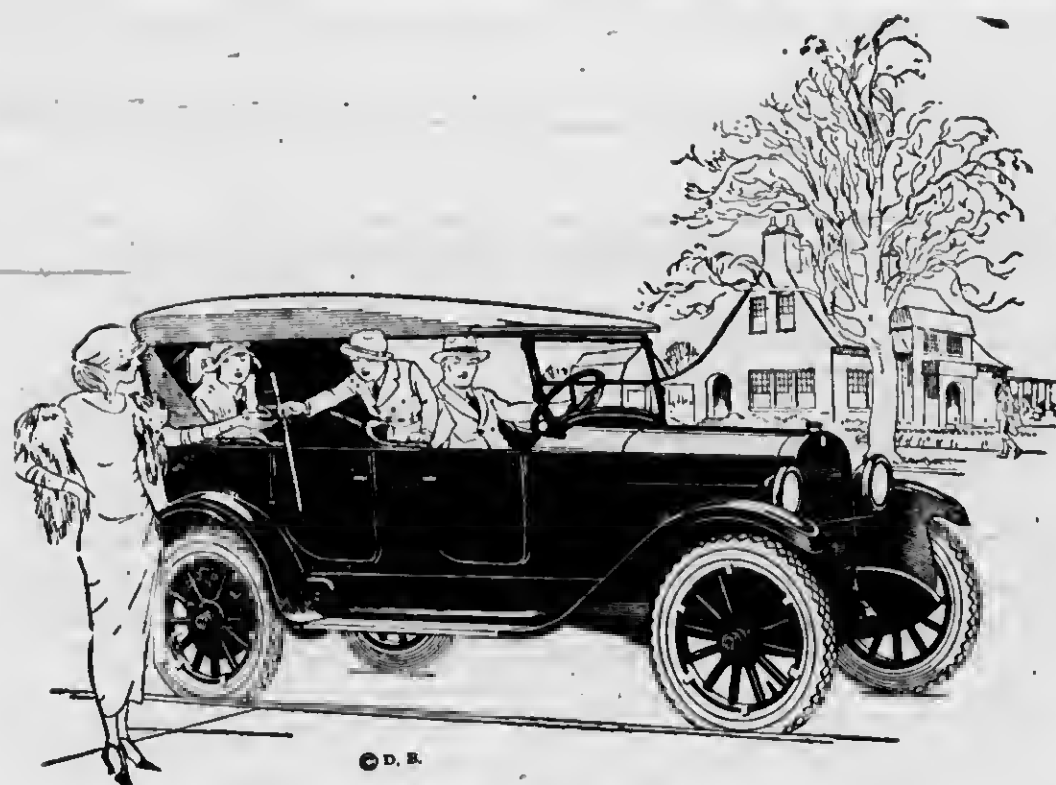

In a vast series of electric ovens, especially designed and built by Dodge Brothers' engineers for this process, three distinct coats of black enamel are successively baked on the steel at an intensely high temperature.

The result is a finish so hardy and durable that it seldom requires more than a good cleaning and polishing to restore the original brightness.

Even in sections of the Southwest where alkali in the soil is especially destructive to body finishes, Dodge Brothers enamel retains its beautiful lustre after years of wear.

UNDER THE DOME AT LANSING.

The settlement of many leading issues during the closing hours of the session brought a fitting climax to what one solon termed "the most nerve-racking legislative session" in his memory. The Governor's automobile weight tax, the income tax, and the proposed new method of distributing the primary school interest fund were leading measures the fate of which was not determined until nearly the final hour of adjournment.

Much of the jam in the legislative machinery was caused by failure of the Senate and House to reach agreement over the various items in the more important appropriation bills. As a rule the Senate was more liberal than the House, and desired larger appropriations for the University of Michigan, the Michigan Agricultural College and the general building program for the other state institutions.

As in the closing hours of the many previous sessions, it was a regrettable fact that many of the most important issues were not settled entirely upon their merits. Log-rolling and vote-swapping seemed to determine the fate of most of the big bills that came up in the closing hours.

Reforestation Promoted

Measures to promote the orderly development of the northern part of the state have received final legislative approval. The Senate concurred unanimously in the action of the House in passing the Meggison-Sargent bill to provide a deferred tax on forest growth.

Under the terms of this bill, the owner of any timber lands, or lands chiefly valuable for the growth of timber within this state, may apply to the commissioner of agriculture to have such property set apart for the growth of timber. If, after investigation, the application is approved by the commissioner of agriculture, the land shall thereafter be taxed at the rate of 5 cents per acre annually.

After a 25 year period the timber would be subject to cutting, under general control of the commissioner of agriculture, who would guard against wasteful methods. At this time the owner of the timber would be assessed a tax equal to 25 per cent of the stumpage value of the timber cut, to be paid into the state treasury.

There is a provision in the bill which would prevent it from working a hardship on any local taxing unit. Section 6 of the bill provides that "The state administrative board may, in its discretion, advance to the townships in which any forest reserve lands lie, such sums each year out of the general fund of the state as will compensate them for the amount of taxes which would be collectible from such forest reserve lands had they not been registered."

There was a general feeling that the annual general property tax was not adopted for the production of long-time crops, such as forest products, and that the passage of this bill would go a long way toward the most economical utilization of large areas in northern Michigan, and would do more to promote forest development than large sums invested in paternalistic tree planting by the state.

Land Certification O. K.'D.

Another bill sponsored by Rep. Meggison, which has for its object the orderly settlement of Michigan farm land, was passed by the Senate with but one negative vote. This was the so-called land certification bill, which has been promoted by the development bureau of the state department of agriculture.

The provisions of this measure are entirely optional and no one need have his land certified unless he desires. The owners of worthless land will probably not care to have their holding subjected to inspection and certification by the state commissioner of agriculture. The evident purpose of this bill is to protect those desiring to purchase Michigan land from the deceptive practices of unscrupulous land sharks.

M. A. C. Gets Stadium

The proposal to loan money from the general fund of the state to finance the building of a stadium at the Michigan Agricultural college, as favored by Gov. Groesbeck, has passed both branches of the legislature.

The bill provides for the loan of $160,000 from the state to the college for the construction of the initial unit of an athletic stadium. This loan must be repaid in ten equal annual installments beginning in 1924. As far as possible this refund is to be made out of receipts of athletic contests to be held in the proposed stadium.

Defectives To Be Sterilized

One of the most sensational debates of the closing hours of the session centered around final passage through the House of Senator Sligh's bill to authorize the sterilization of mentally defective persons. Those who advocated the bill declared that sterilization was the proper "treatment" for many cases and that it increased both the physical and mental welfare of the individual, and that, in many cases it would enable the individual to "make good" in his local community with the minimum amount of supervision. Rep. Baxter of Grand Rapids, who led the fight for this measure in the House, declared that the enactment of this bill would allow the state officials to release at least one hundred inmates from the institution for the feeble minded at Lapeer and that 10 per cent of those now coming to this institution could be left at large in their home communities if this bill were passed. The great financial saving to the state which would result from the adoption of such a policy was also pointed out by Rep. Baxter.

Discrimination Bill Passed

Senator Bernie L. Case's bill to prevent unlawful discrimination in the purchase of potatoes was amended by the House to include grain and beans and was passed by them 85 to 3. This bill is intended to protect small local private and co-operative elevators and marketing associations from the unfair competition practiced by some old-line dealers. It has been a common practice for a few unscrupulous dealers to temporarily pay more than the market price in towns where a small elevator is trying to get a start in order to freeze out competition. These dealers have been able to pay this higher price for a short time in a few localities because they paid the farmer much less than the market price in localities where they had no

EARLY MORNING FIRE FIRST IN MANY WEEKS

Occurred Friday at Home of William Duba

The first fire that Charlevoix has suffered in many weeks broke out at the home of William Duba, on East Garfield Street, last Friday morning at seven-thirty o'clock.

The blaze started from a defective stove pipe up stairs and was creeping through the shingles before it was discovered. Mrs. Duba first noticing the smoke rolling down into the yard. Duba made several ineffectual attempts to enter the room where the fire had started but was driven back by the smoke and flame. His hair was singed and face badly blistered. He succeeded, however, in getting enough water on the side walls of the room to keep the fire from getting into the partitions, which would have probably resulted in the complete destruction of the house.

By this time, several of the neighbors had formed a bucket brigade and assisted Mr. Duba in doing what they could to check the fire on the roof. Mrs. Duba had turned in the alarm from a neighbor's phone and the fire department responded promptly with the chemical apparatus. Considerable damage was done on the lower floor by the bursting of the chemical hose, as the firemen were entering the house. The repair of this hose caused some delay and it was finally necessary to lay the big hose to the hydrant on Lincoln Street.

Twenty minutes sufficed to get the flames under control. Mr. Duba had recently resingled his roof with composition shingles and that side of the roof was fortunately undamaged. The loss was covered by insurance and the following day a gang of men under the direction of J. M. Saunders, quickly replaced the burned portion of the roof.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

B. J. Gellieck, of Grand Haven, government marine boiler inspector, was in the city Tuesday on business. Guy Meyers, of Galveston, Texas, arrived last week to visit his brother, Fred Meyers, in this city. He has a position in the employ of the U. S. Shipping Board.

There will be a joint meeting of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary, Monday evening, May 14, at seven thirty o'clock, at the office of R. F. Sloan. This is to be an important meeting and all members of both organizations are urgently requested to attend.

The funeral of Edgar Sanger, who died a week ago Sunday in this city, was held from his home on Bridge Street, Rev. Quant officiating, last Thursday afternoon. Burial was in Brookside cemetery. His son, Robert, who has been living on the Beavers this winter, was unable to reach this city until Monday.

The city junk collection wagons in their clean-up work about the city during the past few days, have managed to scatter quite an amount of broken glass chips and fragments of bottles and shattered window panes along the streets. These bits and pieces are hard on car tires and it would be a public spirited act on the part of property owners if they would see that the roadway in front of their property is cleared of them. Car-owners hardly need this suggestion but everyone should do his part.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Margaret McDonald, of Central Lake, who had a malignant growth removed from her shoulder last week, returned to her home Tuesday.

Mrs. Lela Amburgey, of East Jordan, who submitted to a serious abdominal operation last Thursday, is improving rapidly.

Kieth Carey, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey, had his tonsils removed last Friday.

Delbert Allen, of Bellaire, who came in for cabinet and electric treatment last week, is going home tomorrow. His rheumatism was the result of going fishing on May 1st with a leaky pair of waders. However, he got the fish.

Mrs. Eugene McRoberts was operated on, Monday, May 7th, and at this writing is doing very well.

Mrs. Nelson Tillotson, who was admitted to the hospital on May 7th, is doing nicely and will return to her home tomorrow.

Mrs. Ralph Wiltse, of Central Lake, who submitted to a minor operation Tuesday, is doing as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Bertha Stanford, who had an operation performed Tuesday, is fairly comfortable now.

George Pappin, who was admitted to the hospital on February 4th, was transferred to the Manistee hospital marine ward this week.

Lyman Ruder returned the latter part of last week for the fourth time this winter and submitted to his third operation for abdominal abscess. His condition is much improved, however.

The new electric bath equipment recently purchased from the Saville Sanitarium, is now in full running order. A good many applications have already been received and several treatments given. In fact, this department of the hospital is exceptionally busy. Appointments may be made by telephone or personally with Miss Cable the superintendent for these treatments. Prices are as follows:

Cabinet baths, single, $2.00.
Cabinet baths, six treatments, $9.
Arm or leg baths, $1.00.
Partial massage, $1.00.
General massage, $2.50.
Vibrator, used with any treatment, extra $1.50.

One hour combination of treatments—prices adjusted at hospital.
Out-of-town patients may stay at the hospital while taking treatments, if it is inconvenient to return home between times.

Monster Pike Caught

The largest wall-eyed pike captured in the United States in two years was landed by Al Ely, fishing on Walloon Lake, last Thursday. The monster pike measured 32 inches in length and weighed 15 pounds 6 ounces. It will be entered in the national Field and Stream fishing contest for 1923 and in the South Bend Bait company contest for the year. The fish was on display at the McCabe hardware, Petoskey. The largest pike entered in the national contest last year weighed 14 pounds 8 ounces.

WEIGHT TAX BILL KILLED

VOTE IN HOUSE PRECEDED BY DRAMATIC DEBATE

"Principals of Representative Government at Stake" Is Opinion of Rep. Evans

Defeat of the Smith automobile weight tax bill by a vote of 41 yeas to 56 nays marked the climax of the closing hours of the 52nd session of the Michigan state legislature. The final vote was preceded by one of the most intense and dramatic debates in the history of Michigan's law-making bodies.

Acting under a "call of the House," which prevented any members from leaving the chamber, the fight was waged back and forth for two hours while the members and spectators who packed the galleries and side lines to capacity went without their dinner until 2:30, when the final roll call was taken.

Debate on this bill was tinged more or less with the intense bitterness which was developed among the representatives by the Governor's gas tax veto. Rep. Chas. Evans, leader of the "bitter-enders" among the gas tax forces voiced this sentiment when he said, "This has ceased to be a question of a gas tax or weight tax. It is now a question of whether or not representative government shall prevail in Michigan." He said that the eyes of the people from every section of the state were riveted on the netions of the members of the House and declared that the methods used to secure the passage of the weight tax bill endangered the integrity of the state. He voiced the sentiment that when 80 representatives and 19 senators should vote for a measure which they felt that their constituents demanded, it was hardly fitting for the Governor to exercise his veto power.

Rep. Evans quoted Sen. Sligh's remark that the weight tax bill was "conceived in sin and born in iniquity" and declared that the real purpose of the bill was not to raise more revenue but to place the state highway department under the control of the State Administrative Board. Rep. John Espie of Clinton county voiced similar sentiments when he said that to pass this measure would make the state highway commissioner a mere office boy for the administrative board and would assist to build up a more powerful political machine in Michigan.

Voicing additional protest against the passage of the bill, Rep. Elijah Howarth, of Royal Oak, pointed out the big loss which would be sustained by the counties under the system of distributing the highway funds proposed by the weight tax, which returns only one third of the receipts to the counties instead of one half as at present. Other speakers who spoke in opposition to final passage of the bill were Rep. David Butler of Lapeer county, and Rep. Dykstra of Grand Rapids.

After ending the speaker pro tem to preside, Speaker Geo. Welsh, of Grand Rapids, took the floor in support of the bill. He vindicated his own stand in the matter and urged the members to vote in accordance with their convictions. He declared that if representative government were in danger in Michigan it was not because of our able Governor, but because the members feared to vote as they saw fit. Finally some one moved the previous question and further debate was shut off and the representatives lined up as follows:

Nays: Baxter, Bradley, Brake, Braman, Brown, Geo. Bryan, Butler, Byrum, Curtis, Dawe, Deshano, Dexter, Dykstra, Emerson, Espie, Evans, Fuller, Gillett, Haight, Holland, Hubbard, Hulett, Orvy, Jones, Kirby, Kooyers, Lewis, Chas. F., Lewis, Rolfe L., Long, Look, MacDonald, McEachron, Meggison, Miller, Ming, Morrison, Nevins, O'Beirne, O'Connell, Odell, Osborn, Pitkin, Preston, Rasmussen, Richards, Robertson, Rowe, Roxburgh, Sanson, Strauch, Thomas, Town, Wade, Warner, Wells, Hosking, Howarth, —56.

It was a foregone conclusion that if the House should kill this bill that the Senate would kill the Byrum income tax and the Meggison primary school fund bill.

HOTEL AT ANTRIM DESTROYED BY FIRE

Roomers Have Narrow Escape in Early Sunday Morning Blaze

The hotel at Antrim burned at an early hour Sunday morning, April 29. Fire, evidently starting over the kitchen, had gained such headway when discovered by workmen at the Antrim Iron Co's furnace, that roomers had some difficulty in getting out of the burning structure when awakened by the whistles. Clothing and money and other valuables belonging to boarders were left behind in their hurried exit.

The building was so thoroughly wrecked before the firemen could get the fire under control, that the manager of the company finally asked that the streams of water be withdrawn and the flames be allowed to clean up the site of the building.

The hotel was a landmark at Antrim, the suburb of Manelona. It was 35 or 40 years old, but had been kept in good repair. The Antrim Iron Company, the owners, carry their own insurance.

But little of the furnishings of the hotel were saved from the lower floor, and none at all from the upper floors.

ELECTRIC WIRES KILL BRUTUS MAN

George Babcock Accidentally Electrocuted Friday Afternoon

George Babcock, of Brutus, was accidentally electrocuted Friday afternoon of last week when a long section of iron pipe which he was handling, came in contact with the high tension electric wires.

Babcock was assisting in sand pumping out a well at the Gregory garage directly across from the Pennsylvania depot at Brutus. In withdrawing the pipes from the well, they were projected vertically in the air, and Babcock was instantly killed when the slender pipes toppled over and struck the copper electric circuit.

George Crassey and Henry Gregory, owner of the garage, and supervisor from Maple River township, were also touched up by the current, but escaped with minor injuries.

The deceased was about 65 years of age, and is survived by his wife and several children.

WALNUT SEEDLINGS FOR PLANTING WEEK

May Be Secured at Very Reasonable Prices

In accordance with the nationwide plan for holding a tree planting week, regarding which articles have appeared in the columns of this paper from time to time, local organizations have been making inquiries and find that walnut seedlings may be obtained from dealers in the southern part of this state at very reasonable prices.

These seedlings are two years old, ranging from 12 to 18 inches in height, and are in good condition. The prices quoted below are for trees sent by parcels post prepaid. No orders will be accepted for less than ten trees. Cash must accompany the order, as the trees are sent out at cost and no extra effort can be made to collect. Stamps will not be accepted.

10-20 trees, 5c each; 20-40 trees, 4 1-2c each; 40-80 trees, 4c each; 80-150 trees, 3 1-2c each; 150 or more, 3c each.

Inquiries regarding these trees may be addressed to this office or the American Legion (local post).

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale

the first of said mortgages dated March 21st, 1919 by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife, of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, on the twenty-second day of March, 1919, in Liber forty of mortgages on page two hundred and forty-six, and the second certain mortgage dated November 15, 1920, was given by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, on the fifth day of May, 1921, in Liber forty of mortgages on page four hundred and nineteen; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said first mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Six Hundred and Forty-two Dollars, principal and interest, and Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee as provided for by said mortgage; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said second mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Eleven Hundred and Forty-nine Dollars and Twenty-three cents, principal and interest, and the sum of Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee provided for by said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the money by either of said mortgages or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgages and of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgages will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due thereon of the said mortgages of principal and interest, together with the costs and expenses of foreclosure on these mortgages including the Attorney fees therein provided for, at Public Auction to the highest bidder thereon, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix, Michigan, on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day. The premises described in said mortgages being described as follows, to-wit: In said first mortgage, the South West quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township Thirty-four (34) North, Range Eight (8) West, containing forty (40) acres of land more or less, according to the government survey thereof; and in said second mortgage, the West half of the North East quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township thirty-four (34) North, Range eight (8) west containing twenty (20) acres more or less, according to the government survey thereof; both said descriptions being located in the Township of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan.

Ellsworth Section

H. H. Elzinga and Howard Griffin are at Ellsworth this week, after cars for the Ellsworth garage.

Tod White purchased a Ford coupe from the corner garage on Monday of this week.

Miss Helen Ross returned on Saturday from Detroit, where she has been spending the winter.

Grant Kinner left on Tuesday of this week for Detroit, where he expects to spend the summer.

Mary Parsons left on Friday of last week for Grand Rapids, where she will visit relatives for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Schaffer have returned to Ellsworth for the summer and are occupying the Lewis Schaffer house on Main Street.

Miss Blanche Bass has resigned her position at the Citizens' Bank and her place has been taken by H. L. Elzinga, who recently completed his studies at Ferris Institute.

Elzinga Bros. sold two Chevrolet Superior touring cars to Frank Sheppard of Alma, a Chevrolet coupe to Sam Westgate, and a utility express truck to Klooster & VanDerArk during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Pangborn, of Paris, Mich., were in town on Sunday, ending on the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Nelson. Mr. Nelson is confined to his home, recovering from an operation performed on Friday, by Drs. Beuker and Parks.

Mrs. Ralph Wiltse has joined the list of Ellsworth patients at the Charlevoix hospital, which now includes Harry Nash, Mrs. Isaac Horinga, Mrs. D. E. Carpenter, Miss Margie Finmer and Mrs. Wiltse. All are doing well.

Wm. Donaldson of East Jordan, has purchased the Ellsworth Drug Co.'s store here, and took charge on Thursday of last week. Mr. Donaldson is a registered pharmacist and has had considerable experience in the retail drug business, having recently been employed at the Eckel Drug Co. at Petoskey. Mr. Gidley, the retiring manager of the store, is uncertain as to his future place of residence, but will probably move to East Jordan for this summer at least.

"Patty makes things hum," with Pearl Johnstone in the title role, a farce act comedy given by the seniors and juniors of Ellsworth High will hold the boards at the Blue Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. Peter Timmer, Garland Franklin, Kenneth Peebles, Albert Stachair and the Misses Emily Johnstone, Cornelia Elzinga, Evelyn Ruis, Jane Groenink and Persis VanDerStreek are also members of the cast. All the young people have been working hard under the supervision of Miss Mark, and expect to carry the play through without a hitch. Don't miss it.

FAIRVIEW-BANKS

We had a nice shower of rain Monday.

Miss Margie Timmer, who is at the Charlevoix hospital, is improving nicely, according to the latest reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kass and son, Theodore, left for Grand Rapids, Friday morning, where they will make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Kass lived in this neighborhood for 22 years and had the honor of being the last family of the colony that settled here in the woods on section 35, Banks township, in the spring of 1901, with the families of Wielenga and VanDerArk, near the I. M. railroad. In the fall of 1902 Mr. Kass built him a new home on the main road, and with hard work and untiring efforts, with many ups and downs, has transferred the virgin woods into one of the best farms in this vicinity. Although we are sorry to lose them here, we wish them success in their new undertaking.

MILES DISTRICT

John TerWee bought a driving horse last Monday.

Mr. Lawrence, a field worker for the Gleaners, called on A. Miles, Thursday.

Clarence LaLonde sold his bath equipment at Petoskey to the Charlevoix hospital.

Alfred Moblo of Traverse City, spent Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moblo.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Black and children, of Ellsworth, took supper with Mr. and Mrs. A. Miles last Thursday.

We are very sorry to hear that Mrs. Dora Kowalski passed away very suddenly Sunday morning, at her home in East Jordan.

We will have a fine piece of road south of Miles school house when road commissioner Elmer Jensen gets the job finished.

Leonard Ross, who has been ill the past ten days with pneumonia, passed away Saturday evening. No arrangements for the funeral have been made. The family have our deepest sympathy.

CENTRAL DRUG STORE

Our agricultural agent of Charlevoix county, B. O. Hagerman, of Boyne City, and G. W. Putman, alfalfa specialist, and James Hayes dairy specialist, of East Lansing held a "barn-yard" meeting Thursday afternoon at the farm of A. Miles. About twenty attended this meeting.

Notice

The party who picked up the purse at Ellsworth on Friday, May 4, is known and will save trouble by leaving same at Ellsworth Postoffice. —Adv. 19-11 pd.

PASSING OF AN EARLY PIONEER

Mrs. Lydia Jamieson Will Be Missed by a Host of Friends

The following is the obituary of Mrs. Geo. H. Jamieson of Old Mission, brief notice of which was published in the Courier last week:

Lydia Troughton was born in England, October 11, 1846. When about two years of age, she came with her family in America and settled in Cleveland, Ohio.

When a young woman she attended school in Plainfield, Ill., and there met Mr. Edwin B. Marshall, of Painesville, Ohio, to whom she was married April 28, 1868.

They were among the early settlers in Antrim County, Michigan, and underwent the hardships of pioneer life.

To them were born four children: Raphael P. Marshall, of Chicago; Mrs. Anna Stark, of Brazoria, Texas; Charles E. Marshall, of Libby, Montana; and Mrs. Bertha M. Gilmore, of Old Mission.

After Mr. Marshall's death in 1893, she spent a few years in Naperville, Ill., where her children attended school.

In 1902 she was married to Mr. George H. Jamieson, of Old Mission, where she has since resided.

She became a Christian in early life and was a member of the Ogdensburg M. E. church. She took an active part in church and community work as long as her health permitted.

After a lingering illness, she passed to her eternal reward, Monday, April 9, 1923.

TENTH ANNUAL FISH SUPPER

PROVED TO BE A MOST ENJOYABLE OCCASION

Tables Fairly Covered Under Weight of Good Things to Eat—Dr. Beuker as Toastmaster

Nearly one hundred and seventy-five people attended the tenth annual fish supper at the blue hall, on Friday evening of last week, and to say that an enjoyable time was had is putting it mildly.

The committee in charge of the supper this year, had put forth their best efforts, and the supper was up to specifications in spite of a shortage of fish. The tables were loaded with goodie and a touch of color was lent to the display by the presence of beautiful bouquets of carnations, presented by A. J. Usher, of Charlevoix, to whom the committee wish to express their sincere thanks.

Dr. Beuker was toastmaster and got away with the job in acceptable style. A piano duet, by the Misses Elzinga and Mark, a piano solo by Miss Mark and a reading by Mrs. Frank Russell and a recitation by little Della Wilson, and also talks by Art Fitch and A. J. Usher of Charlevoix, and by E. R. Harris of Ellsworth, supplied the laughter, which it is claimed is a help to good digestion. C. E. Beuker closed the program with a few words appropriate to the occasion and the crowd were on their homeward way, well satisfied both physically and mentally.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Usher, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fitch and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Novak, of Charlevoix; Miss Kate Wilson and Mrs. Clyde Smith, of Belaire; Miss Wilson's sister, Mrs. W. D. Lowell, who is home from Honduras, S. A. for the summer; Mrs. Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elroy and Mr. and Mrs. Weston of Elk Rapids; and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Van Eenennaam, of Zeeland.

ATWOOD

Brook trout. Fish stories (real lies.) Miss Grace Essenberg has gone to Grand Rapids for the summer.

Several of the Atwood folks were guests at the fish supper at Ellsworth last Friday evening.

Mr. Edison is on the road job again and will complete it during the present month.

Two preachers at the M. E. church next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Communion services will be observed.

A Mr. Brown and family of East Jordan, brother of Frank and Cliff Brown, were visiting the latter the first of the week.

Klooster & Co. are making arrangements to have an ice cream parlor during the summer months. Anything you want in the sweet line, Miss Alice Klooster will assume full charge of this department.

ANTRIM CITY

Mr. Brant bought a cow and a calf at A. B. Sneller's sale. Charley Greeley was working at Mr. Brook's place last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mason were visitors at the Stott home, Sunday.

Albert Brower and family were visitors at the Baumbach home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ranger and Mr. and Mrs. Roen, of Charlevoix, were visitors at the home of Josie Simons Sunday.

While C. L. Stott was running the cream separator the bolt that holds the top of the bowl on came loose, and there were parts of the separator and milk flying in all directions. Stott had a milk bath.

It is unprofessional for a teacher to tutor pupils of his own classes for remuneration, except by special permission of the school authorities.

It is unprofessional for a teacher to absent himself from school or to call in or allow the use of a substitute, except for serious illness or for other grave reasons.

It is unprofessional for a teacher to measure his duties or responsibilities to the pupils, to the school, or to the community, in terms of financial rewards.

Since teachers rightly are regarded as examples to pupils, a teacher should so conduct himself that no just reproach may be brought against him. Where liberty of conscience is not concerned, a teacher should stand ready to make personal sacrifice, because of the prejudices of a community.

It is unprofessional for teachers to criticize predecessors in the presence of pupils or patrons. Such procedure tends to injure the school and to weaken the confidence in which the work of teachers is held by the public.

Teachers should be ready at all times to assist one another by giving information, counsel and advice, and by such services and acts as teachers can perform without detriment to themselves or their work. Such reasonable services should be regarded as a professional duty for which remuneration beyond actual expenses should not be accepted.

No teacher should become involved in any dispute or factional difference indigenous to the community in which he is working.

It is unprofessional for any teacher to arouse or to seek to arouse among fellow-teachers, a spirit of antagonism toward another teacher, a principal, or the superintendent.

It is unprofessional for any teacher to recommend to any school board another teacher for a definite position unless the position has been officially, legally and conclusively declared vacant.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY NOTES

At the benefit concert for the Charlevoix hospital, Friday evening, May 11th, at the Palace Theatre, National Hospital Day will be observed.

The program will consist of several selections by the high school orchestra. The glee club, male quartette, male trio and Miss Oliver will sing. Miss Kathryn Gaskin and Miss Doris Hammond will give readings. A number of children, under the direction of Miss Burkland, will give "A Japanese Dance." The Catholic school will also contribute several musical selections.

Donations received since last report are: two embroidered dinner scarfs from Mrs. Robert Johnston and seventy-five cents from the Baptist Ladies Aid. The W. C. T. U. will sew for the hospital at their meeting with Mrs. E. N. Coulter next Friday afternoon.

The program for the Hospital Day entertainment will be about as follows:

Music by High School orchestra.

A song—"Spring Will Return With You"—Glee Club.

Piano Solo—Isabelle Hendrickson.

Reading—"The Country Home"—Katherine Gaskin. (With violin and piano accompaniment.)

Male Quartette.

"A Japanese Dance"—Miss Burkland's class.

Solo (vocal)—"The Swallows"—Miss Oliver.

Duet (vocal)—"Some Day I'll Wander Back"—Mary and Teresa Brönarsky, accompanied by Katherine Smith.

Reading—"The Casualty"—Doris Hammond.

Glee Club—"Bells of St. Mary's."

Male Trio—"The End of a Perfect Day."

Patriotic Melodies—High School orchestra.

Tickets for this entertainment will be sold by the Boy Scouts, who will canvass the town, or may be purchased at the theatre on the night of the affair.

FEED USED WHERE PRODUCED

When Hauled About on Trucks and on Railroads the More Expensive It Becomes.

The purpose of feed is to feed livestock, and the more the feed is hauled about in trucks and on railroads the more expensive it becomes. For this reason feed should usually be fed where it is produced.

Cattle for Market.

Success in growing cattle for the market depends in large degree on the kind of calves that are produced. No amount of proper feeding will overcome mistakes in breeding and conformation.

LAMBING-OFF IS PROFITABLE

Demonstration in Indiana County So Successful Last Year That Another Is Planned.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A lambing-off demonstration in La Porte County, Ind., proved so successful last year that plans have been made for a similar one this year, says a report received by the United States Department of Agriculture. Last year a 30-acre field was planted to corn and 100 Sun say beans. The bean seed for all but 6 acres was inoculated. The beans were planted with a soy-bean attachment on the corn planter at the rate of 6 pounds an acre.

When the corn and beans matured, 300 lambs, purchased for $8.65 a hundred pounds, were turned in to harvest them. The lambs were sold for $10.25 a hundred pounds, with a total profit of $960. After the lambs were removed from the field about 30 bushels of corn were picked up and some hogs and other live stock turned in to clean up the remainder.

The growth of beans on the 6 acres planted with uninoculated seed was decidedly inferior to the remainder of the field. The demonstration this year will be the third one of this kind on the one farm. The first year only 150 lambs were fed on the demonstration plot, but a profit satisfactory to the owner was made on them.

MAKING TEST WITH PEANUTS

Government Farm at Beltsville Experimenting With Goobers as Feed for Hogs.

Is a soft, oily fat on a hog, produced by feeding peanuts, a characteristic that can be inherited and that will persist regardless of the nature of the ration fed the offspring? That is one of the interesting questions to be investigated by the United States Department of Agriculture at the experiment farm at Beltsville, Md. Both the bacon and lard types will be used, the former to be represented at the start by 4 Tazeworth gilts and the latter by 4 Poland-China gilts.

From weaning time until their first litters are weaned these eight gilts will be grown and fed on a peanut ration. From the time of weaning their pigs will be fed on some hardening ration, such as corn and tankage, and will be compared with a check lot of pigs whose dams were fed on hardening feeds instead of peanuts during their development and gestation periods. When the pigs have been grown out and finished, some of each lot will be slaughtered to determine whether there is any difference in the carcasses; that is, if the peanut ration fed to the mothers has made it more difficult to put a hard flesh on the offspring with corn.

CLEAN WATER IS NECESSARY

Nothing Discourages "Growth impulse" Quicker Than Hog Hankering for a Drink.

Pure clean water at all times—at all times, remember—is one of the necessities for all kinds of swine. Nothing so discourages the "growth impulse" in a hog as wandering around looking for a drink of water when it is thirsty.

Gum-Dipped Cords

Gaining New Fame for Service

194% Sales Increase in Last Six Months

Shows Trend Toward Firestone

The public has emphatically spoken. The popular preference in all territories is unmistakably the Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord.

A standard of service has been set by these famous tires without parallel in the past. It has brought a sales increase of 194% for the past six months over the same period of a year ago—the greatest gain in all Firestone history.

The Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord is the mighty achievement which has enabled Firestone to break the tremendous record of past Firestone success.

The tire buying public has been aroused to the results in economical mileage of the Firestone process of double gum-dipping. The buying swing toward Firestone shows how it has advanced the public's standard of tire value.

Ask owners about Firestone performance on their cars. Note the big taxicab fleets Firestone-equipped. Watch the new cars you see—just from the factories; Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords are seen everywhere in fast increasing numbers.

Get the maximum extra mileage that only the Firestone name assures you. Only by insisting on this name can you be sure of getting the genuine gum-dipped construction.

WILL THE 1923

RESORT SEASON BE A SUCCESS?

Will Charlevoix have a successful tourist season? Now, that all depends on how you are going to judge success. Is it a question of how many more tourists will be here than there were last year; or how loud and how long will the merchant's cash registers jingle? Or is it this: in what frame of mind are we sending the tourists back to their homes? That's it!

Are we going to send them home satisfied? Are we going to give them a little more happiness; develop in them a love for our home town? What will we do for them that is a bit finer, bigger and better than last year? Are we going to cooperate with the climate God gave us and reflect sunshine to them from our hearts?

If we think we are going to succeed by "cleaning up" or gaining certain ends at the expense of our tourists, we shall not succeed. We are selling happiness, contentment and clean-cut pleasure in Charlevoix and you can't sell that stuff with a lust for money or through selfish motives. You simply have to get in line and build your business on a foundation of service—satisfactory service to your patrons, the tourists.

If every resorter leaving this city goes home with "Good Will" emblazoned on his mind, there will be several thousand walking, breathing, boosting advertisements parading the southern states next winter.

It is very discouraging for a chamber of commerce to spend a lot of money for advertising in order to get people to come to Charlevoix and then have some bone-head merchant "snap-up," argue down, or otherwise mistreat a resorter who has cost us a bunch of money to bring here to trade in his store.

If that particular resorter or tourist leaves dissatisfied, he's not apt to come again and if he leaves satisfied we can spend the money we spent bringing him here this year on bringing his southern neighbor next year.

Judge this coming season's business according to the amount of satisfactory service, unselfish cooperation, kind deeds and pleasant words that you have passed on over the counter, along with honest goods!

Clark and Miss Mary McCumsoy, of Ypsilanti, but have not as yet been signed and returned.

Of the new teachers, Mr. F. H. Austin, who is to act as principal of the high school, is a graduating class year from the state normal college at Ypsilanti with an A. B. degree. He has had some teaching experience and for the past two years has been coaching the Ypsilanti high school in addition to his duties as a student at the normal college. He is a married man and comes very highly recommended. He and Mr. Altenburg will handle the football work together next fall for C. H. S.

Miss Etta M. Reid, who will have the English department, is a graduate of Michigan State Normal College and has had several successful years as a high school teacher in this branch of the work. Miss La Rue Pennell is a graduate of M. A. C.

The new grade teachers are all graduates of normal schools and nearly all have had successful teaching experience. Miss Clare Thorson's transfer from the Lincoln school to the fourth grade at the Central building is in the nature of a promotion. She takes the place of her sister, Miss Signa Thorsen. FISHERMEN LAY IN COAL SUPPLY

TONS DUMPED FROM STRANDED BARGES SALVAGED

Lightened and Repaired, "Smith-Thompson" and "Laughlin" Head for Milwaukee

The giant steam barges, Smith-Thompson, owned by the Great Lakes Steamship Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, and the Laughlin, also of Cleveland, that were pushed onto shore and the rocks of Squaw Island (just north of the Beavers) on Friday, May 4th, while they were endeavoring to nose their way through the ice floes in the north end of Lake Michigan, and which were forced to dump overboard many tons of coal, were lightened and repaired last week and started on their way to Milwaukee.

The Smith-Thompson, a 600 footer, was shoved onto Squaw Island Reef, tearing one of her plates off. The hole was filled with hay and a jacket fitted over the hole, keeping out water until the ship could go in to the repair dock at Milwaukee. Two hundred and fifty tons of coal were dumped into the lake. The tug, Favorite, towed her off.

The Laughlin, which went on shore at Squaw Island, dumped out one hundred tons and was towed into deep water, uninjured, by the tug Missouri, assisted by the Favorite.

Much of the coal dumped overboard will go into bins at the homes of Beaver Island residents for next winter's fuel. Small fishing boats secured at least half of the coal and would have loaded up with more, had not the wind changed and piled the ice over the roof.

We are glad to see the Beaver Islanders triumph over the coal barons for once and rejoice in their good fortune, but, why, oh why, couldn't these boats have gone ashore off South Point. The road is good out there and a Ford ought to carry at least 500 pounds to a trip if the engine and gas tank are removed.

SIXTEEN FISH A FAIR DAYS CATCH

Steel Head and Lake Trout Furnish Sport for Fishermen

Steel head and lake trout fishing on the waters of Pine Lake and Round Lake has opened earlier this season than usual—probably because the fish were so long kept from skimming the surface of the water by the extraordinary thickness of ice and lateness of the lake breaking up.

P. R. Ross and Fred Bergman carry the honors for the best string to date, in one day's catch taking fourteen lake trout and two steel head from the waters of Pine Lake. The total weight of these fish was a trifle over 60 pounds.

Other good catches have been made, but above is the record so far. Get out your tackle, fellows, and take a whop at the H. C. L.

BALL LEAGUE SCHEDULE OUT

NORTHERN TEAMS WILL OPEN SEASON JUNE 10TH

Charlevoix to Have Seven Home Games and Eight Out-of-Town Games This Year

Representatives of Harbor Springs, Pellston, Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City and Petoskey baseball fans met in Petoskey last Thursday night and adopted the 1923 schedule of weekly games. Each team will have fifteen games, Charlevoix drawing seven home games, and eight games away from home.

The league season opens June 10 with Charlevoix at Petoskey, East Jordan at Boyne City and Harbor Springs playing at Pellston. The league rules are to be the same as last year. Thus far no umpires have been hired but it is expected the league officers will soon have three officials signed up for the season.

Thus far Charlevoix has not organized, but efforts are being made to get an executive organization perfected so that active work of whipping a team into shape can be undertaken. In four of the other five towns, as well as here, the treasury of the teams has been given a reserve fund of $200 or more to start the season and an effort will be made here to give the local team such financial support as will assure its early success. The present league has been in operation several seasons and has always managed to at least break even on expenses.

The schedule adopted follows:

June 10—Charlevoix at Petoskey; Harbor Springs at Pellston; East Jordan at Boyne City.

June 17—Petoskey at East Jordan; Boyne City at Harbor Springs; Pellston at Charlevoix.

July 8—Petoskey at Pellston; Harbor Springs at East Jordan; Charlevoix at Boyne City.

July 15—Petoskey at Charlevoix; Pellston at Harbor Springs; Boyne City at East Jordan.

July 22—East Jordan at Petoskey; Harbor Springs at Boyne City; Charlevoix at Pellston.

July 29—Boyne City at Petoskey; Pellston at East Jordan; Harbor Springs at Charlevoix.

August 5—Petoskey at Harbor Springs; Boyne City at Pellston; Charlevoix at East Jordan.

August 12—Pellston at Petoskey; Boyne City at Charlevoix; East Jordan at Harbor Springs.

August 19—Charlevoix at Petoskey; Harbor Springs at Pellston; East Jordan at Boyne City.

August 26—Petoskey at East Jordan; Pellston at Charlevoix; Boyne City at Harbor Springs.

September 2—Boyne City at Petoskey; Charlevoix at Harbor Springs; Pellston at East Jordan.

September 9, (Labor Day)—Harbor Springs at Petoskey; Pellston at Boyne City; East Jordan at Charlevoix.

September 10, (last game of season)—Petoskey at Pellston; Harbor Springs at East Jordan; Charlevoix at Boyne City.

STUDENTS WIN CONTEST PRIZES

MUSIC MEMORY AND LAW ENFORCEMENT AWARDS MADE

Contestants Were Complimented on Excellent Work By High Authority

For the benefit of our readers who may not completely understand the nature of the Music Memory Contest recently closed, which has been conducted in the schools of this city since last February, a word of explanation may not be amiss.

The contest was sponsored by the Shakespeare Study Club of this city, who offered the prizes, ably assisted by Miss Blanche Oliver, teacher of music in our schools and consisted of familiarizing the students with the great composers, their lives and work, and an aural study of their best known compositions.

A week ago, the final music memory contest was held in the high school auditorium at eight p. m. A short program, led by the high school orchestra, preceded the prize event. About forty children from the fifth and sixth grades and junior high school contested. The greatest interest prevailed as they took their places and prepared to write. Only a few bars of each number were played, then the sound of many pencils as the pupils wrote the name of the composition and opposite, the name of the composer, spelling entering into the calculation as one half point.

The result of the contest was as follows:

Amos John, fifth grade (Miss Miller's class) 1st prize, $5. Paper marked 100. (This boy is an Indian lad, 13 years old and won the prize for a perfect paper as well as for the best of the lot.)

Edna Himehaugh, fifth grade, 2nd prize, $2.50. Paper marked 97.

Irene McCann, fifth grade, 2nd prize, $2.50. Paper marked 97.

MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION BY GOVERNOR

Lee's surrender to Grant at Appomattox marked the close of the Civil War which had cost this country millions of treasure and many thousands of precious lives. Three years later Memorial Day was instituted to honor the memory of the brave men who had given their lives in the Union cause.

A generation passed and America again found herself in arms, not to put down rebellion but to establish the liberties and maintain the rights of a young, sister republic.

Less than a score of years saw the outbreak of the great world conflict and, while at first it seemed that we might be able to keep out of it, as the war progressed it became more and more evident that the fruits of liberty, so dear to the heart of every American, were seriously menaced and that to insure our national independence we must take our place by the side of those who were battling for the freedom of the world. We all know the story. We know how splendidly on land and sea our gallant soldiers, sailors and marines upheld the honor of the American name.

Memorial Day is for the man who took part in all these wars, but our first thought will be for the gray-haired veterans, that fast thinning blue line whose step is growing feebler year by year; and in this thoughtfulness for the old soldier none will join more heartily than the younger veterans of more recent wars.

Therefore, in order that we may pay a tribute of respect and affection to the surviving veterans of the Civil War, the Spanish American War and the Great World War, and do honor to the memory of their fallen comrades, I hereby sincerely urge that Wednesday, May thirtieth, 1923, be fittingly observed as Memorial Day; and I earnestly appeal to the people of Michigan for hearty cooperation in plans for the observance of the day in their respective communities.

On Memorial Day flags should be displayed at half-staff until noon and then hoisted to the top of the staff.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this fourteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-seventh.

Alex J. Groesbeck, Governor.

Billy Supernaw, fifth grade, 2nd prize, $2.50. Paper marked 96 1-2.

Frances Miller, seventh grade, 3rd prize, $2.00. Paper marked 96.

Highest praise is due Miss Blanche Oliver, supervisor of music, for the success of the contest and the interest which was maintained throughout the school.

The spirit of making good music popular and popular music good has made a beginning in Charlevoix and should be encouraged by all those to whom education is a real issue.

Another contest that has recently been conducted for the pupils is the one on Law Enforcement, the W. C. T. U. offering first, second and third prizes of $5, $3 and $2 respectively, for the best essay on this subject. Of these prizes, Helen Graves won the first, Georgin Kelderhouse, the second and Norman Furst the third.

The papers were corrected by E. E. Webb, teacher of the Loeb school, who pronounced them the best he had seen on this subject and congratulated the pupils on their splendid work. As Mr. Webb was formerly city editor on the Grand Rapids Herald and is a newspaper man of statewide reputation, this is high praise.

ITS UP TO THE FARMER HIMSELF

HE CAN MAKE ENDS MEET THIS YEAR IF HE WILL

Must Learn to Handle His Resources to the Best Advantage—Good Seed is Necessary

The farmer has a chance to make both ends meet this year, if he handles his resources to the best advantage, in the opinion of the agricultural department.

"Farmers who are well situated and who produce efficiently, at low cost per bushel or per pound, have at least a chance this year," says the department.

"Informed men appear to feel that not more than two major farm products are likely to be expanded this year at a profit. These are cotton and possibly sheep.

"The outlook for wool appears to be favorable for a year or two at least. The cotton situation is strong from the producers standpoint. The greatest limiting factors are the weather and the boll weevil. Well-posted men seem to think that a 13,000,000 bale crop could be absorbed by the market at good prices. The problem is to produce it."

The above article appeared in a recent issue of the Cappers Weekly.

After reading it, just apply their circumstances to our Charlevoix county conditions especially to our potato crop.

Economic conditions are such that the time is past when a profit can be made on farm crops which produce only an average yield. Nowadays the farmer who cashes in on the profit side of the ledger is the man who has crops that yield considerably above the national, state or county average.

Last year's average yield of the potato crop in Charlevoix county was 101 bushels per acre. We had several growers who went way above that and several more who went way below it.

In years like the last one when there is such a surplus of stuff there is absolutely no profit for the grower who only produces around the average yield and a still less chance for the one below.

A good insurance for a profitable yield is good seed. Good seed well planted in a good seed bed is well on the way to profitable yields.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS TO ASSEMBLE

At Fish Supper Saturday Night in East Jordan

A meeting of the Northwestern Michigan Round Table, an organization of school superintendents, will meet at the new Russell House in East Jordan next Saturday for a fish supper and a business session.

This association comprises members from practically all points in the lower peninsula north of Big Rapids. Addressees will be given by various educators. Gerrit Massellink, vice president of Ferris Institute, will be the principal speaker.

FIRST LIGHTSHIP TO TAKE STATION

NO. 103 SUBSTITUTES FOR THE GRAY'S REEF BOAT

Sumac Breaks a Path for Har and Two Small Tugs Through Three Miles of Ice

Captain Peter Ance, who commands the Grays Reef lightship, is planning to leave shortly for Milwaukee, Wis., with his vessel to have it generally overhauled.

Capt. Ance states that the relief lightship, No. 103, will take his craft's place on the reef, which is located southeast of Hog Island and is the turning point for boats going through the straits.

The 103 is one of the first boats to take its station in this region, the delay so far having been due to the presence of ice floes. The U. S. lighthouse tender, Sumac, lent valuable assistance to the No. 103 in reaching her station and also helped out two fish tugs that have been fast in the ice fields off this harbor for several days.

Smashing its way through three miles of ice, which had been driven down from the straits during the storm, the Sumac broke her way into the harbor here, Monday. She then left for the straits, but returned in a few hours. Captain Olson said he was unable to place buoys on account of large fields of ice. Vessels loaded with fresh fish, consigned to Charlevoix, from St. James, B. I., changed their course and headed for Petoskey, to escape from the ice.

Finding the same conditions there, they were forced north to Harbor Springs, where they unloaded their cargoes to be shipped to this city.

The placing of the lightship officially marks the opening of navigation in this portion of the lakes. The drifting floes still, however, make the lot of the ship master a hard one.

K. of P.'s ENTERTAIN VISITING MEMBERS

Third Degree Work Given to East Jordan Candidate

There was big doings at the Pythian castle hall last Thursday evening, some twenty-five outside visiting members of the order being present from Traverse City and East Jordan.

Degree work in the third rank was conferred on an East Jordan candidate by a team composed of Charlevoix and East Jordan members.

Considerable interest is being shown in the coming meeting of the Northern Michigan Pythian League composed of lodges in northwestern Michigan, to be held some time during the early part of June.

At the close of lodge a fine luncheon was served, followed by short talks by visiting and local members.

A DAUGHTER OF CALIFORNIA DEFENDS HER

In a recent issue of the Courier mention was made of the statement of a former Charlevoix resident, at that time just returned from California, that the southern portion of that state was suffering from a severe "financial panic."

One of our readers in Los Angeles, having noted this item, writes us to say it emphatically, bolstering her assertion with a clipping cut from the Los Angeles Sunday Times. From this we note that Los Angeles and vicinity are erecting new buildings at a phenomenal rate with a total for April considerably in excess of that for the same month last year. Over fifty millions will be spent in the business district of Los Angeles alone and some forty new structures are either started or planned—two big arcade buildings among them. New high records in building are being established by a number of outlying communities, as well—notably El Monte, San Bernardino and Torrance. Realty transfers totalling over a million and a quarter of dollars are also reported.

Taking it all in all, California—especially the southern part, is in pretty good shape. Californians are mighty quick on the trigger to resent and correct misleading and derogatory statements about their great state. Would that we were zealous in protecting the name and fame of our own peerless region.

FIRST LIVE STOCK AUCTION AT LOEB'S

Fifty-nine Pure Bred Animals to Be Disposed Of

On Thursday, May 24th, at 9:30 central standard time—whether it rains or whether it shines—the first pure-bred auction sale ever held at the Loeb Farms will take place.

One registered Belgian stallion and four fine grade horses as well as twenty registered thoroughbred Dur-o-Jersey hogs will be sold in the forenoon. A luncheon will be served to all and in the afternoon thirty-four head of pure-bred Holstein cattle will be put on the block. These will include nineteen females and fifteen bulls of top-notch parentage.

Besides the stock, two exceptional offers will be made in the shape of a hay loader in good repair and a 6 h. p. engine.

The sale will be in charge of Andy Adams, an experienced live stock auctioneer, assisted by the well-known local auctioneer, W. E. Byers, and P. P. Pope, of the Michigan Farmer.

The terms of this sale are cash, but for the benefit of those wishing to give notes, it has been arranged to have a representative of the Charlevoix County Bank there all day to take notes. All notes are subject to their approval and out-of-town buyers are therefore earnestly requested to bring references with them.

For an evening of fun and enjoyment, attend the opening at the Roller Skating Rink Thursday night.—Adv. 20-t1.

RURAL DELIVERY PATRONS PLEASE NOTE

Mail Boxes Must Be Placed on Right Side of Road

The following official notice of the fourth asst. Postmaster General, and the quoted section of the postal regulations should be carefully read and complied with by all patrons of the rural free delivery service. Those who neglect this are apt to find themselves cut off from service some of these days.

Failure on the part of patrons of rural delivery to relocate their boxes within 15 days after the receipt of notice from the postmaster to do so to be reported to the department.

Fourth Asst. P. M. Gen., Washington.

Section 827, Postal Laws and Regulations, provides that when for a rural carrier to travel from side to side of the road would endanger his life or the safety of the mails, or would be a violation of state or local ordinances in respect to the use of highways, all boxes be erected on the right-hand side of the road in the direction of travel by the carrier. It is a requirement of the section mentioned that postmasters shall endeavor to have boxes placed in conformity with this regulation and that they shall make full report to the Division of Rural Mails of instances in which patrons fail or refuse to comply with reasonable requests for relocation of boxes.

Patrons should be allowed 15 days in which to relocate their boxes. If they fail or refuse to do so within the time specified, report of the facts should be made to the Fourth Asst. Postmaster General Division of Rural Mails.

H. H. Billany, Fourth Asst. P. M. Gen.

Capt. M. J. Bonner, who has been taking a trip up the lake on the Griffin, is back in town again.

Mrs. Danny Martin, who has been spending several days at the hospital here, visiting her husband, has returned to her home on the Beavers.

Rev. W. J. Datson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Petoskey, will be in the city Sunday evening to hold service here at seven thirty o'clock in the local church.

Drusilla Richardson leaves tomorrow for Cadillac, to attend the convention of Michigan State Telephone employees as a delegate from the local exchange.

Frank Hamlin has moved with his family to Pellston, where they will run a boarding house for O. D. Hammond's road crew.

Miss Mary Newton is enjoying a week's vacation from her duties at S. M. See & Son's store. She leaves Friday for Petoskey and the Soo for a few days visit.

Roy Bowdish has left for Wisconsin, where he will take charge of a resort cottage for a Chicago physician. Mrs. Bowdish expects to join him shortly.

S. M. Rose is chairman of a committee of the commercial association appointed to draft plans for a Fourth of July celebration this year. Nothing definite has as yet been arranged.

Walter Williams, of the Standard Oil force at Grand Rapids, is here this week, repairing one of the big tanks at the local station on the Pino Lake drive.

The tug, Mary Ethel, owned by the John C. Morgan Co., of Traverse City, is in the harbor today. She came up loaded with cider for East Jordan, Boyne City and Charlevoix and her next stop is Petoskey.

Rome Pappin, of Grand Rapids, arrived here Saturday, summoned by the illness and death of his father, George Pappin. Mr. Pappin, died early this morning, at his home here, after having been brought back from the hospital at Manistee, where he was taken last week. His daughters, Zoe and Carrie, from Detroit, and Pauline, of New York, are expected here shortly.

Through negotiations effected by Mayor Arthur Bergeon with parties controlling the property, the City of Charlevoix has obligated itself to purchase the tract of land, now unofficially used as an auto camp, and located on the shore of Lake Michigan, just west of the city park in the bend of the road leading to South Point where it turns down the hill to the lake.

This tract comprises about seven acres and work will be commenced by the city in about a week or ten days on the project. The land is to be cleared and otherwise improved, water mains laid to the site and sanitary toilets installed, connected with a septic tank.

This will be a free camp and all that will be asked of the tourist is that he observe certain rules and regulations relating to good order, keeping the grounds clean and free from rubbish and the care of fires. This will give Charlevoix what many other resorts have long had and what we have sorely needed here for some time, a first class tourist camp.

MOONSHINE CAUSES ANOTHER POW-WOW

Sailor and High School Lad Mix in Lively Bout

Saturday night, a fracas occurred between a party of East Jordan high school students and some of the crew of the lighthouse tender, Sumac, now in the harbor, which resulted in two of the party appearing in police court before Justice Stites on Monday morning.

The scrap, which was aided and abetted by moonshine, secured from a sneaking bootlegger on the outskirts of town by some of the Sumac's crew started in the street in front of Mont Withers' restaurant about half past eleven, just as the East Jordan bunch emerged after a mid-night lunch. It was progressing merrily when Chief of Police Weikel appeared on the scene and collared the steward of the Sumac and one of the high-school boys, who appeared to be taking a highly active part. Justice Stites, in court Monday morning, let the boy go and fined the steward $20.00 and costs.

The officers are on the trail of the lono bootlegger, who parked his car up by the Inn, but so far none of the suspects roped in have been identified by the purchaser.

Hammond On The Job

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

The quo warranto proceedings which Governor Groesbeck and Attorney-General Dougherty have had under way in an effort to get at the truth regarding the House of David and abolish any abuses that exist in connection with the Institution have stirred matters up considerably, but they have not really accomplished very much, and the obstacles in the way of effective action along the line chosen have been growing more and more obvious. The state has not been satisfied.

The governor and the attorney-general are wise in realizing this and in laying aside any pride of opinion they may have possessed. They are now on the right track in asking for a one-man grand jury investigation of the Purnell establishment. This is the natural, logical course to take. And the fact that residing Judge Harry J. Dingeman of the circuit courts of Michigan has considered the matter important enough to demand his personal attention and is going to Berrien county to conduct the inquiry, is an assurance that the probe will be searching and effective.

The people of Michigan can now feel confident that they are going to know the truth and that whatever is wrong at Benton Harbor, is going to be cleaned up.

24-CENT POTATOES

The Michigan farmer's 24-cent-a-bushel potatoes for which a Virginia woman paid $1.20, or five times that what the man who grew the potatoes received, interests the Washington Daily News, whose readers are potato consumers.

The man who grew the potatoes owned or rented land which he plowed, harrowed and fertilized. Then he bought seed potatoes, cut them for planting, put them in the ground, plowed and heeded them several times, sprayed them to save them from the potato beetle, dug them up, cleaned them, dried them, graded them, hauled them to market—and got 24 cents for them.

The News discovered that the man who bought the potatoes put them in a car with a lot of other potatoes, shipped them to a commission merchant, who sold them without seeing them to the retailer who sold them to the woman.

During this process the price was doubled, then tripled, then quadrupled and finally made five times the figure the grower got. He worked and sweated to sell them for 24 cents. The others divided a gross profit of 400 per cent.

Is this the best marketing system that can be devised, asks the News.

FIRE VISITS PETOSKEY A SECOND TIME

Paper Mill Burns—Worst Since Fochman Block Blaze

Petoskey was visited by the second disastrous fire of the year early Monday morning when the large digester building of the plant of the Northern Michigan Pulp company was completely destroyed, the old acid building burned and much damage caused to the new acid building, the machine shops, and the one story section of the plant known as the wet room, or the machine room. It is estimated that the loss will exceed $125,000. Flames started in the top floor of the digester building and within a few minutes two explosions were noted. It is believed these blasts scattered burning chips from the chip bins to all corners of the building. The top part of the structure was soon a mass of flames.

Firemen soon had six streams on the flames and succeeded in checking the fire in the north end of the machine room. Water was poured into the flames from the high chip carrier and from north and west sides of the structure. The automatic sprinkler system also aided in checking the fire. The blaze shot high in the air and burning brands carried from the digester building to the old acid building to the west, to the new acid building to the north, and to the machine shop adjoining the new acid building. A car of sulphite valued at about $1,800, on the siding, was burned.

BULL ATTACKS HARBOR FARMER

James Perry Has Narrow Escape From Angry Animal

Jamea Perry, Harbor Springs farmer and stock raiser, came near being killed Friday afternoon by being attacked by an angry bull. The animal attacked Perry while the latter was crossing the barn yard, knocked him down and bunted him about vigorously.

Grasping the animal by the head during each attack, Perry finally succeeded in getting his hands into the angry bull's eyes. This caused the bull to desist his attack for a minute and Perry was able to leap from beneath the animal's legs and get beyond a post. The bull dashed around and around the post trying to again reach his victim.

During a brief lull in the attack Perry made a break for a door in the barn and succeeded in getting inside. He remarked, in telling his experiences to friends, that for a few minutes he never expected to escape alive from beneath the bull.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR HAY CROP

PEAS AND OATS SOLVE THE SHORTAGE PROBLEM

They Have the Same Feeding Qualities as Clover and Timothy If Seeded in Spring

Farm barns are seldom ever supplied with forage. A yearly shortage of hay, has in many places forced farmers to dispose of much of their livestock and keep less than they should for greatest yearly profits.

When seedings fail and more stock is desired, a hay crop composed of peas and oats seeded in the spring fits in handily in the emergency.

Three years unflinching success with this forage on our demonstration farm at Howard City has satisfied us that peas and oats are more than an emergency hay crop, they deserve a place in the regular four year rotation of farmers on light soil, especially who have not secured a suitable stand of alfalfa.

From our experience we believe that one bushel of Canadian field peas, planted from two to two and a half inches deep in a well prepared seed bed and one bushel of oats cross drilled an inch or so above the peas, will produce a supply and quality hay hard to equal with the same cost in any other way.

The peas being a legume, have the same feeding qualities as clover and the oats being one of the grasses, have similar feed value with timothy. So a mixed hay is secured in this way from a spring seeded crop.

Peas and oats make a most palatable forage for all kinds of livestock. Where the cutting is delayed until pea seed and oats grains form, the value of the roughage is improved. That is, providing cutting is not delayed so long that the pea vine and oat stalks ripen and turn woody.

We always seed about ten pounds of scarified biannual white sweet clover with the oats in this combination. In this way we secure two legumes crops with the seed bed preparation of one crop. Sweet clover seeded in this way on sweet soil, will come on nicely often making a growth of from twelve to fifteen inches the first season and furnishing some splendid fall pasture. This growth is possible because of the fact that the pea and oat crop is taken off early, thus giving the sweet clover a longer growing season and no competition for moisture in the heat of the summer when grain crops would be making their heaviest demands on the soil for moisture.

Due to the thickness of pea stems more time is required for proper curing than with ordinary hay. The mixture stands rain without injury if reasonably well cocked, does not shatter and in all goes into the mow in a most palatable condition in spite of abuses which would ruin clover hay.

Canadian field peas have been produced for seed in large quantities in many parts of Charlevoix county which should be sufficient evidence that they will thrive vigorously in the area.

When high yield, quality of forage, ability to withstand bad weather conditions are considered and also the fact that the crop can be sown in an emergency to insure a season's hay crop; also that fact that peas being a legume enrich the soil and prepare the way for a good crop of sweet clover, it is hard to understand why more farmers do not profit by this valuable combination.

WHEN TO FEED SILAGE

With a half million silos in use in our country this subject is of interest to a large group. In talking with silo users, it is found that there is some difference of opinion as to when is the best time to start feeding silage. Some are inclined to favor those feeders who believe that silage should be fed any time when it is needed by the animals, whether this be immediately after the silo is filled and continued throughout the year or only at seasons when succulent food is lacking.

Many favor feeding silage throughout the year, and start as soon as the silo has been filled. In this way you would lose no top layer which ordinarily spoils if left a few weeks, and you would be keeping the animals well supplied with a palatable, succulent ration which is the chief end of feeding any animals.

A farmer once asked a mine owner why he ran his mine night and day, using the three shift method. The reply was simple, namely that when the mine was running he and the operators were making money, but when it closed down he was losing as were the others. About the same principal can be applied to our domestic animals. When they are liberally fed, they are making the farmer's money, but when poorly fed, like the mine that is idle, they have only enough for maintenance and so are a losing factor.

Silage is a succulent, grass-like feed; it is high in carbohydrates, and to make a balanced ration should be fed in connection with a high nitrogenous forage or grain. Perhaps the best forage is alfalfa or clover, but many other leguminous hays and plants will serve very well.

By combining corn silage and alfalfa or clover, very good results can be obtained from fattening animals, growing or milking stock. Where there is no roughage high in protein, a concentrate can be used with good results. Such feeds as cotton seed and linseed meal are very high in protein and go well with corn silage, especially if the animals have some other hay or roughage. Peas, beans, oats and wheat bran are high in protein and can be used for a corn silage balance.

Corn Silage can be fed quite liberally during all seasons of the year. The principal thing to keep in mind is that it should be given with other rations and in such quantities as the animal can eat up clean. It is a very cheap ration and therefore plays a most important part in economic production of stock and stock products.

Add This Fact to Your Store of Knowledge

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headaches, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the kidney secretions are offensive, irregular and attended by pain, procure a good kidney remedy at once.

Your townspeople recommend Dean's Kidney Pills. Read the statement of this Charlevoix citizen.

Daniel Himebauch, 107 W. Up-right Ave., says: "I had a lame back and felt bad a good many times with backache. I was bothered by the weak and irregular action of my kidneys and had to get up three or four times at night to pass the secretions, which were highly colored and contained sediment. A few boxes of Dean's Kidney Pills, bought at Mote's Drug Store, fixed me up in a fine way."

Legislative Summary

Legislative halls are strangely deserted. Dust accumulates and silence reigns where a week ago all was excitement and stormy debate. Only a few clerks remain to unravel the snarl in which final adjournment left many important measures. Everyone seems more or less relieved that the session is over, for it has been the longest and probably the most trying session since the adoption of the new constitution in 1908.

There seems to be much dissatisfaction with the accomplishments of the past session. It is true that much of the important legislation which was proposed was not enacted. Probably this is due to the fact that the law-makers failed to work harmoniously and spent most of their time in decision and wrangling among themselves over some of the big measures.

No Gas or Weight Tax
Neither the gasoline tax nor the automobile weight tax was passed and no new revenue for highway construction or maintenance or interest and sinking fund purposes was provided. No important steps were taken to secure the promised taxation relief to over-burdened real estate. The income tax, which probably was the most important bill along this line, was passed by the House only to die in the Senate tax committee.

The law-makers went home without taking any steps toward re-appointing the state senatorial and representative districts in accordance with the 1920 census, as required by the state constitution. Three of the important codification, these relating to labor laws, school laws and election laws were not enacted. None of the "dry" laws sponsored by the anti-saloon league were passed. The movie censorship bill never was reported by the committee and the capital punishment proposal, after provoking one of the most dramatic fights of the session, was defeated.

The Meggison bill to provide a more just system of distributing the primary school interest fund was passed by the House, but not considered favorably in the Senate. The bill to establish an eight hour day, with time and a half for over-time, was defeated, and a bill to establish a system of civil service for state employees was never reported out on the floor.

Many Laws Passed
Despite the fact that many of these important measures never received final approval, the legislature passed 348 bills and sent them to the governor. While a large number of these laws were appropriation measures, or relatively unimportant fish bills, many of them were constructive measures that will prove beneficial to the people of the state. Many technical bills, proposing amendments to the judiciary set and the insurance laws, were passed.

The legislature should be commended upon its consistent effort to cut appropriation requests to the minimum and thus keep down a state tax levy. Although the income tax was defeated, some progress was made in providing a more just distribution of the taxation burden. The present corporation tax was amended by decreasing the minimum tax from $50 to $10, by increasing the maximum from $10,000 to $50,000 and by decreasing the rate from 3 1-2 to 2 1-2 mills on the capital and surplus. All partnerships, co-partnerships and common law trusts were made to come under the provisions of the tax the same as do corporations.

The law exempting municipal bonds from taxation was repealed and an annual one mill tax placed upon this class of securities, while a three mill, annual tax was levied on foreign securities. The Meggison-Srnegant bill providing an annual tax of 5c an acre on growing timber with a 25 per cent tax on the stumpage value of the timber when harvested was passed in an effort to promote private reforestation and efficient utilization of Michigan's idle land. All measures to reduce the membership or change the composition of the state tax commission was defeated.

Many Marketing Bills

Many bills to better conditions in the marketing of farm produce received favorable legislative consideration. One of the most important of these is Senator Case's bill to prevent unjust discrimination in the purchase of potatoes, grain and beans. Another measure gave counties the right, after a referendum vote, to acquire and maintain through their supervisors county markets to promote the direct marketing of farm produce from the producer to the consumer.

An appropriation of $150,000 a year was made to the agricultural college for extension work, part of which will be used for the promotion of more efficient marketing of farm produce. A bill was passed to facilitate the organization of central marketing associations to handle the business of the local co-operative units. Another measure was adopted which legalizes the delegate system of selecting the officers and determining the policies of the central co-operative organizations.

In an effort to increase the confidence of the buying public in the quality of Michigan products, several laws were passed providing more rigid standardization of such products. A bill was passed establishing fat and moisture content standards for cheese and requiring honest labeling. At the request of the growers, a measure was enacted which establishes three standards for all grapes sold in closed packages in Michigan, and a new grade of apples was established.

Other Farm Measures

At the request of the Michigan State Farm Bureau and the dairy interests of the state, a bill was passed to prevent the manufacture and sale of filled-milk within the state. This bill protects both the dairy interests and the consuming public. Another bill of especial interest to the dairymen provides for state licensing of all manufacturers of ice cream and gives the state commissioner of agriculture authority to suspend such licenses if the manufacturers do not live up to the provisions of the law and to the rules and regulations which he establishes.

In order to protect Michigan farmers from those who have been dumping impure and ill-adapted seed on Michigan markets, an agricultural seed law was enacted which provides for labeling all agricultural seeds to show purity, germination and source or origin and to give the state commissioner of agriculture authority to seize and hold any agricultural seed being sold contrary to the provisions of the bill. Farm-to-farm movement of agricultural seeds and traffic by local elevators in locally grown seed is exempted from the provisions of the bill.

In an effort to keep down freight costs, the so-called full crew bill, which would require an additional flagman on certain trains, was defeated. A resolution was passed urging congress and the interstate commerce commission to take immediate steps to abolish the practice of selling all rolled steel on the Pittsburgh Plus basis, under which the price is the price at Pittsburgh plus the freight from Pittsburgh to point of delivery, although the steel may be made at Gary, or South Chicago.

Livestock Laws Enacted

Probably the most important issue confronting the livestock industry in Michigan was relative to the five year campaign for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis within the state. A bill was passed to allow for county co-operation in carrying on the campaigns and to reduce the maximum state rewards on condemned cattle to $30 for a grade and $60 for a pure bred, and $250,000 a year was appropriated to pay such state rewards. This amount is not enough to allow for carrying on the campaign in all of the counties that have requested this work, but there is some probability that the State administrative board will advance additional funds from the state treasury. The regular appropriation for the State Department of Agriculture contains sufficient amounts to allow for the supervision of the bovine tuberculosis eradication work.

A bill was passed to exempt feeder sheep from the provisions of the law which requires dipping for all sheep brought into the state. A measure was enacted to promote the health of Michigan bees by establishing quarantine regulations and rules governing the traffic in queen bees. The bill contains a provision requiring the labeling of all honey, to protect Michigan honey against inferior honey shipped in from other states.

A state truth-in-fabric bill, to protect the buying public and to stimulate the demand for virgin wool, was defeated.

Highway Legislation

State rewards on county roads were suspended for a two year period and radical amendments were made to the Covert highway law. Under the terms of these amendments, boards of supervisors are empowered to suspend entirely highway construction under the Covert act for a period of not exceeding one year or to limit the amount which may be assessed against the county at large for such roads. The number of signature necessary to petition for the laying out of such roads have been increased to 75 per cent of the frontage affected. The board of supervisors is empowered to order the construction of small pieces of road, not over four miles in length, to close up the gaps existing between stretches of improved highway, while no Covert act roads may be built which do not connect with other improved roads already built.

The legislature took a very forward step by passing a bill providing uniform traffic regulations throughout the state of Michigan. Another measure defines reckless driving, while another motor vehicle bill (continued on page eight)

Red Crown

Quality Shouts Aloud

Red Crown, the High Grade gasoline, is one of the major products made, sold and guaranteed by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

When it is pumped into your tank, it delivers a service which in every way measures up to the ideals established by the Board of Directors for the Company as a whole.

The evidence in favor of Red Crown as a quality product, is overwhelming. The constant patronage and good will of more than two million motorists, attest the merit of

Red Crown for Service

Red Crown produces instant starting Winter or Summer—a quick snappy get-a-way, smooth steam-engine-like acceleration and all the power and speed your engine is capable of developing. To use Red Crown is to get that maximum service your car was designed to render.

There is no waste to Red Crown—it vaporizes to the last drop to make power and give maximum mileage.

Red Crown is the best, most economical gasoline you can buy.

Bill of General Interest

The only one of the various codification bills which was proposed to receive final enactment was the measure which provided one unified drainage law for the state of Michigan. There had been no codification of the drainage laws for twenty-six years, and it was extremely difficult to look up the law regarding any drainage project.

The land certification bill, sponsored by the development bureau of the state department of agriculture, in an attempt to restore the confidence of the buying public in Michigan farm lands, was passed after being amended so as to be entirely optional.

A bill to make Eastern time standard in Michigan the year around, was defeated in the House, largely due to the farmer members and the representatives from the western part of the state and the upper peninsula. The general game law which was passed, carried a provision providing permanent protection for quail in Michigan.

From this very brief summary it may be seen that the legislature paid considerable attention to bills affecting the farmer and resident of rural communities. At the beginning of the session, the Michigan State Farm Bureau, after conducting a state-wide questionnaire among its local units, and receiving the approval of the Board of Delegates at its annual meeting, adopted a set of resolutions which constituted its legislative program.

Notwithstanding the fact that the 1923 legislature has been accused of being a "do nothing" legislature, nevertheless it is true that agriculture was accorded favorable attention and a number of beneficial laws were passed as noted above. This probably is due to the fact that Michigan agriculture is better organized than ever before and has been able to make its wants known in a definite manner. Also because local communities have been kept thoroughly informed on what was going on at the capitol through the legislative news carried by this paper.

For an evening of fun and enjoyment, attend the opening at the Roller Skating Rink Thursday night.—Adv. 20-11.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(©, 1922, by Western Newspaper Union)

"The man who wins is an average man. Not built on any peculiar plan. Not blessed with any peculiar luck. Just steady and earnest and full of pluck."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Pour hot coffee into the saucers of your geranium plants often; if very hot it cools before reaching the roots and a wealth of beautiful blossoms will be put forth. Coffee grounds worked into the earth around palms and ferns will keep the earth sweet and will lighten the soil.

In cutting radishes or candied peel, rub butter on the chopping knife to keep it from becoming sticky.

Rinse all pieces of paraffin when taken from the jelly and put them in an old coffee pot kept for that purpose. When ready to use melt the paraffin and pour over the new jelly. This saves another dish and nothing could be more convenient for pouring.

When food is burnt on by grease or aluminum dust a thick coating of soda over the bottom of the dish and cover with cold water. Let stand for a few hours, then remove all the deposit, using steel wool. If it is not all removed, repeat with the soda.

Brass beds, fenders and andirons may be kept bright by washing in lukewarm water in which a little muriatic acid, five drops to a quart has been added; this removes any dark stains; rinse well and rub with sweet oil, then polish with a chamois skin.

Asparagus, green beans or peas if left from dinner, may be washed and drained from the sauce and used in a salad, thus nothing is wasted.

Make your own card index, adding to it from day to day. Have a set of cards with names using bits of left-over food; for example, a couple of cooked tomatoes—what can be done with it—tomato rabbit, see cook book page 1.

Spanish toast, see note book No. Three and so on, at a glance at a card one can decide what recipe will fit the food to be used and the taste of the family or persons to be served.

An index of this kind will be the growth of years and will prove of inestimable value, for one can never carry in one small head all the things useful to know about leftovers or small amounts of food wisely used.

The Charlevoix relay team sent to Kalamazoo last Saturday, showed up well and has now put Charlevoix on the map of Michigan in track. These four men are now in the pink of condition for any meet in the future.

Athletic events for this week are as follows:
Wednesday, 16—Baseball—Petoskey here.

Friday, 18—Baseball—Boys City there.

Saturday, 19—Track at East Jordan between East Jordan, Petoskey, Boyne City and Charlevoix. Come out and support.

The collateral reading list for former years has been rather forced on the students, a definite number of books of a certain type being required, but this year a prize of two volumes of Sir Walter Scott's works were offered to the person doing the best work on collateral readings, the contest to be judged as to number and quality of the books, and the way in which they were reported on. This prize was awarded to Edith Struthers, who read and reported on twenty-three books during the year.

COW TEST SHOWS AN IMPROVEMENT

WEST ANTRIM REPORT FOR APR. INDICATES THIS

Two Hundred Forty-Seven Cows on Test with Only Twenty-eight Dry This Month

The following April report of the West Antrim cow testing association will no doubt be of interest to Banks township readers of the Courier, in which the report will be published each month from now on. It is hoped and expected that a separate association will be formed in Banks township in the near future and with the farmers and dairymen already enrolled are working to this end.

"The records for the month of April were slightly better than the previous month, due largely to better weather conditions and also to a less number of dry cows. However, the latter fact has had a great influence on the cream market, and as a result of more fresh cows, the cream prices have dropped considerably. The period just before cows go out to pasture is probably the most difficult time of the entire year to keep cows on full steam, and is one time when the dairyman must, if necessary, sacrifice profits in order to give the cows the proper feed and care to enable them to keep up their maximum milk flow until they can be turned out.

Two hundred and forty-seven cows were tested with only twenty-eight dry this month, as compared with two hundred sixty-two on test with forty-three dry the previous month. The difference in the number of cows can be blamed to John Campbell of Kewadin, who disposed of fourteen head of Jerseys at his side a short time ago.

Twenty-seven cows produced over forty pounds of butterfat in April. Ten cows produced over fifty pounds, and ten herds averaged over thirty pounds per cow for the month. Each cow produced on the average 641 pounds of milk, 25.1 pounds of butterfat at an average test of 3.91 p. c. The cost of roughage for each cow was $3.55, of grain was $4.01, total cost of feeding being $7.56, and each cow returned $4.85 net profit above that. It costs for each cow, $1.18 to produce 100 pounds of milk, and 30 cents to produce a pound of butterfat, and $1.64 was made for every dollar expended for feed.

J. A. Brown still maintains his position at the top of the list with a cow making the most money as well as the largest production of butterfat and also with the highest herd average.

ARE LAYING FLOOR OF NEW CANNERY

Main Part Nearly Completed—Work Being Rushed

Sanford Ludbrook, of Central Lake, is busy this week laying the concrete floor at the canning company's plant. Work on the building is being rushed, the main part being nearly completed and the walls laid for cooking and storage rooms.

Mr. Bigler expects to be on the job continually as soon as the installation of machinery starts, and to give his individual attention to the work during the canning season.

OBITUARY

Leonard Charles Ross was born at Fremont, Michigan, January 21, 1917 and passed away at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beckman, May 5, 1923.

Leonard was a good boy and his sunny smile will be missed by his many friends.

Deceased is survived by his mother, brother, Enrl, and other relatives to mourn their loss.

Funeral services were held at the home and the remains were taken to the undertaking parlors at East Jordan, and a double funeral was held Friday, after the passing away of his step-father, Mr. Beckman, and both were laid to rest in Sun Set Hill cemetery in East Jordan.

Albert Beckman passed away at his home Wednesday, May 9, after a short illness. Mr. Beckman was born in Germany, June 7, 1877, and came to this country with his parents and brother when he was 12 years of age.

He was married to Miss Anna Helander in 1905. Three children were born to this union, one passing away in infancy. His wife died in December 1911. In 1913 he married Mrs. Lillian Ross of Chicago, and they came to Ellsworth to make their home.

Deceased is survived by his wife and two sons, John and Harvey, and other relatives to regret their loss. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

AT THE SCHOOLS NEXT SESSION

who is planning to attend the normal college this winter.

Quite a bit of detail in connection with the fall opening of the schools has already been disposed of. The classification of students has been completed, among other matters that have been taken care of. Next year's high school enrollment will be in the neighborhood of 210 pupils. This shows an increase of about 70 in the high school in the past two years. In other words, next year's enrollment will be larger by 70 than the number of students two years ago. Additional seats will have to be provided in the assembly room to accommodate this increase.

Greater interest in being shown in the purely academic subjects of the curriculum than formerly. Seventy students enrolled for first year Latin the coming semester. Latin or French is optional, the latter however, being available only for juniors and seniors.

On the past eight Saturdays, classes have been held for pupils from the rural districts, about sixty or seventy having been in attendance. The superintendent is very much pleased with the results of this Saturday work. Excellent interest has been shown, some of the students coming from as great a distance as nine miles to the classes. In nearly every case, they are accompanied by the teachers of their rural schools, as high as eleven having been present at one session. Practically all of the rural visitors have expressed their choice of Charlevoix high school as the one they will attend.

The present freshman class numbered 68 at the beginning of the year and about 61 or 62 of these will become sophomores at the end of this year, only a few having dropped out. The superintendent hopes to see at least fifty of these graduates making the largest class in the history of the school.

A novel feature is planned by Mr. Hamilton for the coming school year, which will consist in periodical entertainments to which the parents of the children will be invited, representatives from every grade in both high and grade schools taking part. Recitations, dialogues, etc., will be given by the pupils and the parents will have an opportunity to see what kind of work their children are doing day by day in their classes. It is Mr. Hamilton's desire to have one of these entertainments prior to Christmas day and one shortly thereafter. It may be decided to divide these meetings, holding a "Dad's Night" on one occasion, at which the fathers will be entertained and a "Mother's Night" when the mothers of the pupils will be present. It was the superintendent's intention to do something of this kind before the close of the present school year, but the pressure of work and improvements in methods and routine have prevented this.

Smoking of cigarettes among high school students has been largely eliminated, an effort having been made to substitute games, track sports and other athletic contests to give the boys an incentive to keep fit and shun any injurious practices that might weaken their bodily vigor and prevent them from holding their own physically and mentally with their fellows. Association with their teachers, who as men and women of character have striven to keep before them the highest ideals has also tended to raise the morale of the student body. A student council has also been inaugurated and is now functioning in a gratifying way.

Supt. Hamilton wishes to thank the people of Charlevoix for the helpful and kindly interest that they have taken in the past in affairs of the schools and bespeaks a like interest for the future, assuring the public that the teaching force of Charlevoix schools are devoting their best energies to the task in hand—moulding the children of the community into useful men and women and worthy citizens of this great land.

AT THE MOVIES

"Nice People" is coming soon. No, this is not a grammatical error, for "Nice People" refers to William de Mille's new Paramount picture, which will be the feature at the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. It is said to be one of the most entertaining photoplay productions made by Mr. de Mille in two years. Wallace Reid, Bebe Daniels, Paramount stars, Conrad Nagel and Julia Payne, prominent screen players, are featured.

They were "Nice People"—So what did it matter? They could do as they chose, for so high socially did their families rank that no matter what they did, it was right. And so they ran their jazzed, crazed way, but in the end they paid. And then what became of these "Nice People." See the startling answer in the Paramount picture of this name which comes to the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday.

Old cast iron such as mowing machines, plow shares, etc., will bring $20.00 per ton delivered at the foundry in East Jordan, or from $10 to $15 per ton delivered on cars at Charlevoix. See Dave Schweitzer, Adv. 20-11 pd.

COMPLAINTS MADE OF HOUND DOGS

Rural Residents are Oiling Up Their Shooting Irons

Numerous complaints, especially from nearby rural districts, are being heard concerning hound dogs whose owners allow them to run at large, day and night, and whose melodious baying can be heard at almost any hour.

One farmer, in conversation with a Charlevoix business man, states that on or near his farm from three to five hounds are running rabbits practically all the time. Others have about the same complaint. Another farmer, who owns a nice bunch of sheep, states that they disturb his flock and that unless their owners take care of them he will unlimber his artillery and someone will miss their prize rabbit dog.

These complaints are justly made and the owner of a hound, or any dog for that matter, who allows him to run at will, is violating both the laws of the state and our city ordinances.

Charlevoix is blessed with numerous hounds whose owners pay little or no attention to them. They run the streets and are becoming a nuisance. The time has arrived when our citizens are making flower beds and gardens, and it seems that the average dog takes great delight in making a runway across the choice flower beds.

Just a word of advice, Mr. Dog Owner, put your dog on a leash and keep him there.

SKATING RING WILL REOPEN THURSDAY

Manager Seaman Has Installed New Auto-Phone

Ed. Seaman, manager of the local skating rink, returned from Bay City last Monday to reopen the rink for the season's business.

Saturday night, the rink was open for a little informal party of friends to try out the new Auto-Phone device, which will be a novel and interesting feature of the rink's entertainment this summer. This apparatus will take the place of the old organ and is a combination of the radio and ampliphone, producing music 100 times louder than the phonograph.

Next Thursday evening, May 17th, is the night of the grand opening. The rink will be gaily decorated and patrons are urged to be on hand and enjoy the skating and the new music.

FALTING HOME SCENE OF A MERRY PARTY

Sixty-five Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Assembled

The home of Ernest Falting, on Rt. 1, was the scene last Thursday night of a merry party when about sixty-five Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from Charlevoix and surrounding districts gathered there at Mr. Falting's invitation for a rousing good time.

About twenty cars left from town bearing the gay participants. A twelve o'clock luncheon was served and the guests departed at a late hour congratulating their host, who is the oldest Odd Fellow in this part of the country—having joined the order in 1894.

South Fox Light Now On

South Fox Island light beams again, ready for summer navigation. After being delayed for days in attempts to reach the island because of acres of floating ice, the light keeper of South Fox set out from Northport in small boats Tuesday. HOSPITAL BENEFIT CONCERT A SUCCESS

Eighty Dollars Netted by Co-operative Effort

The entertainment given last Friday evening at the Palace Theatre, for the benefit of the Charlevoix hospital, netted eighty dollars. The auxiliary board and the committee on entertainment wish to thank those who contributed for the success of the affair. Every number on the program was thoroughly appreciated.

The male quartette, consisting of Messrs. Charles and L. C. Hamilton, Frank Poole and Noy Smith, were exceptionally fine and their selections were greatly enjoyed. The readings of Miss Katherine Gaskin and Miss Doris Hammond were also most expressively rendered.

The children under Miss Burkland's supervision, captivated everyone with their dainty Japanese dance, in costumes fitted to the roles they were portraying, as were the children from St. Mary's school, who dressed as Brownie sprites, scampered over the stage. The other musical numbers were above criticism and most heartily appreciated by the audience.

The Boy Scouts, under the supervision of Mr. Blakeslee, had most thoroughly canvassed the town in their selling of tickets for the affair and the house was filled to capacity as the result.

U. C. Wakeman Gets Special Mention in Telephone Gazette

The Mouthpiece, official organ of the Michigan State Telephone Company, comments very favorably upon the record of U. C. Wakeman, their combination-man at Reed City, and former well-known resident of Charlevoix.

It seems that Mr. Wakeman distinguished himself on two separate occasions—once in rescuing a fellow-employee from a high voltage wire at great risk to his own life and again during the disastrous sleet storm in February of last year, when he was suffering from a badly strained ankle and nevertheless pursued his duties and patrolled the toll lines with a peg-leg strapped to the knee of his injured limb.

Mr. Wakeman, it will be remembered, married Miss Alvina Poole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Poole, of this city.

WORKING ON NEW EXCHANGE

WESTERN ELECTRIC EXPERTS
HERE THIS WEEK

Much Increased Capacity and Fine
Construction Will Give Us
Excellent Service

A gang of ten men arrived in the city Tuesday from the Western Electric shops in Chicago, to work under the supervision of their foreman, C. B. Phillips, who arrived here last Monday to take charge of the erection of the new telephone equipment to be installed in the Levinson block offices.

The first consignment of equipment also arrived by express and was moved into the building. The actual work of installation started this morning. Nine sections of switchboard, wire chief's desk, chief operator's desk and the power plant, consisting of two sets of storage batteries, are expected Wednesday. Mr. Phillips figures on completing the work in time to give service through the new exchange by July 15th. The force now at work will be increased shortly to from fifteen to twenty-five men, so as to make all possible speed on the job.

The new installation will give the local exchange the latest and most up-to-date equipment possessed by any telephone office in this territory. The suite in the Levinson block comprises four good sized rooms. The main entrance to the suite will be from the hallway on the Bridge Street side. The front room, in which this entrance leads, will be divided by a long counter, behind which will be located the cashier and bookkeeper's desk. The space in front of the counter will be devoted to waiting room and four toll or long distance booths set in an alcove on the north wall.

Just to one side of the cashier's desk, a door opens into the distributing room, where is located the main distributing frame where all cables terminate and are wired to the switchboards and power plant. This frame will accommodate 800 cables, or separate lines, sufficient to care for approximately 1,200 subscribers. A door in the northwest corner of this room opens into a short hallway, running east and west. On the south side of this hallway are located the toilets and lavatories; across the hall are two large connecting rooms.

Of these two rooms, the rear, or room on the west end will be the operating room where the switchboards will be stationed. There will be nine of these boards—four toll boards for long distance work, one rural board, for handling rural service and four local boards to take care of the local or city subscribers. There will also be a chief operator's or information desk in this room, placed to give this official complete supervision over the work of the exchange.

The front, or east room, now used as a temporary office by Mr. Phillips, will be converted into an operator's rest room. It will be equipped with davenport and easy chairs and here, during the morning and afternoon each day, the operators, who work in reliefs, will be permitted to rest for twenty minutes at the end of each two hour stretch of duty—one hour being allowed for dinner at noon.

The suite will be entirely redecorated and finished in attractive style, and when complete, Charlevoix will have an exchange second to none for its size, in this district.

PINE LAKE NO LONG- ER TO BE POLLUTED

If any lingering doubts still remain in the minds of our summer visitors as to the purity of our waters and the efforts being made to make them safe for bathers, let them be reassured by the recent statement of Manager Frank McDonald, of the Inn.

Mr. McDonald says: "Last year, the health officer at Lansing told us that we had to take our sewage out of Pine Lake, on account of its being detrimental to the bathing. So the Pere Marquette Railroad, owners of the Inn, have arranged to divert the sewage from Pine Lake by pumping it up by electric pump—first into a receiving vat and from there to the main sewer on Dixon avenue, which will insure that the Inn bathing beach will be absolutely all right."

Laura Howard's Husband Dies at Muskegon

An account of the death of Carl Grife, which occurred recently at Lakeside, near Muskegon, following an attack of pneumonia, appears in the Muskegon Chronicle and we are reproducing the item herewith. Mrs. Grife, it will be remembered, was formerly Miss Laura Howard, of this city.

"Carl Grife died at his home, 80 Turrent avenue, Lakeside, at 11:20 Thursday morning, after an illness of 10 days, aged 43 years. Mr. Grife had been a member of the staff of the Muskegon Heights Record for the past 18 months, and was well known in Muskegon.

Mr. Grife is survived by his wife, Mrs. Laura Grife; his mother, Mrs. C. J. Grife, Muskegon Heights; one sister, Mrs. G. O. Currey, also of Muskegon Heights; and one brother, Robert Grife, of Madison, Wis. The funeral will be held at the home, 80 Turrent avenue, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. A. W. Lyons, pastor of the Muskegon Heights Baptist church, officiating. Burial will be in the Lakeside cemetery."

HELEN GRAVES' WINNING ESSAY ON LAW ENFORCEMENT

Passed On by Edward E. Webb, of Loeb School, who Accords it
Highest Praise

Pursuant to requests received that the winning essay in the recent Law Enforcement essay writing contest, initiated by the W. C. T. U., be published, we are reproducing it herewith. This essay was O. K'd by Edward E. Webb, teacher of the Loeb school, a newspaper man of wide and distinguished experience, who pronounced it one of the best that he had ever read on the subject discussed. It was written by Miss Helen Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Graves, of this city, who won the first prize of $5 offered by the Union.

"A century or so ago when laws were being thought of and made, people were supposed to obey them. Those who didn't, had to be punished for their wrong-doings. People of today are disobeying national, state, county and district laws every day. Many times they are not punished severely enough. Sometimes they are not punished at all.

Take for example the violation of the Eighteenth Amendment, which states, "No liquor is to be manufactured, bought or sold, exported from or imported into the United States or any of her territories or districts." Yet at least one out of every twenty persons is disobeying this law. These law-breakers are not given enough punishment, for they only have to pay a small sum of money or perhaps spend ten days in jail. They do not care for that; most of them will go right back and start manufacturing liquor again.

People of the United States! Do you like to see intoxicated men and women upon your streets? Do you think it wise to drink such terrible-tasting, disagreeable-smelling, stuff, and irritate your bodies with such a distasteful thing as liquor? You know, do you not, that you are disobeying a law which is made to help your country?

Perhaps you go to a patriotic meeting and say, "I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the republic for which it stands," when at the same time you know you are disloyal to that pledge. How can you do it? Do you not realize the disrespect you are showing to your country? Are you trying to pull your country down in that vile liquor stream and make useless its long years of striving? Are you trying to tear down "Old Glory" from its lofty place and drown its pride in liquor; so that it can never again wave in the breeze, but must always be on the ground, with lawless people trampling over its stars and stripes, tearing it to shreds?

Think of the boys and girls whose fathers are drunkards. Think of (continued on page eight)

MEMORIAL CELE- BRATION PLANS

POPPIES TO BE NATIONAL EM-BLEM OF DAY

Organizations Meet at Odd Fellow Hall and Parade to Cemetery—Program There

Memorial Day, this year, comes on Wednesday. Fitting exercises will be held as usual.

The various organizations, including the G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps and the American Legion will assemble at the I. O. O. F. hall at 9:30 a. m. and march to the cemetery, where the Rev. C. W. Long will commence the ceremonies with a prayer, followed by a patriotic song by the 6th and 7th grades. The G. A. R. will give their ritualistic work and the Rev. Hoskins, of the Baptist Church, speaker of the day, will deliver an address. The high school glee club will sing a selection and the congregation will sing "America," just preceding the closing prayer by the Rev. Eldridge, of the Church of God. Dr. Frank H. Wilkins will act as marshal of the parade.

Sunday, May 27th, is Memorial Sunday and union services will be held at the Congregational church. Rev. C. W. Long delivering the memorial sermon.

Next Wednesday is the one day of the year, Memorial Day, when everyone should lay aside all other cares and pleasures to pay tribute to the memory of the men of America who gave their lives that the nation might live. They should show by some signal that they really appreciate what a privilege it is to be able to remember this one day to do them reverence.

And most clearly to us of the present day comes to mind the strenuous days of 1917 and 1918, of the blood shed on Flanders Field, of the white crosses in France and the sadness that still prevails in the homes of our own Gold Star mothers throughout the country.

In view of these things in mind, the local American Legion Woman's Auxiliary Unit has made an effort to have on hand the silk poppies, which are a duplicate of the poppies that grew on Flanders Field, which has been chosen as the national flower for people to wear on Memorial Day.

The subject of commercializing the poppies in connection with Memorial Day, has had severe criticism, so an honest effort is being made to conduct a dignified and legitimate sale of poppies, by ex-service men and women, who place their loyalty and patriotism above everything else.

A percent of the proceeds derived from the poppies, is sent in for the Grave Endowment Fund, to keep up the graves of American soldiers buried in France, and everyone is urged to wear this symbol of loyalty.

The poppies will be on sale in different parts of town, at 10c each; also by school children.

George Pappin Dies at His Home in This City

George Pappin, a well known resident of Charlevoix, died at his home in this city from the effects of blood poisoning, following a critical operation on last Wednesday, May 16th, after Mr. Pappin's removal from the Marine ward of the Manistee hospital, so which he had been taken about a week previous.

Mr. Pappin, who was a blacksmith by trade, was born on October 20, 1851, in Ogdensburg, N. Y., and was 72 years and six months old at the time of his death. He had been ill for some time. The funeral was held last Friday from his home here. Rev. W. J. Danson, of Emmanuel Episcopal church, Petoskey, conducting the service. The remains were laid to rest at Brookside.

Besides the widow, Mr. Pappin leaves four daughters, Zoo, Carrie and Dorothy, of Detroit, and a son, Rome, of Grand Rapids.

RACING CARS MEET AT ROAD JUNCTION

Attempt to Pass on Wrong Side
Fails Miserably

At the junction of Petoskey avenue with Michigan avenue, occurred last Friday evening what might easily have been a serious accident.

Two cars, a Maxwell touring car and an Oakland coupe, sped towards town on Petoskey avenue, racing for the corner at about thirty miles per hour. Both reached the goal at about the same time—the Oakland a trifle in the lead. The Maxwell driver put on his extra best jicks and tried to go around his rival on the right hand side. Too late, he noticed a third car, parked at the curb on Michigan avenue and applied his brakes. His car skidded, turned completely around and crashed into the curb, smashing the right rear wheel and otherwise damaging the running gear.

This happened at about six-thirty p. m. and was witnessed by several persons. In police court the next morning, first offenses were marked down against the offending drivers and they were allowed to go with a warning that next time would be much worse. They were unanimous in the assertion that there would be no next time.

PETOSKEY TEAM WINS ON TRACK

CARRIES OFF HONORS AT EAST JORDAN CONTEST

Wins First in All But One Event and Takes Two Places—Scored 80 Points

Petoskey high school tracksters led in the triangular meet at East Jordan last Saturday. From the first event the score was never in doubt, although there were some very good races. Petoskey scored in every event and took all three places in the high jump, and took at least two places in all but four events.

The half mile was the most exciting event of the day. Kling, of East Jordan, led until fifty yards from the finish when Edward George, of Petoskey, by a wonderful spurt beat him to the tape. Excellent time was made in all the events. Harold George breaking the northern Michigan high jump record when he cleared the bar at five feet six inches. The Petoskey captain scored five first places for 25 of his team's points.

Petoskey scored 80 points, East Jordan 26 and Charlevoix 10.

Here is the summary:

100-yard dash—Parrish, Petoskey,

first; McCallman, East Jordan, second; Mattison, Petoskey third. Time

11.2 seconds.

220-yard dash—Parrish, Petoskey,

TAKES WHALLOP AT SCRUB SIRE

DAIRY SPECIALIST HAND THEM
HARD TOLT

Great Need of Charlevoix County is a Pure-Bred Bull Association

Jim Hayes, the dairy specialist, from the Michigan Agricultural College in the Dairy-Alfalfa campaign, which just closed in Charlevoix county, sure gave the measly old scrub bull an awful jolt, right in the solar plexus. As disclosed by the campaign, forty-five men signified their desire to help out him by signing up for the services of a sire worthy of being called such. These men are all interested in the pure-bred bull association; a great percent of them will join such an organization whereby each individual farmer can have for a herd sire an animal which will build up rather than tear down the production of his herd.

The cow testing association idea also took very well. Thirty-four men signed the cards manifesting their interest in putting their cows before a jury consisting of a pair of scales and the Babcock tester.

The average production per cow for the state of Michigan is 3800 pounds and Charlevoix county is right around the average. Cow associations and bull associations will bring this up in a few years to at least 5000 pounds.

G. W. Putman, of the Farm Crops Department, started the work with the alfalfa. Mr. Putman enumerated the five requirements, which must be met in order to get a good stand of alfalfa. These are: drainage, lime, inoculation, seed bed and good seed. Of these five, ninety percent of the farmers of Charlevoix county have the first two adequately taken care of. Lime and drainage is not a serious problem here.

Charlevoix county grows 4000 acres of alfalfa, not including sweet clover. The average farmer grows 17 tons of hay and it takes 12 acres to grow it on. If this hay were composed entirely of alfalfa, the same tonnage could be grown on seven acres. If a man were just a little above the average grower, he could grow his 17 tons of hay not on 12 acres, nor 7 acres, but on 5 acres. This would mean 7 acres less that the farmer would have to prepare as well as 7 acres less that he would have to run over, wearing out machinery on.

It is estimated that as a direct result of the campaign, there will be at least a 40 percent increase in the alfalfa acreage in the county this year. Over sixty percent of this increased seeding will be Grimm.

DODGE BROTHERS
TOURING CAR

To those who thoroughly enjoy the out-of-doors, Dodge Brothers Touring Car represents tens of thousands of invigorating miles in the open air.

And owners who have had long experience with the car, know how trouble-free those miles are, and how little it costs to enjoy them.

They know, too, how light and convenient the Touring Car is and how easily cleaned.

Dodge Brothers power plant, the all-steel body, the permanent baked-on enamel finish, the genuine leather upholstery—all combine to explain why more than 850,000 owners almost invariably speak of the car in terms of highest praise.

The Charlevoix-Boyer City baseball game, at Boyer City, last Friday, was one of the best games of the season, although the score might indicate that it was uninteresting. However, such was not the case. Charlevoix started strong, and at the close of the first inning the score stood 4-1, with Boyer City wearing the worried expression. For the next six innings things were exciting, many times Boyer was on the verge of scoring, but Charlie always managed to pull us out of the rut with his superb pitching. In the seventh, Charlevoix scored two runs, and did the same thing in the eighth, thus making victory almost certain. In the ninth, Boyer started to rally but it ended abruptly, the final score being 8-2. Joe Hamilton distinguished himself in center field by pulling down three flies out of the blue. Bob and Pavel got one each.

In concluding these characterizations we wish the reading public to understand that there was no deep-seated scheme of unduly praising those mentioned underlying it all. Far be it from us. If we have unwittingly raised anyone to the sky in the estimation of the world, and of themselves, we hope someone will kindly make the fact known to us. We will do our best to bring the person so afflicted back to earth. Hoping said person is not YOU, dear reader, we continue:

Mr. Hamilton: "The Universal Car."

Miss Wilson: "Look for the Red and White Label."

F. McMillan: "Reduce to music."

Margarette Hammond: "It floats."

Izzy: "You just know she wears them."

Ray Faulkner: "Had your iron to day?"

Margery Brown: "Save the surface and you save all."

Henrietta Baldwin: "Life and works of O. Henry."

C. Bellinger, M. Smith, O. Grunhall: "The national drink."

All of us: "Aged in wood."

That is all. If any of you feel in your young hearts the call to carry on this noble and profound work, we, the undersigned, will take it upon ourselves to furnish you with a sheet of paper and a pencil stub, with the hope that you won't suffer any sudden paralysis of mind while attempting the impossible.

B. M. & A. W.

The English IV. class held their last recitation of the year last Friday. As a matter of review, each member of the class was to present some English writer. We understand that a very distinguished company was present. The ghost of eGeorge Elliot appeared and entertained the crowd by discussions of rural life today; Mr. and Mrs. Brown, unearthing some old love letters, which gave away their identity at at once; Keats was easily recognized, because he went into ecstasies over the beauty of everything in sight; Pope succeeded in marring the enjoyment considerably by criticizing everybody. Time fails to enumerate the celebrities who were present, but there is no denying it—the Seniors are, indeed, a set of "high-brows."

BAY SHORE

Mr. Deitz is very sick at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Minnie Jones.

John Johnson has a fine new Durrant car.

Gus Troutman has been confined to his home for several days with the flu.

Peter Polson was married last week and moved out to his farm. The neighboring young folks made music on a band saw and every available instrument of that description that could be found Friday evening.

Mrs. Harold Jones, of Hammond, Ind. is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hair and Milo Chew attended the Gleaner Rally at Ironton, Thursday, May 17. A good time was reported.

Lee Smith, a former resident of Hayes, had his foot badly injured at the crusher last week.

BAPTIST CHURCH

There will be no preaching services at the Baptist church on Sunday, May 27. In the morning we unite in union Memorial Day services at the Congregational church and in the evening we will attend the Baccalaureate service at the Congregational church.

There will be Sunday school at 12 o'clock in which we will study the life of Isaiah.

At 6:30 will occur the B. Y. P. U. under the leadership of Mrs. Grace Johnston. Topic, "The Hope of India: Education of Her Girls."

Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Peaslee will be in charge and he desires a large attendance of boys and girls and young people. Plan to be there.

Card of Thanks

We desire to thank our friends of Charlevoix and St. James for their kindness and sympathy at the time of our recent bereavement.

Helps to Keep Your Telephone Service Good

"Please give me Chief Operator"

How often have you spoken that phrase to "Central"?

Chief Operator is your immediate point of contact with the Telephone Company on service problems.

Your request to Chief Operator is cared for by a young woman especially trained to interpret your telephone needs and handle your inquiry. She helps solve your service problems.

It would be worth your while to visit your telephone exchange some day, between the hours of eight and five, and meet the Central office folks. Come alone or with a group of friends. Clubs and associations always are welcome.

You will find everyone alert to give you good service. You will have an interesting visit and it will be mutually advantageous for us to become acquainted. You will learn how, through co-operation, telephone service is kept at high standard.

BOY SETS FIRE, 18 BUILDINGS BURN

Loss on Two Gaylord Farms Will Exceed $15,000.

A match, a small boy and a pile of straw were the causes of a $15,000 fire which wiped out every building on the James Marlatt farm and destroyed all but two buildings on the Rudolph Krause farm two miles southeast of Waters.

The fire started in a barn on the Krause place, was quickly communicated to the house, and in five minutes blazing embers were carried by a high northwest wind 300 feet diagonally across the four cornered highway to the Marlatt farm house. In five minutes more every building on the fine Marlatt farm was afire, and in one hour was burned completely to the ground.

A total of eighteen farm buildings, of various kinds and sizes were destroyed on the two places, together with all their contents. The Marlatt school house and the Geo. Lebitske farm house standing on the other two corners were menaced, and the slightest change in the wind would have burned one or both of them. However, neither were damaged.

THREE GOLDEN WED- DINGS THIS MONTH

Alfred VanDusen Held His Celebration Thursday

A curious coincidence was brought to light last Thursday evening at the golden wedding—50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred VanDusen, at their home on the Norwood road.

Three old pioneer settlers of this region—Alfred VanDusen, James O'Brien and B. I. Wilkinson, it was discovered, were born in the same year, married in the same year and each has seven children. Each will celebrate his golden wedding anniversary this year.

At the VanDusen home, fifty-two people from Charlevoix and surrounding territory were assembled, 11 more or less related to each other by ties of blood or marriage. A fine supper was served at a late hour in the evening and dancing was enjoyed, step-dancing being one of the affair's interesting features. Lots of fine presents in keeping with the occasion were received by the aged couple. Mrs. VanDusen was Miss Marianne Sanborn, before her marriage and she and her husband have been in this region since prior to 1868.

There will be a dance at the Maple Grove Grange Hall, Friday evening, May 25. Durand Orchestra. Everybody welcome.—Adv. 20-12.

FORMER CHARLEVOIX GIRL NOW MARRIED

Miss Edna Ward Becomes Bride of F. G. Beattie

Miss Edna Annie Ward, formerly of this city and for some time a teacher in the high school, at Jackson, Michigan, was married to Frederick G. Beattie, of Detroit, at her residence in Jackson, on Wednesday, May 16th, at two-thirty p. m. Dr. Spence, of the First M. E. Church, of Jackson, performed the ceremony.

The bride was attired in white silk and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The apartment was prettily decorated with ferns and roses.

After the ceremony, a dainty luncheon was served to about fifteen guests and the bride and groom started east on a motor trip. Upon their return, Mrs. Beattie will complete the school year in Jackson. The young couple will subsequently make their home in Detroit.

Sunday, 7:30 p. m., a union service with the high school graduates present. Baccalaureate address given by Mr. Long on "Worthy Ambitions."

The mid-week meeting Thursday evening at 7:30. It is hoped that those who know the value and worth of prayer will be present so far as possible.

Note: The church has arranged to hold two preaching services on Sunday. The only way to make the same interesting and successful is for each member of the church to be present and helpful.

The County S. S. Convention will be held in the Presbyterian church, East Jordan, Tuesday, May 29th.

Miss Mildred North, a daughter of Mrs. Rome Pappin, is in the Charlevoix hospital this week, recovering from an operation for appendicitis, performed last Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hutzler have returned to their home at North Manitou Island lighthouse, following Mr. Hutzler's recovery from a recent attack of appendicitis and operation at the hospital here.

Olof Nordrum, of Chicago, representing Booth Fisheries Co., was in the city Tuesday for a short visit. Mr. Nordrum is covering northern Michigan territory, including Beaver and Garden Island, while on his trip.

A big crowd of K. of C.'s assembled at the Hallett Inn last night to attend the dance given by the local order. They came from Boyne City, East Jordan and Petoskey. An East Jordan orchestra furnished the music.

A. D. Crimmins, formerly cashier of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, now connected in the same capacity with the Grand Rapids Old National Bank, is in the city for a few days on business and visiting friends.

R. G. Finucan arrived here Saturday from Northville, Mich., for the purpose of taking a civil service examination. He will return shortly to Northville, where he will be stationed at the fish hatchery until about July 1st.

A delegation from the junior class of the high school visited the Courier office Wednesday, observed the working of the press and linotype and were initiated into some of the mysteries of the gentle art of printing by ye ed.

Mrs. Edward B. Ward, who has been spending the winter with her daughter, Miss Edna Ward, and her sisters, Misses Ella and Grace McGarrison, teachers in the Jackson, Mich. schools, returned to her home in this city Monday, May 21st.

Mrs. William Finucan, who has been spending the winter months with relatives in Herkimer, N. Y., arrived home last Friday. She visited her daughter, Eleanor, who is attending school at Ypsilanti, and son, George of Grand Rapids, en route to Charlevoix.

Mrs. Edna Rotert, principal of the high school, received a telegram last Wednesday night advising her of the death of her father, a railroad engineer, in a head-on collision in Ohio. She left Thursday morning for her old home at Lima, near where the accident occurred.

Bert Noble and Best Beaudoin went out Sunday morning a-fishing and near the railroad bridge caught three fish trout. Mr. Beaudoin says it took the combined efforts of the proverbial "three men and a boy" to keep Mr. Noble from jumping in to the lake after the fish.

W. E. Parmelee had the misfortune to turn turtle in his car on the Boyne City road Tuesday afternoon, resulting in a painful injury to his eye. The accident was caused by the breaking of a front wheel. Mrs. Parmelee, who was with him, suffered a slight fracture of her arm.

A number of the members of the local chapter of the O. E. S. are planning to attend the meeting of the Meguzee Association of the order, which is to be held at Traverse City on Thursday and Friday of this week. The delegates will drive down in cars Thursday morning.

this method of improving through livestock and have banded themselves together in a bull association for this purpose. A small breeding fee is charged for each service; this is to go to pay the man keeping the bull.

It is hoped that many more pure-bred bull associations of similar nature may be formed throughout the entire county as a result of the dairy-alfalfa campaign.

The advantages of using pure-bred sires are many. A scrub bull has all kinds of blood in him, beef blood, dairy blood, dual purpose blood, etc., but they are all so scrambled together that it is impossible to recognize any of these individually. A pure-bred sire has been bred along certain lines for many years. If it is a dairy sire, he has been bred for milk production and milk production alone; if it is a beef sire he has been bred to use his surplus feed for meat production and meat production alone.

It makes no difference what breed you are using, use a pure-bred sire.

Test All Cattle in Charlevoix County

May 14th, 1923
Mr. B. O. Hagerman,
County Agricultural Agent,
Boyne City, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Hagerman:—In order that the provisions of the Kirby Bill which was made effective April 26th, 1923, be complied with and that there be no legal technicalities to interfere should it become necessary to compel the test on any cattle, we are asking you to kindly arrange for the insertion of the enclosed notice in one issue of a newspaper having a general circulation in your county.

Section 15—A states in part, "Whenever the commissioner shall have determined to test for tuberculosis all the cattle in any certain county where bovine tuberculosis eradication has been adopted, he shall give public notice of his determination by publishing a notice to that effect in one or more newspapers of general circulation in said county, at least ten days before such testing shall commence."

Heretofore, we have been placing quarantines on the herds when owners refused to permit the veterinarians to conduct a test. After the determination to test has been advertised as required by the law, it is the intention to take advantage of the new amendment and compel the test rather than to resort to quarantine procedure.

Assuring you that your co-operation and the early publication of the notice will be greatly appreciated, I am

Yours very truly,

B. J. Killham,
State Veterinarian.

Notice

May 15th, 1923.

Lansing, Michigan
In compliance with Section 15-A of Act 181 of the Public Acts of 1919, as amended.

Notice is hereby given that it has been determined to test for tuberculosis all of the cattle in Charlevoix county, except steers which are properly isolated.

The section indicated provides that it shall be unlawful for any person who owns or who is in possession of or controls any cattle to prevent, hinder, obstruct or refuse to allow the Commissioner or authorized veterinarian to conduct such tests for tuberculosis on such cattle.

L. Whitney Watkins,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

AT THE MOVIES

What promises to be a real treat is Dustin Farnum's latest picture, "Three Who Paid," which will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Wednesday. It is a William Fox production and was written by George Owen Baxter, one of the most famous novelists of the age. Joseph Franklin Poland, one of the country's leading scenarists, wrote the screen version of the book.

From the story, the picture play promises to be full of action and rapid fire interest. The role of Riley Sinclair, around whom the play revolves, is well suited to Mr. Farnum. Bessie Love, the popular leading woman, is playing a dual role in this new, gripping, western photoplay. Early in the picture she takes the part of the schoolmaster. It later develops that she was masquerading and she appears as the simple, sweet little Miss who has endeared herself to the hearts of all moviegoers.

Frank Campana, who is well known to screen fans, again appears as a villain in support of Farnum. These two sterling actors have appeared in many stage and screen successes together and their fights are always worth going a mile to see.

Others in the cast include Fred Kohler, Robert Daly, William Conklin and Robert Agnew.

Colin Campbell directed the production and Don Short was the cameraman.

Boston Blackie Again

A new paramount picture, "Missing Millions," based on two of Jack Boyle's Boston Blackie stories, will be the feature at the Palace Theatre next Tuesday. Alice Brady is the star and David Powell is her leading man.

CITIZEN'S TRAINING CAMP STARTS SOON

Great Opportunity for Recreation and Self-Improvement

A fine opportunity is offered to the young men of this community for thirty days of good sport and valuable training at the Citizen's Military Training camp to be held shortly at Camp Custer.

Transportation and food will be paid en route to and from the camp by the government as well as expenses during the period of training. All that is asked of the candidates is that they obey the rules and regulations of the camp and give their time and earnest effort to the work.

For information regarding dates and requirements, see Dr. W. W. Mitchell, at Charlevoix, or call phone No. 486.

Repair Damaged Plane

The lumber freighter, H. M. Stuart, sailed Sunday night from Traverse City for South Fox Island with the aviators detailed to repair the damaged Parker plane and fly it back to Chicago. The new motor reached Traverse City Saturday, and Pilot John Miller, with his mechanics, Ed. La Parie and James Phelps left on the Stuart for the island.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Three brothers were arrested at one time in Pontine and held on a charge of intoxication. Whatever the fluid was they drank, it evidently runs in the family.

A Ciro druggist has read in a Lansing paper an account of his own death from blood poisoning. He declares, however, that he doesn't believe everything he reads in the papers.

That fellow just captured at Hillsdale who holds the record for number of escapes from the Traverse City State hospital, has nothing on some of us who have never been in.

A Clarkston man who had parked his car in Pontine reported to the police that it had been stolen, but learned later that his wife had come along and driven it home. It seems she thought, quite reasonably, that if he wanted to ride home, all he would have to do would be walk home and get it.

Cheer up, fine times are coming! "This will be one of the liveliest seasons in years in the roadhouse district," asserts "Old Stinger" in the Mt. Clemens Leader. "Wait, and see! Everything is set as the word goes out for a 'big killing.' Keep an eye on the Gratiot for the big game this year."

Anyway, it's more fun working than loafing.

POISON GAS THAT HEALS.
Army chemists are said to have proved that colds, grippe and influenza can be checked almost instantly by the introduction of greatly diluted chlorine gas into the rooms occupied by patients, and that an epidemic could be stopped in short order by the general use of this method.

Lieut. Col. Vedder of the army medical corps at Edgewood, Md., is said to have found mustard gas a specific for tuberculosis.

The burning gas known as Lewisite seems to be a remedy, if not actually a cure, for paries and locomotor ataxia. There are records of forty-two paresis cases, in insane hospitals, treated by this method, of whom half have been discharged as cured and returned to their employment, and nearly all the others are much improved.

There is virtually no limit, army experts say, to the practical application to human diseases of the poison gases used in the world war.

If all this is true, it may be the most wonderful result of that war which has yet been brought to public attention. Poison gas, on its introduction, was greeted with horror from the whole civilized world. It came nearer to making war a literal hell than any other deadly weapon yet devised. There has been a widespread desire to have its use hereafter banished from warfare. It will be a notable example of good growing out of evil if poison gas turns out to be, after all, a means of protecting and prolonging human life.

This is legitimate warfare—the use of agencies of destruction against the invisible enemies that invade and ravage human bodies.

GIFTS OF BAD SANITATION.
A father recently wrote to a prominent physician as follows:

"We have a healthy boy of four years. A neighbor strongly advises my wife to take him to visit friends whose children have measles and mumps in order that he may have those diseases before he is old enough to go to school. Your opinion in good language will be appreciated."

It is cheering evidence of the advance of public knowledge and practices in regard to health that the neighbor's suggestion sounds idiotic if not actually criminal. Enlightened persons—parents, teachers and physicians dealing with children—no longer hold to the ancient superstition that every child must have these erroneously called "children's diseases." An increasing number of youngsters is growing up escaping one or more of those infections.

The old habit of lightly speaking of "children's diseases" and lightly regarding them as a minor nuisance, is now outworn. They are recognized as the serious things they are, to be eliminated and avoided. Measles causes more deaths than scarlet fever. In the town from which the inquiry came, measles caused more deaths than whooping-cough. Measles, mumps, whooping-cough, scarlet fever and all the rest are the "gifts of bad sanitation or bad public hygiene," says the irate doctor. They all carry the possibility of grave and lasting after-effects as menacing to the child's future well-being as the initial disease itself. The best thing to do is to keep away from them.

Add Profitable Land to Your Farm—at Less Expense

LOTS of farmers around here cleared stump land last year with Dumorite. That land is now putting money in the bank for them. It's no longer a loss. They saved money on the job, too.

For Dumorite gives you one-third more sticks per dollar—it has approximately the same strength stick for stick as 40% dynamite, and the slow, heaving action of "20". Non-freezing and non-headache.

Let us give you full information on Dumorite and other du Pont explosives for land-clearing and ditching work. We can give you quick delivery, and probably some helpful advice.

PRONOUNCED AS MOST EXCELLENT

"little brother" growing up and being like his father, thus adding one more intoxicated person to the list.

Certain types of parties are sometimes the ruin of young men and women, for if liquor is served every one has some, and the young people feel that they must drink it too; thus the dangerous habit is formed.

Movies have a good deal to do with the formation of this habit. People see the use of liquor in parties, shown on the screen and think it is a necessity or part of the life of the highest society.

If we are true American citizens, we should not be so disloyal as to disobey any rule, law or constitutional amendment made by our government. Some true American citizen has put his valuable time into the making and enforcing of these laws. They have done this to help the United States and to make her a better country, the best in the whole world.

If you have been a drunkard, break your habit and set an example for others. In that way you can prove your loyalty to America.

There is much discussion about "obeying laws." What does it mean?

By obeying laws we mean "living up to them." This may not be easy, for sometimes it is not so hard to obey a law as it is to obey it. Some people think it not necessary to obey such laws as the Prohibition Act. They would rather have a "secret hiding place for their 'booze'" and have "booze parties." Some men will take their last cent and spend it for whiskey, even though they do not know where their next piece of bread and butter is coming from. They are not worthy to be called American citizens.

It means a great deal to obey the United States laws, "to live up to them" everyday. Yet a good citizen can do it and will do it gladly if he or she amounts to anything at all and wants to be worthy of a place in this nation of ours.

UNCEASING MISERY

Some Charlevoix Kidney Sufferers Get Little Rest or Comfort

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for many sufferers from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night when there's kidney backache. You suffer twinges and "stabs" of pain, annoying urinary disorders, lameness and nervousness. You can't be comfortable at work with darting pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles may follow. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. Thousands have testified to their merit.

Proof in Charlevoix testimony: Mrs. Dan Bacot, 105 Lincoln St., Charlevoix, says: "My back was stiff and sore just over my kidneys. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly, so I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and got a few boxes. They rid me of the trouble in a very satisfactory manner." Price 60¢ at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Bacot had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WANT TO BE GOOD AMERICAN CITIZENS

Twelve Farmers of Boyne Valley Take Out Papers

Twelve farmers, all from Boyne Valley township, and who have been residents of that district for several years past, assembled at the court house here last week and applied for their first citizenship papers, declaring their formal intention of becoming American citizens.

They are as follows: C. Kondrat, John Skop, Jose Aldrich, Leon Jurema, Frank Rankiewicz, Frank Florusky, Mikal Kondrat, Wasy Tymoe, Frank Romanik, Lorenz Cieslewicz, Iwan Holowiecki, Joe Spakowski.

HAYES TOWNSHIP FARMER IS DEAD

Charles Medsker, a farmer and old resident of Hayes township, died a week ago last Tuesday, at his home, at ten o'clock in the evening, following a winter-long illness; an abscess on the lungs finally resulting in his death.

The funeral was held last Friday from his home and the body was laid to rest at Brookside.

Mr. Medsker leaves a wife and three children—two daughters, Louisa and Violet and one son, Edwin; also two brothers, Herman and Geo. Medsker, of Hayes township.

Joint Lodge Meet

Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F. & A. M., are planning a joint initiation to be held here on June 6th, to which the East Jordan, Traverse City and Cadillac lodges have been invited. Several state officers of the order have promised to be present and it is expected that the occasion will be a memorable one.

May Day Party.

Miss Mariann Tyler entertained a number of her little friends and schoolmates last Saturday afternoon at a May party, at her home at 213 E. Garfield Ave. The afternoon was spent in gathering May flowers in the Belvedere resort park, playing games and listening to some very interesting fairy stories, after which everybody filled up on ice cream and cake, thus satisfactorily concluding the affair.

Visit Relatives

Mrs. Anna M. Stark, of Brazoria, Texas, and Mrs. Bertha Gilmore and children, of Old Mission, arrived last Wednesday to visit at the home of their cousins, Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Wilkinson, leaving Saturday for Central Lake to visit other relatives and friends. Both Mrs. Stark and Mrs. Gilmore are former residents of Banks township.

Card of Thanks

We desire to thank the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us at the time of the death of our husband and father, Charles Medsker, and for the flowers with which they remembered us. SUMMER SEASON HAS OPENED

QUITE A FEW ARRIVALS SINCE LAST WEEK

Every Train Brings a Few More Reporters and Many Are Expected Here, Soon

Simultaneously with the permanent departure of the icebergs from adjacent waters, comes the first contingent of our quota of summer visitors.

Though not quite as many are in town now as at this time last year, even a casual inspection of Bridge Street last Saturday evening, and during business hours this week, convinces one that there has been a considerable addition to our population since last week's issue left the press. Of the Belvedere colony, E. L. Hollingworth and family, of Rensselaer, Ind., are now established in their summer residence, the "Blue Bell" cottage, and Mrs. George Warner, of Chicago, arrived Tuesday of last week. Last Saturday, Fred A. Fielder, who is on his vacation from his Chicago office, joined his family here at the "Greenleaf" cottage. Windsor Aldrich, of Chicago, was the first of the summer colonists to venture north. He came on May 1st and was followed on the 3rd by Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Rupert, of Bloomington, Ill.

On the North side, John W. Keiler and family, arrived last week from Paducah, Ky. Mr. Keiler is an enthusiastic fisherman and is likely to have plenty of opportunity to indulge his hobby, judging from the record catches of mackinaw and steel head that have been reported recently. At the Chicago Club, Mrs. W. R. Linn arrived Friday to look after some improvements now being made in her property here, and Miss S. A. Franklin, who manages the club house during the summer season, came Saturday to complete preparations for the opening of the resort.

Among the Park Avenue cottagers who are expected to arrive within the next few weeks, the Misses Tekla and Rose Greensfelder, of Chicago, will arrive on June 1st; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gilbert and Julius Gilbert, of Detroit, on the morning of the 1st; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Block and children, of New York, on the 2nd of June; Mr. and Mrs. E. Reinhold, of Chicago, on June 17th, with their children; Mr. and Mrs. Irving N. Kline, of Chicago, on the 17th, occupying the Frank Hines residence and Mr. and Mrs. Meyer May, of Grand Rapids, sometime around the 1st of June.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Schlesinger, of Detroit, are expected to occupy their cottage on Michigan Avenue shortly and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Godschaux and James Hiller will arrive from their home in New Orleans some time during the first week in June.

MEGUZZES HOLD 20TH CONVENTION

A. C. Clement, of Joliet, Ill., usually one of the first arrivals on the Belvedere side, will reach Charlevoix about June 1st. On or about the 6th of the month, several other Belvedere families are expected. Emerson W. Price and wife, of Lima, Ohio, have been located on their farm, "The Gardens of Mokoton," near Ironton, for several weeks.

In fact, the long, hard winter that has kept us hibernating like the bears for so many moons is likely to be forgotten amid the pressure of the delightful summer activities for which this region is so justly famed.

TOWNSHIP CLUB ENJOYS POT-LUCK

Affair at Home of Walter Rodger Tuesday Night

The Charlevoix Township Club was entertained with a pot-luck supper on May 28th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rodger, on route 1, by Mrs. Rodger and Mrs. C. R. Munyon, to celebrate the birthdays of Mr. Rodger and Mr. Munyon.

About twenty-five guests were present. The tables were decorated with yellow flowers. The evening was spent in visiting and the guests departed at a late hour, voting the ladies to be royal entertainers.

IT IS AS BROAD AS IT IS LONG

HIGH WAGES—HIGH EXPENSES. NET RESULT WHAT?

Big Income and Big Outgo Are Siamese Twins—More Money Saved on Low Wages

Many workmen who leave jobs paying them $4.00 a day in Charlevoix county and go to larger cities, such as Detroit, to work for larger wages, actually make less money, net, than they do here, it was declared recently by the manager of an industrial plant in a neighboring city.

"Several men have left our plant," he said, "to take employment in Detroit at higher wages, but most of them drift back here sooner or later, convinced that a higher wage in Detroit does not always mean more money in their pockets at the end of a month."

The plant manager referred to reports recently published in Iron River, giving wage and expense figures in the case of a man who went to Detroit to work for seventy-two cents an hour on an eight-hour schedule, or $5.76 a day. The figures follow:

Detroit worker at 72 cents an hour. 8 hour day: Wages for month.....$144.00 $8.00 a week for room, per month..... 35.00 60c a meal; $1.80 a day, per month..... 54.00 Laundry and washings, per month..... 3.00 Total expenses, per month..... 92.00 For himself, per month.....$ 52.00 Iron county worker, average wage, $4 per day: Wages, per month.....$100.00 Board and room, per month..... 30.00 Washing, per month..... 3.00 Total expenses, per month..... 33.00 Total for himself per month.....$ 67.00

"If you are married and have a family, where would you get off in the city," the report asks, "if you were receiving city wages and paying anywhere from $45 to $65 a month for house rent?"

MRS. BARTLETT SURPRISED BY FRIENDS

Party of Fifteen Arrive With Supper Making

A party of fifteen of the friends and neighbors of Mrs. L. B. Bartlett gathered at her home on Park avenue last Thursday night with the ammunition for a fine pot-luck supper.

Mrs. Bartlett, not having been previously advised of their coming, was pleasantly surprised. The evening was spent in playing "Five Hundred" and everyone had a good time.

EASTERN STAR ASSOCIATION MET AT TRAVERSE CITY

Fourteen Chapters Sent Their Delegates and New Officers Were Elected

The 20th annual meeting of the Meguzee Association, Order of The Eastern Star, was held in Traverse City on Thursday and Friday of last week, delegates attending from each of the fourteen chapters.

Thursday afternoon was given up to the welcoming of visitors and to registration. At noon, Traverse City chapter served a fine lunch and at one-thirty p. m. the first part of the work commenced. The afternoon was devoted to addresses and reports. The welcoming address to the visiting delegates was delivered by Mrs. William Love, of Traverse City, and the response by Miss Wurzburg, of Northport. The retiring president, Mrs. A. F. Wallbrecht, of Central Lake, delivered an address and several program numbers were given.

At six p. m., the ladies of the Central Methodist Church served a banquet to two hundred and seventy-five people. The evening work opened at eight p. m. and consisted of initiatory work, which was conducted by the past matrons of the fourteen chapters, Mrs. Louise Elston, of Charlevoix, acting as associate matron. East Jordan chapter gave the floral work.

The worthy grand matron, Mrs. Ada Sangster, gave a very interesting and helpful half hour of instruction; also instructions at each part of the meeting.

The associate grand matron, Mrs. Wilcox, of Meosmine; also past matron, Miss Irene Louise Getty, were present.

Friday forenoon was devoted to the business of the association. The election resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Myrtle Phige, Traverse City; 1st vice president, Mrs. Gladys Bechtold, of East Jordan; 2nd vice president, Mrs. William Ellis, of Petoskey; secretary, Miss Glendora Williams, of Mancelona; treasurer, Mrs. Estella Voorhees, of Harbor Springs; executive committee, Mrs. Wallbrecht, of Central Lake, 3 years; Mrs. Theressa Maltby, of Bellaire, 2 years; Mrs. Effie Marshall, of Charlevoix, 1 year; marshal, Mrs. Jennie Harroun, of Kalkaska; chaplain, Mrs. Nellie Gryson, of Pellston. Although no definite date has been set, it is thought that the next meeting of the association will be held in May, of 1924, at East Jordan.

STUDENTS ENJOY AN OUTING ON BRUCE

Central Lakers Eat Fish Dinner at St. James

About fifty-five of the pupils of the Central Lake high school, accompanied by their principal, Professor Hatch, left the harbor here at eight o'clock last Friday morning, on the steamer Bruce, bound for St. James, B. I., for an outing.

As they left the channel, they were enthusiastically cheered by a delegation from Charlevoix high school, who were assembled on the pier-end and Mr. H. L. Oldham fired a salute from his canon on the hill. The party remained at St. James for three hours, during which time they enjoyed a fine fish dinner, prepared by Mrs. Ray Gudden at the hotel. The boat returned in the afternoon bearing the happy voyagers, whose smiling faces testified to their having enjoyed a "perfect day."

FRIENDS HELP INJURED NEIGHBOR

Hold Bee at Farm of Jay Adams All Day Tuesday

Neighbors and friends gathered at the Jay Adams farm home in Morion township Tuesday, to give their popular supervisor a lift on his spring work, Mr. Adams having given his knee a bad twist several weeks ago. Eighteen teams reported for work. The day was spent harrowing, discing and spreading fertilizer. All enjoyed a splendid dinner at noon and ice cream and cake before starting for home.

Monday, June 11, is the date when J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will again be here, one day only. Office at the Hotel Charlevoix.—Adv. 22-2t.

COUNTY NORMAL GRADUATES 12

THREE TO STATE NORMAL WEST ASSIGNED

Attractive Program Presented at Congregational Church on Monday Evening

1923's County Normal class of twelve received their diplomas at the Congregational church last Monday night, in the presence of proud relatives and friends.

Rev. Harry Alburt, of Petoskey, who was presented by Supt. Hamilton, was the principal speaker of the evening and delivered a very inspiring address on "The New Day." Selections on the pipe organ were played by Mrs. Harry L. Oldham. Miss Blanche Oliver, musical director of the schools, sang very effectively, "May Morning," by Denza; Rev. Long delivered the invocation, followed by a solo, "Italy," by Miss Irene Finnean, and Rev. Alburt's address.

Next came the presentation of diplomas to the twelve graduates, all of whom are now qualified to teach in rural schools without examinations, or attending a state normal. The 10 credits received at county normal can be applied at any state normal, making only 14 additional credits necessary to obtain the state license. Of the graduates, the following will attend the state normal next year: Katherine McDonald, Margaret Stroud, and Hilda Hyers.

The others, with one exception, have already been assigned to rural charges. Hugh Mayne, Springvale; Iva Crego, Hilton school; Josephine Nordrum, McGeah school; Naomi Carpenter, Phelps; Margaret Hammond, Marion Center; Hazel Mascho, Mountain district; Amy Guile, Loeb school; Ida Curtis, Wildwood; Eva Graham, indefinite.

The presentation of diplomas was made by Archie Belding, county school commissioner, who was scheduled to appear at the Boyne Falls commencement, in company with state superintendent of public instruction, Thomas E. Johnson, on the same evening, but who decided to remain in Charlevoix for the local affair.

WINS DIPLOMA AT MARINE INSTITUTE

St. James Lad Specially Commended By Corps Commandant

The following item, regarding the record of a Beaver Island boy, enlisted in the marine corps, has been sent to us from the Detroit office of the corps, and shows that Charlevoix and vicinity still continues to keep up its high average as to the quality of its representatives in other localities.

"Upon the completion of his studies in the Marine Corps Institute at Washington, Patrick J. McDonough, formerly of St. James, Charlevoix County, Mich., was awarded a diploma of proficiency in the commercial correspondence course. He also received a letter from Major General Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, praising his excellent work in completing the course and passing the final examination.

McDonough lived at the home of his father, Thomas McDonough, of St. James, before joining the marines in December, 1919. For several months he was stationed at various posts of the marine corps on the east coast. Later he was assigned to duty with the Second Brigade of Marines in Santo Domingo, where he is now stationed. He took the entire course through the correspondence method while he was performing his regular military duties as a marine.

The Marine Corps Institute gives free instruction to marines in any one of more than fifty subjects, including the trades, arts and sciences. The school has more than 6,500 pupils, while hundreds of successful students have graduated.

NEW BUS LINE WILL START ON JUNE 20TH

To Petoskey and Harbor Springs with Stops Between

H. R. Fowler, local garageman and Chevrolet salesman, will operate a bus line out this city, commencing June 20th, between Charlevoix, Petoskey, Harbor Springs and intermediate points, calling at the principal hotels in each town and at the Pennsylvania depots in Petoskey and Harbor Springs.

From the above date until July 1st, it is Mr. Fowler's intention to make three runs out of Charlevoix and return, daily, except Sunday, and from July 1st to September 15th, one trip will be on Sunday, in addition to the week day schedule. A complete time table and schedule of rates will be found on page six of this issue.

For his bus service, Mr. Fowler has recently purchased a latest model, improved type Reo Speedwagon chassis, on which he has mounted the best word in comfortable bus hodies, of the pay-as-you-enter type, tickets being issued for the through and single trips to the three main stops, as well as tickets at zone rates to intermediate points. Parcels may also be sent by the bus for a nominal charge. The seats are exceptionally "comfy" springtype and are placed so as to secure maximum leg room and to insure against unpleasant crowding. Patrons will find this a safe, comfortable and speedy method of travel, at reasonable rates.

TOWNSHIP DAY IN HAYES TWP.

SIX SCHOOLS PARTICIPATE IN THE EVENTS

Interesting Addresses Delivered By Belding, Supt. Hamilton and Cleveland Roe

Friday, May 25th, was a day that will be conspicuously recorded in the history of Bay Shore.

Township Day, which is an annual celebration in Hayes township, was a huge success. The events which took place occupied the greater part of the forenoon and the afternoon.

Six schools participated in the exhibitions and amusements of the day. The morning was devoted to the displaying and judging of exhibitions in the Bay Shore school. The schools that made entries in the exhibitions were Undine, Maple Grove, Murray, Hopyard, Burgess and Bay Shore. They all displayed excellent specimens, for which many valuable prizes were given.

The afternoon was occupied with relay races, games and other sports that are typical of a jolly, country picnic. Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Roe officiated during the afternoon amusements and the score card tallied 155 points in favor of Bay Shore; Maple Grove, 85; Burgess, 85; Murray, 65; Hopyard, 30 and Undine, 0.

The picnic was brought to a close by a short program, given by the school children, and a very stirring and valuable address by Superintendent Hamilton, on "Good Sportsmanship." Mr. Roe gave a short address on "School Spirit" and Mr. Belding delivered an interesting message to the people of Hayes township, concerning the live school problems now at issue.

Everybody had a good time and it is hoped that other Township Days that will be held in the county will prove equally beneficial and wholesome.

NORWOOD SCHOOL DAY WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Hilton, Clark and McGeah Schools Also Took Part

Norwood School Day was held on Saturday, May 26th, at the Norwood school. Exhibits were on display from Norwood, Hilton, Clark and McGeah schools, Norwood taking the 1st, 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th prizes, making a total premium of $18.00. Hilton took the 1st in 2nd and 8th, totalling $8.00; Clark school, the 1st in 7th, totalling $5.00. All the exhibits were fine and well put up.

The athletic part of the program furnished much amusement for the spectators. In these contests, Norwood again carried off first honors, with Clark, 2nd and Hilton, 3rd.

FOUR ROAD CONTRACTS ARE LET

ED. SHAPTON GETS MARION CENTER AWARD

Work is Progressing Rapidly on M-11 Which is a Federal Aided Concrete Job

Bids on the following road jobs were opened Monday, at one p. m. at the court house.

8,750 feet of 12 ft. Class A road, on the Marion Center road. Successful bidder was Edmund Shapton, of Charlevoix.

2,630 feet of 9 ft. Class B road, on the East Jordan and Central Lake road, in the city of East Jordan, went to Somerville & Donaldson, an East Jordan concern.

14,800 feet of Class A road, on the East Jordan and Advance road, was awarded to Lorch and Cadwell, of Boyne City.

8,200 feet of 12 ft. Class A road, on the Advance road (Advance to Ironton), was awarded to L. W. Edison, of Grand Rapids, who is now working on the Federal Aid project, No. 46, south of this city.

These were the only awards. It might be well to explain that a Class A road is a one course, gravel road, all the gravel coming through a one inch screen.

A Class B road is a two course gravel road, with heavy gravel on the bottom layer and finer stuff on the top.

It is not generally known, we believe, that work was started last week on M-11 at Norwood corners, where the Norwood road branches from the State highway. This is a federal aid, concrete proposition and was let last year to the Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Company, of this city. The work is in charge of R. F. Sloan, who is assisted by his son. Progress has been somewhat delayed on account of the necessity of breaking in a new crew and some labor shortage, but with a full crew, Clerk Ernest Peaslee, of the Board of County Road Commissioners, assures us, the contractor should be able to lay 200 feet of concrete in a day. On the whole, however, all things considered, very satisfactory progress has been made.

DON'T MISS LEGION'S BIG SUPPER-DANCE

At Beach Hotel, June 7th—A Sure Winner

The third annual banquet supper of the American Legion will be held on the evening of Thursday, June 7th, from six to eight o'clock at the Beach Hotel. A program of music and other numbers will be presented by Vezio's Society Entertainers, of Traverse City, during the supper, who will also furnish the music for the dancing, which commences at nine o'clock. There will also be several vocal selections by Miss Irene Finnean and others.

The use of the first and lower floors of the hotel has been donated by Mrs. Franklin Sears, manager of the hotel, to whom the members of the legion and their friends desire to express their sincerest gratitude. The rooms will be appropriately decorated with flags and bunting and the ball room floor will be in A-1 condition for tripping the light fantastic.

This supper is always one of the big events of the summer season and everyone should make it a point to attend who can.

It might also be mentioned that the management of the Belvedere Hotel has very kindly promised the use of the Belvedere orchestra and Belvedere casino for a Legion dancing party, to be held on or about July 6th; this date to be confirmed later on.

INCREASE IN STATE VALUATION

Anticipate a Raise of Over Six Million Dollars

An increase in the total valuation of the state this year is expected by representatives of the state tax commission. The valuation, which now is approximately $5,000,000,000, may be raised to $5,000,000,000 or $7,000,000,000, they predict.

The present state valuation does not represent by a large amount the actual cash valuation it is claimed. One reason for holding the total down, according to the tax experts has been the fact that the University of Michigan Agricultural college draw their mill tax appropriations according to the state's valuation. An increase in the valuation meant an increase in the mill tax and a correspondingly greater sum lost to the general fund and the tax payers of the state.

The recent legislature passed the way for the expected increase by enacting laws limiting the mill tax for the University to $3,000,000 a year, and for the M. A. C. to $1,000,000. With these limits prescribed, there will be no bar to raising the valuation, it is said.

Fluctuations in the valuation have nothing to do with the tax paid by property owners. A certain amount must be raised by taxation and that amount is secured by assessing the valuation at a certain rate. If the valuation is low the rate will be high. It is the contention of those interested in taxation, that if an actual cash valuation could be secured, everywhere, the tax levy would be more equally distributed, and counties which may now be valued at nearly their cash worth would not be compelled to pay taxes for those valued far below their actual value.

ABOUT "LAWYERS"

While W. F. Cox of Manistique was visiting the writer last Monday in company with his brother, Victor, of Wetmore, some illusion was made to the annual sucker run in the creek at Old Manistique, which was mentioned by this writer in the columns of The Farmer recently. This reminded W. F. of the various kinds of fish that were once so abundant in the waters of Manistique bay. "Lawyers," now almost extinct, were very numerous and furnished much sport for the boys in those days. They baited an ordinary fish hook with a piece of fat pork, let it down through a hole in the ice till the hook and bait rested on the bottom. The best time for "lawyer" fishing was about nine or ten o'clock at night. "Lawyers" can see better in the dark than a cat and they gobbled up the bait as fast as you could bait the hook. As they were useless for food these fish were left on the ice near the holes and after the boys had departed the foxes came out of the wooded shores and devoured the "lawyers." After a while the boys placed poison in the dead "lawyers" and the foxes ate them and were poisoned. Hiawatha's grandmother, old Nokomis, who had her wigwam on the shore near the old dock, went out one night and carried away some of the "lawyers" that the boys had poisoned for the foxes and she boiled it and drank some of the broth. It killed the old lady and the boys quit fishing for "lawyers" after that.

While the flesh off the "lawyer" was seldom eaten, even by the Indians, the skin, a tough leather, was of great value. The Indians skinned a "lawyer" by turning it inside out and while the skin was still green it was drawn over the foot and permitted to remain there until worn out. A couple of fair-sized "lawyers" made a good pair of very serviceable shoes, the foot slipping into the mouth and the toes gradually working down into the tip of the tail, thus molding the pliable skin to the shape of the foot. The odorous character of the rattle of the "lawyer" when thus worn rarely, if ever, gave offense to the sensitive organs of smell when one became accustomed to it, except perhaps, in a rising temperature. The name "lawyer" as applied to this curious fish seems to have been a misnomer when it is taken into consideration that the "lawyer" was then the skinned. Now it is the lawyer who does the skinning. Oakland Announces

Henry Block As Charlevoix Dealer

The Oakland Motor Car Company announces the appointment of Henry Block, of the Lake-way Garage, as Charlevoix dealer for the Oakland Six.

This highly efficient organization, with its adequate facilities, assures to Oakland owners—both old and new—a service in keeping with the high quality of the Oakland Six.

The 1923 series of the Oakland Six is now on exhibition at the local dealer's show room. Mr. Block invites you to inspect these new models. Distinctive in appearance, proved in performance and sold upon Oakland's "Mileage Basis" plan, they fulfill the promise of Oakland, a permanent division of the General Motors Corporation, to build the finest Light Six that correct design and precise construction can produce.

What About Your Auction Bills?

OF INTEREST TO THE FARMER

By B. C. Hagerman

Skim Milk Value

Several inquiries have been received recently regarding the value of skim milk. These inquiries are so numerous that I am taking this means of answering them. The facts presented here are based on figures furnished by some of the leading dairymen of Michigan.

In the first place, it is an accepted fact that the fertility of the farm can be maintained only through the raising of stock. It has been found that skim milk contains bone and tissue building materials that promote health, vitality and growth to all animals and has no substitute.

For feeding pigs, its value is estimated by some to be as much as a bushel of shelled corn, which is worth 30 cents, while others claim as high as $1.25 per hundred pounds of skim milk.

For feeding calves its estimated value is $1.00 per hundred. On the present markets, veal calves are worth in the neighborhood of $14.00 per hundred at our local stock yards. The average calf at the age of six weeks weighs about 170 pounds and will bring around $23.80. This calf will have consumed approximately 16 quarts, or 32 pounds of skim milk a day, or 1344 pounds in six weeks. In addition to this, corn and oats ground, or prepared calf meal enough to fatten the calf costs $1.30. After adding this we find the calf has cost us $14.74, leaving a profit of $9.06.

The following is taken from a letter from the department of poultry husbandry, Michigan agricultural college: "Skim milk is recognized by practically all poultrymen as one of the best sources of animal protein for production. A hen will consume approximately 35 pounds of skim milk a year if permitted to drink all she desires. On this basis, a 10,000 pound cow will feed 100 hens.

Ordinarily skim milk will furnish all the protein necessary for high production, however, it is usually advisable to add from 5 to 10 per cent meat scrap to the mash to increase palatability and therefore promote greater consumption of food which is in nearly every case associated with heavy production.

We find in nearly every case that where flocks are fed on skim milk greater returns are made, and moreover, the birds are always in an excellent condition."

Summing up the above proves that skim milk is a necessity to every farm, and that aside from this, feeding it will show an actual profit and it should always be taken into consideration when figuring dairy returns.

The Certified Seed Situation

There are probably about fifty ears of uncertified seed potatoes still to be sold in the four weeks that are left before planting time. The exchange is redoubling its efforts to clean up the seed remaining unsold that is listed with it. Robert Wiley is on the road selling seed in southeastern Michigan and northern Ohio. H. L. Barnum is working in Indiana for two weeks. Adelbert Myers is selling seed in Montcalm and Ionia counties and C. C. Wells is covering Allegan, Van Buren, Cass and Berrien counties.

It is very desirable to have an accurate report on the amount of seed left at each shipping point. If you have seed in your warehouse, or know of seed in your community, you should send us a report giving the growers' name and the number of bushels that he still has on hand. This report should be in before the middle of the week.

Managers should do everything possible to encourage local sales of certified seed. The original purpose of certifying seed was to improve Michigan table stock, but this idea has been pretty well lost sight of during the last year or two. The exchange believes in Michigan certified seed, and would like to see all the seed remaining unsold planted in Michigan to improve Michigan's 1923 crop of potatoes. Your members should be taught the value of this seed. It isn't reasonable to expect any sales agency to sell our seed to someone else if we haven't enough faith in its value to plant it ourselves.

Breeding Dairy Cattle for Increased Production

A few poor cows may do a little permanent harm to the dairy herd, but a poor sire will do untold damage. Frequently dairymen hold the penny so close to the eye that it is impossible to see the dollar a little further off. This is just what a man is doing who has a good dairy herd of cows and thinks he is economizing by buying a poor or even common sire.

It is the common experience of all dairymen who have used a good improved dairy sire, that the investment has made them royal returns. No longer can we retard dairy development and hinder efficiency of farm operation by careless breeding. Every dairy herd should produce the

SOMETHING INTERESTING ABOUT BEANS

509,000 acres of beans were planted in Michigan last spring; wet weather and other losses were 10 per cent, leaving a harvested acreage of 458,000. The acreage harvested in 1921 was 263,000.

The average yield per acre last year was only 10.5 bushels per acre. In 1921 it was 11.3 bushels per acre.

With the greatly increased acreage, in spite of the lower yield per acre, the total production in 1921 was 1,809,000 bushels against only 2,972,000 in 1921.

In spite of a total production of almost twice the previous year, the average price December 1st was $6.10 per cwt. in 1922 and only $4.00 per cwt. in 1921.

The value of Michigan's bean crop in 1922 was $17,543,000.00 compared with $7,133,000.00 in 1921—an increase of $10,400,000.00 or 117 per cent. The average value of the crop per acre was $38.32 in 1922, increased from $27.12 in 1921.

In 1922 beans stood in sixth place in acreage among the principal crops grown in Michigan, being exceeded by hay, corn, oats, wheat and rye. In total value beans stood fourth place, surpassed only by hay, corn and oats. The sugar beet crop, with its high labor cost, was the only one that had a higher value per acre.

Truly, beans are Michigan's big cash money crop.

In selecting a bull, be sure he is the same breed as your cows and comes from a high producing family. The bull presents the best opportunity for herd improvement. If the heifers are not better than their dams, their sire is a failure. The following facts may be helpful in selection: He should have an intelligent looking head, wide mouth, wide nostrils and good shoulders and breadth of chest; long straight back, avoiding drooping rump; long lung and heart space; deep abdomen, which shows capacity; good quality of hide, indicating digestive power; well spring ribs and wide hips. The bull should be given plenty of exercise, but never be allowed to run with the herd. The feed for him should be much the same as the cow giving milk, except that it is not wise to give him very much silage. It is not necessary for him to have quite as much protein, such roughages as clover, alfalfa, cow peas, soy beans, leech or legumes hay in his ration, as a cow that is being fed for high production.

By breeding to superior sires, milk production can be greatly increased in a single generation, and greater economy effected. It is impossible for every farmer who produces milk with less than ten cows to own pure-bred bulls of the highest quality, because of the great expense. By joining a bull association, any dairy farmer may own a share in an excellent pure-bred bull at a cost far below that ordinarily paid for a scrub. The initial cost is small and the maintenance cost is very much less. A co-operative bull association is a farmer's organization whose purpose is to join ownership, use and exchange three or more high class pure-bred bulls. The territory covered by the association is divided into three or more breeding blocks, and a bull is stationed in each block, for the service of 50 to 60 cows in a block. Every two years the bulls are interchanged. Thus at small cost, a bull for every sixty cows provided for six or more years. The cost of bull service is thus greatly reduced. The best bulls are obtained and the men with a limited means and only a few cows is enabled to improve his herd. Associations of this kind teach co-operation, encourages careful selection of cows and calves, introduces better methods of feeding and management, helps to intelligently fight disease of cattle and assist in the marketing of dairy stock and dairy products.

Silo Fore-runner

There is a relation between the silo and modern farm machinery, and the silo is the fore-runner. When a farmer finds it necessary to produce stock and stock products with greater economy, he generally buys a silo. Such an equipment will save him on an average of 30 per cent on the feed bill. It makes it possible for him to keep more live stock on the farm without buying extra feed, and of course this means a saving or increased profits.

Once having a silo, he finds it necessary to procure filling machinery. He may go in with his neighbors or (Continued on page six)

Dwight L. Wilson Seeks Larger Field for Operations

Dwight L. Wilson, former teacher in Charlevoix schools, but until recently located in East Jordan, has moved his law offices to Lansing, Mich. The East Jordan Herald, in commenting on his removal, says:

"Att'y D. L. Wilson has closed his law office in East Jordan and shipped his office outfit to Lansing, Mich., where he expects to open offices at 506 Tussing Bldg. about June 1st."

"Judge" Wilson, as he is known to his friends, has practiced law at East Jordan for the past ten years. During these years he has been active in the up-building of his home town, and his going is a matter of sincere regret.

"He served East Jordan as mayor for a term of three years and for many years was secretary of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society. In both capacities he sacrificed his personal business interests for the up-building of the community and the county."

East Jordan and Charlevoix county loses, while Lansing and Ingham county gains—an able attorney and a public-spirited citizen."

PETOSKEY IS FIRST IN TRACK MEET

Wins 43 Points at Cadillac Meet Friday and Saturday

Petoskey high school athletes making up the track and field team on Friday and Saturday at Cadillac, won the northwestern district championship for the fifth consecutive season. Petoskey scored in every event, bettering last season's record in this regard, and counted a total of 43 points. Cadillac was a close second with 41, and Traverse City, closely pressing the others for high honors, scored 33 points. Captain Harold George, of the Petoskey team, was the star of the meet with 20 points to his credit. Dividing attention with him, however, was Norris, young athlete from Traverse City, for whom is predicted a brilliant future.

WORK PROGRESS— ING ON TEL. JOB

Eighteen Men Now on the Job in Double Shifts

Considerable progress has been made by the gang of Western Electric employees, working under the supervision of their foreman, C. B. Phillips, in installing the equipment of the new telephone exchange in the Levinson building.

Up to date, they have a pretty good line-up on battery equipment. The charging outfit is mounted, but not connected. One battery cabinet is set up and the main distributing frame. The entire switchboard is lined up and much of the face equipment of the board, line signals, etc., are installed. The cable rack and boxing between the switchboard and the wire chief's desk is completed.

The chasm in the sidewalk, crossing Bridge street, diagonally across Van Pelt Place, is to hold the conduits carrying the cables that lead into the building.

Superintendent Phillips considers that exceptionally good time is being made. The power man is working day and night and a night shift is now on the job. Eighteen men are now working and six more are expected Monday.

The telephone company plans to spend $50,000.00 at Charlevoix and approximately 2,500 feet of aerial cable will be placed, thus insuring that Charlevoix subscribers will be amply taken care of for a number of years.

FORD AND DODGE CRASH AT CORNER

Come Together on "Main Drag" With Small Damage

About ten o'clock Wednesday evening, two cars came together at the junction of Antrim and Bridge streets, with slight damage to the cars, the only casualty.

Both were out-of-town parties. One, an Indian boy, from Petoskey, who was proceeding east on Antrim street and the other, driving a Dodge roadster, going south on Bridge street. Both were moving slowly and the fault, if any, seemed to lie with the driver of the Ford, who failed to make the turn at the proper time.

The radius rod was badly bent on the Ford and a slight dent in the radiator seemed to be the only injury sustained by the Dodge.

The contract for paving Belvedere avenue, exclusive of curb and gutter, was let Monday to the Charlevoix Abstract and Engineering Company, of this city. Work on this job will commence September 1st, and continue until the 10th of October, at which time, it is expected, the work will be completed. Announcement regarding the contract for curb and gutter will be made later.

Masons Give Banquet

Next Wednesday night, June 6th, at the Masonic hall, work in the third degree will be put on by the Fellowship team from East Jordan lodge.

A banquet, served by the ladies of the Eastern Star, at six-thirty p. m., will be one of the evening's features.

WEATHER MAN FAVORED MEMORIAL DAY

Bright and Clear, An Ideal Setting for Services

Memorial day dawned bright and clear. The parade started from town about ten o'clock and, headed by Judge Collins (who used to be drummer boy in the Civil War) and John Smith, performing respectively upon the drum and fife, proceeded to the cemetery with the various organizations in line, as scheduled.

Despite the fact that so many took advantage of the holiday to go fishing, there was a goodly crowd. Rev. Hoskins, of the Baptist Church, as speaker of the day, delivered a stirring address, the main theme of which was the abolition of war. Rev. Hoskins' father and grandfather were veterans of the great civil struggle, and he was therefore all the more enabled to speak feelingly and with authority on his subject.

The program, as planned, was followed throughout. Those who witnessed the exercises pronounced it the most solemn and effective observance of the day that this city has experienced in years.

Monday, June 11, is the date when J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will again be here, one day only. Office at the Hotel Charlevoix.—Adv. 22-12.

OF INTEREST TO THE FARMERS

get an outfit of his own. By experience he will find that the best silage is made from corn when it is in a proper stage of ripeness, and in order to harvest his crop at this time he must limit his exchange work partners, or have an equipment of his own.

The same power which runs the cutter to fill the silo, will do all kinds of work about the farm. It will grind the feed, saw the wood, pump the water, run the threshing machine, cut the hay or straw, and do any work where bits can be applied. A stock farm, where silos are used, is pretty sure to be one where men and boys are given steady employment throughout the year. The income from the herd is dependable; it does not rely on a single crop. It is a steady cash yielding business and has a diversity of needs, which in turn give a good market for all kinds of manufactured goods.

It has been shown that where silos are most numerous, not only farming but general business is best; in fact the prosperity of a community can be determined by the number of its silos. With the silo, a man can keep twice as much live stock on his farm, he can produce better butter from ten to fifteen cents a pound cheaper, feed from one dollar to two dollars per hundred cheaper, mutton from one dollar to one dollar and fifty cents per hundred cheaper, milk from forty to sixty cents per hundred cheaper, cheese from five to seven cents a pound less, the expense of feeding horses and mules thirty or forty dollars per year less. Such a vast difference in the cost of production will mean success or failure. This is why we find the silo an index of the prosperity of a community.

When you see a silo on a man's farm, it indicates that he is a stock farmer, generally a dairy farmer. This means he is utilizing that product of his farm to the best possible advantage. He is increasing the fertility of his land, and there is little likelihood about his place. The boy going to school pays his way by doing chores night and morning. The farm land is employed by the year, and good steady men work the year around. He needs and must have good machinery, for with diversity of crops each year in season must be hurried to harvest and handled in the quickest and most efficient manner. What he buys he can pay for because he has a steady, dependable income. This makes him a good customer and explains why the silo is an index to a prosperous community and the forerunner of better conditions.

UNUSUALLY COMPLETE IS OVERLAND RED BIRD

New Model Sponsored by the Willys-Overland Company.

Nothing has been omitted from the list of equipment made standard on the new Overland Red Bird, but what is necessary and convenient for the motorist who demands something out of the ordinary and who at the same time does not want to plunge into reckless extravagance in having his ideal satisfied.

Included in the equipment are bumpers front and rear, wind shield wiper, scuff plates, door grips, spare rim and tire carrier, beside the usual dash light, speedometer and other accessories.

Glistening nickel radiator with bar cap, nickled head lamps, wind shield stanchions, outside door handles, scuff plates and back curtain frame are admirably set off by a khaki top with red bindings and welts.

Red Spanish grained upholstery leaves a pleasant impression when blended with the superb and rich, gleaming Mandarín maroon, a shade that is exciting, most interesting comment, affording to the eye as it does a delightful sense of spiritfulness, artistically subdued to a tone of agreeable refinement.

The Red Bird has a roomier body, riding on a lengthened wheel base of 106 inches and a spring base of 136 inches. This specification alone insures extremely comfortable traveling at all times and under the most adverse conditions. When the patented triplex springs, adopted by Overland engineers are further considered it will be readily understood that restful riding is one of the many outstanding merits of this new car. Straight side, Fisk cord tires, 30 by 3-1/2 are also standard equipment on the Red Bird enhancing its value to the purchaser and adding to his motoring satisfaction.

The engine is larger and more powerful ful and in every way adapted to maintain that far-reaching reputation of creditable, economical performance gained by the Overland motor. Speed, flexibility, quick pick-up and low cost operation are established and proven facts.

The Red Bird has a one piece differential case of great strength.

There are no bolts to work loose and no openings for faulty assembly to throw halves out of alignment through dirt or other foreign matter working in between the halves. This design permits of two unusually large differential pinions.

The ring gear is exceptionally large, of the spiral bevel type and with the accurately cut pinion runs smoothly, quietly and without trouble or need of adjustment for many thousands of miles of service. Particularly noteworthy is the substantial well assembled, strong rear axle assembly with axle shafts 1-1/2 inches in diameter.

The axles can be removed without disassembling the housing and all the bearings are of the highest types known. These features, together with the many estimable points of excellence in mechanism, single out the Overland Red Bird as deserving of discriminating favor. Benj. Brown is the local agent.

BOYNE CITY ROAD IMPROVES ROADBED

B. C. G. & A to Have Heavier Engines

The Boyne City, Gaylord & Alpena R. R. Co., owned by the White Lumber interests of Boyne City, has commenced building a new roadbed. It will be made much heavier than the present roadbed, in order to accommodate larger engines and allow faster train service. Steam shovels and a crew of men are now working to prepare the roadbed for new rails, which have already been ordered.

The children whose parents used to walk a long distance to school, now complain about the make of the automobile that is sent for them to ride in.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale
Default having been made in the conditions of two certain real estate mortgages whereby the power of sale therein contained has become operative, which said mortgages were given respectively as follows, to-wit: The first of said mortgages dated March 21st, 1919, by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife, of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, on the twenty-second day of March, 1919, in Liber forty of mortgages on page two hundred and forty-six, and the second certain mortgage dated November 15, 1920, was given by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, on the fifth day of May, 1921 in Liber forty of mortgages on page four hundred and nineteen; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said first mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Six Hundred and Forty-two Dollars, principal and interest, and Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee as provided for by said mortgage; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said second mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Eleven Hundred and Forty-nine Dollars and Twenty-three cents, principal and interest, and the sum of Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee provided for by said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the money by either of said mortgages or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgages and of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgages will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due thereon of the said mortgages of principal and interest, together with the costs and expenses of foreclosure on these mortgages, including the Attorney's fee therein provided for, at Public Auction to the highest bidder, thereon, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held,) on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day. The premises described in said mortgages being described as follows, to-wit: In said first mortgage, the South West quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township Thirty-four (34) North of Range Eight (8) West, containing Forty (40) acres of land more or less, according to the government survey thereof; and in said second mortgage, the West half of the North East quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township thirty-four (34) North of Range eight (8) west containing twenty (20) acres more or less, according to the government survey thereof; both said descriptions being located in the Township of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan.

FIRE DESTROYS FINE FARM HOME

Contents a Complete Loss With But Small Insurance

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the farm house on what is known as the Cameron farm, three miles southeast of town, on Monday of this week. Practically all the contents went up in smoke also.

The place was occupied by Ben Newman and family, and the former, who is manager at the clay pit south of town, was at work when he was notified of the fire.

The flames had gained such a start before they were discovered, that all the efforts of the volunteer fire fighters, recruited from the neighborhood, was of no use. Herman DeYoung was struck on the head by falling brick and quite badly injured.

The loss will no doubt reach nearly three thousand dollars, with but little insurance.

Commencement exercises for the class of 1923 were held at the M. E. church on Thursday evening of last week, and was very nicely arranged and carried out. The class this year consisted of six graduates, five young ladies viz. Emily Johnston, Pearl Johnston, Cornelia Elzinga, Jane Groenink and Persis VanDerStreek, the only boy this year being Peter Timmer.

Music was furnished by the Mesdames D. E. Clow and Edw. Klooster, and the address was given by the Rev. Lampert of the Central Lake M. E. church.

The church was very prettily decorated for the occasion, a profusion of flowers adding just the touch of color needed to show off the smiling faces of the graduates. Pete seemed to be the only one in any way ill at ease and no doubt this was caused by his close association with so much beauty during the past school year. Anyhow, his valedictory address was delivered in fine style. Jane Groenink, the class president, gave a splendid address, while "Sis" Elzinga with the class "will," Persis VanDerStreek as class prophet, Emily Johnston with the class history and the salutatory by Pearl Johnston, gave evidence of careful thought and study.

Music was furnished by the Mesdames D. E. Clow and Edw. Klooster, and the address was given by the Rev. Lampert of the Central Lake M. E. church.

SCHOOL CLOSED ON FRIDAY LAST

Good Work Accomplished Throughout Entire Year

School closed on Friday of last week, with picnics and auto rides by the pupils of all grades.

The past school year has been an exceptionally successful one, and the board of education assures us that an extra effort will be made to make the coming year even more successful.

So far Miss Mork is the only one of the old faculty re-engaged. She will return as principal next year.

Supt. and Mrs. Wride have, we understand, taken a position at Prescott as superintendent and principal respectively, of the public schools there.

Miss Matson will spend the summer at her home near Mancelona and is undecided in regard to teaching the coming year, and Mrs. Libery will spend the summer at her home here and like Miss Matson, is undecided as to her future course of action.

Several applications for teaching positions here are already in the hands of the board of education, who we presume, will govern their actions by the developments of the next few weeks.

be less than 12 feet on account of the great width of the rear wheel. Three feet seems to be a minimum safe clearance between bodies. This much as a certain amount of truck traffic is to be expected on all main country roads, the minimum width of surface should be 18 feet to provide these clearances when an automobile meets a truck.

Where the frequency with which trucks pass each other becomes a big factor, as in the neighborhood of large cities, the minimum width of pavement should be 20 feet to provide a clearance of 24 feet and a safe distance of wheels from edge of pavement.

The first pure-bred sale held by Loeb Farms, took place last Thursday, May 24th, and was highly successful from every viewpoint, total receipts being $4,637.50 and attendance by gate tally, exclusive of employees, reaching 525. Farmers from Charlevoix and Emmet counties were the principal bidders.

The sale had been well advertised locally and in Michigan farm papers.

OUT OF THE GLOOM

Many a Gloomy Countenance in Charlevoix Now Lightens With Happiness

A bad back makes you gloomy. Can't be happy with continual backache.

The aches and pains of a bad back are frequently due to weak kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are recommended for weak kidneys.

So Charlevoix citizens testify.

Mrs. Chas. Myers, 207 Park Ave., Charlevoix, says: "I had trouble with my kidneys and felt tired out and languid all the time. My back ached continually. I bought a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills at Metcalf's Drug Store, and began using them. They soon relieved the trouble."

Mrs. Myers gave the above statement October 5, 1916 and on May 4, 1920, she added: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills brought about in my case has proven permanent."

and handsome catalogs, containing complete pedigrees printed. Andy Adams, livestock auctioneer of Litchfield, Mich., was ably assisted by W. E. Byers, local auctioneer, P. P. Pope of Michigan Farmer, and J. M. Enger, Holstein exhibitor of Howell, Mich.

In addition to 33 Holsteins, 6 horses and 20 of the farm's famous Duroc-Jersey hogs were sold. Will Withers paid the top for Holsteins, $200.00 for a fine cow.

H. H. Whitney, of Central Lake, bought a young registered Belgian stallion for $195.00, while Breezy Point farm bid the top on Durocs—$75.00 for a very typey sow and 8 pigs.

Manager R. F. Sloan and Ernest Loeb were both of the opinion that the buyers received good animals at extremely low prices, and predicted that farmers will begin to breed along the pure-bred lines.

Mrs. Stella Kauffman of Chicago, a guest of Mrs. A. H. Loeb, was lucky enough to draw the pig, which she immediately asked to be auctioned off, the proceeds to go to the Charlevoix Hospital. This was done, the pig bringing $15.00.

Nelson Watson, of Carlton, Minn., father-in-law of F. J. Fessenden, of this city, won the Holstein heifer calf put up by the Loeb Farms on a ticket purchased for him by Mr. Fessenden.

Free lunch was served to all at noon, and the entire sale was handled without a single hitch, reflecting credit on management and employees alike.

DESTROYING LARVAE OF FLY

Caution Must Be Used in Applying Chemicals to Manure Piles to Conserve Value.

There are many ways of combating the fly nuisance. On farms, the manure piles are probably the chief sources of fly infection. The use of chemicals in destroying the larvae of the fly in manure piles is one of the important ways of keeping this insect under subjection. However, one must be cautious inasmuch as a too liberal use of some of the chemicals will destroy the fertilizing value of the manure.

FACTORS IN DAIRY FARMING

Of Great Importance That Barns and Utensils Be Clean to Add to Creamery Check.

Good clean barns, clean milking practices, and clean dairy utensils are three essential factors in dairy farming, whether for the man who is making it his sole business, or the farmer who uses five to ten cows to add the creamery check to his income for the month, along with other farming work.

NOTED EDUCATOR SPEAKS AT PALACE THEATRE

Tells Class of Twenty Some of His Own Interesting Boyhood Experiences

Charlevoix High School graduated a class of twenty at the Palace Theatre last Thursday evening, in the presence of Woodbridge N. Ferris, president of Ferris Institute at Big Rapids and former governor of the state of Michigan.

To the strains of a march, played by Mrs. Swinton, the candidates for diplomas filed onto the stage, led by Albert Widdifield and Miss Marguerite Fitch. The costumes of the candidates were of various warm tints and the group presented an attractive picture when seated in the semicircle on the stage, surrounded by palms and floral decorations.

Rev. Hoskins of the Baptist Church, pronounced the invocation. Raymond Faulkner, as valedictorian, and Marguerite Brown, as salutatorian, did remarkably well.

Ex-governor Ferris was introduced and launched into his address, which was vigorous, timely and effective. The distinguished educator took as his theme the necessity of the growing boy or girl to follow their natural bent in the choice of a life work if they are to make a success. His warning to parents to keep hands off and not interfere with the natural ambitions of their offspring, trying to guide them into vocations unsuited to their abilities, for reasons of personal pride or prejudice, was well illustrated by examples taken from the lives of famous creators in the field of art and literature. The speaker also stressed the importance of developing a spirit of self-dependence in the future men and women of our land, drawing copiously from incidents in his own interesting and rugged boyhood, his early recollections of his father and the fine and helpful relationship existing between himself and his parent.

Representative Rollie L. Lewis followed with a few well chosen remarks and proceeded to the presentation of the diplomas. The students who received their diplomas for four years of excellent work are: Margie Swinton, Joyce Mayne, Thelma Crandall, Eva Ostrum, Alberta Klebe, Ruby Hull, Edith Struthers, Marguerite Brown, Irene Halverson, Margaret Hammond and Katherine Gaskin, Robert Miles, William Padlock, Raymond Faulkner, Richard Saltonstall, Louis O'Neill, Forrest Brown, Edward Shanahan, Cecil Ogden and Clayton Saunders.

At the close of the ceremonies, Rev. C. W. Long, of the Congregational Church, pronounced the benediction.

LOEB FARMS COW TO GO TO NATIONAL SALE

One of 128 Record Producers from Sixteen States

Loeb Farms of Charlevoix, Mich., have one pure-bred Holstein consigned to the fourth cooperative national sale to be held at Cleveland, Ohio, June 6th to 8th in connection with the thirty-eighth annual meeting of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

A total of 128 animals will be sold, many of them of show ring and high production fame. Seven cows with records of 1,000 pounds of butter in a year will be sold and 24 cows and heifers will be sold that have production records of 30 pounds of butter, or better, in seven days. The consignments come from sixteen states.

Restock Lakes With Bass

A consignment of 18 cans of black bass fry was received yesterday from the state fish hatchery and planted in Cunningham, Matchett and Harwood lakes. This is the first shipment of black bass received this season. The planting of these fish is the following out of a program started several years ago in an effort to making fishing in Charlevoix county lakes the best in all northern Michigan counties.

PRESENTED WITH MANY USEFUL GIFTS

Mothers of Training Room Students Appreciate Her Work

The mothers of the training room children gave Miss Burkland an unusual surprise Thursday afternoon.

The mothers assembled at the school room and as each one came in, she deposited a gift that would be useful to Miss Burkland in her household duties next year.

Miss Burkland, assisted by her pupils, unwrapped the useful gifts, which consisted of hand embroidery, linen, cork books, silverware, ivory, aluminum, glassware and enough pyrex to furnish a kitchen. The County Normal class presented her with a framed wall picture.

Miss Burkland's engagement to Mr. Paul S. Nelson, was announced early in the spring. Mr. Nelson is an engineer in the U. S. light ship service.

We regret the departure of Miss Burkland, who has been with us two years. She has been very active in community work, especially in the Historical Society and the child conservation, and has been one of the best and most faithful teachers on the force. We wish her happiness in her future life.

FOG HORN SANG A SLUMBER SONG

FOUR ABLE (?) SEAMEN MISS THEIR COURSE

Mist-Bound, They Drift in Foul Craft, Compassless, Over the Shrouded Waters

Four embryo sailors, who evidently thought that studying the Leather-Stocking Series at the movies qualified them to box the compass, left this port Saturday morning at about ten o'clock in a forty foot sloop to make St. James.

Like the three wise men of Gotham, afloat in a bowl, they drifted through the fog in a direction that they fondly hoped was the right one. All day long, they drifted, drifted—just drifted, and finally as darkness fell, the gentle owl-like notes of the fog horn at the north end of the Beaver group came to their straining ears.

Soon land was reached, and, further progress being impracticable, they bunked in their cruiser for the night, with the mournful note of the foghorn as their only lullaby. Sunday afternoon they again got under way and managed to reach St. James that night, where they remained until Monday morning, when the return trip to Charlevoix was ventured. They reached here Monday afternoon, much the wiser for their experience.

Who were they? Say, reader; if we should mention names the nautical reputations of a prominent and rising young local business man and three esteemed summer visitors would be utterly ruined. Away with the alluring suggestion! Tempt us not!

LOCAL COAST GUARDS GET NEW LIFE BOAT

Improved Type of Craft Sent From Baltimore Supply Depot

A new life boat has recently been received from the U. S. supply station at Baltimore, Md., for the use of the local coast guard crew.

She is a twenty-six footer of improved type, with three manholes instead of the usual two, for ventilation and repair work and seats eight oarsmen and the coxswain, or steersman.

A new feature of the craft is a water ballast tank with hand pump attached. In earlier models, water was admitted and ejected from this tank by merely opening a sea cock and letting it run in or drain out. The pump performs this operation in much less time.

The new boat gives the local station three seaworthy life-boats, one of which is a power boat, in which a heavier type of Kohlenberg marine engine is now being installed. A fourth boat at the station will probably be condemned, as unseaworthy, on the next visit of the superintendent of the service to Charlevoix.

WHY NO PROVIS- ION FOR ROADS?

DOWAGIAC EDITOR-SENATOR
ANALYZES SITUATION

Battle Over Rival Tax Bills, He Shows, was Largely A Pro and Anti Groesbeck Affair

Harry H. Whitley, editor of the Dowagiac Daily News and senator from the Berrien-Cass district, discusses the recent struggle over the gasoline tax vs. weight tax question in the Michigan legislature in a clear and interesting fashion. As the matter is a timely one, we are reproducing his remarks herewith:

"Who is to blame for the failure of the legislature to provide for good roads for the next two years?"

It is a fair question and is being asked repeatedly the state over.

We do not know whether we can answer it, but we are willing to state the facts as we know them and to leave it to the reader to draw his or her own conclusions.

Both the gasoline tax and the weight tax measures failed. Both of these measures carried the machinery for continuing the highway program. After the failure of these bills to pass there was no time in which to introduce or pass a substitute measure, if indeed, one could have been framed and passed.

The first measure to come before the legislature was the gasoline bill. It was crudely drawn as it passed the house and was doctored up in the senate but was declared to be unconstitutional. The latter fault could have been remedied.

Governor Groesbeck previously had been rather favorable to a one-cent gasoline tax, but when the Detroit Automobile Club announced its opposition to any form of a gasoline tax, he declared that it was useless to consider such a bill. Looking at it from one angle he had some ground to substantiate his position. The Detroit Automobile Club declared that if the legislature did pass such a law, it would attach a referendum by petition and send the whole measure to the people. As no election could be held on the question until November, 1924, the governor declared to the legislature it was useless to pass the bill because no funds would be available.

That may or may not have been the reason for his opposition, but from that day he left no stone unturned to defeat the gasoline tax and finally after it had passed both houses by a large vote, he vetoed it.

Meanwhile he had prepared his substitute measure, the weight tax bill. This was quickly passed in the senate after a meeting of the gas tax senators had decided that in the (continued on page three)

FAMOUS CONCERN DOING BUSINESS

Title Co., of "Dunblane" Fame, Now
Writing Policies

The Title Guarantee & Casualty Company of America, in which a number of Charlevoix people and many others throughout northern Michigan hold stock, has actually begun the writing of policies for which it was chartered. Agents have already been named at various points throughout the state.

R. F. Sloan, of this city, is a member of the board of directors of the company, which has its head office in Detroit.

Of the $500,000.00 capital, it was found that A. J. W. Greig (the Earl of Dunblane) absconded with about $80,000.00, which delayed operations of the company for a while, but did not make it necessary for it to reorganize.

The state authorities are giving this company their unqualified support in getting it started in business.

NIMRODS AND WALTONS CONVE

AT SPORTSMEN'S CARNIVAL, PE-TOSKEY, JUNE 7, 8, 9.

Three Days' Junket Centers at Cushman House Where Fun Will Reign Supreme.

Local sportsmen and their friends are already making plans to attend the Sportsmen's Carnival, at Petoskey, June 7, 8 and 9. The event will be staged by the Petoskey Gun Club in the great dining room of the Cushman, which has been donated free for the use of the sportsmen at the region. The carnival is the biggest undertaking of its kind ever attempted in the region and is expected to attract many from this place.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings the program calls for fun in great quantities. Good clean sport and lots of it, is the word sent out about the event. Dancing, many booths where various articles will be on sale. There will be a soda fountain, candy, duck, sporting goods, ticket booth, aluminum dishes, and a carnival goods booth, as well as the largest prize booth ever operated at such an event in the region, and a shooting gallery.

More than $150 worth of sporting goods will be given away as prizes to those who attend. Special prize balloon will be sent up from the park every few minutes.

Funds go to the special cash prizes offered for the Michigan State and the Indian trap shoots at Petoskey the week of July 1-7. A special feature of the week will be the Wednesday night, July 4th, celebration with fireworks, boxing, auto races, etc., in honor of the visiting sportsmen.

This is great stuff. The sportsmen of the region ought to get together. When each individual lover of sport has brought home to him that he is but one of a vast number of red-blooded Americans men and women who, at least, in point of their mutual passion for good, clean sport, have much in common, he is more likely to develop into the true sportsman, careful and considerate of the rights of others, obedient to the laws that govern sport, both written and unwritten, and an all-round better citizen of a land whose traditional sportsmanship has been the basis of its social and political greatness.

HE WILL TRY TO CHECKMATE TWELVE

Grand Rapids Chess Expert Will Play Charlevoix Club

George E. Fry, a chess expert from Grand Rapids, will play twelve members of the Charlevoix Chess Club at the Hotel Charlevoix, at a simultaneous game on Thursday, June 14th.

Mr. Fry has contested on several occasions with Marshall, chess champion of the U. S. A., and plays a wicked game. The contest will be open to spectators, who will be permitted to witness the game on condition that they maintain absolute silence during its progress, as any noise would tend to distract the players and weaken their concentration on its problems.

In this contest, Mr. Fry will go from board to board of his opponents in turn and make his moves. If he wins, it will be by eliminating his antagonists one by one, each dropping out as he is checkmated.

While the game of chess is not pregnant with action, as would be a field sports contest, or a baseball game, a high degree of skill is necessary and many difficult and interesting situations develop from time to time. Mr. Fry comes here at the solicitation of Alonzo Powers, an enthusiastic chess votary of this city, who is well acquainted with the expert and promises a rare treat for lovers of the sport of kings.

HIGHWAYS TO BE WELL PLACARDED

Sanitary Engineering Co. Working On 31 Signs

The Sanitary Engineering Company has prepared a number of attractive signs to be placed on roads leading into the city this season.

The Belvedere Hotel management has arranged for the construction of five large signs, painted on sheet metal with wooden moulding, directing the tourist to Charlevoix and the auto camp. One of these signs will be 5x10 feet and the other four will be 4x8 feet.

The city has ordered the construction of six wood bordered, sheet metal signs, 18x36 inches, bearing the words, "Charlevoix, City Limits," to be placed, as the words indicate, at various points where roads enter the city, and twenty plain sheet metal signs, 12x30 inches, bearing the name, "Charlevoix" and an arrow beneath.

These signs will be set in place in a few days and will serve as a great assistance to the tourist, as well as putting us in line with other resort towns of the region, who have previously had a trifle the start of us in this respect.

THEIR HOME IS ROLLING ONWARD

PALMER FAMILY FROM INDIANA ON LONG HIKE

Live in Modern Prairie Schooner, Which—Shades of Our Fathers!
Has Screens and Springs

F. W. Palmer, wife and three fine, healthy looking kiddies, of Knox, Indiana, are not "worrying much" about the high cost of living—no, nor are they wondering what they will do "when the rent comes round."

For you see their home is a snug and roomy covered wagon, drawn by a couple of sleek, well-fed bays—a modern version of the old style prairie schooner in which our grandfathers trekked across the primitive stretches of the west long years ago.

The Palmers arrived in Charlevoix this morning, from Wolverine, where they have been spending the winter, on their way south, along the western shore of Lake Michigan, in search of a new home. Mr. Palmer is a farmer by profession (for farming is a profession, you know—that is, real farming). He says the Indiana climate made such inroads on his and his family's health that he decided to go some place where they don't have such things as hay fever and asthma.

So they fixed up the big wagon—seven feet wide by fourteen feet in length, with a water-tight canvas top and sides, a window in each side and the front and back ends (as well as the side windows) fitted with wire screens and leather curtains so that the family can sleep comfortably, high and dry and free from insect pests, anywhere they want to stop at night. Wide bunks along the sides of the wagon provide comfortable sleeping accommodations and an oil cook stove and handy cupboard makes them independent of hotels and restaurants. Mr. Palmer says they have averaged 30 to 35 miles a day, stopping at the farm houses along the way to purchase butter, eggs and milk and fresh vegetables that could not be conveniently carried in their stock of supplies.

The wagon is fitted with cushion springs and rides as easy as a—well, anyhow, as easy as a Ford. It is painted a patriotic red, white and blue and seems shipshape and spotless, inside and out.

The Palmers left Knox, in Star county, last fall and travelled in their moveable bungalow some 800 miles by the way of Chicago and Milwaukee, through upper Wisconsin and the northern peninsula of Michigan to Wolverine. If he can find the right location, Mr. Palmer says, he will buy a place and go back to farming again.

Auxiliary Will Meet

There will be a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Charlevoix Hospital at the council rooms, on Tuesday, June 12th, at 3:00 p. m. All organizations are requested to send representatives.

PROMINENT BOYNE CITIZEN IS DEAD

W. J. LEWIS WELL-KNOWN THROUGHOUT COUNTY

Was a Pioneer and Prime Mover in Region's Early Development—
Held Many Public Offices

Charlevoix county has just lost one of its oldest and most highly respected citizens—W. J. Lewis, of Boyne City, who would have been seventy years of age this coming August.

Mr. Lewis had the misfortune to break his leg about two weeks ago, and although he had every possible care, and seemed to be making a good recovery, his heart failed and he passed away very suddenly on Monday afternoon at a hospital in Petoskey.

There are many outstanding and interesting instances to be remembered in the long eventful citizen's life of Mr. Lewis. He was born in Dixboro, Michigan, on August 6, 1853; in 1875 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary J. McWain; in 1880 they came to Boyne City, where they have since made their home. He established the first meat market in Boyne City and is credited with having built the first brick store building in Charlevoix county; He continued in the meat and grocery business until 1888, from that time until 1901 he was engaged in the hotel business; He established a general produce and storage business and in 1909 built a large garage and machine shop.

Mr. Lewis was one of four Boyne citizens instrumental in securing for Boyne City the county seat. During his lifetime there, he alone has erected thirty-four business structures and a number of dwellings.

Mr. Lewis was active in politics, and despite the fact that he was a life-long Democrat in a Republican county, he held many offices. His first office was that of township clerk and in that capacity he served five years. He was village treasurer for four years; a member of the city council for eighteen years; served on the board of public works for three years; was chairman of the county Democratic committee for many years and also a member of the State Central committee for six years; He was appointed to the Postmastership under President Wilson and served eight years, or until one year ago.

Mr. Lewis was for 29 years an active member of the Masonic fraternity, he was also an Odd Fellow.

Mr. Lewis is survived by his wife; one son, Will A.; a brother John Lewis and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Benjamin of Detroit, and Mrs. Alice Lyons of Iroquois.

The funeral was from his home in Boyne City, last Thursday afternoon at 2:30. The service was in charge of the Boyne City Masonic Lodge. Rev. R. W. Merrill, pastor of the Methodist church, was the minister in charge. Interment was made in Maple Lawn cemetery.

WATCH YOUR STEP ON ADVERTISING

Council Tabooes Painting Sidewalks
And Phone Poles

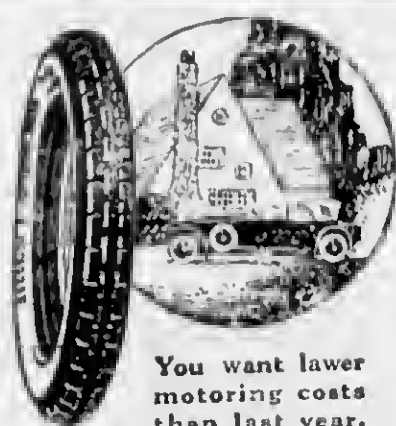

Charlevoix's city fathers are again lacking advertising posters on telephone poles and painting or chalking announcements of coming events on the sidewalks.

The matter was threshed out at their regular meeting last Monday evening and from now on advertising of this kind in this manner is tabooed. "Keep off the telephone poles and sidewalks with your advertising" is the order now, and Chief of Police Weikel has been given strict instructions to enforce the ruling.

And we believe they are right. In our opinion the telephone poles on Bridge street, and other streets for that matter, present a very unbecoming appearance just as they are without being decorated with posters. And the sidewalks—well, if you want to advertise, spend a few shovels with your local printers. This would in a manner, offset some of the space we frequently have to give away.

E. V. Smith, piano tuner, will be in Charlevoix after June 25th. Orders left at Bartlett House, Wm. E. Bellinger's Store or Addie Holley's Gift Shop will receive prompt attention.—Adv. 23-11.

Duns are characterized by too much prosy sameness. They have no novelty, no appeal to the imagination. They are consistently couched in the most ordinary phrasings and they seldom excite interest and never a desire to pay. Every experienced owner soon arrives at the point where he refuses to read any requests for payment of bills. They are too monotonous and uninspiring.

In view of this condition why not change the character and apply the gentle art of poetry to the collection of debts? Give the debtors the rhyme. The idea is different. It should pry loose the dinero. Take, for example, the case of the corner grocer. His appeal might have this form:

Day by day in every way
You and my lawyer are getting closer,
So you'd better come in
And deposit some tin
And keep on the good side of this little grocer.

For a physician this suggestion might get results:
Last December, when 'twas bleak and chill,
I cured you of a hectic ill.
Yet you have never paid the bill,
Now is that nice? I ask you, is it?
Ere long I'll wipe you off my slates
So, when you're sick, you'll say "Wie Gehts!"

To saints that guard the Golden Gates
Before I make another visit.
The lawyer with an old account on his books for services rendered might attack the situation thus:
Aunt that small fee of a hundred odd yen
I assessed you for keeping you out of the pen,
You promised me that you would never forget
And that's about all that you have done, as yet.
I write this to warn you that you'd better settle
With me pretty soon or that bewickered debt'll
Destroy all the pleasure you take being loose now
When the state pays your passage to its leading hoosegow.

The dentist with a callous customer should get some attention with a quatrain such as this:
I made you some plates at a nominal cost
But all of my bills you have given the frost
Now if you don't hurry and cough up, Gol Dummitt!
I'll reqlvin my store teeth and leave you to gum it.

A poet might write to his editor as follows:
Six years ago I wrote you a sonnet,
You made me an offer of eighty cents for it,
But since then you haven't reported, doggone it!
So kick in the jack, for I certainly want it.

In the case of the banker the charge might be more or less prophetic. His rhymed command might run like this:
Your note is due.
Come, shake it up.
Bring in the glue
And take it up.

Saying it with stanzas would undoubtedly secure action. The rhyme method of dunning would at least be amusing to the debtor and its benefits should be far-reaching.

If the potatoes raised in the garden this summer look as big as pictured in the seed catalog, neither the cellar nor the woodshed will be able to hold them.

Spring poetry may be all right, but a little spring poetry in the gardens after the weeds start would be more useful.

GETTING THE LICENSE

The lady goes to the New York State Automobile Bureau for license. She has had her picture taken in a little photograph gallery; then she drives around the block with an examiner to show him that she knows an automobile from a stone crusher and then the dear thing has to sit down and answer the following questions and answer them she does in the following manner:

Question—How old are you?
Answer—Over eighteen.
Q.—Have you ever driven anything before?
A.—Nothing but my husband.
Q.—What is the first rule of the road?
A.—Watch out for the motor cop.
Q.—What is the second rule of the road?
A.—Don't let anything run into you or pass you.
Q.—If your engine stalls in traffic what do you do?
A.—Try to start it.
Q.—In parking the car, which side should be nearest the curb?
A.—The side that is next to the sidewalk.
Q.—What would you do if your steering gear broke?
A.—Drive to the nearest garage and have it fixed.
Q.—What would you do if the batteries run out?
A.—Try to get them back.
Q.—What is the proper precaution to take when backing your car?
A.—Reverse your engine.
Q.—What is the accelerator?
A.—The name of something you put your foot on that has something to do with something inside the car.
Q.—What is the charging indicator?
A.—The bill you get from the garage.
Q.—Where should you have your license plates?
A.—On your car, of course.
Q.—What is a short circuit?
A.—Coming around by the shortest way.
Q.—What furnishes the motive power of the car?
A.—My husband.

It is denied that the present generation has no musical ability, as they can all adjust a phonograph needle and set it going.

You probably are not misunderstood nearly so often as you misunderstand.

MORTGAGE SALE
Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Edwin Rebedew and Bertha M. Rebedew, his wife, of Marion Township, Charlevoix County, Michigan, to Robert B. Matchett of Marion Township, Charlevoix County, Michigan, dated the 21st day of February, A. D. 1919, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan, on the 21st day of February, A. D. 1919, in Liber 59 of Mortgages, on page 342, on which mortgage there is claimed the sum of Four Hundred thirty-six Dollars and Sixteen Cents, and an Attorney's fee of Fifteen Dollars, provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on the 31st day of August, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, I shall sell at Public Auction to the highest bidder, at the Front Door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix, Michigan, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for said County of Charlevoix is held,) the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with seven per cent interest, and all legal costs, together with an attorney's fee of Fifteen Dollars, as provided by law and as covenanted therein, the premises being described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit:

The northwest quarter (NW 1-4) of the southwest quarter (SW 1-4) of section thirty-three (33) North of Range Eight (8) West, containing 40 acres of land more or less; Excepting therefrom one acre of land sold to the township of Marion for a gravel pit, which described parcel of land is in the township of Marion, Charlevoix County, Michigan;

Also the following described parcel of land situated in the township of Norwood, in said County of Charlevoix, viz:—The North seventy-six (76) rods of the Southeast quarter (SE 1-4) of Section thirty-one (31) in township thirty-three (33) North of Range eight (8) West, being a part of the north half of the southeast quarter of said section thirty-one lying east of Harwood Lake.

MORTGAGE SALE
Default having been made for more than thirty days in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Rolie Clapp and Daisy Clapp, his wife, of Hudson Township, Charlevoix Co., Michigan, to Oxford Savings Bank of Oxford, Michigan, dated the 8th day of April, A. D. 1915, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan, on the 12th day of May, A. D. 1915, in Liber 40 of Mortgages, on page 209, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Three Hundred Seventy-seven and 2-100 dollars, and an attorney's fee of Fifteen ($15.00) dollars together with amounts paid for taxes by mortgagee as provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, on Tuesday, the 14th day of August, A. D. 1923, at one o'clock in the afternoon, Central Standard Time, the undersigned will, at the front entrance of the court house in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held, sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with seven per cent interest, and all legal costs, together with said attorney's fee, to-wit: Property situated in the township of Hudson, County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: The East half (1-2) of the southwest quarter (1-4) of section Twenty-four (24), township thirty-two (32) north, range four (4) west, containing eighty acres of land, more or less.

CARE FOR FARM WOODLANDS

Keep Stock Out as They Injure Young Seedlings and Trees—Forest Supplies Timber.

Take care of the farm woodlands, advises the forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture. Keep the stock out they injure the young seedlings and trees. Woodland and pasture land are most profitable when managed separately.

The longer forest, if well cared for will supply all the timber which the farm needs for buildings, fences and fuel.

Animal Feces Required.
Animal feces is required for the best growth of clover, as well as for large egg yields. Where hens and geese are raised, it is well to feed them scrap, fish scraps, or any farm or milk products.

POULTRY

CULLING FOWLS FOR MARKET

To Make Best Possible Returns Every Hen in Flock Should Be Layer—Weed Out Culls.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Every boy or girl having poultry naturally wishes to earn as much money as possible. To do this every hen should be a good layer. All cockerels, except those kept for breeding purposes, as well as pullets that lack vigor and vitality, should be culled, culling for home use, or sold as soon as they are large enough, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Selecting or "weeding out" the hens that are poor layers and picking out for market the cockerels least likely to develop into good breeders is commonly called "culling" or culling for eggs and for market.

The best time to cull the hens is during August and September, usually from August 15 to September 15, for at that season it is easier to determine which are the good layers and which are poor layers. At that time of year hens which show signs of laying or are laying and have not laid usually are the ones that have been the better layers during the entire season, and the hen that lays best during her first year usually will lay best during her second and third years. She is, therefore, the one to keep. It is not often advisable, however, to keep hens of the heavier breeds, such as Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and Brahmas beyond their second year, or the smaller breeds, such as the Leghorns and Andalusians beyond the third year.

On a recent visit to a large practical poultry farm, it was observed that good use was being made of a number of portable poultry houses. These were of good size and were on runners made of heavy joists. The runners were braced against each other, so that a horse could be hitched to the front and the house hauled anywhere. This made it possible to keep the young growing birds on fresh, uncontaminated soil, which was always sending up a good lot of fresh grass. When the movable houses were pulled away from each place where they had been for a few weeks, the ruins soon washed the droppings into the soil. This nourished the grass and improved the land. In no case was the soil eaten down till the ground was bare.

For small chicks the same plant used small coops on two wheels that could easily be pushed from place to place by hand. In this way they never were troubled with gnats or contaminated soil.

POULTRY NOTES

Look out for lice when your chick ens look droopy and sleepy.

But or sell off your surplus stock before commencing on the pullets.

The very early pullet is apt to molt in the fall and be no more profitable for laying purposes than the hen.

Put the coops for your little chickens as high in the yard as possible. A small covered with grass is preferable; then a sudden shower will not drown them.

Where healthy fowls are used for breeding purposes, and they are housed in properly ventilated and arranged houses, and are fed a proper ration for the purpose in mind, disease is practically a non-existence.

Sunday. Recently he was the star of "While Satan Sleeps," in which he scored a knockout success.

"Making a Man" is the story of a wealthy young snob, a tyrant among his employees and neighbors alike, who puts one straw too many on the camel's back, so to speak. His life threatened, he escapes to New York. There he loses the little money and clothing he took in his hurried flight, and finds himself unable to draw on his credit. Broke, hungry and tired, he meets on a park bench, "Shorty" McCabe, a down-and-out. From Shorty the man Winsby, played by Mr. Holt, learns the definition of a real man. Of course, there is a girl in the story, this role being done by Eva Novak. Others in the cast include Bert Woodruff, Frank Nelson, Robert Dudley, J. P. Lockney, and Kalla Pasha.

FLAG DAY SET FOR JUNE 14TH

Governor Groesbeck Issues Proclamation to Residents

There is a disposition in some quarters to sneer at the homage we pay the flag of our country, but we reverence and honor the flag not for what it is itself but for what it symbolizes. It is a visible token of those great principles upon which the Republic was founded, and unless we are ready to uphold those principles at any cost, this nation, with its free institutions cannot long endure.

Flag Day, then, is to remind us of the real significance of our national emblem.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I hereby proclaim Thursday, June 14, 1923, Flag Day.

Let flags be displayed on both public and private buildings and let community exercises appropriate to the day be held wherever practicable.

Alex J. Groesbeck, Governor.

MEETS TRAGIC END

Dr. R. H. Gerard, Supreme Chief, Dies in Elevator Accident

The following item is reprinted at the request of one of the local members of the Tribe of Ben Hur, as being of interest to members of the tribe living in this vicinity and others who are readers of the Courier and affiliated with the organization:

"Crawfordsville, Ind., May 13—The tragic death of Dr. R. H. Gerard, Supreme Chief of the Tribe of Ben-Hur, on May 12 as the result of a hotel elevator accident at Terre Haute, Indiana, made it necessary for the executive committee of the society to elect a successor to serve during his unexpired term which ends in June, 1924. John C. Snyder was the unanimous choice of the committee. Mr. Snyder has been connected actively with the society since it started in 1894, first as an organizer in the field, then as head of the field force, and since 1906 as Supreme Scribe. His elevation to be head of the order will be recognized by the membership as a wise solution of the problem caused by the untimely death of Dr. Gerard.

As Supreme Scribe to succeed Mr. Snyder, the committee elected Edwin M. Mason, who for eighteen years has been connected with the Home Office of the society. For fifteen years he has been Mr. Snyder's assistant and this has given him the training and experience which will be invaluable to the society. He is the author of the new certificate forms now issued by the Tribe of Ben-Hur, and has done much constructive work for the order in recent years."

Monday, June 11, is the date when J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will again be here, one day only. Office at the Hotel Charlevoix.—Adv. 22-42.

The Northern Michigan Pythian League was represented at Traverse City Tuesday evening by teams from Manistee, Traverse City and Charlevoix, who put on a contest in third degree work.

A banquet was held at the K. of P. hall in Traverse at six p. m. About twenty-five members of Pine Lake Lodge, No. 122, were in attendance, driving down in automobiles.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mrs. Rome Pappin, of Grand Rapids, is in the city for a few days on business.

The Misses Laura and Margaret Brown returned Wednesday from Grand Rapids, driving back in Durant and a Star-Durant touring car.

Mrs. Ed. Strehl and Mrs. Charley Strehl, of East Jordan, spent Wednesday afternoon in this city as the guest of Mrs. Benjamin Brown.

Frank Courier and Miss Laura Brown will leave Friday for East Jordan, to attend the commencement exercises of the graduating class of which Mr. Courier's sister, Miss Bernice Courier, is a member.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son, husband and brother, George Henry Bennett, who died June 7, 1922:—"Sad and sudden was the call; For him—so dearly loved by all; He had no one his last farewell, He said good-bye to none.

Off and off, our thoughts do wander To the grave that's far away, Where we laid our dear son, husband and brother. Just one year ago today."

NEW PALACE THEATRE

FRIDAY, JUNE 8

Metro Pictures presents Alice Lake in one of her best productions in "Woman's Hate." Also a one reel Harold Lloyd comedy, "Hear Them Rave."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JUNE 9-10

Paramount presents Jack Holt in "Making A Man." A Peter Kyne story. The kind Jack likes. He revels in a two-fisted fighting role—and here is the best one he ever had. Mean and rich at the start, he learns through misfortune what hunger and love and kindness really are. Of course there's a girl—pretty Eva Novak—and a tip-top supporting cast. Extra added attraction: one of the New Leather Pushers, starring Reginald Denny in "When Kane Met Abel."

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12-13

Paramount presents Wallace Reid in "Thirty Days." This is a joyous rip-roaring Wallace Reid comedy-drama. A picture built for laughs and thrills with a perfect cast. Although we have one more of the late Wallace Reid's pictures to run, "Clarence," on June 30, "Thirty Days" was the last picture that Mr. Reid made. Extra added attraction—a Buster Keaton two reel comedy, "The Cops."

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Has the Punch

It follows through — there is no halfhearted piston stroke; neither is there a slapping piston stroke to rack your engine. Instead, Red Crown imparts a steady, steam-engine-like pressure to the piston that sustains and follows through the length of the stroke. That explains both the smooth flow of rhythmic power and the abundance of sustained pulling power. Red Crown offers to the motorist

The Utmost of Service

It has all the intrinsic merit that science has been able to put into any gasoline. It is manufactured so that it will vaporize at just the correct temperatures, to cause instant starting — a quick, snappy get-away — a smooth, gliding acceleration — tremendous power — racing speed if you want it — and most miles per gallon.

QUICK ACTION BRAKES EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

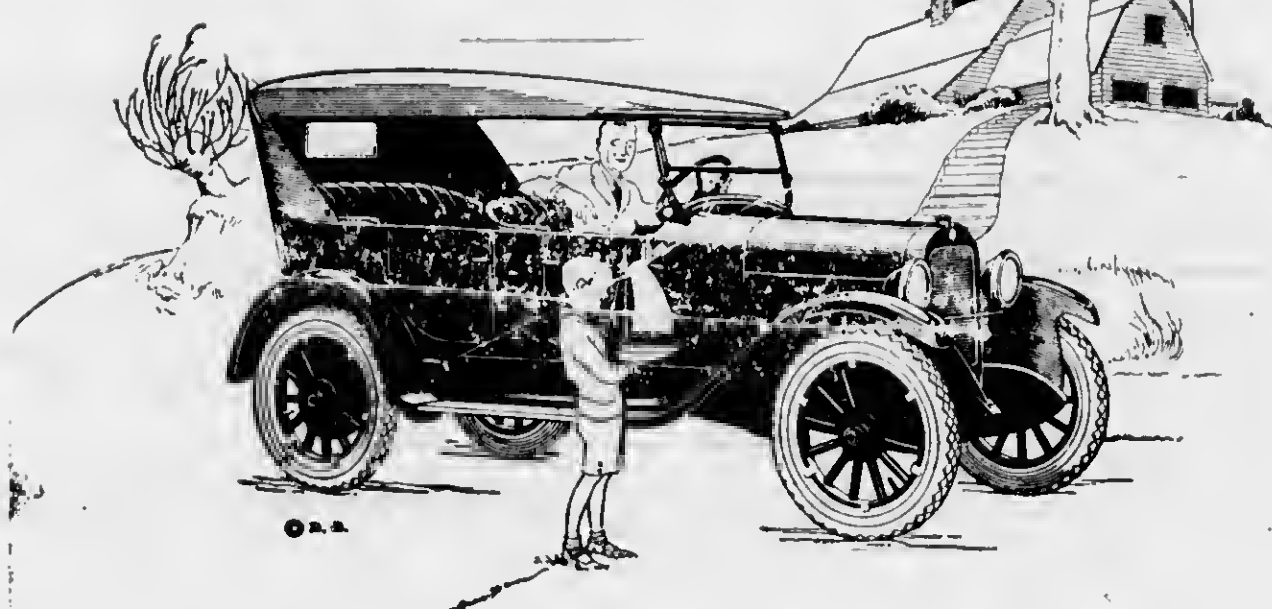

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2 1/4 inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

interest of the highway program and against their convictions as to its merits as compared with the gasoline tax, they would vote for it.

But in the house where the governor's enemies were more vindictive, opposition flamed from the start and finally won out. His enemies claimed that he was trying to seize control of the state highway department under a clause in his bill giving the state administrative board control over the funds. As a matter of fact no greater authority was granted the governor in his bill than he had under the act passed two years ago.

His enemies claimed he wanted control of the department for political purposes. His friends said that all he wanted was to apply measures of efficiency and secure proper expenditure of the millions that pass through this department. The governor declared openly that the department was extravagant. Expressing great admiration for the commissioner, the governor said that he was a fine engineer but was not an executive.

That the governor is an autocrat and desirous of having his own way, is very evident. Nothing was left undone by his friends to pass the weight bill and political graves were dug by some of his loyal supporters.

Another angle of the fight was the position of Detroit. That city was strongly against the gasoline tax for two reasons: first, because the tax on gasoline burned in cars on city pavements would all go to build state highways and would none of it be returned to the city; and second, because the automobile industry was against any additional tax on its product, especially a gas tax which it figured would be subject to increase from year to year. The anti-attitude on the part of Detroit brought about the division along the lines of Detroit against the state. Up-state legislators became indignant at the metropolis and took advantage of their opportunity to register a vote against Detroit.

The present license law carries a provision that the funds received should be divided half to the state and half to the counties. The gasoline tax bill turned all the money over to the state and only allowed the counties to share in the moneys received under the license law. The weight tax bill provided that one-third of its receipts should go back to the county and the counties should receive up to $4,000,000 a year from this source. This clause made friends in certain sections for the weight tax and against the gas tax.

The governor and his adherents claimed that a two-cent gas tax would raise too much money. The opposition countered with a bill reducing the license fees on cars, on a weight basis and cutting fees about 40 per cent. They also said that any surplus money could well be used in place of issuing further bonds.

The reader may get some sort of an idea of the confusing issues. But back of it all was the determination to punish the governor for his position against the gas tax which its proponents declared was what the people wanted and in which stand they seemed to be correct.

The answer to the question therefore, as to who is to blame, depends on one's belief. If one believes in a gasoline tax, then the governor was to blame. If one is a weight taxer, then the lower house is to blame.

An impartial observer might be led to remark, why was not some sort of a compromise arrived at? So far as the writer is concerned, we believe that such a compromise, based on a one-cent gas tax and an equitable and low weight tax in lieu of the present license law would have met all objections at Lansing and would have solved the problem. There was a time when the compromise was offered but it was turned down because of the attitude of the Detroit Automobile Club which declared that it would attach a referendum to any bill carrying a gas tax, and thereby deprive the state of needed revenue for nearly two years.

However, we believe that if the governor had stepped out with all his force and stood for such a measure, he could have appealed to the people who would have been satisfied to let the responsibility for the failure of the highway program rest on the Detroit Automobile Club rather than to give up the principle they were contending for.

As matters now rest, the governor gets the blame out in the state, but is commended in Detroit. An extra session will probably solve the question. The highway program is by no means irretrievably lost. There is the money from the present license law, and other available funds to operate this summer in a restricted way, and

On Saturday of this week (June 9) we move back to our summer quarters in the Troy Laundry, foot of Clinton street. We expect by the following Monday morning to start doing business under the summer schedule. There will be no interruption in service.

At this time we desire to express our appreciation to the citizens of Charlevoix for their patronage during the winter months. We have tried in every way to give the best of service. The confidence the public has in us and our business methods lead us to believe the service we have rendered has been satisfactory.

We will continue the same service at our summer headquarters, and in the fall will again resume business in our present place. Laundry work is our business, year in and year out.

GRADUATES FROM U. OF M. AT AGE 18

Richard Loeb Youngest Ever to Receive Diploma

The youngest student ever to graduate from the University of Michigan is Richard Loeb, of Chicago, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Loeb, of Chicago and Loeb Farms.

He is still in his seventeenth year, reaching the age of eighteen on next Monday, June 11th. Though all of his undergraduate work will have been completed before that date, he will receive his degree just one week after his birthday.

Young Loeb will return to Michigan next fall for research work in history, after which he intends to study law. He graduated from Chicago high school in two years and took two years work in the University of Chicago, coming to Ann Arbor for his last two years. He has maintained an enviable scholarship throughout.

ARE BUILDING BRICK FRONT ON THEIR SHOP

Sanitary Engineering Co. Are Improving Premises

The appearance of Bridge street is to be further improved by the conversion of the frame building now occupied by the Sanitary Engineering Co. and the telephone office into a neat brick front structure, corniced with galvanized iron.

Although the brick work is for the present to be confined to the lower story, provision has been made for its later extension to upper stories. Some two weeks ago, Mr. Powers acquired the four foot strip between his shop and Martin Block's grocery and this frontage is included in the new building and will be used this fall as an office by the Engineering company. For the summer months, it will be rented to Miss Beatrice Harrington and Miss D. Wilson, who will conduct a Brush and Needle shop, carrying a full line of children's wearing apparel; also art goods, brushes, needles, etc.

Work on the building is expected to be completed in about ten days. The entrance will be surmounted next week by a fine electric flash sign, "Plumbing," and across the front of the building the old Sanitary Engineering Company sign, glorified with new raised letters of shining gilt, will make a bright spot in the otherwise demure appearance of the block—a credit to our main thoroughfare.

KOCH ACQUIRES THE GREENHOUSE PROPERTY

Will Improve and Beautify—Fettlers Buys O'Neill Tract

John Koch, of Toledo and Detroit, proprietor of the Colonial Club in this city, has purchased from T. L. Fettlers, of the Charlevoix Floral Company, the greenhouse property lying in the block between Prospect and Meech Streets on Dixon Avenue and will make extensive improvements in his new purchase, details of which are not, as yet, ready for publication.

Mr. Fetter has bought the O'Neill eight acres on Petoskey Avenue, corner of Meech Street, diagonally opposite the present club property, and will move his greenhouse to that location, improving and adding on to the present structure to create a first class greenhouse unit. He expects to have this work completed by fall.

The stucco dwelling on Prospect Street, formerly owned and occupied by F. J. Meech, is being moved up to the corner of Prospect and Dixon Avenue by Mr. Koch, and will front on Dixon Avenue.

CLOSE CONTEST KEEPS SPECTATORS GUESSING

Game at Ellsworth, Twice a Tie, Ends in Our Favor

The crowd at Ellsworth on Decoration Day witnessed a very exciting game between Charlevoix players and the Ellsworth team, the visitors putting it over Ellsworth by a score of 4 to 3, at the end of the tenth inning.

The score was a tie (2 to 2) from the 2nd to the 7th innings. When Charlevoix made a run, Ellsworth tied the local team again in the 9th inning, but our boys beat them by a run in the 10th.

Cunningham did some excellent pitching, always pulling the local team out of holes that were very formidable. Babeok caught for Charlevoix, with Dagwell on short; Block, 1st; Pumphrey, 2nd; McCafferty, 3rd.

MAY HAVE A TRAINING SCHOOL

East Jordan Leading Contender for State Normal

Despite the fact that East Jordan failed to get the proposed new state normal school this year, this hustling little city has not laid down on the job, but is still willing to take what she can get and possibly may land a summer training school. The following article reproduced from the East Jordan Herald will be read with interest by all interested in the issue:

"A call from Floyd S. Rowe, Tuesday afternoon to Supt. A. J. Duncanson, inquiring about the establishment of a summer training school for the Physical Training teachers of the state of Michigan was received and a committee has looked up the proposition and telegrams went to the state department saying we have such a location and can furnish the athletic field, including the cinder track and baseball diamond, and football, schools and camp site.

Mr. Rowe seemed very favorably impressed with the prospects of establishing a permanent training school for teachers of physical training at East Jordan. If such an institution is established, there will be 100 men here this summer for a period of from four to six weeks with, as he said, as many as three hundred within the next two years.

"This looks like a real opportunity for East Jordan. The details of this school will be made known within a very short time. A committee looked over the grounds and found that all local arrangements can be easily made so we should have favorable news within a very short time."

Monday, June 11, is the date when J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will again be here, one day only. Office at the Hotel Charlevoix.—Adv. 22-tf.

BALL FAMILY TO HOLD RE-UNION

Will Gather at Barnard Next Sunday, June 10th

The Ball family will hold a reunion next Sunday, at Barnard. Representatives of the family from Levering, Charlevoix and Barnard will attend, with their and the inter-related Ager and Willis families, and a big time is expected.

Some of the folks are already here. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Ball and daughter, Laverne, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Ball, arrived in Charlevoix Monday, from their home in Levering. Arthur Ball, a former resident of this city and brother of Walter Ball, who went to California last fall, is a delegate to the National Sunday School convention to be held in Owosso, on Thursday, June 14th. This is the first time he has been in Charlevoix for twenty years. His brother, George, who came with him, has been in California all winter and was one of the one-time Charlevoixians who met "neath the sycamore tree" at the big Michigan Day rally held near Los Angeles, California, last fall.

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

HARRY NICHOLLS DEAD AT AGE OF FIFTY-EIGHT

Prominent in Business and Political Life, He Was Well Liked and Respected

Charlevoix suffered the loss of one of its most prominent and best known citizens in the death of Harry Nicholls, which occurred last Saturday, at 12:15 p. m., at his home in this city.

Mr. Nicholls had been ill for many months and last winter severed his business connections here and went to a sanitarium in Chicago, where, at the end of two months, some slight improvement in his condition was noted. He returned to Charlevoix early in the spring and from that time steadily failed, the nervous disease from which he suffered finally terminating his life, last week, at the age of fifty-eight years.

Harry Nicholls was born, November 19, 1864, at Galesville, Wisconsin, and came to Charlevoix with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nicholls, when a mere boy of twelve, in 1876. He was educated in the Charlevoix schools and attended the Bryant & Stratton business college in Grand Rapids. Upon the completion of his schooling, he was associated with his father in the management of the Charlevoix Lumber Company, purchasing an interest in this concern in 1890 and succeeding to its presidency upon the death of his father some years ago. Up until the time of his incapacitation by disease, Mr. Nicholls held the office of vice president in the Charlevoix County Bank and was a member of its board of directors.

In the spring of 1910, Mr. Nicholls was married to Mrs. Mable W. Whipple, who survives him. He was active in the social, civic and political life of the community, serving as president of the village of Charlevoix, prior to its incorporation as a city, and afterwards mayor and councilman for several terms. He was instrumental in bringing the Charlevoix Sugar Company and the Rock Product Company to Charlevoix, serving on the directorate of these concerns and aiding their progress personally and financially. To no one was the blow of their failure greater than to Mr. Nicholls, whose enthusiasm and faith in their future was unbounded.

Mr. Nicholls was a member of the local lodge of the Knights of Pythias in this city and the Petoskey lodge B. P. O. E. He was faithful in his attendance at their meetings and always welcome among their members.

One striking feature of Mr. Nicholls' character that endeared him to his friends and won the respect of others was his disinclination to speak ill of anyone, no matter how great his justification might be. He always tried to find some excuse for their conduct and dwell on their good qualities, feeling that in a far-from-perfect world one should not look too closely for imperfections. This, in itself, is eulogy enough for any man.

The deceased is survived by the widow and three sisters, Mrs. A. F. Bridge and Mrs. Robert Paddock, of this city and Mrs. John F. Mason, of Mercedes, Texas. The funeral was held at his home, at 306 Dixon Avenue, Monday afternoon at two o'clock. The service was conducted by the Rev. C. W. Long, of the Congregational church, of which Mr. Nicholls had been a member for many years. In the presence of the immediate family. The body was laid to rest in the family plot at Brookside.

LOEB FARMS BULL TOPS DAY'S SALE

Nearly Four Thousand Paid For Him at Cleveland

One hundred and sixteen Holstein cattle were disposed of at the two-day sale held at Cleveland, Ohio, June 7th and 8th, in connection with the thirty-eighth annual convention of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The cattle sold came from all parts of the United States—even as far distant as California. They brought a total of $103,716, an average of $603 a head.

E. M. Bayne and J. B. Jones, of Romeo, Michigan, on Friday, paid the highest price for an individual animal recorded for that day's sale—$3,750, for a bull consigned from the Loeb Farms, at Charlevoix. The bull's dam recently made a yearly record of 35,339 lbs. of milk and 1,278 lbs. of butter. This bull was to have been sold on Thursday evening, but the sale tent blew down in a heavy gale and his sale was not made until the following morning.

Out of the one hundred sixteen animals sold, thirty-nine were purchased by Michigan buyers and returned to this state—their purchase price representing, probably, half of the total receipts of the sale. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Loeb were in Cleveland during the convention and Mr. Loeb purchased for the Loeb Farms here two fine Holstein cows; one, a daughter of herd sire, Sir Pieterje Ormsby Mercedes, 40th, and the other, a daughter of Funderne Pride Fayne, who, it will be remembered, sired the world's champion milk producer, Kolrain Marion Funderne, making this cow a half-sister of Charlevoix county's famous Holstein record-breaker. A total of $1,325 was paid for the two cows.

REALTORS PLAN STOP-OFF HERE

CLEVELAND CONVENTION DELEGATES ARRIVE JUNE 24TH

Will Spend Seven Hours in Charlevoix to Take in the Sights and Play Golf

For seven hours, on Sunday, June 24th, Charlevoix will have the honor of entertaining the members of the Chicago Real Estate Board, who are delegates to the Sixteenth Annual Convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, to be held in Cleveland, Ohio.

The delegates, with their families and friends, will leave Chicago on June 23rd, having chartered the palatial steamship, North American, of the Chicago, Duluth & Georgian Bay Transit Company for the trip through lakes Michigan and Huron to their destination on Lake Erie.

While here, the Chicago realtors plan to take in some of the summer attractions for which Charlevoix is famous. They have heard of our golf links, tennis courts and fine bathing beaches and expect to make them one of the enjoyable features of their trip. It is for that they are planning an unusually long stop here, before going to Detroit where their big time will begin.

The visitors have planned a wonderful program for their trip, and it is safe to say that their stay in Charlevoix will not be the least to be remembered of its features.

The committee in charge of the excursion had originally planned to stop only at Harbor Springs, en route from Chicago to Detroit, but due to the efforts of George R. Hemingway, prominent Oak Park realtor, summer resident of Ironton and proprietor of the Charlevoix County Nurseries, they were induced to agree on Charlevoix for their stop-off, instead.

PRODUCE ANOTHER RECORD BREAKER

Loeb Farms Holstein Cow Given High Credit by Association

The Advanced Registry office of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America reports a creditable record of milk and butter production of a pure-bred Holstein owned by Loeb Farms, Charlevoix, Michigan.

Charlevoix Dorinda, at the age of four years and one month produced 481.1 lbs. of milk, 19.114 lbs. fat, equivalent to 23.9 lbs. butter. Her fourteen-day record is 983.1 lbs. milk, 34.945 lbs. fat, or 43.7 lbs. of butter.

A certain standard of production is required according to age and length of test before a cow is admitted to the Advanced Registry. Cows with official records of production sell easier and higher than those without, as shown by a survey of sales.

FOURTH OF JULY TO BE A BLINGER

CHARLEVOIX'S CELEBRATION WILL HAVE NO PEER

Sports on Water and Land, Bouts, Boxing Bouts and Dancing, Fireworks and Fun

Oom-pah! Oom-pah! Oom-pah! Bang! Whiz! Bang! Fourth of July is nearing and with it the greatest, most stupendous, most stupefying celebration ever seen in these parts.

This is Charlevoix's year to celebrate and we are going to do it RIGHT. Under an agreement made some three years ago between East Jordan, Boyne City and Charlevoix, each was to celebrate the Fourth in turn and the other two towns were to stay out of it until their respective turns came. Charlevoix started the ball in 1920, Boyne City and East Jordan followed in the order named and now it comes Charlevoix's turn again.

The day will be given over to sports—both land and aquatic. East Jordan baseball team will play here and there will be swimming races, field sports and a variety of interesting contests. The king pin of the attractions will be a series of boxing bouts, held in Charlevoix's natural amphitheatre—what, didn't know we had one? Go to the corner of River and Bridge Streets and let your gaze ramble in a northwesterly direction over the grassy slope of the old gravel pit. Can you beat it? Ancient Rome never watched its gladiators bite each other's ears off in a prettier spot. At least one stellar ornament of the leather-pushers art will be on hand to give an exhibition of his powers and two fast boys from somewhere up state, who are reputed to be "good"; also, two or three local sockers who are pretty handy with their mitts.

In the evening, $500.00 of fireworks will blaze over the town and those who are light of foot and unafflicted by corns or other impediments will trip the light fantastic over the pavement to the strains of music which will be on tap during the day, thanks to the efforts of three bands, from East Jordan, Boyne City and Ellsworth, respectively.

We confidently predict a big day. People will pour in from every direction and we want to show them that we have a live wire burg here. Some already know it, other suspect it and—we want to confirm their suspicions. Pedestrians and drivers of cars will have to keep their eyes peeled, as the traffic jam is likely to be enormous. Folks will talk about Fourth of July in Charlevoix for many a day. Now then, altogether—Hi! Hip! Ho-o-o-r-a-y!

CHARLEVOIX TEACHER IS MARRIED

Miss Blanch Oliver Weds Harland Hatch at Allegan

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Oliver of Allegan, at high noon Wednesday, June 6th, when their daughter, Miss Blanch Oliver, was united in marriage with Harland L. Hatch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Hatch of Horton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. R. E. Quant of Charlevoix, using the double ring service.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Marian Bailey of Quincy, the bridal couple took their places beneath an archway of green and white. They were accompanied by little 4-year-old Duane Crosthwaite, nephew of the groom, who acted as ring bearer.

The bride wore a charming gown of white Canton crepe and Spanish lace, her head dress was a bridal veil of tulle with silver trimmings. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. After the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served to the members of the immediate families and a few intimate friends.

Miss Oliver has been a teacher of music and art for the past three years at Charlevoix. The groom has just closed a successful year as superintendent of Central Lake high school, where both will teach the coming year.

The young couple left the following day for a motor trip which will include Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other places of interest.

REUNION HELD AS SCHEDULED

SEVENTY-FIVE MET AT BARNARD SUNDAY

Ball, Willis and Ager Families and Their Friends Enjoyed Pot-Luck Together

Members of three Charlevoix families, more or less inter-related, together with a number of old neighbors and school friends, met at Barnard, Sunday morning, for a reunion and general jollification.

The meeting place was the Walter Ball farm, about a quarter mile south of Barnard church, at present owned and operated by his brother, George; Walter now being located in California, and the reunion centered around the Ball, Willis and Ager families, representatives of which, with their friends, totalled seventy-five.

A pot luck dinner was served at one p. m., most of the folks, however, getting there at eleven-thirty. George Ball, who reports the meeting, says it was a banner event and that everyone had a glorious time, everybody in the crowd qualifying as a live wire.

After dinner, the reunionists attended the Barnard M. E. church in a body, at the regular afternoon service. When noses were counted, it was found that the following people were present, counting heads of families only: A. J. Ball, Long Beach, Cal.; Williams Burns, Barnard; E. W. Ager, East Jordan; George Willis, Charlevoix; James Willis, Charlevoix; Charles Beech, Levering; George H. Ball, Levering; Clarence Beech, Levering; Earl Cummings, Charlevoix; Fred Trimble, Charlevoix; Glen Cummings, Barnard; Clyde Smith, Barnard; Will Ager, Barnard; George Ager, Charlevoix; Robert Gregory, Barnard; Ed Heise, Charlevoix; Will Bogart, Charlevoix; E. G. Bogart, East Jordan; James Bogart, Charlevoix; Henry Ager, Charlevoix; Ed. Gregory, Charlevoix; Annie Mayhew, Charlevoix; Mrs. Robert Trimble, Charlevoix.

Some of the people present at Barnard Sunday were at the Michigan Day rally held near Los Angeles, Calif., last fall, where several hundred Michiganders, including many from this county, greeted each other under the sycamores of a picnic grove. Reunions and rallies seem to be getting more and more popular nowadays and well it is, for they are a fine thing. Fortunate are the families that can gather in numbers and renew old ties of blood and friendship today, when so many of us are scattered over the continent, many hours journey distant from our folks. The automobile and telegraph are doing their part in making such meetings possible, however, and it may be that some day reunions of families and widely separated friends will become so frequent as to pass from the realm of news to that of the incidents of commonplace daily life.

EVELINE FARMER DIED ON JUNE 2ND

James D. Lewis Was a Victim of Nephritis

James D. Lewis, a pioneer farmer of Eveline, died at his home, June 2, 1923, at the age of 73 years and 10 months, following a long illness with nephritis.

Mr. Lewis was born in Bradford County, Penna., July 29, 1849. He was married there to Miss Alice Wheeler in 1872 and to this union were born five children, of which two, E. C. Lewis, of Eveline and Mrs. Anna Graham, of Grand Rapids. There are four grandchildren. The deceased came to Manacelon, Mich. in 1886 and made his home there until 1901, when he moved to Eveline, where he resided until his death, a week ago last Saturday.

The funeral was held on June 5th from the home, Rev. C. W. Long, of the Congregational church, officiating. Interment was at Brookside.

HENRY NEVER PLANNED FOR SUCH LIKE

Florida People Took Liberties With Lizzie

A curiosity blew into our little burg Tuesday in the shape of a six wheel automobile. This craft came to anchor out in front of the Bartlett house, but before the Courier representative could get close enough to inspect the freak, it coughed two or three times and moved up the street.

Inquiry, however, elicited the facts that—the machine left Durand Monday morning, stopped at Cadillac that night and came on to Charlevoix Tuesday, reaching here late in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Evans, formerly of St. Petersburg, Fla., are the pilots and they are looking for a good location to start a bus line business with their six wheel centipede. The body of the machine is a bus type, mounted on a Ford chassis. The extra wheels are mounted amidstships and the total length of the car adds up about twenty-five feet. It will seat eighteen passengers.

It is certain that Henry Ford never dreamed that his well known product could be converted into anything like this. If the style gets to be popular, ex-drivers of hook and ladder wagons will have no trouble getting jobs as chauffeurs.

SETTLERS MEET AT OLD MISSION

FORTY-SECOND ANNUAL GATHERING ON JUNE 22ND

Big Picnic Dinner, Band Music and Fine Program—Biggest and Best Ever Held

The Old Settlers Association of the Grand Traverse Region, will hold their forty-second annual meeting and picnic, at Old Mission, Mich., in the Roberts maple grove, overlooking the beautiful Old Mission harbor, on Friday, June 22, 1923.

A big picnic dinner will be served at noon (twelve o'clock standard time) and tea, coffee, sugar and cream will be furnished, free to all. In case of rain, the dinner and meeting will be held in the hall nearby.

The friends in Old Mission and on the peninsula most cordially invite all the old settlers and newer ones, as well, to come and spend the day, renew old acquaintances and make new ones. The Old Mission band will furnish music on the grounds. Community singing and a short program in the grove after dinner will be a feature of the meeting.

Let everyone in this region attend and make this one grand holiday. It is hoped that it will be the biggest and best gathering ever held by the association. Take the shore drive down the peninsula and see the wonderful orchards and magnificent scenery.

The officers of the association are: president, E. O. Ladd; honorary president, W. S. Anderson; historian, Mrs. N. C. Morgan; treasurer, A. V. Friederich; secretary, Mrs. J. G. Mills. The vice presidents are: Charlevoix county, A. Buttars; Leelanau, Frank Fisher; Benzie, W. L. Case; Emmet, Mrs. Ethel Fasquelle; Grand Traverse, Frank Hamilton; Antrim, F. Martinek; Kalkaska, A. E. Palmer.

All visitors are requested to register with the secretary on reaching the grounds, to receive badge, program, etc. A history of the Grand Traverse region, by S. E. Wait and W. S. Anderson will be on sale. Charlevoix members should apply to A. Buttars, or Capt. S. M. Rose, for any further information.

For the past three years, meetings of the association have been held at Benzon, Elk Rapids and Charlevoix, in order named. The choice of Old Mission as a meeting place this year is especially appropriate, as this was the site of the first settlement in this region, a Presbyterian mission, having been founded there by Peter Dougherty, in the very early days.

Cheboygan Judge Soaks Bootlegger. Seven of Cheboygan's moonshiners, Eli Broe, John Elliot, Eugene H. La Freniere, Eugene La Freniere, Jr., Ed. Schl, Max Rose and Moso Sraut, were sentenced to state's prison at Jackson Friday morning by Judge Shepherd, to serve from six months to one year at hard labor.

FROM FAR SOUTH THEY HAVE COME

MEXICANS FROM SAN ANTONIO TO TILL FIELDS

Holland-St. Louis Co. Shipping Laborers Here for Sugar Beet Growers

Mexicans are coming to work in the sugar beet fields of Charlevoix, Missaukee and Manistee counties.

This will be welcome news to the beet grower who has been wondering where the labor was coming from to work his crop this season. A carload of the dusky tillers arrived at Lake City from San Antonio, Texas, Saturday and Henry Wagner, who has charge of the labor end of the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Company's interests in this region, secured nine of them, three of whom are now at work on Hiram Brock's farm, on Rt. No. 2 and six working for Louis Shapton. The balance of the contingent left Lake City Saturday for various points in the other two counties where their services are needed. Fifty more Mexicans arrived there Tuesday and were assigned to their respective locations.

The men come here through the instrumentality of Sears R. McLean, president and general manager of the Holland-St. Louis company, who is now on his second trip to Juarez, Mexico, in the interest of the company's growers. All the laborers are married men and bring their wives with them. The farmer with whom they are placed is supposed to afford them a place to sleep and keep house and the sugar company furnishes beds, stoves, cooking utensils and tools.

Most of the laborers have worked their life-time in the cotton and sugar beet fields, and are thoroughly familiar with the work. Mr. Wagner says he went out in a field of beets with one of the newcomers and picked up a hoe, to show him something. The Mexican took the hoe from Henry and made a few deft passes that convinced Mr. Wagner that the gentleman from the far south knew a few things about sugar beet cultivation and then some.

Seems as though they knew a good town when they see it, too. The men who came up with Mr. Wagner from Lake City, passed through Kalkaska, Cadillac and Petoskey on the way up, and had a chance to look around a bit. Julio Flores, who with his brother, Guadalupe, spent the week end in Charlevoix with Mr. Wagner, asked his conductor, shortly after his arrival, during a walk down State street to the court house, "What place this?" "Charlevoix," replied Mr. Wagner. "Best yet," said Julio, "Like Texas (pointing to the road)."

The Holland-St. Louis Sugar Company pays for this labor, under contract with the men, at so much an acre, furnishing, as mentioned previously, their household utensils and tools. According to J. R. Cooper, local implement dealer, who is an enthusiastic plugger for sugar beets and has kept in as close touch with the situation, probably, as any man in town, prospects for a good year with this crop are bright and shining. Nearly twice the acreage this year has been contracted as last—in all about three hundred acres and the recent rains have been good for the beets. The company last year guaranteed a flat rate of $5.50 per ton, on delivery to the weigh station, and assured the growers the benefit of any increase in price on a sliding scale. This year their guarantee rate has been raised to $7.00. As they paid $7.25 on the scale basis last year, it looks like the beet grower was a lucky man, especially since beets are a "sure-fire" crop, immune to frosts and other damaging climatic conditions. They may be planted as late as June 1st, each year and are ready to haul away by the first of November.

A VICTORY FOR AMERICAN MOTORISTS

The Crude Rubber Monopoly weakened when it came into contact with aroused public sentiment. The press of the country today reflects the determination of the American motorists that tire prices shall stay at a reasonable level—and that America must produce its own rubber.

Firestone CUTS TIRE PRICES 10%

EFFECTIVE JUNE 11

We announce a 10% reduction in tires and tubes effective June 11. The lowered cost of crude rubber and the special Firestone manufacturing and distribution advantages make this possible.

Firestone factories are organized on a basis of large volume and effective production. Costs are low but quality is at its peak. Stockpiles of rubber are daily building many thousands of Firestone tires—the best tire Firestone ever produced and, we believe, the best on the market today.

Go to your favorite tire dealer and ask for the 10% reduction. You'll get it without a cent of delay.

Firestone's Gum-Dipped Cords have set new standards in mileage, traction, comfort and safety. Car owners have expressed their approval of the extra value in Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords by increasing their purchases 19% in the past six months.

We have replaced many expensive branches with warehouses. We now have 105 distributing points which are delivering Firestone tires to the consumer at the lowest cost in our history.

Follow the plan of economical tire buying—equip with Firestone's Gum-Dipped Cords—and learn what Most Miles per Dollar means to you today.

One Copy, six months, $1.00
One Copy, three months, .60FOR THE KIDS

This article is mostly for the kids, although we hope the older folks may find something in it too. And if they do the kids will get a lot of good out of it.

What we desire to do is to impress upon the kids of this town is that the pavement is not a play ground. And if the kids will only realize this fact motorists will be able to drive about the streets of our city with a little less worry than at present.

Some children are careful not only to remain from playing on the pavement but in crossing the street, and will look both ways for autos before trying to reach the opposite side. But there are others—we had an experience with one only a day or so ago—who are "smart," and who will wait until an auto is almost upon them then very deliberately walk across in front of it as if saying, "I dare you to hit me."

There are others who while playing on the street are warned by the horn of an auto and who will turn with a very remark or make as if to jump in front of the machine. A nervous or novice driver might lose his head in such a contingency and then there would be a tragedy with the motorist not in the least to blame.

We have met these several kinds of kids, and upon meeting them our natural desire has been to stop the machine, climb out, walk up to the offending youngster and give him a spanking. But, of course, this is assault and battery and the law prohibits it.

It would seem that it might be a good thing to lift the ban on such assault and battery in such cases, for what these kids need is a good spanking.

Children have no place on the pavements, for the pavements are dangerous, no matter how careful motorists are. And if they will not stay off the pavement at the parental command they should be treated to a good dose of palm oil which will prove very efficacious in keeping them out of the hospital or morgue.

A FORD JOKE

The Henry Ford for president clubs and Mr. Henry Ford's maidenly modesty about being wooed and surrendering are the vanity of a rich and rather simple man who, despite his simplicity, is a man of extraordinary shrewdness in his own particular line. In his own particular line, mark you. Mr. Henry Ford knows that advertising is the life of selling Ford cars, and never since advertising rose to the dignity of a fine art in the United States has there been a more successful advertiser. He or his publicity man has never missed a trick in the game.

Years ago, when the Ford car was a joke, what did Ford do? He issued a joke book on his Ford cars. No other manufacturer would have had the nerve to make fun of his own wares. "Laugh as much as you like," he must have said, "but every time you tell a Ford joke you have driven home the fact that there is such a thing as a Ford car; and that is the most priceless kind of advertising."

Concede the man's shrewdness and a certain ability, and what is left? It was said of an eminent American general, who was a great soldier in the field and a simpleton elsewhere, "that he was the ablest damned fool who ever got off a horse." Outside of his factory, Henry Ford is the richest joke in the entire collection of Ford jokes. The American people, in their indifference, once, have sometimes taken pretty poor timber for their presidents, but not yet have they so insulted themselves as to accept a practical joke as their candidate. (From the Looker On in Washington, in The New York World.)

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Maybe the western Michigan teacher who was presented with a gold watch after 25 years of service was being tactfully reminded that it is time to wind up.

"One good scratching hen," wisely advises the Perry Journal, "can in five minutes scratch up all the friendship that has been growing for many years between neighbors. Keep her at home or cut her head off."

It is reported that a number of cows are roaming at large on Muskegon streets. Were we mistaken, then, in supposing this city had adopted the practice of mowing the streets instead of having them grazed off?

A resident of Mt. Clemens is planning a bicycle trip to California, which will take about 50 days. If some tourist association will arrange to carry lemonade to us every half hour we, ourselves, will sit in the shade and plan such a trip for the entire summer.

Fruit Crops of All Kinds Show Excellent Prospects—Outlook for Michigan Crops

All grain and forage crops have not made as good a growth as usual owing to the cold and dry weather that has prevailed almost continuously since spring opened. On the other hand the fruit crops, which many feared had suffered severely from the snow storm of May 8th and 9th and the freezing weather that followed, show excellent prospects. While it is too early to make any safe predictions, the present condition of apples, peaches and pears is above the ten-year average and all other fruits except plums and sweet cherries are promising, according to the June report issued recently by Verne H. Church, Agricultural Statistician, U. S. Bureau of Agriculture Economics and L. Whitney Watkins, State Commissioner of Agriculture.

SORE MUSCLES

Vacations are often spoiled by soreness resulting from outdoor games. A good massage with Vicks often gives surprising relief.

VICKS
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

Wheat: The prospects for winter wheat have not changed much on the average during the last 30 days. Some sections report improvement and others deterioration. The present indications are for a production of 15,302,000 bushels as compared with 14,196,000 last year. Fields are spotted and some are very poor. Others are very good. The straw is generally short and the crop is heading late.

Spring wheat has lost much of its popularity in Michigan, and the acreage this year is only about 8,000 as compared with 109,000 in 1919. The condition is 85 per cent.

Oats: Favorable weather during the last ten days of April and the first part of May enabled a good acreage of oats to be sown, it being estimated that 1,528,000 acres were put in this year, an increase of two per cent over last year. The present outlook is not good as the ground has been too dry since seeding time, and the growth is very backward. The condition is reported as 80 per cent and represents a crop of 46,451,000 bushels, as compared with 49,434,000 last year and 60,716,000 two years ago.

Barley: About the usual acreage was sown this year, it being estimated at 143,000. The weather was cool and dry during June except in some of the eastern counties, and growth has been slow. The condition is placed at 80 per cent which indicates a crop of 3,226,000 bushels.

Rye: The prospect is better than that of wheat although five per cent below last month's figures and five per cent below the ten-year average. The condition of 82 per cent, indicates a crop of 6,966,000 bushels as against 8,294,000 last year.

Hay: While there are some excellent fields of hay, many old clover or meadows winter-killed badly and some new seedings were injured. Dry and cold weather has held back the growth so that an average condition of only 78 per cent is reported. This is 15 per cent below the condition one year ago and seven per cent below the ten-year average. This figure represents a crop of 3,535,000 tons, almost one million tons less than produced last year. The acreage of both clover and timothy is less than last year, but it is estimated that the alfalfa acreage has been increased to 435,000. The condition of alfalfa is not as good as usual being 88 per cent or four per cent below the ten-year average.

Field Peas: A special inquiry shows a reduction in acreage of two per cent as compared with last year, leaving about 25,000 acres. This is a much smaller acreage than grown in the state a few years ago. The condition is 88 per cent or three per cent below the average.

Truck Crops: The cold and backward season has been unfavorable for the starting of cabbage, and the first report indicates a condition of 86 per cent which is six per cent below the average. The condition of onions is 82 per cent or eight per cent below the average.

Sugar Beets: The ground has been too wet in some parts of the sugar beet area and has delayed planting, and injured the seed in some cases where planting has been done. The outlook is only 79 per cent as compared with a usual condition on June 1 of 88 per cent.

Fruits: Much of the apple crop was still in bloom at the time of the report. The bloom is heavy, especially of winter varieties. The present prospect is for 85 per cent of a crop although a heavy June drop and other developments may materially alter the outlook.

Peaches were injured but little by the freeze except in a very few counties and the present indications are for 75 per cent of a full crop.

The condition of pears is 76 per cent, blackberries and raspberries 86 per cent, grapes 80 per cent, cherries 73 per cent, strawberries—83 per cent and plums 67 per cent. The greatest injury by the freeze was to fruits that bloomed early such as plums and sweet cherries.

Swine: A special report on pigs born this spring showed that the average size of litter was 7.5 and the number saved was 5.7 pigs. This represents an average loss of 25 per cent, due to the cold weather in March and April, and a much greater loss than usual.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Week beginning June 17, 1923
Sunday services:

10:30 o'clock, morning worship.
Sermon by the pastor, Rev. H. P. Hoskins.

12 o'clock, Sunday school. Lesson theme—"Esther, the Patriot Queen."

Next Sunday a Children's Day offering will be taken, part of which will go to the Publication Society to be used in bible distribution and the rest to the Baptist Children's home. Each member of the school was given a bank in which to place his offering and everyone is urged to make his offering as large as possible.

6:30 o'clock—B. Y. P. U.—Leader, Florence Holland. Topic—"What Are Some Reforms that Call for Our Help?" The purpose of this topic is that young people may learn to see conditions that should be remedied. It is a broad topic and may be viewed from many angles. We expect a very interesting meeting. Come and help make it so.

7:30 o'clock—evening worship. Sermon by the pastor.

Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend. If you want something to rest and help you, you will find it here. The meetings are interesting and lively, not monotonous and judged for Mr. Hoskins says he never conducts that kind of a meeting.

On Thursday evening, June 21, Rev. George W. Lawrence, of the state convention will meet with us. Every member of the church should be present.

U. S. POSTAL SERVICE "BEST IN WORLD"

No other nation in the world gives to its citizens a mail service comparable to that of the United States. The citizens of no other country can communicate with each other or with the outside world at so small a cost as they can in this country. No other country even remotely approaches the United States in the amount of mail handled. In fact, the American postal system handles one-third of the world's mail, equalling in number all the pieces handled by Great Britain, Germany, France and Russia combined. The mail of New York City alone is greater than that of the Dominion of Canada.

No mail service equals that of the United States in the speed with which letters are transported to great distances. In no other country may citizens mail such large and heavy packages by parcel post. No other country is so honeycombed with rural free delivery routes or approaches the service furnished by the United States to its rural inhabitants either in the rich farming regions or in the sparsely settled sections where the hermit of the mountain or desert dwells.

For two cents the citizen of Miami, Florida, may send a letter to Point Barrow, Alaska, or to the Philippine Islands by domestic mail. A still greater distance, however, may be reached for two cents by international mail. From Point Barrow an ounce letter to any country to Tierra del Fuego, at the southernmost point of South America. For that matter the two-cent stamp will carry an ounce letter to any country in the western hemisphere with the exception of Chile, French and Dutch Guiana, Venezuela and the islands of Martinique and Guadeloupe.

Two cents also will carry an ounce letter to New Zealand in the South Seas but an answer from either place requires a three-cent stamp. Spain and its African colonies may be reached for two cents but the reply postage will cost five cents. Any other country in the world may be reached by the American citizen for five cents, although it was only sixty years ago when a letter to Australia cost $2.04.

An idea of the firm foundation upon which the American postal service is built may be visualized by the fact that it was the only one in the world the personnel of which was not demoralized or seriously crippled during the recent war. In other countries deliveries were cut one-third and the service maintained only by the drafting of women to carry the mails.

The United States is the only country of importance where pre-war postage rates are still maintained. For twenty months during the war letter rates were increased to three cents, but the extra cent was levied as a tax to assist in carrying the war and no portion of it accrued to the postal revenues.

The American Railway Mail Service is the greatest in the world, principally, of course, on account of the immense railway system in this country. Because of the great preponderance of mail in this country more mechanical contrivances and labor saving devices are utilized in its dispatch probably than all of the other countries combined.

Another feature of which the American citizen may well be proud is the freedom of the United States mails from censorship. While other countries are noted for a propensity for "cracking seals," the American service stands out for its insistence in maintaining inviolate the contents of its citizen's mail.

AT THE MOVIES

George Ade, one of the best known of American writers, has written his second story for the screen in "Back Home and Broke," starring Thomas Meighan, which will be on view at the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday next. Mr. Ade's specialty is humor and humaneness, and his novel expression of these qualities has endeared him to the American reading public. His first story for the films, "Our Leading Citizen," in which Mr. Meighan also starred, was such an unquestionable success that Mr. Ade was directed to prepare another. Judging by the enthusiasm with which this latest is meeting everywhere, the humorist is going to be kept busy turning out screen vehicles for Paramount. Lila Lee heads the strong supporting cast.

WEST ANTRIM COW TESTING RECORDS

After successfully holding down last place among the cow testing associations of the state for the first six months in respect to average production per cow, the West Antrim Association is gradually creeping upwards in the columns, according to the Dairy News Letter published by the Agricultural college for the month of March.

We are nine places above the cellar in respect to production of butterfat per cow for the association, and also ninth in high herd average. That is conclusive proof that results are being obtained in this county along dairy work and that these results will be permanent.

The state of Michigan is making rapid headway along dairy lines, due largely to the elimination of boarder cows and the production of more efficient feeders as a result of the cow testing associations.

Michigan today holds 2nd place among the states in number of cow testing associations, being exceeded only by Wisconsin. We have over forty-five cow testing associations in operation at present and ten more are fully organized, but waiting for test results to carry on the work, while Wisconsin has 155 in operation.

In 1920 the average cow in Michigan produced only around 160 lbs. of butterfat yearly, while Wisconsin has increased her average production from 150 lbs. in 1910 to 190 lbs. in 1920. These 155 cow testing associations turned the trick.

Our present plans call for four cow testing associations in Antrim county. Get in one of these and increase your profits from your cows, and become an economical and efficient feeder. Good care, feed, and dairy management will make nine-tenths of the so-called poor cows in the county profitable cows. If in doubt, join one.

The records for the month of May still show a mighty good increase. The average cow in the association made 31.26 lbs. of butterfat for the month. Four herds averaged over 40 lbs. of fat per cow.

Ernest Loehne has hit the high water mark thus far in herd average with his herd of pure-bred and grade Jerseys, when they averaged 48.53 lbs. of butterfat per cow for the month.

Edgar Fox has the highest cow up to the present, with a grade Guernsey making 73.2 lbs. of butterfat in May. Who is going to beat these records?

Forty-seven cows produced over 40 lbs. of fat and sixteen over 50 lbs. of fat for the month.

J. A. Brown's faithful Minnie still leads the procession with 468 lbs. of fat in 11 months. His herd average is also the highest in the association for 11 months. The records follow:

The Ladies Aid Society will meet on Thursday, June 21st, at the home of Mrs. Peter Wieland.

Howard Griffin left the first of the week for Charlevoix, where he will be employed at the Inn.

H. H. Elzinga and S. A. Goeman were at Flint last week, after cars for the Ellsworth Garage.

John Skow, a medical student at the U. of M., arrived on Saturday for a few days visit at the home of his parents here.

The Misses Anniser and Fairfield of Petoskey, were guests of Miss Helen Boss, one day last week.

The Board of Review are in session again this week, to receive the kick of disgruntled tax payers.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Denny and children of Bellaire, spent Sunday with the former's parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hillman, of Detroit, are visiting relatives here and looking after business interests.

Isaac Vance, of San Francisco, Calif., visited the first of the week at the home of his niece, Mrs. Orris Carpenter.

C. O. Bigler arrived last week with his family, and will occupy the Bennike cottage for the summer.

Mrs. Albert Supernaw and Mrs. F. O. Gillett spent from Friday until Sunday with friends and relatives at Elk Rapids.

Ethel Beers, who has been employed at the State Hospital at Traverse City for the past year, is enjoying a few weeks vacation at the home of her parents here.

The Misses Helen and Blanche Boss attended the opening at Fisher's main Paradise, on Sunday. Miss Poole, of Boyne City, a guest at the Boss home, made a third member of the party.

Wm. Curry, of Saginaw, has arrived and is nicely settled at his camp ground near the Ellsworth Canning Co.'s plant. Mr. Curry made many friends while he was here last year, all of whom are glad to welcome him back.

Herman Cooper wishes to announce that if some of the young men from near Atwood fail to improve on their auto driving ability, he will be forced to install a turn table at his home in order to protect his shade trees and mail boxes.

The Ellsworth band made its appearance on the streets on Saturday evening and livened things up with a fine concert. The boys are rapidly coming to the front and expect to fill quite a number of engagements during the summer and fall.

The township board decided at their meeting last Saturday, to start work at once grading and graveling the Ellsworth-Central Lake road south from the Holland church, and commissioner Smith will be on the job as soon as arrangements can be made. About four thousand dollars will be expended.

ANTRIM CITY

Mrs. Hoffman was a visitor at the Frank Mason home, Sunday.

Mr. Brooks and family were visitors at the Greeley home Sunday evening.

Frank Mason and Miss Elsie Mason were visitors at the Geo. Glazier home, Sunday.

Albert Smith and Mr. Harwood were visitors at the Brant home, Sunday.

Frank Mason was at the grave yard one day last week and put some markers up.

Mr. Hopkins, of Northport, is driving stakes for fishing on this side of the bay and is boarding at Josie Simon's.

Rollie Baumbach made a call on Will Knight, Frank Mason, and Capt. Brant and ended at Josie Simon's, Sunday, making quite a trip for Mr. Baumbach.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hamlin and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hamlin, of Charlevoix, were at the Josie Simon home Sunday, and had straw berries and ice cream.

WILDWOOD

E. R. Wilson is in Detroit on business of his own.

The John Crawford family are nicely settled in their farm home here, for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Dustin visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyde, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Emery and Mrs. Emily Pickard, of Elk Rapids, visited relatives here Decoration Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wilson and daughter, Della Maxine, and Miss Helen McElroy, attended commencement exercises in Charlevoix last Thursday evening, where Senator-elect Ferris gave a remarkable address on "Attitudes."

S. W. Miller is not enjoying good health just at present, having had a relapse of trouble with hernia after being operated on last summer for the same trouble. The many friends of the family hope for a speedy recovery. John Crawford has taken his place as night-watchman at the clay pit.

BIG FISH INN OPENS SUNDAY

Public Invited to Attend and Enjoy Beautiful Surroundings

L. Van Skiver announces the formal opening of his new hotel, "Big Fish Inn," for Sunday, June 17th. A special dinner will be served at 1:30 p. m., standard time, to which the public is invited. The cover charge will be one dollar per plate.

Landlord Van has worked hard to get his new place in shape for this opening and it is to the interest of each and everyone to show their appreciation by becoming a guest on the opening day.

There are very few, if any, more beautiful spots in Michigan than the park in which Big Fish Inn is located, and the place never looked more beautiful than at present. Every leaf and blade of grass seems to invite inspection, and nowhere could a more pleasant hour be spent than on the banks of beautiful Ori creek, which flows through the park just back of the Inn, and when to the beautiful surroundings is added the proprietor's well-known hospitality, it is easy to realize why a goodly crowd is expected on opening day.

MILES DISTRICT

Albert Miles spent most of last week at Charlevoix, on the jury.

Henry Stephan, of Charlevoix, spent Thursday night at the A. Miles home.

Dr. Beuker was called for Mrs. Albert Medema, who was ill last week.

Esther LaLonde went to Ellsworth Monday morning, to meet her uncle, Joe LaLonde, from Galion, Ohio.

Frank Addis and son, Lawrence, returned from their trip to Lansing Wednesday, and report a fine time.

Mrs. Alfred Raymond, of St. Petersburg, Florida, came last Wednesday, to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mobio.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Simmerman, of Muskegon, and Mrs. Simmerman and daughter of East Jordan, called on Mr. and Mrs. Dett Evans Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Elliot and daughter, Florence, and grandsons, Albert and Arthur, of Phelps, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baneroff.

Mrs. LaLonde and son, Clarence, and daughters, Esther and Agnes, were Petoskey and Charlevoix visitors Sunday, and while in Charlevoix, called on Miss Carrie Orvis at the Charlevoix hospital.

ROCK ELM

Mr. Smatts recently enjoyed a visit from his brother-in-law, Mr. Waters, of Detroit.

May 31st fourteen men of the neighborhood met and helped Mr. Berney raise his barn.

Norman Jensen had the misfortune to have his best horse drop dead last week Monday. Cause unknown.

Edward Metz will return to Lansing Tuesday, to begin work in the power house of the Oldsmobile company.

Two of Rock Elm's young people, Miss Helen Hipp and Frank Lawton, graduated from East Jordan high school this year.

Quite a number from Rock Elm attended the commencement exercises at East Jordan, Friday evening, and enjoyed Mr. Grawn's able address on "Education for Citizenship."

South Arm township School Day, which was observed June 2nd, at Rock Elm grange hall, was well attended. The school exhibits were all exceptionally good.

Rock Elm won first honors in the athletic contests and also won first place on its exhibits of school work. It is to be regretted that only one pupil in the township was able to pass the 8th grade examination. School Patrons Day will be observed June 12th, which is also the last day of school.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Metz were happily surprised a week ago Saturday, by the arrival of their son, Edward, for a ten day's visit; and to make their happiness more complete, their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Cox, accompanied by her husband and family, came early Sunday morning to spend the day. A little later in the day their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Metz, and their daughters, the Misses Jessie and Cora Metz, of Charlevoix came, so there was only one lacking, Miss Sadie Metz, of Mt. Pleasant, to complete the family circle.

HYDROGRAPHIC BUREAU ISSUES BULLETIN

Government Wants Yachtsmen and Mariners Advised of Lake Port Depths

The following paragraphs contain hydrographic information of importance to mariners and yachtsmen and are submitted by the Branch Hydrographic office of the U. S. Navy, 481 Federal Building, Chicago, Ill., which is in charge of Lieut. M. C. Kent.

Manistee harbor, Mich.—Soundings completed May 23, 1923, after dredging, showed a controlling depth of 16.6 feet for a minimum width of 90 feet in the channel to the ferry slip.

Grand Haven harbor, Mich.—Soundings completed May 4, 1923, showed project depth of 18 feet on the entrance bar in Lake Michigan and in the river to the car ferry slip.

Ludington harbor, Mich.—Soundings completed May 29, 1923, showed project depth of 18 feet in the channel from Lake Michigan to Pere Marquette Lake.

Manistee harbor, Mich.—Soundings completed May 15, 1923, showed a controlling depth of 19.4 feet on the entrance bar in Lake Michigan, the project depth of 20 feet in the channel between the piers, and the project depth of 18 feet in the river to Manistee Lake.

Portage Lake harbor of refuge, Mich.—Soundings completed May 17, 1923, showed controlling depth of 12.6 feet on the entrance bar in Lake Michigan and 12 feet in the channel between the piers, with available depths of 13 feet near the north and south piers at the entrance.

Frankfort harbor, Mich.—Soundings completed May 10, 1923, showed the project depth of 18 feet on the entrance bar in Lake Michigan, with the exception of a small shoal with a controlling depth of 17.7 feet about 200 feet west and 100 feet north of the outer end of the south pier, and the project width and depth of 18 feet in the channel between the piers, except that the channel of project depth is only 100 feet wide at the shore line.

Charlevoix harbor, Mich.—Soundings completed May 19, 1923, showed controlling depths of 14.9 feet on the entrance bar in Lake Michigan; thence 15.1 feet in the channel to Round Lake, and 16.1 feet in the channel to Pine Lake.

Depths are referred to low water datum which is taken at 579.6 feet above mean sea level.

The present stage of Lake Michigan is about 0.3 feet above datum.

Expert Called to Petoskey

Seeley Co.'s truss expert from Chicago will be at the Perry Hotel, and will remain in Petoskey Thursday only, June 21st. He says: "The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—emphasizing instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. Our representative will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section."

CHARLEVOIX OPENS SEASON JUNE 17TH

B. B. Team Plays Pellston Here Next Sunday

Charlevoix lost the first league game of the season to Petoskey, last Sunday, at Petoskey by a score of 8 to 7. Poor support behind the Charlevoix pitchers was one cause of the defeat. Although the home team tied their opponents in the first half of the ninth inning, they lost to them in the last half.

The Charlevoix team, in this game, was not up to its full strength. In the coming game with Pellston, which takes place here next Sunday, the home team will be strengthened by the addition of Tony McCracken, Mt. Pleasant normal star; Francis Richardson, of Ypsilanti, who led the college team in batting last year, and a pitcher from Detroit, who has a great reputation (name to be disclosed later).

In the game at Pellston on the same day, Harbor Springs went down to defeat by a score of 10 to 3. At Boyne City, East Jordan simply walked over their opponents by a score of 14 to 0.

However, great things are expected of the home team at next Sunday's game with Pellston, here, which will open the local season. Business men of the town have lined up behind the team in good shape this year, class A-1 players have been enrolled and we have it on reliable but confidential authority—our home team this year is to be a hum-dinger! Yes, sir!

SHE PIONEERED IN THE REGION'S EARLY DAYS

Late Mrs. McGeagh Among First Settlers Here

Eathe, Jane Maybery, married to William Maybery nine years ago, was born near Toronto, Canada in 1845 and died in the Lockwood Hospital, Petoskey, Mich., Wednesday, June 6th, at one o'clock.

Mrs. Maybery was married in October, 1866, to W. J. McGeagh and to this union were born six children—two sons and four daughters; James McGeagh, of Charlevoix, Mrs. Louise Welis, of Saskatchewan, (who passed away fifteen years ago), William A. McGeagh, of East Moline, Ill. (who died four years ago) Mrs. Chas. Koch, of Detroit, Agnes McGeagh, (who died in infancy) and Mrs. Esther Hanson, of Detroit. There are fifteen grandchildren and other relatives and friends remain to mourn their loss.

The early married life of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McGeagh was spent in Norwood township, where Mr. McGeagh was engaged in the lumber business, having owned and operated the first sawmill in this section and, soon after beginning the sawmill, he equipped a grist mill and operated that, which was the first grist mill in Norwood.

The usual pioneer life was experienced by this family. They took a special interest in the upbuilding of highways, schools and churches and were active in the life of their community.

For the past few years, the deceased has been a semi-invalid, spending the last nine weeks in the hospital.

The Farmer Who Sticks Will Win

A net decrease of about 460,000 in farm population during 1922 is estimated by the government. This means a loss of about 1.5 per cent since the last census. If a farmer works hard to produce crops that yield no profit or result in loss, if he has two or three bad years in succession, he may be strongly tempted to "quit the game." Yet many a farmer in so doing would make a bad mistake. Long trained in the specialized, complex vocation of farming he may easily lose all he has in entering an entirely different line of business. We believe any skilled farmer with a real stake in the soil who CAN stick to it will gain in the long run. From present depression there is bound to be a positive and profitable reaction.

DUBOIS, OF COURIER FIRM DIES

PASSED AWAY FRIDAY AT HIS HOME HERE

Would Have Been Eighty Years Old Next November—An Invalid For Many Years

George M. DuBois, half owner of the Charlevoix Courier and father of the late Glenn M. DuBois, its editor from 1907 to 1913, died at his home in this city, last Friday morning, at seven o'clock.

Mr. DuBois had been a partial invalid during the entire period of his residence in this city, having suffered two slight strokes of paralysis during the last eight years of his life, which confined him much to his home. He commenced to fail on May 29th last and his life slowly ebbed away until the end, which came very peacefully and quietly on Friday.

George M. DuBois was born in Plymouth, Richland County, Ohio, November 7, 1843, and would have been eighty years of age had he lived until next fall. His father was Edward N. DuBois, his mother Adeline A. Boardman, natives of New York State. Mr. DuBois came with his parents from Ohio in 1867, settling in Fulton township, Gratiot county, Michigan, where he assisted his father in farm work and attended district school. After reaching manhood, he worked several winters in the northern lumber woods. After the sale of the Fulton farm and removal of the family in 1867 to another farm, near North Star, Mr. DuBois was married, on February 22, 1868, to Miss Maggie Randall, a local girl of Vermont parentage, who taught school for some years following her marriage near her home in Gratiot county.

In 1881, Mr. DuBois and wife removed to Ithaca, Michigan, where he worked at the Nelson & Barber elevators in that village and at Middleton for a period of thirteen years. In the year 1893, Mr. DuBois sold the North Star farm, which he had inherited from his father, and bought another in Newark township. He sold this farm in 1912 and moved to Charlevoix, his son, Glenn having entered into partnership with his son-in-law, Adelbert J. Usher, in the management of the Charlevoix Courier.

Mr. and Mrs. DuBois have been the parents of three children; Clara E., who died in infancy; Glenn M., former editor of this paper, now deceased, and Ella M., now wife of A. J. Usher of this city. The latter, with the widow, grandchildren and a brother, Edward, a farmer of the Alma district, are his only surviving

PROPER WAY TO DISPLAY FLAG

The following portion of the flag code explains how the national colors should be displayed:

On all public buildings the flag should be hoisted at sunrise and lowered at sunset. From private poles the flag may fly at all hours, with due respect.

In decorating, the flag should not be festooned or draped; always hung flat.

On a staff, the blue should be in the upper corner next the staff.

Carried in parade, or crossed with other flags, the Stars and Stripes should be on the right. When two American flags are crossed the fields should face each other.

The flag should never be worn as all or part of a costume. As a badge it should be worn on the left breast.

In handling, the flag should not be allowed to touch the ground. In decoration it should not be permitted to lie on the ground nor should it be laid flat with anything on it except as an altar decoration. Then the field should be on the right, as one faces the altar, and nothing but a Bible should be placed on it.

If hung from a window, the flag should be suspended by the same edge which ordinarily is attached to a staff. In draping the flag against the side of a room or building, the blue field should be toward the north or east. When shown horizontally the blue field should be the upper left hand corner to the observer.

When the flag passes on parade or is being raised or lowered, spectators walking should stop, those sitting rise, uncover and stand at attention.

relatives, his sister, Mrs. Ida M. Altenburg, formerly the wife of the late Alonzo Jeffrey, and mother of A. T. Jeffrey, of Charlevoix, having passed away last winter.

The funeral was held Sunday from the home of the deceased, at 221 Clinton Street, at four p. m. As Mr. DuBois was a mason of 48 years standing, holding his membership in the Ithaca lodge, full Masonic ceremonies were conducted by the Charlevoix chapter, Rev. C. W. Long, of the Congregational church, himself in Mason, performing the last rites. The remains were interred in the family plot at Brookside.

V. OF A. SUMMER CAMP A WORTHY ENTERPRISE

Many Mothers and Children of City Slums Cared For Last Year at Grant

Capt. Will Hutchinson, of Morley, Michigan, operating from the headquarters of the Volunteers of America at Grand Rapids, with Major Hubbell as his immediate superior, is in the city this week soliciting aid for the summer fresh-air camp of the Volunteers, maintained near Grant, Michigan, for the care of worthy mothers and children of the cities finding in this camp their only opportunity to escape for a while from the heat and drudgery of their poverty-stricken urban lives; with all expenses met by the organization.

Capt. Hutchinson comes with the authority of his superior and his credentials have been O. K'd by Mayor Bergeon, so that any who feel so disposed may contribute to this excellent cause with assurance that their money will be used for the purpose for which it is designed.

The camp, which is situated on the shore of Sand Lake, near Island Lake, just south of the town of Grant, is an attractive spot and last year housed mothers and their children to the number of one hundred. As five new cottages have been erected on the grounds this year, it is expected that this number will be considerably exceeded in 1923.

The public is acquainted with the work of the Volunteers of America, founded by Maud Ballington Booth, daughter of the famous Christian soldier, General William Booth, of the Salvation Army, which does not stop with extending recreation and comfort to the unfortunates among us, during the summer, but goes on throughout the year, rendering a very practical relief for conditions which but few other organizations are able to handle effectively. Checks for contributions should be made out to "Volunteers of America."

EAGLES TOOK IN THE SIGHTS HERE

In Convention at Boyne City For Two Days

The F. O. E. passed through Charlevoix yesterday—thirty cars of them, gaily decorated with flags, on their way around Pine Lake, the drive being a part of the program of the State Convention of Eagles for their first day at Boyne City, where the convention is being held this year.

Past Grand Worthy President, E. D. Weed, Grand Secretary, Robert Graham and other Eagle notables are with the party, which took in the Loch Farms and the golf links on their way around the lake. The convention delegates and officials are putting up at the Wolverine Hotel in Boyne City.

CHAMPLAIN TRAILERS HERE 10TH

PIKE ASS'N'S 9TH ANNUAL TOUR SOON UNDER WAY

Lt. Gov. Read, Speaker Welsh and Other Notables Accompany Party—North

Lieut. Gov. Thomas Read, of Michigan, will accompany the Michigan Pike Association on its ninth annual good roads event, known as the "Champlain Trail Tour," from Detroit to Ottawa, Can., and return, July 8-23. Hon. George H. Welsh, of Grand Rapids, speaker of the House of Representatives of Michigan, will also be a member of the tour party. Lieut. Gov. Read's home is in Shelby.

Included in the Lieutenant Governor's party will be representative Charles H. Culver, Detroit, and Chester M. Howell, of Saginaw. Mr. Culver is publisher of the Little Stick, while Mr. Howell is a former secretary of the association. Another member of the party will be John L. Lovett, of Detroit, general manager of the Michigan Manufacturer's Association. Mr. Lovett will drive the car for the party which has been placed at its disposal by the Studebaker Corporation of America, through E. B. Wilson, its Detroit retail branch manager.

These lawmakers are taking the tour for the purpose of gathering first-hand information on roads and touring in their own state, and also the conditions in the neighboring Province of Ontario. Both the Lieut. Governor and Governor Alex J. Groesbeck will be with the tourists the first day of the run. Governor Groesbeck will make the drive to Island Lake State Park, in Livingston county, about 30 miles from Detroit, where dedicatory service for the Park, presented last fall by the Dodge Brothers estate, will take place and the tourists have noon luncheon. Secretary of State Chas. J. Deland will also be present. Governor Groesbeck will accompany the party to Lansing where the first night stop will be made.

The distinguished tourists will reach this city on July 10th, a postponement of the original date set for the 3rd. They will stop at the Beach Hotel and a reception committee has been appointed to see that their short visit here is a pleasant one. A. F. Bridge is chairman of this committee and "Uncle George" H. Van Pelt, as the city's staunchest champion and greatest good roads man in the county, has been asked to act as master of ceremonies.

CAR TURNS TURTLE AT R. R. CROSSING

Dick Hammett and Companion Have Miraculous Escape

A Studebaker cabriolet, driven by young Dick Hammett, of this city, accompanied by Mark Wood, a tutor in the family of Sydney Shoenberg, summer resident of the north side, turned turtle two or three times at the P. M. R. R. crossing opposite the John Martin place on the Petoskey road, last Saturday night, at about midnight.

Both the young men were thrown from the car; Dick escaping with a few bruises and Wood receiving a severe scalp wound that necessitated his removal to the Charlevoix hospital, from which he is to be discharged as a convalescent to-morrow.

The car was approaching town from the north, and, shortly before reaching the crossing where the accident occurred, young Hammett asked Wood to take the wheel while he lit a cigarette. Wood, not catching what he said, or misunderstanding the purport of his request, paid no attention and the car careered unguided along the road for about a hundred yards until it reached the crossing and did its double flip-flop into the ditch. The upper light of the windshield was smashed in the overturn, one rear wheel torn off and the fenders were crumpled.

Mr. Wood's injury was really quite severe, nearly one half of his scalp being torn from his head. The boys were both quite fortunate, however, to escape greater injury.

GLEANERS WILL MEET AT CASINO

ON INN GROUNDS, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27TH

Afternoon Session Will Be Open to the Public—Work by Artists in Evening

The Gleaners and farmers of Charlevoix county will hold an assembly in the casino at the Inn, just opposite the Pere Marquette depot, Wednesday, June 27th. The afternoon session will be open to the public. An invitation is extended to all who are interested in the advancement of the agriculturist and the upbuilding of his cause.

A very good and interesting program has been arranged. The Gleaners want to join hands with the city of Charlevoix and make this a gala day—one long to be remembered. We have been fortunate in securing ex-senator Herbert F. Baker, of Cheboygan, as our speaker. Let everyone try to hear Mr. Baker, as he will bring a message of great importance to all.

The open afternoon session will be held at one thirty o'clock, standard time. The chairman of the meeting will be Walter Black. The program planned is as follows:

Concert—Durance Orchestra, of Charlevoix.

Song, "America"—Audience.

Invocation—Rev. Clarence Long.

Welcome to Charlevoix—Mayor Arthur Bergeon.

Male Quartette—Charles Hamlin, L. C. Hamlin, Bert Carey, Ney Smith.

Response to Welcome Address—G. C. Ferris, East Jordan.

Vocal Solo—Dr. Frank Wilkinson, Charlevoix.

The Story of the Gleaners—Edw. J. Little, Mt. Pleasant, state supervisor, A. O. O. G.

Vocal Solo—Miss Irene Finucan, Charlevoix.

Reconstruction of America—Hon. Herbert Baker, Cheboygan.

Piano Solo—Miss Ester Case, Ironton.

Echoes of the Civil War—Members of Quality Arbor.

Bass Solo—Robert Minier, Bay Shore.

"Offerings of Peace," Pantomime and Tableau—Members of Ironton Arbor.

The evening session, closed to the public, will be devoted to the work of the arbors. Edward J. Little, of Mt. Pleasant, will occupy the chair at this session and, after the opening introduction and obligation ceremony, performed by members of Quality Arbor, he will conduct a question box and will answer all questions any may care to ask regarding the work.

The program for this session will be as follows:

Adoption Degree—Members of Ironton Arbor.

Dramatic Degree—Will be given by eighteen men from Eveline Arbor.

Lecture Program:

Vocal Solo—Walter Black.

Short talks by different members.

Bass Solo—Robert Minier, Bay Shore.

Play, "Just Like a Woman"—Eveline Arbor.

Closing Ceremony—Quality Arbor.

Harry Coblenz is district overseer for the Gleaners this year and Mrs. Emma Cole is in charge of drill and degree instruction.

"SI" DEFEATS HIS SKILLED OPPONENT

Leo Powers Checkmates Grand Rapids Chess Expert

George E. Fry, chess expert from Grand Rapids, who played twelve members of the Charlevoix Chess Club, last Thursday, June 14th, at the Hotel Charlevoix, managed to checkmate or eliminate all of his opponents, with one exception—that exception being "SI" Powers, who proved too much for the Grand Rapids man—checkmating the latter fairly and squarely.

Mr. Fry came here at the invitation of Alonzo Powers, a personal friend and a member of the club, and, as he has many times contended with Marshall, chess champion of the United States, it was thought that Mr. Fry would have no difficulty in cleansing up on the local bunch. But—the unexpected always happens. Maybe Charlevoix is developing another national champion—who knows?

ANOTHER LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD

Robyn Merriam High Man in Junior Engineers Class

Robyn Merriam, grandson of Mrs. S. I. Merriam, of Charlevoix and third year engineering student at the University of Michigan, received the highest grades of any of the junior engineers during the past term. He received a grade of A in five subjects and B in a one hour course. This was done while carrying a particularly heavy schedule, as he plans to complete his university course in three and one half years, with an extra summer term.

At present, Mr. Merriam is at Camp Davis, in Cheboygan county, attending the surveying course, but he will be in Ann Arbor for the eight weeks of summer school, returning to complete his camp work in September, thus gaining eight weeks.

Mrs. Merriam, who is employed in the office of the secretary of the Department of Engineering at the University, is not planning to come to Charlevoix this summer but will spend a month in St. Louis, Missouri, after which she will visit his sister at Sapulpa, Okla.

Mr. Merriam has many friends among the residents of Ann Arbor, as he devotes the spare time he can find to work which helps in defraying his own and his wife's expenses.

COME TO WAR ON WICKED BARBERRY

LEARNED AGRICULTURISTS HERE THIS WEEK

Will Survey Battle Ground Before Sending Their "Moppers Up" To Destroy

It is war to the knife on the barberry. The government agricultural scientists have decided that it must go. They have tried and convicted this plant of harboring smut, the ruinous plague that makes such inroads on oats and wheat, the annual loss running into millions each year.

A group of the government and state investigators are here this week, visiting various farms and planning for the thorough extermination of the barberry. They have already visited the Coulter, Harris and Merrill Richardson farms, and the Van Pelt place at Norwood. Later on, other representatives of the state and national agricultural departments will arrive in this region to carry on the work of destroying the plants.

The scientific gentlemen who are here this week looking over the ground, are W. F. Reddy, Botany Building, East Lansing, Mich., state leader in barberry eradication; F. E. Kempton, Cereal Investigations, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., national leader of barberry eradication; G. D. George, of the University farm, St. Paul, Minn., and agent for U. S. Dept. of Agriculture; Dr. E. B. Kause, 2170 Commonwealth Avenue, St. Paul, Minn.; D. G. Fletcher, 510 McKnight Building, Minneapolis, Minn., agent of U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, office of Cereal Investigations and Neel Thompson, Capitol Annex, Madison, Wis., pathologist in charge of chemical eradication.

The term, "Barberry," covers any shrub of the genus Berberis, especially Berberis vulgaris, a native of Europe naturalized in the eastern United States. Barberry rust, of the necotage of wheat rust appearing on this plant at certain periods, formerly gave rise to the idea that plants so afflicted were a distinct species, which was named aecidium Berberidis, but the distinct and separate nature of the parasitic growth is now recognized.

The barberry has given the farmer a great deal of trouble on account of its rust or smut carrying proclivities and the government is now stepping in to help rid him of this obstacle to his progress.

REALTORS ARRIVE HERE ON SUNDAY

PLANNED TO GIVE THEM AUTO TRIP ABOUT CITY

Car Owners Asked to Volunteer Services and Notify Chamber of Commerce

Delegates from Chicago to the Sixteenth Annual Convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at Cleveland, Ohio, will arrive in Charlevoix next Sunday on the steamer, North American, of the Chicago, Duluth & Georgian Bay Transit Co. line. A general outline of their program was given in our last week's issue, in which it was stated that they would spend about seven hours in the city.

The chamber of commerce has planned an auto ride about the principal streets of the town and its environs for the visitors, visiting the Loch Farms and other points of interest. The commercial association wishes to enlist the services of the car owners of the city for this trip and hopes that as many as possible can do so will turn out to give the visiting delegates a good time and make their sojourn in Charlevoix a pleasant memory.

Cars should be parked on Bridge street, facing north, at nine a. m., Sunday, June 24th, and all who can furnish cars should notify the secretary of the chamber of commerce beforehand, so that he may know how many to plan on and make assignments for the trip. The secretary is Guy Eccleston, who may be found at the State Saving Bank any day between the hours of nine and three.

Their stay in Charlevoix will be the first stop made by the delegates between Chicago and Detroit, where they will be given the freedom of the city and a big time is planned for them. From there they go on to Cleveland, Ohio, where the convention will be held. They are all experienced real estate men, quick to perceive the beauties and advantages of a place like Charlevoix, and if we send them away with a good impression of the city they will advertise us by word of mouth to a degree hardly to be appreciated. It is probably that many of them, induced by what they see, will join our group of permanent summer colonists. The benefits of such a visit may be far reaching or it may do us harm, so let everybody see to it that everything is done for their pleasure and comfort here that can be done and that nothing occurs to mar their satisfaction in having selected Charlevoix as a half-day stop on their journey.

Governor Disapproves Charter

Governor Groesbeck has declined to approve the proposed new charter for the city of Petoskey, submitted for his signature recently, having his decision on an opinion of Attorney General Dougherty, who ruled that defects existed in the petitions asking for submission. Other defects were pointed out by the attorney general, which did not comply with the statutes, although their legality was not ruled on.

'TIS BETTER TO LAY THAN DIE, DECIDES HEN

Frank Long, a southern Michigan farmer, believes he has a hen among his flock that prefers laying eggs to dying.

Frank chose a hen from his flock that he knew never has given him an egg in her life.

To satisfy his anger and make an example of the hen, he walked among his fowls and smacked her down.

Thinking her dead, Frank threw the hen on a trash pile at the rear of his lot, where he says she lay four days and then disappeared. Frank thought a dog had carried the hen away.

Then, to his surprise, the "dead" hen pranced up to the chicken park door and asked for admission.

She was separated from the flock to see if she moant business.

The next day, Frank says, he got an egg and has continued to collect from the miracle hen every day since.

DODGE BROTHERS
TOURING CAR

If there is one word which will sum up the average owner's impression of Dodge Brothers Touring Car, that word is dependable.

If there is a word to express the quality which Dodge Brothers have striven, above all else, to build into the Touring Car, it is—again—dependable.

Indeed, it is not too much to say that the word dependable has come to be definitely associated, the nation over, with Dodge Brothers Touring Car—and the other vehicles bearing their name.

Nor have Dodge Brothers built this enviable reputation through advertising. They have built motor cars, so dependable in fact that the word has presented itself automatically to the public mind.

Raspberry Quarantine Put on Michigan

Certain infectious and dangerous diseases of the raspberry have become very destructive in other states and have appeared in some plantations in Michigan.

In order to prevent further spread of such diseases within the state, L. Whitney Watkins, commissioner of agriculture, has issued a quarantine, which is hoped to prevent the further destruction and disease in the state.

The quarantine prohibits the shipment into the state from outside point, of any raspberry plants, except under and in compliance with rules and regulations issued by this department covering the inspection and certification of raspberry plants.

It is further ordered, that all raspberry plants, sold, shipped or transported from any nursery, farm or plantation within the state shall be properly inspected and certified and said sale or shipment shall be accompanied by an authorized certification of inspection issued by the state department of agriculture.

All persons, firms, associations or corporations in the State of Michigan, who desire to propagate raspberry plants for sale or shipment, shall make application for inspection and certification of their plantations prior to June 15th, 1923, and not later than June 1st, in years thereafter, while the quarantine is in force.

People who are interested in this quarantine may secure a complete copy of the rules and regulations concerning the inspection and certification from the state department of agriculture, or from the county agricultural agent at the county farm bureau office at Boyne City.

Grasshoppers Are Returning

Better be safe than sorry. Get some white arsenic at your Co-ops and be prepared. Reports have come in from some sections of the county that the grasshoppers are again showing up in numerous quantities. The old adage, "A stitch in time saves nine," is a very adaptable one in this case. Following are the two most common baits used in fighting this pest:

Criddle Mixture

Criddle-mixture is horse manure with an arsenical, and slightly salted. It is to be distributed about the field in small masses and is especially useful in combating grasshoppers, as it takes advantage of their well known love of salt. The proportions are as follows: white arsenic, one pound; salt, two pounds; fresh horse manure, 100 pounds or five three-gallon pailsful. The salt is dissolved in a pail of water, the poison stirred in, and the whole mixed with the horse manure in a half barrel.

Sawdust—Grasshopper Bait

Into a bushel of fresh hard-wood sawdust, pour and thoroughly mix a mixture made as follows:—one gallon of water, one pound of white arsenic, (not arsenate of lead or calcium), a cup of molasses, and one pound of salt. Add an ounce or so of either ethyl acetate or amyl acetate—the former has the odor of pomace and the latter the odor of bananas, and either one is attractive to grasshoppers. Add enough water to produce a good stiff mash and broadcast. The ethyl acetate and amyl acetate are not absolutely necessary, but they do make the bait attractive.

Remember you can get the white arsenic at your Co-ops by paying only the handling charges. Don't get more than you need, as the price of this stuff has gone up and it is valuable.

Visitor Cow Sends Letter

Dear Farm Page Editor:—Some folks call me a boarder cow, but I'm not. I never paid my board and never will. I advise my daughters to refuse to pay board, but sometimes they have a father so good that they are profitable to their owners when properly fed.

My owner doesn't know what I do in a year. He's not in a cow testing association, so each year he spends 120 hours or more in feeding, milking and caring for me. He has money invested in me on which I pay no interest. He pays taxes on me. He gives me barn room. He drives me to green pastures and babbling brooks and I—well, I laugh at his innocence in thinking I make him money.

I hear these testing associations are showing up cows such as I. I surely hope my boss doesn't join one. As long as he keeps out of one I am safe. He doesn't realize how much my food costs and how little I produce. Neither will he remember how much hard work he has done in caring for me or the taxes he pays on me or bedding and barn room I use. I will not worry until he joins an association. Yours for less milk and no profit,

The Visitor Cow.

"Cheap" Alfalfa Seed Cost Neighboring Farmer Double Price

One of our neighboring county agents found one of his farmers sowing alfalfa seed the other day. The farmer had paid $9 a bushel for his seed. He said he knew it was not as good as some seed he could have purchased for $12 a bushel.

A sample of the seed was sent in to the state college for a purity and germination test. The sample sent in was taken from the seed box. It was found that this handful of seed contained twenty-six different kinds of weed seeds and five different kinds of other crop seeds. The weed seeds included dodder, foxtail, buckhorn, and crab grass, besides 22 other kinds. There was a sufficient amount of dodder in the sample to seed 7,200 dodder seed to the acre if the alfalfa was planted at the rate of 10 pounds per acre. It was further estimated that at such a rate of seeding, there will be 102,240 planted on every acre. It was also found that of the alfalfa planted, only 64.5 per cent of it will germinate.

A quarter million alfalfa seed in a pound, 10,224 weed seeds, and 1,890 other crop seeds of the 850,000 only 64.5 per cent germinated, or 161,250 seeds. Seed 84.9 per cent is considered pure germination, but 64.5 per cent means that the true value of the seed is only 54.77 per cent. He paid $9, refusing to pay as high as $12 per bushel. Nine dollars for 54.77 per cent seed—he actually was paying $16.43 a bushel for his seed.

Red Crown

Is Quality Gasoline

It is made to generate power in your engine—the kind of power which makes you smile as your car goes spinning over the roads, up hill or down, without apparent effort.

It is a gasoline of high quality and the quality is maintained. You, who use it regularly, can absolutely depend upon it, for it is always the same and may be obtained everywhere—every few miles in the country and every few blocks in the city.

That Red Crown quality is sustained is evidenced by its continual use by 2½ million motorists.

Red Crown

Gives Superior Service

It starts easily—summer or winter; it enables your car to get away quickly; to accelerate smoothly and delivers to your rear wheels all the power and speed your car is capable of developing.

As to mileage, Red Crown gives more miles per gallon than any gasoline you can buy.

Russet in comparison with their own seed.

Ten men have planted a test plot containing a bushel of seed, one-half bushel of their seed and one-half bushel of the certified Russeta.

These plots will be watched through the summer and comparisons made and noted. In the fall at digging time, the potatoes will be dug, the yield kept separate and weighed.

Aside from these ten farmers about half as many more have purchased a small quantity and are trying them out also.

RUMORS OF BAD ROADS ARE FALSE

Somebody is Trying to "Spook" the Tourist

Rumours are current to the effect that roads leading into this city, especially M-11, are impassable—at least that is the impression that some out-of-town people are getting, as witness a letter recently received by Mrs. Charles Lamphear, secretary of the Commercial Association, from a man in the southern part of the state, inquiring about the matter.

This gentleman, it seems, is very anxious to drive through this territory, of which, as he states, he has heard so much. He has been told, however, he says in his letter, that the roads leading into Charlevoix are in a frightful condition, especially the detour between Eastport and Charlevoix on M-11.

Of course this man's letter will be answered and his fears set at rest, but for the benefit of other out-of-towners who may see this paper or know someone who reads it we would state that the roads leading into this city are far from impassable—in fact are in pretty fair shape. The much-dreaded detour on

M-11, out of Eastport, is only ten miles in length and is traversable anywhere at a twenty mile gait.

This "horrible road" stuff could very likely be traced to some booster for certain resorts south of us who would like to keep the tourist from coming north of his own pet locality. It can't be did, stranger. The cat will find the cream and the tourist will find the best little resort town in northern Michigan in spite of all the mythical detours between here and Hades.

SUMMER RESIDENT MARRIED JUNE 16TH

Charlevoix Friends Receive Announcement of Event

Charlevoix friends of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Disette of Indianapolis, well known Belvedere summer residents, have received announcements of the marriage of their daughter, Lois, to Mr. Leslie S. Shaw, which took place at the home of the bride in Indianapolis, Saturday, June 16.

The event was largely attended by friends and relatives, and the ceremony performed by the Rev. O. W. Fifer of the Central Avenue Methodist church.

The bride is well known in Charlevoix, having spent her summers here with her parents since she was six months old. The newly weds have gone on a motor trip in the east and will be at home after August 15, at 170 Elmhurst Avenue, Detroit. Charlevoix friends extend congratulations.

MEXICANS PROVE EFFICIENT HANDS

DUSKY ALIENS BEST BEET WORKERS SEEN YET

Give Them Plenty of Red Beans, Shelled Corn and Red Peppers. Add—Zawiel

Henry Wagner left Monday last for Lake City, to see about further importation of Mexicans, sugar beet laborers, who are being brought into the state from Texas and other points in the far south to lighten the toil of the northern grower.

So far, three hundred and sixty-two of these aliens have been shipped into the state, wives of the men included, for these ladies go out into the field and do a day's work which compares respectably with that of their husbands. Southern Michigan beet growers now have plenty of competent help.

The Mexicans are proving to be the best sugar beet hands ever seen in this state. The eight who came to Charlevoix, four men and four women, seem to be contented with their lot, outside of the fact that the women are homesick, so far from their native climate, and they have up until now found it difficult to obtain the red beans and shelled corn, which, with red peppers, form the principal items of their diet. This shortage has, however, been taken care of and they are now reasonably happy.

Much to the surprise of their new employers, these men neither smoke nor drink, as was feared. Only one is addicted to cigarettes and that one is the better half of one of the four couples. However, she can find plenty of precedent in the ranks of her more sophisticated white sisters for this default, so she should worry.

The workers who were assigned to Charlevoix county have worked in the beet fields of Arizona and Montana and on the cotton plantations of the south. They are thoroughly skilled in beet culture.

Many of the farmers around here, in view of the promising condition of the crop already planted and the coming of cheap and competent labor, are wishing that they had put in a few acres of beets this year. However, if all goes well, next year will doubtless see a big increase in the acreage set to beets and the first step will be made on the road to the prosperity of the region.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Frank Waterman, a nephew of Mrs. W. E. Hampton, of Ann Arbor, has joined his father, Charles Waterman, here, for the summer. Mr. Waterman, Sr., now being engaged in the installation work on the new telephone exchange.

NEW PALACE THEATRE

FRIDAY, JUNE 22

Metro presents Bert Lytell in "The Face Between." A drama of a phantom disgrace, of a man who would have sacrificed himself for the honor of his father and his family. Also a Harold Lloyd one reel comedy, "Going, Going, Gone."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JUNE 23-24.

Big double attraction. George Fitzmaurice's "Kick In," with Betty Compson, Bert Lytell and May McAvoy. Crammed with excitement, bristling with thrills—the gorgeous ace of all crook melodramas. For years a hit on the stage; now a dramatic sensation on the screen. And a real all-star cast. Also the last one of the New Leather Pushers, Reginald Denny in "Joan of Newark."

MONDAY and TUESDAY, JUNE 25-26

First National presents Jackie Coogan in "My Boy." Here is a picture you will like. Also the first of "Our Gang" comedies. Hal Roach presents his rascals in "A Pleasant Journey." Don't miss the first one, you'll want to see all the rest.

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY, JUNE 27-28

Paramount presents Rodolph Valentino in "The Young Rajah," with Wanda Hawley and Chas. Ogle. Valentino as a breezy American lover and a glittering oriental prince in his latest and greatest success. A wonderful picture. Also Buster Keaton in a three reel comedy, "My Wife's Relations."

FARMERS STILL ARE SOLID FOR GAS TAX

See No Justice in Present System of Taxation

Inasmuch as the legislature adjourned without passing either a gas tax or a weight tax and it is now reported that the governor is planning to call a special session of the law-makers to consider highway funding legislation, it is extremely interesting and timely to learn the attitude of the farmers of the state on this important issue.

Letters received at the Lansing headquarters of the Michigan State Farm Bureau indicate that farmer sentiment in favor of a two cent gas tax has only been strengthened by the executive veto which prevented the Wainer gas tax act, supported by 99 of the 132 legislators, from going into effect in Michigan.

Farmers can scarcely see the justice of the present system under which they pay the main cost of improved highways which are largely used by commercial trucks, traveling men, tourists and city pleasure seekers. They are equally opposed to an automobile weight tax which ignores utterly the mileage driven by the car and fails to derive any revenue from the ever-increasing tourist traffic or the highway destroying fleets of drive-away cars.

Sentiments expressed in letters received from individual Farm Bureau members and local organizations are plainly and convincingly stated and leave no doubt as to the attitude of the writers. The attitude of many of the most thoughtful farmers is reflected in a letter from a leading Barry county Farm Bureau member, who is the president of his township organization. He writes:

"Our members stand solidly for a gas tax and would favor no other measure. We would not favor the weight tax under any condition. It would not catch the out of state autoist or tourist nor the drive-away cars. It does not discriminate between the man who uses his auto one day in the week and one who uses it seven days in the week. We do not believe in any compromise."

AT THE MOVIES

"Kick In" Coming
Is a man once a crook, always a crook? Can he walk the straight road after leaving prison? Will the police aid him in his determination to live an honest life? These are questions that are answered in George Fitzmaurice's thrilling Paramount production, featuring Betty Compson, Bert Lytell and May McAvoy, which will be on view at the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. It is packed with thrills.

A splendid contrast is afforded by Wanda Hawley and Rodolph Valentino, leading woman and star of "The Young Rajah," a Paramount picture coming to the Palace Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday. Miss Hawley is a blonde of the Dresden Shepherdess variety; Valentino is, of course, dark and Latin in appearance. They make a very pleasing picture as lovers in this strange screen tale.

A moment of brilliancy, a mad tumult, a riot of color, of naked blades, of falling figures, of victors triumphant upon the throne they have usurped—that's your tiny revolution in the small Indian state.

A night of storm and fury in New England—and on old couple ready for bed; a knocking at the door; two dark men with a child standing dripping upon the threshold; jewels poured from a bag; stacks of banknotes—a farewell and a small and miserable Hindu lad who strives to hide his tears at parting from the only friends he has known—that's the story of the adoption.

The gift of provision—he sees his own death—his own meeting with the girl he learns to love; but he is rescued by faithful retainers in the nick of time. Then he sees in a vision the marriage of himself and his beloved in Hindu fashion—with all the wealth of gorgeous color and ceremony.

KEEP COLTS IN ROOMY STALL

Young Animals Should Not Be Permitted to Run With Mares Which Are Working in Field.

If mares are being used for farm work, do not let colts run with them in the field. Keep the colts penned in a roomy, clean, cool, ventilated stall in the barn. If the stall is screened to keep out flies, so much the better. Let the colts nurse morning, noon and night, and run with their mothers in the horse paddock at night.

Some people think the world is in for another upheaval, and anyway the time has come for spring house cleaning.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Council Chambers, June 18, 1923. The common council for the City of Charlevoix met on the above date with Mayor Bergeon presiding. Aldermen present: Bridge, Eckinger, Hallett, Livingston, Marshall, Partridge.

Minutes of meeting held on June 11, 1923 were read and approved. Ald. Hallett offered the following resolution and moved its adoption; seconded by Ald. Partridge:

West Hurlbut Avenue Sidewalks
Resolved by the common council of the City of Charlevoix, that due hearing having been had, as provided by law and the ordinances of said city, relative to the construction of cement sidewalks on the north line of West Hurlbut Avenue in said city abutting on and in front of Lots 70, 71, 72, 73 and 74 of Upright and Hurlbut Addition to said city, the same constituting a part of a single block in front of which such sidewalks have not been built, and due consideration being given thereto, the construction of such sidewalks be, and hereby is declared a necessary public improvement, and as necessary to complete the line of sidewalk already built on the block of lands fronting on said Avenue and lying between State and Grant Streets in said city, which said lots are owned by and assessed upon the assessment rolls of said city for the year of 1923 to the following named persons: lot 70 to Argo Milling Co.; lot 71 to Pearl and Dutcher; lot 72 to Nassau Burns; lot 73 to Harriet Green; lot 74 to Arthur J. Curtenius.

Resolved further, that the said sidewalks be and the same are hereby ordered built by the owners of the said several lots as above described and named, such sidewalks to be of cement six feet in width, the inner line thereof to be laid on the property line of said lots and within the street line of said avenue, all in accordance with the plans, grades and specifications heretofore established and on file in the office of the city clerk, and in compliance with the provisions of the ordinances of said city.

Resolved further, that the owners of said lands be required to complete the building of such sidewalks within twenty days from and after the receipt of notice of this resolution as provided by law, and that the city clerk be, and hereby is instructed to give notice in writing to the owners of the lots above named, of the requirements of this resolution, and to notify the said persons to construct said sidewalks along and in front of their respective lands as above described within twenty days from and after the date of such notice.

Resolved further, that upon the failure of the said owners or any of them to construct such sidewalks within the time above limited therefore, the Street Commissioner of said city, be and hereby is instructed to proceed to the construction of such sidewalks, or such sidewalks as have not been built as herein required, and that the cost and expense of such construction together with a penalty of ten per cent of such cost in addition thereto, be assessed upon the said several lands in front of which the said sidewalks are so built by such Commissioner.

Adopted at a regular meeting of the common council held in the council rooms in said city, on the 18th day of June, 1923, by aye and nay vote as follows:
Ayes: Ald. Bridge, Eckinger, Hallett, Livingston, Marshall, Partridge. Nays: None.

A. Bergeon, Mayor.

Moved by Ald. Marshall, seconded by Ald. Eckinger, that the city place $25,000.00 insurance on steam boilers at new electric power plant, and $10,000.00 insurance on building, both policies to be for a term of 3 years. Motion carried by following aye and nay vote: Ayes: Ald. Bridge, Eckinger, Hallett, Livingston, Marshall, Partridge. Nays: none.

Moved by Ald. Bridge, seconded by Ald. Marshall, the council adjourn until Wednesday, June 20, at 7:30 p. m. Motion carried.

Charles H. Lamphar, City Clerk.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale

Default having been made in the conditions of two certain real estate mortgages whereby the power of sale therein contained has become operative, which said mortgages were given respectively as follows, to-wit: the first said mortgage dated March 21st, 1919 by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife, of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, on the twenty-second day of March, 1919, in Liber forty of mortgages on page two hundred and forty-six, and the second certain mortgage dated November 15, 1920, was given by Norman W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, on the fifth day of May, 1921 in Liber forty of mortgages on page four hundred and nineteen; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said first mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Six Hundred and Forty-two Dollars, principal and interest, and Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee as provided for by said mortgage; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said second mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Eleven Hundred and Forty-nine Dollars and Twenty-three cents, principal and interest, and the sum of Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee provided for by said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the money by either of said mortgages or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgages and of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgages will be foreclosed by sale of the premises thereon described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due thereon of the said mortgages of principal and interest, together with the costs and expenses of foreclosure of these mortgages including the Attorney fees therein provided for, at Public Auction to the highest bidder thereon, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held), on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day. The premises described in said mortgages being described as follows, to-wit: In said first mortgage, the South West quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township Thirty-four (34) North of Range Eight (8) West, containing Forty (40) acres of land more or less, according to the government survey thereof; and in said second mortgage, the West half of the North East quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township thirty-four (34) North of Range eight (8) west containing twenty (20) acres more or less, according to the government survey thereof; both said descriptions being located in the Township of Charlevoix; County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan.

Dated March 21, 1923.

REFRIGERATORS

There are refrigerators, good refrigerators and best refrigerators, the Leonard is of the later class. Do you ask why? It is on account of its scientific construction. Made by men who have been making refrigerators for nearly half a century, and who have made every improvement possible to make a sanitary, food preserving refrigerator. The plant occupies 20 acres of ground and produces 150,000 refrigerators annually. The largest plant of this kind in the world. The construction consists of eleven walls as follows: 1st—outside case of wood; 2nd—wool felt; 3rd—air space; 4th—water proof sheathing; 5th—polar felt; 6th—water-proof sheathing; 7th—wool felt; 8th—water-proof sheathing; 9th—inside wood case; 10th—air space; 11th—porcelain or galvanized iron lining.

Aside from the construction of the case, the utmost care is taken in the interior construction. The Leonard latest patent waste and trap pipe, the all-metal ice rack, and open wire mesh shelves, allowing free passage of air, taken all together makes the Leonard the best refrigerator made.

Among those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Hogerman and two children, and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Townsend, of Boyne City; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Supernaw, Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Beehold and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carr and son, of East Jordan; Sheriff and Mrs. Kittle, and Mr. and Mrs. Job England and daughter of Bellaire, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bashaw of East Jordan.

The tables and dining room were very prettily decorated with plants and flowers and following the dinner the guests amused themselves by giving the building and grounds the "once over."

The condition of the grounds surrounding the Inn show that workmen have not been idle since the building was finished and the shrubbery and flowers present a cool and inviting appearance.

EDITORIAL

WHAT THE SHINERS HAVE LEARNED

Several hundred thousand Shriners, together with their families and friends, have been given an impressive illustration of the extent to which the campaign of falsehood and vilification carried on by the liquor interests has been developed at the expense of individual reputations. For a week before the great gathering of this organization at Washington certain papers were filled with stories of the preparations made by the bootleggers to convert the conclave into a gigantic orgy. As the ceremonies progressed the world was told by dispatches in the newspapers that are trying to break down the prohibition law, of the delivery of alcoholic liquors in case lots to hotels and Shriners' headquarters. The activities of the bootleggers were described in graphic and, as it turns out, wholly imaginative terms, and their profits were estimated at only less than those of a moving picture star. The world was asked to believe that gentlemen high in the Masonic order, who, with their families, have been in the habit of enjoying a national outing of this sort, were to a man violators of law and victims of dipsomania. The campaign against prohibition assumed the form of a campaign of personal slander against all who wore the red fez.

But with the close of Shiner's week, the truth was told even in those newspapers which had found pleasure or profit in the publication of malignant gossip. It became known that the arrests for drunkenness in Washington during that week, despite the presence there of perhaps 350,000 strangers on pleasure bent, were barely 50 per cent of normal. The Shiner's own court, which was established for the purpose of enforcing order, had practically no business, except the benevolent task of looking up lost children. The chief of the District of Columbia police said that there was not the slightest doubt that prohibition was responsible for the general orderliness that prevailed. There were fewer automobile accidents during the week than the normal number in Washington—a fact, indicative of general sobriety.

These were conditions only to be anticipated. The vast and overwhelming majority of the people of the United States not merely approve of but practice prohibition, and a great organization, such as that of the Shriners, being a representative slice of the more prosperous in society, affords a fair index to the sentiment of the whole. It is perfectly evident that at Washington the prohibition law was respected, not merely because it was the law, but because of the increasing habit of abstention from liquor which that law has encouraged.

The tens and even hundreds of thousands of Shriners who are able to contrast the conditions which they observed of Washington with the falsehoods set out in certain of the newspapers will in future be better able to estimate the truth of stories of wholesale violation of the law. Moreover, they will be able to judge from their own unpleasant experience of the extent to which the liquor press is willing to go in vilifying individuals and organizations in the endeavor to build up a sentiment that may be useful to the liquor interest, which is on its last legs.

LARGE PRODUCERS EAT MUCH

One of the Important Points Brought Out in Department Bulletin by J. C. McDowell.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Cows that produce milk and butterfat in large quantities have kept up appetites and rooey punches, but they bring in higher incomes over feed cost than the scanty producers, regardless of breed, age, weight, date of freshening, and geographical location. This is one of the important points brought out in Department Bulletin 1030, Relation of Production to Income from Dairy Cows, by J. C. McDowell, just published by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The facts in the bulletin are based on a study of data supplied by 90 cow-testing associations in various parts of the country. Because of better feeding, better breeding, and better care, cows owned by association members are much better than the general run of cows. The estimated production per head of all the dairy cows in the United States is approximately 4,000 pounds of milk and 160 pounds of butterfat a year. The association cows are about 50 per cent better, producing an average of 6,077 pounds of milk and 248 pounds of butterfat.

According to figures based on 18,014 yearly individual cow records, as butterfat production increased from 100 to 400 pounds there was a regular increase of about $16 in income over feed cost per cow for every 50 pounds of increase in average production of butterfat. As the yield of butterfat increased from 100 pounds to 300 pounds, the returns above the dollar expended for feed increased from 35 cents to $1.52.

The cows having an average milk production of 3,250 pounds showed an average income of $32.25 over the cost of feed, while those producing 13,250 pounds showed an average income of $218.19 over feed cost. The cows in the latter group produced about four times as much as those in the other group, and their average income over cost of feed was nearly seven times as great. The increase in income above feed cost grew regularly with the increase in production.

A study of these records shows that it pays best to put feed into big producers, even though they are big eaters, says the department.

A copy of the bulletin may be obtained upon application to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

CELEBRATION WILL MARK BIRTHDAY

June 18 to 23 Set Aside for Commemoration

On Tuesday, June 12, the Willys-Overland Company of Toledo, Ohio, produced its one millionth car and this car bearing serial number 1-000,000, marking as it does a significant event in the annals of one of the world's largest automobile industries, will be given official recognition by all Willys-Overland branches, distributors and dealers throughout the United States during the week of June 18 to 23. This week has been set aside by President John N. Willys as Jubilee Week when celebrations will be carried out in every section of the country.

Big preparations are completed to make the week a notable one, following a week of many functions in Toledo when the Willys-Overland Company entertained the leading civic clubs of the city to luncheons and dinners in the administration building.

P. M. CHANGES TIME ON SUNDAY

Summer Schedule in Effect Now Over Entire System

The Pere Marquette summer schedule became effective on Sunday last, including the restoration of “The Resort Special” between Chicago, Detroit and Charlevoix. There will be through sleeping car service from Toledo, St. Louis, Louisville and Cincinnati. This train will arrive in Charlevoix at 6:55 a. m. daily except Mondays, and will leave on the south trip daily except Saturday, at 7:16 p. m.

The schedule as arranged is as follows:

South bound—9:06 a. m., 2:30 p. m., 7:16 p. m.

North bound—6:55 a. m., 3:20 p. m., 8:36 p. m.

This gives Charlevoix three trains a day, each way, on the Pere Marquette line.

Proved Too Strong for Pellston In Sunday's Game

Charlevoix league baseball team won over Pellston last Sunday by a score of eight to six, Dagwell pitching for Charlevoix and Babcock catching.

Pellston, with Mays in the box, scored three runs in the first inning. Charlevoix marked up two in the first and two in the second and then held the lead until the end of the game. The home team plays Harbor Springs there next Sunday.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY NOTES

At a meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary board, partial arrangements were made for Hospital Day, to be held in August. Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Albin Smith and Mrs. A. Levinson are the committee on arrangement.

On that day the Catholic ladies will serve coffee and sandwiches, the W. C. T. U. will have a pie booth, the Rebekahs will hold a baked goods and food sale, the Lady Macabees will have lemonade and the American Legion Auxiliary will sell soft drinks and ice cream.

At the meeting Mrs. Fessenden and Mrs. Levinson were appointed a committee to purchase a sewing machine and already the machine has been installed at the hospital.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Farmers in the vicinity of Hastings are warned not to sell eggs to a certain truck driver who has lately been buying them and giving worthless checks. In fact, if they are bad eggs, instead of selling them it might be a good idea to throw them at him.

A Civil War soldier at Ann Arbor still preserves a piece of hardtack, which he used for writing a message home from the South before going into battle at Fair Oaks. The veteran is said to attribute his longevity to the fact that he hasn't shot at Fair Oaks, and that he sent the hardtack home instead of eating it.

The State of Michigan, according to a Ludington editor, “should join the state of Illinois in approving the purchase and preservation by Indians of 2,000 acres which lie along the shores of Lake Michigan between the two neighbor states.” And having performed that courtesy, the State of Michigan should get busy in preserving some equally beautiful dune country of its own.

There are always some people who will heartily support a home ball team if they are given free admission to the games.

DAIRY FACTS

PRACTICE OF PASTEURIZING

Dealers Know That Milk So Treated Keeps Better and Prevents Spread of Disease.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The practice of pasteurizing milk is growing rapidly in the cities of this country, as shown by figures collected by the United States Department of Agriculture. Through pressure of health departments and through voluntary action by milk dealers, plant after plant has been switched over from raw milk. It is now generally recognized by those who have studied the problems of milk supply, that proper pasteurization does not injure the chemical or nutritive properties of milk, and that it does destroy all bacteria that may produce disease. Milk dealers know that milk so treated keeps better and satisfies customers, and that it prevents outbreaks of disease which might cast discredit on their product and injure their business.

With these facts in mind it is easy to see why the practice has grown. In 1915 only 77.8 per cent of the cities with population of more than 500,000 reported more than half of their milk pasteurized, while in 1921 every city in this class had a milk supply more than 50 per cent of which was pasteurized. In 1915 more than 10 per cent of the cities of 75,000 to 100,000 people had no pasteurized milk, but during the past year all of them had some part of the supply pasteurized.

The increase in pasteurization in small cities is particularly striking. Take, for example, those from 10,000 to 25,000 population. In 1915 about 40 per cent had pasteurized milk, but in 1921 nearly 61 per cent had it. Even in cities below 10,000 population pasteurization is becoming more common.

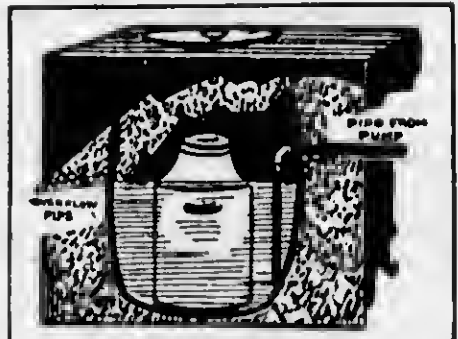

KEEP CREAM DURING SUMMER

If Cooled to 50 Degrees Promptly After Separating It Will Keep Several Days.

The dairyman must figure a way to keep the cream in good condition during the hot weather months. There is always someone saying “cream can't be kept sweet very long during the summer months,” but it has been proven that cream cooled to 50 degrees shortly after separating can be kept sweet for several days.

To accomplish this, it is necessary to have a cooling tank. Such tanks may be bought from the dairy supply houses, but if only a small quantity of cream is produced, a homemade tank will do the trick. This tank is made as follows:

Take a water barrel and around it make a box about 3 feet square by about the height of the barrel, insert a pipe leading from the pump into the barrel extending to the bottom. An overflow pipe is then placed on the opposite side of the barrel leading to the outside of the box. This overflow pipe should be placed as high as the neck of a large cream can. The intake pipe from the pump should extend to the bottom of the barrel as the warm water then rises and overflows.

The space between the box and the barrel is filled with sawdust or other insulator and the box finally covered to the edge of the barrel. A close fitting lid is then placed over the top of the barrel and completes the tank. When a partly filled can is set down a stick across the barrel above the can will help to hold it down.—A Miller, in the Farm and Home.

METHOD OF RAISING CALVES

Most Economical to Make Use of Good Calf Meal on Farms Where Whole Milk Is Sold.

Where whole milk is sold, undoubtedly the most economical method of raising calves is by the use of a good calf meal. Calves that have been raised properly on calf meal make just as good cows as those raised on whole milk or skim milk.

When Cow Holds Milk.

When a cow persists in holding her milk, a common remedy is to attempt to divert her attention from the operation of milking by providing some tempting food.

Drawback to Dairy.

Perhaps the greatest drawback to the dairy business is that a cow will produce a little milk, no matter what she is fed. Too many dairymen are satisfied with that little bit.

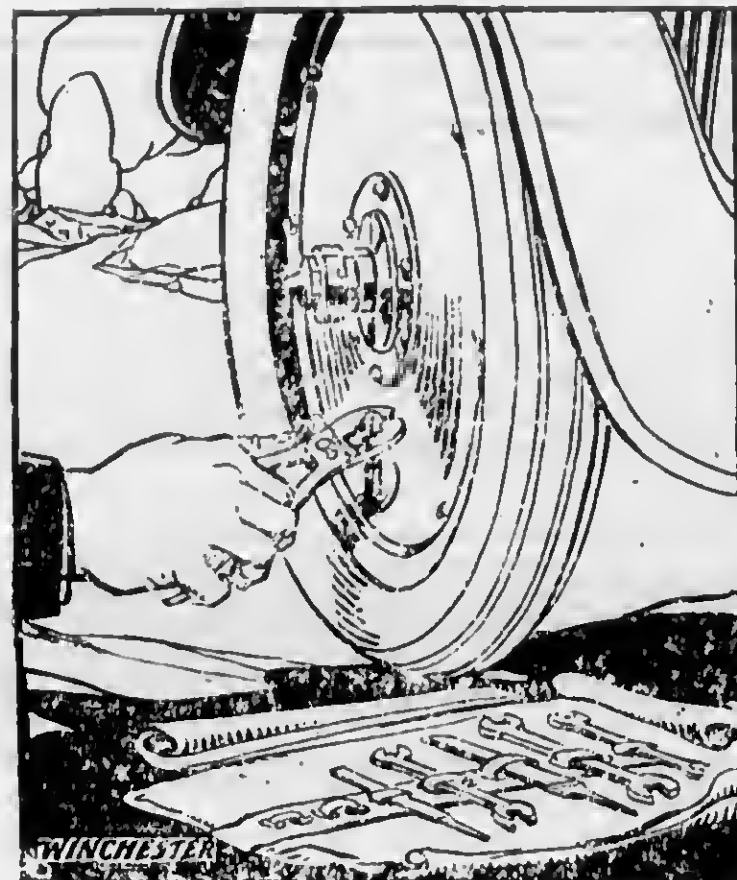

Methods Work Well.

The methods aren't the same, but one works as well as the other—culling beans and culling cows.

BOY FALLS UNDER ICE TRUCK—IS DEAD

Bruce Smith Almost Instantly Killed Monday Afternoon

Bruce Smith, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, of May Street, received injuries in an accident which occurred Monday afternoon, at three o'clock, which resulted in his death a few minutes later.

The little fellow was riding on Widdifield's ice truck with his brother, Otto Smith, who drives the truck, and a young son of Otto's a boy of about the same age. The truck stopped in front of the Driggett residence on Antrim Street, to make deliveries, and, when it started again, in some way—how, nobody seems to know—Bruce fell under the rear wheel, suffering injuries to the chest and head that caused his death a few minutes later at the hospital, to which he was immediately removed.

The funeral services were held at the Smith home Tuesday afternoon, at four thirty o'clock, by Rev. C. W. Long, in the presence of the sorrowing family. Interment was in Brookside cemetery.

STATE TO PLANT FISH IN FUTURE

TAKES THIS WORK OUT OF PRIVATE HANDS

Too Much Loss, Officials Think—Now Lets See Them Wallow Wait Deep

"After this year no more fish stock will be sent out from the state hatcheries in streams of the state by private individuals.

"According to Albert Stoll, secretary of the conservation department, the promiscuous planting of fish in the lakes and streams by persons having no knowledge of the proper methods of planting fish or the proper location for various kinds of fish has resulted in the loss of 50 percent of the stock planted.

"Stoll now is making a comprehensive study of lakes and streams of the state for the purpose of determining what kinds of fish are best adapted to the various localities. When his survey is complete he announced, he will endeavor to have each of the seven fish hatcheries in the lower peninsula equipped with two trucks manned by persons trained in fish culture who will take full charge of the stocking of the waters in their district with fish best adapted to successful culture in each river or lake."

The above item has appeared in practically every state daily during the past week, and we reproduce it again in the Courier, that no one interested in this work will miss learning of the recent ruling on the part of the state conservation department.

We cannot refrain also from making a few observations, for the reason that we have personally spent considerable time planting fish stock sent out by the state during the past eight or ten years. We are more than anxious to see these state experts transfer the fry from the hatchery cans to local streams during the high water period, when snow is from three to five feet deep, roads leading to streams impassable, and every condition unfavorable to fish planting.

It has been the habit of these same experts to notify local members of our rod and gun club that shipments of fish fry would arrive on a certain day, by certain train, and that if we wanted them, to meet the train and take care of them. Weather and stream conditions were overlooked entirely. No wonder a 50 per cent loss. We firmly believe it has reached a 95 per cent loss, and in some instances the entire shipment has been wasted. Planting fish fry during high water, deep snow, when streams are overflowing their banks, in our judgment, is entirely wrong, and results obtained justify this opinion.

We are glad the state will take the work in hand. We want to see these fellows wallowing in the snow above their waists, in water nearly as deep, rustling these heavy cans of fish. But then, our guess is that when they do the planting weather and stream conditions will be ideal and 100 per cent of the fry will survive.

If you have a cottage to rent for the season, see or telephone Earl A. Young, phone 275 or 584.—Adv. 13-1f.

REALTORS HAD A REAL GOOD TIME

THEIR STAY HERE WAS FULL OF ACTIVITY

Visitors Left Well Pleased With Their Reception And the City's Attractions

The Chicago delegates to the Cleveland Real Estate convention arrived here last Sunday morning, at eight forty-five, on the big lake leviathan, North American, and another chapter in the continuous round of pleasure, promised them on their week's voyage through the three lakes, began.

The visitors were met at the dock by an official reception committee composed of Dr. W. W. Mitchell, Capt. S. M. Rose, Robert Bridge, Guy Eccleston, Robert Fry, of Ironton, and T. W. Whaples, of the Loeb Farms. The delegates numbered some three hundred in all, including the wives and friends of the members. Since leaving Chicago, a tabloid radio edition of the Chicago Herald Examiner, published and printed on the boat, has been placed in the hands of the passengers each evening. This interesting little mid-ged edition, which is before us, comprises twelve pages and contains a list of the passengers, with their stateroom numbers, a couple of humorous poems, dwelling on the merits of some of the ship's officers and leaders of the delegation, an admonition to change watches to standard central time (most of the passengers having daylight saving or fast time) and the day's program.

According to this program, all passengers were urged to be on deck at 8:30, to view the wonderful scenery on the shores of Pine Lake, a side trip arranged by Captain Anderson of the North American (which, however, was not effected, owing to the fears of the boat line's manager, who was on board, that the vessel would have difficulty in making the channel at the railroad bridge).

At nine a. m., all golf enthusiasts reported to a committeeman in charge of this activity and were whisked away in cars to the golf grounds. The balance of the party were conducted on an auto tour of the city and surrounding territory, visiting the Loeb Farms, Pine Point, Two Mile Point and Charlevoix County Nurseries at Ironton, under the guidance of the chamber of commerce and realtors of Charlevoix.

From nine a. m. to four p. m., the delegates took advantage of a bright, warm day to try out our bathing beaches. Luncheon was served on board the boat at noon, those so disposed played cards and at three o'clock, William P. Heyns, former world's champion diver, gave an exhibition of his skill from the prow of the North American. The vessel sailed for the north at four p. m., the passengers having nothing further to look forward to except supper and an elaborate musical program, scheduled for eight p. m. on the ship's forward cabin deck.

Nothing, apparently, occurred to mar the pleasure of the realtors' stay in this city and many expressed their satisfaction at the treatment they had been accorded and the appreciation of the town's beauties and advantages to members of the local committees.

STEPPED IN FRONT OF CAR TO DEATH

Resort Employee Meets Her End in Petoskey Accident

Mrs. Ula Brown, a colored woman employed at the Williams cottage in Bay View, was fatally injured when she stepped in the path of an automobile near the Bay View station Sunday evening. The accident occurred at 6:45 and Mrs. Brown was taken to Petoskey hospital, where she died at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Brown, who was going to the Bay View station to meet friends, walked around the automobile in which she had been riding and stepped immediately in front of a south-bound car driven by Harold Black, of Petoskey. The auto stopped within six feet of the accident.

Four children survive. The remains will be taken to Ft. Dodge, Texas, for burial.

COUNTY SOLONS ARE IN SESSION

WILL SIT AS BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

Committees Appointed, Among Them One to Inspect Perry Whiting Park Gift

The supervisors opened their regular summer session at the Court House Monday morning, sitting as a board of equalization for Charlevoix county road taxation. This work is expected to take up much of their time for the first few days of the session.

During Monday's proceedings, a motion was made by Supervisor Rose and seconded by Supervisor Cook, to the effect that a committee of five be appointed by the chairman to investigate the proposal of Perry Whiting, of Los Angeles, to dedicate to the County of Charlevoix a tract of one hundred ninety acres, lying for one half mile along Pine Lake, on the south side of the main arm, between Boyne City and Ironton and described in the recorded motion as, "the lands known as the Whiting property, located on section 19 and 20, Town 33, north of range 6, west." The tract includes several acres of virgin timber and there are good sites for a ball park, athletic grounds and some fine stretches of bathing beach. Mr. Whiting's boyhood home was located on this property and it is with the intention of perpetuating the memory of this spot as well as in a spirit of generous well-wishing towards the community in which he lived for so many years, that the gift is made.

The committee, consisting of Supervisors, Vaughn, Hipp, Rose, Wangeman and William J. Gallagher, left Tuesday by automobile to look the tract over and make their report as to the advisability of its acceptance (the gift being conditioned on the spending by the county of $1,000.00 for improvement this year) not later than the October session of the board.

Committees to take up the work of various departments of the board's work were appointed Monday and are as follows:

Claims—
W. J. Gallagher, Nassau Burns, Howard C. Stephens, Lillie Gardner, A. Heller.

Settle with County Treasurer—
Jas. M. Milford, Geik C. Geiken, Clarence Bowman, Howard C. Stephens, Raymond Stafford.

Settle with Supts. of Poor—
H. E. Hutton, Agnes Lorch, Bert Woodward, Bernard Stephens, W. H. Cook.

Equalization—
Jay Adams, Simon Rose, C. C. Schaub, Wm. D. Gallagher, Wm. F. Bashaw, H. E. Hutton, J. M. Milford.

Apportionment—

CITY INSTITUTES A NEW STOP ORDINANCE

East-Bound Cars Must Halt At Bridge St. Corners

Sometime Thursday or Friday next, a new city ordinance, relative to the control of traffic, will go into effect.

This ordinance provides that all cars travelling east on Park, Clinton, Mason and Antrim Streets shall come to a full stop at a certain distance from the intersection of those streets with Bridge Street before entering the latter. Stop signs will be erected at the proper points and two men will be stationed at the busiest street intersections to see that the order is complied with and to otherwise regulate the traffic.

In addition to this, parking on the side streets, just off from Bridge Street, will be controlled by a parking space, marked on the pavement, with the upper end open. Cars parking near the corner of Bridge street on any of the above named cross streets must enter this space and park broadside to the curb within the white line.

ALL READY FOR THE BIG FOURTH

PROGRAM BEST IN MANY YEARS HERE

Continuous Round of Interesting Events Should Make the Day Long Remembered

The program for the Fourth of July celebration in Charlevoix this year is practically complete and, with possibly a few minor changes, will stand as follows:

10:00 a. m.—Patriotic meeting in city park.

11:00 a. m.—Coast Guard drill at station.

12:00 to 1:00—Lunch.

1:00 p. m.—Races on Bridge Street.

Boys, 100 yd. dash—$3, $2, $1.

Men's, 100 yd. dash—$3, $2, $1.

Fat Men's 100 yd. dash—$3, $2, and $1.

Boys Sack race—$3, $2, $1.

Men's 3-legged race—$4, $2, $1.

Relay—3 men—220 yds. each—$6.00 first.

2:30 to 4:00 p. m.—Base Ball—East Jordan vs. Charlevoix at base ball park.

4:30 to 5:30 p. m.—Boxing—4 big bouts. Battle royal by 7 colored gentlemen at amphitheatre.

5:30 to 7:30 p. m.—Supper.

8:00 to 9:00 p. m.—Street dancing on pavement.

9:00 p. m.—Fire works.

The patriotic program, to be given in the park on Lake Michigan at ten a. m., has been prepared by the W. C. T. U. and will include the following numbers:

America—Rev. C. W. Long, musical director.

Declaration of Independence—Dr. F. P. McMillan.

Invocation—Rev. H. R. E. Quant.

Oration, "Respect to the Flag"—Miss Inith Geneit.

Address—Rev. H. P. Hoskins.

Patriotic Exercises—Five girls.

Closing song—"America the Beautiful."

MICHIGAN ALUMNI BANQUET HERE TODAY

Local Body Addressed by Judge Mandell, Detroit

The Charlevoix University of Michigan Alumni Club held its regular monthly dinner at Hallett's Inn, today at noon.

Judge Mandell, of Detroit, who is temporarily occupying Judge Mayne's bench in the Thirteenth District, was a guest of the club. Among those present were Kayo Butters, Robert Bridge, Lisle Shanahan, A. L. Fitch, A. E. Mason, W. W. Mitchell, George Beeman and Franklin Weaver.

Bert Now Safe
Bert Rinchart, a local character and chronic occupant of the county jail, was recently committed to the State Hospital at Traverse City, following a vicious outbreak in that city, while he was being taken to the jail in a sedan, in which he succeeded in "smashing the daylight" out of the back end of the car.

WORK PROGRESSES ON EXCHANGE

INSTALLING CREWS MAKING GOOD TIME

Task of Changing From Magneto to Battery System One of Herculean Proportions

In anticipation of the new common battery telephone system, now in process of installation for the Charlevoix exchange, which will scrap the old magneto equipment and change methods of switchboard operation, five of the local operators have been selected to take special training in the workings of the new system.

In order to do this, they have been sent to towns in which the common battery system is now in use, the two nearest being Cadillac and Cheboygan. The Misses Reta Hebert and Hazel Maschow visited the Cheboygan exchange and spent last week there. The Misses Anna McCann, Irene Halverson and Lottie Ager went to Cadillac. All the novitiates returned Saturday to their duties here.

In a conversation with H. J. Johnston, manager of the Michigan State Telephone Company's Petoskey exchange, the other day, the Courier representative learned something of the difficulties attending the installation of the new system. Every telephone connected with the Charlevoix exchange must be replaced with a new and improved type of instrument, fitted with a condenser. The advantage of the new system is that, heretofore, using the magneto type of electrification, wires might be grounded and communications cut off without the slightest inkling of what the trouble might be reaching headquarters. With the common battery type of equipment, any grounding of wires causes the drop signal on the exchange switchboard for that particular wire to operate just as though a call were being rung, giving a continuous signal and warning the chief operator of a ground at some point on the wire.

Mr. Johnston stated that the job of the outside crew would really be of greater size and length from now on than that of the switchboard and exchange equipment installers. Every telephone cable, wire and instrument must be thoroughly tested and, if any defects develop, it may often be necessary to take out the wire and make new connections all the way through to the switchboard. The work will be pushed with all speed, however, and with as little inconvenience to subscribers as possible, although, it may be necessary in some cases for subscribers to share a party line for a time.

Charlevoix, Mr. Johnston says, has long been considered one of the worst exchanges, from a mechanical standpoint, in the entire state. Boyne City and Petoskey he placed in the same category. The question of a new exchange for Charlevoix was brought up ten years ago, but conditions did not appear favorable for the change at that time, nor, until recently, when money has been appropriated for the work—some $50,000.00 for Charlevoix exchange, alone. Petoskey's turn comes next and when Boyne City's telephone system is renovated, the service in this end of the state will be nearly approximate perfection as any combination of brains, money and labor can make it.

SAM HAMILTON IS AN EXPERT OARSMAN

Awarded Certificate by Government Marine Inspectors

Sam Hamilton, local harbor master and marine builder, has been awarded a certificate of proficiency, as expert oarsman—one of three men who hold this certificate on the east shore of the Great Lakes district.

This certificate was presented to Mr. Hamilton by marine inspectors Gellick and Eeklund, of Grand Haven, on a recent visit to this city and entitles Mr. Hamilton to the command of a lifeboat, in times of shipwreck, on any vessel sailing the lakes.

Business Contact and Good Telephone Service

The Manager of your Telephone Exchange is responsible for a good business relationship between you and the Telephone Company.

He is responsible to you for the proper billing for your service. In spite of the many safeguards used throughout the telephone billing system, errors and misunderstandings sometimes occur, but when they do, the Manager wants to know about them and to correct them. You never will find him arbitrary.

In case of error, take your bill to the manager. If he is absent, there are in his department trained men and women who will receive you courteously and will adjust any misunderstanding.

Cooperation on your part will help the telephone people render efficient service. Bills paid promptly are dealt with easily and opportunity for error is greatly lessened.

The Telephone Manager and his representatives are anxious to maintain a good, clear-cut business relationship with all subscribers.

Cherry Leaf Beetle Causing Serious Damage

The following article is contributed by the Department of Entomology of the Michigan Agricultural College. If you are growing cherries, few or many, read this article.

The cherry leaf-beetle or "cherry galerucella" as it is sometimes called, is a springtime pest in Michigan, confining its attacks for the most part, to the northern half of the state. As the name indicates, this insect gets the greater portion of its food from the cherry, the pin or fire-cherry being its principal breeding place. From the wild cherries it migrates to the commercial varieties of cherry, peach and plum.

This insect is a small, dark-red beetle, a little less than a quarter of an inch in length, oval in shape with dark markings on its legs. For the past three years this pest has been gaining in prominence, becoming one of the worst enemies of the cultivation cherry in the north. These insects, if not checked when numerous, will completely riddle the foliage. Both the adults and the larvae feed on the undersides of the leaves, eating small, irregular holes in their under surfaces and sometimes through the entire leaves. These holes may be so close together that the leaves present a skeletonized appearance, showing work similar to that done by the rose or pear-slug. Such leaves dry and fall to the ground, sometimes even defoliating the entire tree. The fruit is also injured, although not to the same extent as the leaves. The beetle eats a little of the surface, scarring it so that the fruit becomes unsightly and easily rots. It has been observed that this pest has a preference for weak or unhealthy trees. An unhealthy limb on a tree is more attractive to the adult beetles than a healthy limb. These beetles feed at first on the lower branches of the tree. There are two generations each year, the first generation appearing on the foliage in the latter part of May or the first of June, the second in September, these latter being the ones that hibernates over winter.

The cherry leaf-beetle is a native of Michigan, its natural food being the wild varieties of cherry such as the pin-cherry (Prunus Pennsylvanica). However, the advent of the cultivated cherry into the northern part of the state, has tempted this pest to include the latter in its bill of fare.

The adult beetles pass the winter several inches below the surface of the ground. Emerging from hibernation in the spring they feed again for a time, mate, and the females deposit their eggs. In less than two weeks these eggs hatch, and the larvae require about the same length of time to become full grown. They then burrow a short distance in the ground, pass their pupal stage, and, in from two to three weeks after entering the ground, the adult beetles appear. These feed until the weather compels them to seek shelter for the winter.

Control

Inasmuch as these beetles breed for the most part, on the wild or pin cherry which thrives in out-of-the-way and neglected places, here would be a good place to start controlling the pest. In many instances these trees grow at a distance from the orchard, rendering the control of this insect all the more difficult. It might be advisable for several growers to cooperate, should this become a permanent pest. On the cultivated cherry a spray of arsenate of lead, three pounds to a barrel of water, will be found to be efficient.

Now, the cherry leaf-beetle is not a difficult insect to control if one takes it in time. The difficulty arises from the fact that the creatures make their first attack at the time when the cherries are well along in size and continue to work through the time of coloring of the fruit. One hesitates to spray with poison after the fruit is of good size, because of the danger to man and to birds, and, therefore, one is forced to watch very carefully and to spray once for all on the first appearance of the beetle, before the fruit attains much size, trusting the poison will stick to the foliage and kill the main army of beetles when it appears.

300 Bushel Potato Club

The Michigan Potato Growers' Exchange wishes to encourage better potato culture methods that will raise the standard of potato production in Michigan. It is believed that the "300 Bushel Potato Club" will be an effective means for accomplishing the desired results.

Membership in the "300 Bushel Potato Club" is confined to growers whose potatoes are certified by the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange.

The acreage listed in the "300 Bushel Potato Club" must be listed for inspection and certification, and must pass all inspections in order to qualify in the club.

Those growers who produce 300 bushels or more of potatoes per acre on an area of at least two continuous acres will be qualified for membership in the club. Medals or other appropriate insignia of merit will be awarded those who qualify for membership.

The conditions and the yields of the fields listed in the "300 Bushel Potato Club" will be reported to the general manager of the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange by disinterested persons, who will be authorized to secure the data.

One MILLION Cars

MORE than one million automobiles now have been built and sold by Willys-Overland.

Many of these Overlands and Willys-Knights are playing a tremendous part in the life of our own community—putting our families on swift wheels—multiplying the earning power of our men—lightening the work of our women—carrying our children to school—bringing our people together.

Today's Overland and Willys-Knight cars are the best automobiles Willys-Overland ever built—and are sold at the lowest price. All past achievements are excelled in beauty, comfort and performance—in the giving of real value.

Reflecting such quality, sales this season are the greatest in our history. The public has registered its appreciation of great value.

Certified Seed Potato Growers Attention

No doubt every potato grower who grew certified seed last year has noticed with interest and curiosity that there will be two organizations receiving applications for inspection and certification service for the coming year in the certified seed potato industry.

These two organizations are the Michigan Potato Producer's Association and the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange.

Your humble servant, the county agent, has digested as thoroughly as possible the rules and regulations governing the certification of potatoes in each of these two organizations. This office is being constantly consulted as to which organization to line up with. It would seem that with the two organizations that any grower ought to encounter satisfaction this year. The most apparent difference as found by this investigation of the two organizations are as follows:

1. The Michigan Potato Producer's Association states in their rules and regulations that certified seed must be planted in order to have potatoes certified this year.

2. The Potato Producer's Association assumes no responsibility in the marketing of the potatoes, although it is understood that the grower will have the co-operation of the Michigan State Farm Bureau (Continued on page seven)

HAS NEW MACHINE— IT ALMOST THINKS

Burroughs' Posters at County Bank
A Marvel

The County Bank has recently invested in one of the most interesting pieces of machinery that we have seen for a long time. It is a burroughs Motor Return Posting Machine and the blamed thing is almost human.

Nearly every operation, outside of pressing the button to start the electric motor that runs the machine, is automatic, the main feature being the carriage return that eliminates the tiring work of pushing the carriage back to the starting point by hand at the end of each posting. The machine subtracts as well as adds and marks the latest development in Burroughs bookkeeping machines.

The Bank purchased the poster with a view to giving its customers better service and at the machine cost about as much as three Fords put together, they must be very much in earnest about this. If you have time, and the Bank has time at the time you come in, the officials will be glad to explain the workings of the machine. It is certainly interesting.

CAN'T SWIM—WALKS OFF CHANNEL BANK

Boys' City Youth Drowns Near Holy Island

Reven Cole Boyer, nineteen, son of John Boyer, of Boyne City, Saturday left the farm where he had been working and when he failed to return Sunday morning, a search was made.

His clothing was found on Holy Is.

land, about one half mile from the farm. The searchers, deciding that he must have been drowned, called the Charlevoix Coast Guard station and Captain Francis Partridge sent two of his men.

They dragged Sunday and Monday and recovered the body, Tuesday morning, in shallow water. Coroner F. F. McMillan examined the body and found no signs of foul play. It is believed that Boyer, who was unable to swim, went in bathing and walked over the channel bank. The body was taken to Boyne City for burial.

FORD NEARLY TOO MUCH FOR THE STAR

Henry Hits Antagonist A Vicious
Wallop in the Wind

Last Sunday night a Ford touring car, manned by a party from East Jordan, sadly in need of instructions as to rules of the road, crashed into a Star sedan, driven by Miss Grace Papineau, of Antrim street, at the corner of Bridge and Park Avenue, smashing the fender and running board of the Star and nearly tipping it over.

Miss Papineau was proceeding north on Bridge Street, with the right of way over everything coming from the west. The Ford shot into Bridge street from Park Avenue, the driver seemingly paying no attention to cars approaching in any direction, and took the Star sedan nearly amidships. Fortunately, no one was hurt. The axle twisted on the Ford and the radius rods bent.

LYMAN E. BARBER IS DEAD AT AGE SEVENTY

Well Known Resident Will Be Buried at Peru, N. Y.

Lyman E. Barber, agent for Mrs. Martha Ayres, prominent landholder of this city, and for twenty-four years a resident of Charlevoix, died at his home in this city on Monday, June 25th.

Mr. Barber was born in Peru, N. Y., August 23, 1852, and was 70 years and ten months old at the time of his death. For the past fifteen years he has lived in the Mason Street residence. He leaves, as his only surviving relatives, three sisters and a brother.

Funeral services were held at the house Tuesday afternoon at one thirty o'clock, Rev. H. R. E. Quant officiating. This morning, Mrs. Ayres left with the body for Peru, where interment will be made. Mrs. Ayres will visit a sick sister in Plattsburg, some eighteen miles from Peru and will remain there some little time. Both Mrs. Ayres and Mr. Barber formerly lived at Peru.

A FORMER RESIDENT HAS GOOD POSITION

Archie Miller Writes He Is Well Fixed

D. S. Payton, deputy city clerk, recently received a letter from Los Angeles, Cal., written on the stationery of the sheriff of Los Angeles county, from Archie Miller, a former Charlevoix boy, in which he says: "Am now county jailer on the four to midnight shift, or rather, night jailer. It is a civil service position and is not mixed up in politics—thank the good Lord. We have 550 prisoners, 50 turnkeys, office help, etc., and three jailers—one for each shift, the chief jailer being on eight to four."

Mr. Miller, whose address is 3972 La Salle Avenue, Los Angeles, California, is a son of Bob Miller, well-known in this county for many years as one of the county's superintendents of the poor. He married one of the Orvis girls and served both in Cuba and Porto Rico during the Spanish-American war.

FOWLER TAKES LOEB FARMS CLERICAL JOB

His Father Will Conduct Insurance Business

Forrest Fowler, who is conducting an insurance business in the building on Bridge street, jointly occupied by his father and himself, started work at the Loeb Farms a week ago last Friday as bookkeeper and general clerk for the Farms and has already moved his family to their new location on the Loeb property.

M. R. Fowler, who operates a taxi and garage service, has been licensed to take care of his son's insurance business in the latter's absence and with his advisory cooperation.

Ald. Hallett offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, seconded by Ald. Marshall:

Potoskey Avenue Extension Sewer

Resolved by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, that the bid of Henry D. Marshall for the construction of a sewer in that part of Potoskey Avenue lying between Burns Avenue and Prospect Street in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor on file, and being in the total sum of $441.00, be accepted and placed on file, and that the Mayor and City Clerk be authorized to enter into contract for the construction of the improvement in accordance therewith, and said bid being the lowest bid received for such construction, except that such contract be made subject to the confirmation of the roll of a special assessment herein provided for.

Resolved further, that the estimate of cost of construction of such sewer, including all specified attachment, be amended to read in the sum of $528.00, the said amended sum including the cost of plans, surveys, profiles and supervision.

Resolved further, that a special sewer district be, and hereby is designated for the purposes of construcing such sewer and providing for the defraying of the cost thereof, and described as follows: All lots, parts of lots, lands and premises abutting on that part of Potoskey Avenue above designated, which district is deemed to include the lands to be benefited by the construction of such sewer.

Resolved further, that the cost of construction of such sewer according to said amended estimate, namely the sum of $528.00, be borne and defrayed as follows:

1st. That one-sixth of such cost, namely the sum of $88.00, be borne and paid out of the general sewer fund of said city.

2nd. That the remainder of such cost, namely the sum of $440.00, be borne and paid by the owners of the lands included in the aforesaid sewer district, according to benefits, and to be met by a special assessment on the lands hereinbefore described according to such benefits, as provided by law.

Resolved further, that the Board of Special Assessors, be and hereby are directed and required to meet in the council rooms in said city, on Tuesday, the 26th day of June, 1923, at two o'clock p. m. of said day, for the purpose of making the aforesaid special assessment, and to spread the said sum of $440.00 upon the lands included in the said special assessment district according to such roll and upon completion of such roll to file the same in the office of the City Clerk.

Resolved further, that the City Clerk be, and hereby is directed to deliver to said board of special assessment a copy of this resolution together with the plans, maps and map of said sewer district on file in his office for the use of said board.

Adopted at a regular meeting of the Common Council held in the council rooms in said city, the 25th day of June, 1923, by aye and nay votes as follows: Ayes—Ald. Bridge, Eckinger, Hallett, Livingston, Marshall. Nays—none.

A. Bergeon, Mayor.
Chas. H. Lamphreigh, City Clerk.

On motion of Ald. Eckinger the council adjourned.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Edwin Rebedow and Bertha
M. Rebedow, his wife, of Marion Township, Charlevoix County, Michigan, to Rolo & Co., Matchett of Marion Township, Charlevoix County, Michigan, dated the 21st day of February, A. D. 1919, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, on page 312, in Liber of Mortgages, on page 312, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the sum of Four hundred thirty-six Dollars and Sixteen Cents, and an Attorney's fee of Fifteen Dollars, provided for in said mortgage, and no proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof:

Now, Therefore, By virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on the 31st day of August, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, I shall sell at Public Auction to the highest bidder, at the Front Door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix, Michigan, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for said County of Charlevoix is held,) said County of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagor, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, on the twenty-second day of March, 1919, in Liber forty of mortgages on page two hundred and forty-six, and the second certain mortgage dated November 15, 1920, was given by Norman
W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, on the twenty-second day of March, 1919, in Liber
forty of mortgages on page two hundred and forty-six, and the second certain mortgage dated November 15, 1920, was given by Norman
W. Smith and Janet Smith, husband and wife of Charlevoix, Michigan, as mortgagors, to the Charlevoix State
Savings Bank, a corporation, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, on the fifth day of May, 1921, in Liber forty of mortgages on page four hundred and nineteen; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said first mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Six hundred and Forty-two Dollars, principal and interest, and Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee as provided for by said mortgage; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said second mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Eleven Hundred and Forty-nine Dollars and Twenty-three cents, principal and interest, and the sum of Twenty-five Dollars as an Attorney fee provided for by said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the money by either of said mortgages or any part thereof.
Now, therefore, notice is given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgages and of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgages will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due thereon of the said mortgages of principal and interest, together with the costs and expenses of foreclosure the Attorney fees therein provided for, at Public Auction to the highest bidder thereon, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held), on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day. The premises described in said mortgages being described as follows: to-wit: In said first mortgage, the South West quarter of Section Thirty-four (34) Township Thirty-four (34) North of Range Eight (8) West, containing Forty (40) acres of land more or less, according to the government survey thereof; and in said second mortgage, the West half of the South East quarter of Section Thirty-four
(34) Township thirty-four (34)
North of Range eight (8) west containing twenty (20) acres more or less, according to the government survey thereof; both said descriptions being located in the Township of Mrs. Albert LaLonde and little daughter, Peggy, and June Pearl Orvis of Flint, are on a visit with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Anna LaLonde and her brother and sisters, the Orvis family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Spidel and daughter, Florence, and son, Everett, of Eveline, Harold Byers, of Charlevoix, and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery and son, Leo, of Bellaire, were last Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Garret Steenhagen.

WILDWOOD

Lester Hosler is driving a new Ford car he recently purchased.

IT takes hold. It grips hard. Its high, thick, sharp-edged blocks put up a wedge-like resistance to skidding. It is the maximum safety, traction and long wear you can put under your car—the reinforced, beveled All-Weather Tread of the new Goodyear Cord Tire.

As Goodyear Service Station Dealers we sell and recommend the new Goodyear Cord with the beveled All-Weather Tread and back them up with standard Goodyear Service.

Miss Helen McElroy spent the week end with friends at Wildwood.

S. W. Miller returned from Ann Arbor Hospital on Monday, where he went for treatment last week.

Mrs. Jennie Brooks returned Saturday, from Pleasant Valley, where she has been visiting cousins for a couple of weeks.

W. S. Grant entertained a party of friends over the week at Wildwood, who returned to their homes in Detroit, Tuesday.

Robt. H. Gentry and son, James, left on Saturday morning for their home in Detroit, after spending a two week's vacation here.

"Jack" Smith, the commissioner of highways in Banks township, was looking over road work being done in this vicinity on Monday.

Word received by relatives of Mrs. Dunen Crawford says she is classified at Ypsilanti for the summer school term, beginning Monday, June 25th.

ATWOOD

Lots of apples this year. Days are getting shorter.

Go to Charlevoix the 4th of July. Warm and dry weather is injuring the radish crop very bad.

Have you seen the new ice cream parlor at Klooster & Co.'s store?

and the assistance of the office of the Michigan Potato Producer's Association in the marketing of their certified seed. The Michigan Potato Producer's Association does not endeavor to control or direct the sale of the certified seed in any way whatsoever.

1. The Michigan Potato Grower's Exchange at Cadillac, in their rules and regulations, does not say that certified seed must be planted, however in conversation with any of the officials they state that it is understood that certified seed or high grade seed must be planted.

2. The Michigan Potato Grower's Exchange at Cadillac requires that all seed certified through that organization must be pooled. Accounts to be settled in December and June. Certificates of inspection will be issued by the Michigan Potato Grower's Exchange at time of sale only. The issuing of certificates will be confined to the members of local organizations and to members of the Michigan State Farm Bureau.

Rules and regulations for the Michigan Potato Producer's Association and the Michigan Potato Grower's Exchange may be secured from each organization or from the county agent at the county Farm Bureau office at Boyne City.

Perhaps the most concrete and vital importance between the two organizations is this:—If you do not want to assume the responsibility of selling your own potatoes, but would rather pool them, the Michigan Potato Grower's Exchange will afford you this selling service. If you have your market and sell your own potatoes independently, the Michigan Potato Producers' Association will afford you this privilege. Consider your condition and sign up accordingly.

AT THE MOVIES

In "Clarence" William de Mille adds to his many screen achievements that of successfully directing an entirely humorous picture. Proof of this will be emphatically forthcoming when his latest production, an adaptation of Booth Tarkington's play, "Clarence," comes to the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. The picture carries a fine message, despite the fact that it is a comedy.

Tom Mix and his famous horse "Tony" are only together for a short time in their latest William Fox picture "Stepping Fast," which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre July 4th. This story calls for world-wide action and carries Tom to China where he engages in a series of thrilling fights, and back again to the ruins of the cliff-dwellers in the Arizona Desert.

FOURTH MARKS REAL OPENING

SUMMER SEASON NOW BEGINS IN EARNEST

Hotel Registers Show Normal Bookings and Weather Conditions Are O. K.

Calamity howlers, who have been predicting a poor resort season for this region, on account of the late arrival of warm weather, have failed to take into account the fact that July 4th really marks the beginning of the summer's activities.

Our warm weather has already arrived and with it the usual quota of summer visitors, overruling fully as many as at this time in previous years.

At the Beach Hotel, about one hundred guests have signed the register and bookings for accommodations are practically solid—every room having been engaged for some period of the summer season. This well-known hostelry, which employs from seventy-five to one hundred fifty people; during the height of its season has been extensively improved in various departments and was never in better condition to afford first class service to its patrons. Through numerous important changes in the lay-out of the kitchen, pantries and storerooms, the serving of meals has been greatly expedited. Deliveries of most of the supplies for the hotel, which were formerly made at the front of the building, have been diverted to its rear and the material is now received on the ground floor, where the storerooms, ice-houses, bins, etc., are located, thus eliminating much of the handling that was formerly necessary.

An interesting feature, though not connected particularly with the service, is the striking portrait of Mrs. Martha Baker, founder and late proprietor of the new Beach Hotel, executed by H. H. Betts, an artist who has spent several summers in this region, painting the likenesses of several prominent people. This picture hangs over the fireplace in the lobby of the hotel and adds much to its attractiveness.

The Inn opened on Sunday, July 1st, with twenty-five guests. A considerable number of regular patrons are expected today and in addition to these, officials of the Addressograph Company, of Chicago, are holding their annual convention at the hotel from the 5th to the 7th, inclusive.

According to the management, the season's prospects are excellent. The hotel has been redecorated and repainted this spring and presents a delightfully cool and inviting atmosphere. Between seventy-five and one hundred employees are now on the hotel payroll and this number will be slightly increased as the season reaches its apex. Lee's celebrated colored dance orchestra, of Washington, D. C., has been engaged to furnish music for the dancing and concerts.

At the opening of the Belvedere, on June 25th, a goodly number of guests were registered and the Fourth of July supper was enjoyed by the guests of the hotel, as well as the cottagers of the summer colony. All of the cottages belonging to the Charlevoix Summer Home Association are occupied, or will be within the next few days. The casino will open for its first night with the American Legion dance, on Friday evening, with Frank Winegar's famous orchestra furnishing the music.

KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT YOUR AUTO COVERAGE

What do you know about that fine print in your auto insurance policy? Nothing at all. We thought as much. Two motorists whose cars have been in recent accidents were not covered and yet both owners were under the impression their policies covered the mishaps in question. A faulty tire threw a Ford into an abutment and the car turned bottom side up but the policy on this machine did not provide for a collision with an immovable object and yet this is a common accident. A motorcycle ran into a Buick head-on the other day but the policy didn't cover collisions as the owner supposed it did. You may be next so we suggest you understand your policies before instead of after. "Better be safe than sorry."

At a concert held last spring, at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, at which orchestras from Princeton, Dartmouth and other large Eastern universities competed, the University of Pennsylvania won first honors and the sextette which is to play at the Belvedere this summer enjoyed a trip to Europe, as the reward of their efforts, all the players being U. of P. freshmen. They left May 10th, on the S. S. President Wilson, for the Mediterranean, stopping at Algiers, where they were entertained and were entertained by the Sultan, himself. Their first stop on the continent was Trieste, where they enquired for Venice, going from there to Rome, where they had audience with the Pope, then on to Naples, returning by the way of Milan and Florence. They were also in Greece and Jugoslavia. The trip consumed seven weeks and in each principal city on their itinerary they played at the leading hotels and vaudeville houses, where American jazz, played by an American orchestra, was decidedly a novelty.

During the past year, the sextette has been playing for the Edison records, Charles Kerr's Pennsylvania and Gimbel's radio broadcasting station W-L-P, at Philadelphia. This is Mr. Winegar's fourth season at Charlevoix. His first appearance here was with Julius Stein of Chicago, and for the past three years he has brought his own orchestra.

The sextette will play only two nights a week at the Belvedere and will be open for engagements on other evenings to play at the larger subscription dances and the more important social affairs of the resort season.

STOP ORDINANCE WORKING WELL

SPEEDING CHECKED BY FREQUENT ARRESTS

Traffic Conditions Stabilizing Themselves Satisfactorily Here

The "Stop" signs at the intersections of Park Avenue, Clinton, Mason and Antrim Streets with Bridge Street were set up in place Monday and the work of educating the car driver to observe them has been proceeding satisfactorily under the direction of chief-of-police, W. J. Weikel.

Notice of the "Stop" ordinance has been published by word of mouth and in the press and there is now no excuse, whatever, for the local driver of car or truck who disobeys the warning sign. Strangers may be shown more lenience, but as such signs are almost universally in use in towns of any size, they are presumably accustomed to traffic regulations of this nature and should fall quickly in line. The ordinance is a good one, designed for the safety of all who use the streets, and should be strictly observed and enforced. It is expected that the warning signs to stop at street intersections will be assisted in their work by painting the word, "Stop", in large letters on the center of each cross-street pavement at its intersection with Bridge street. Thus, if one is watching the road ahead of his car, he cannot fail to see the big white letters in his path.

Though no publicity has heretofore been given to the work of the police in checking speeding and other traffic regulation infractions, arrests have been made right along and two or three offenders speak their little piece to Judge Stites every day in his office in the bank building.

Traffic conditions in town get a little more complicated as more of our summer visitors arrive with their cars and drivers are cautioned, as well for their own sake as that of others, to carefully observe all the regulations. Pedestrians should refrain from "jay-walking," parents keep their children off the streets and everybody cooperate to keep the toll of accidents at the lowest possible figure.

STATE LABOR LAW CHANGES

NEW LAW INTO EFFECT AFTER JULY 29TH

Some Changes Remove Employment Restrictions, Others Make Laws More Drastic

A number of changes in the state's labor laws will go into effect August 29, as the result of amendments passed by the recent legislature and signed by the governor. A complete list of the law changes of this class has been compiled by the Michigan Manufacturer's association for the information of its members.

In some instances the amendments remove restrictions on employment, while in others the laws are made more drastic. A summary of the various changes include the following:

Quarries are expressly included in all sections of the statutes having to do with employment of persons under 21 years of age.

Heretofore no child under 15 years of age could work in connection with any mine, bowling alley, billiard or pool room, theatre or passenger or freight elevator. After the new law goes into effect such labor will be prevented only during school hours.

The age at which girls are allowed to clean machinery while it is in motion or at which they may be employed in hazardous employments or where their health may be injured is reduced from 21 years to 18 years.

All vats, saws, pans and machinery of every description must be properly guarded and equipped with safety devices. Heretofore it was left to the factory inspectors as to what machinery or other equipment should be guarded.

New laws relative to illegal employment include:

No male under 18, nor girl nor woman shall be employed in any factory, warehouse, workshop, quarry, clothing, dressmaking or millinery establishment, or where goods are manufactured or prepared for manufacture or in any laundry, store, shop, mercantile establishment, office, restaurant, theater concert or music hall, hotel, or in operating elevators or street or electric railways for a period longer than an average of nine hours a day, or 54 hours any week, nor more than 10 hours any one day.

No girl under 18 years of age may be employed in any manufacturing establishment between 6 p. m. and 6 a. m.

No child under 18 may be employed in any manufacturing establishment, workshop, quarry, mine or messenger service between 6 p. m. and 6 a. m.

No child may be employed in the transmission or delivery of merchandise between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m.

GLEANER MEET WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Annual Rally Held at Inn Casino Last Week

The Gleaners of Charlevoix county want to thank the public for the cooperation and friendly assistance rendered to the organization, making possible the success of its recent rally, held at the Inn casino, on June 27th. Thanks are also due the management of the Inn, for their kind loan of the casino for the affair.

About two hundred members were present at the rally last Wednesday and the afternoon session, open to the public, was well attended. Twenty-four candidates were initiated and a very interesting program was presented, as planned, under the supervision of Mrs. Emma Cole and Edward Little, of Mt. Pleasant, degree work instructor and state manager of the Gleaner organization, respectively, assisted by H. E. Coblenz, district manager.

Three degree teams took part in the work—from Quality, Eveline and Ironton arbors. The work of the teams was exceptionally well executed, no rituals being used throughout the entire ceremony.

This rally of the Gleaners is an annual event and the next gathering, in 1924, will probably be held in the eastern part of the county.

If you have a cottage to rent for the season, see or telephone Earl A. Young, phone 275 or 584.—Adv. 13-11.

THIS VACATION IS FREE OF CHARGE

GOVERNMENT OFFERS FINE
ROUTING TO STUDENTS

Citizens Military Training Camp To Open at Camp Custer on August 1st

Captain E. N. Frakes, attached to a battalion of the Sixth Infantry, formerly located at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., and now stationed at Camp Custer, was in the city Tuesday in an endeavor to interest local service men and officers of the reserve corps in securing students for the Citizens Military Training Camp, to be held at Camp Custer, August 1st to 30th of this year. Captain Frakes drove up from Kalkaska Monday night and left Tuesday afternoon for Petoskey, where he will make a similar effort.

The camp at Custer is open to young men between the ages of seventeen and twenty-four and presents a very attractive opportunity to secure a vacation with all expenses paid and receive at the same time valuable instruction and training. The fare of the student, up to five cents a mile, is paid both ways and he is furnished board and bed, uniform and equipment, at no expense whatever to himself. After drill hours, he has an opportunity to indulge in athletics and games and in the evenings attend interesting lectures or a movie show. The government is spending about $200.00 per month on each man during his stay in camp and gives wonderful value for that expenditure in the point of building up his physique, teaching him to think and act quickly and work cooperatively with his fellows.

Entrance at the camp does not entail any further service, either actively or as a reserve, on the part of the student. It is simply an opportunity offered by the government for the study of military tactics and operations, and has no "strings" attached to it.

The meals are excellent at the camp and other conditions most favorable for the enjoyment of a vacation thus spent by those who, possibly, could not afford to take such a vacation at their own expense.

The course of instruction at the camp is divided into four sections, to take care of four different grades of students: the red, or beginner's course, for such men as have had no previous military experience whatever; the advanced course, for men who have had some military experience, but not enough to qualify them for student non-commissioned officers; the white course: for men sufficiently experienced to hold the ranks of student corporal and sergeant and the blue course: where men will be accepted who have been officers in the army, are members of the reserve corps, cadet officers at recognized military institutions, or have sufficient experience to hold the grade of student instructors.

Anyone desiring further information or application blanks should apply to Dr. W. W. Mitchell, whom Capt. Frakes has appointed to look after these matters locally.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MIDDY-TO-BE

Friends of E. K. Shanahan Wish Him Good Luck

A farewell party for Edward Kim Shanahan, who leaves to enter the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., on Friday of this week, was held at the home of his parents last Monday evening.

Twenty-four guests—all high school associates of Mr. Shanahan, were present and refreshments were served in the Ten Kitchen, across the street, where the high school colors of red and white were carried out in the decorations, white flowers and red candles being used. Dancing at the Shanahan residence on Clinton Street followed. The house was very attractively decorated with peonies.

The Tea Kitchen, conducted by Mrs. L. Arms, at 107 Clinton St., is open for summer business. We specialize on teas, luncheons, boat-riding and beach parties. Cooked meals arranged for on advance orders.—Adv. 27-11.

WHITING PARK NOW BELONGS TO COUNTY

Supervisors Accept Proposition to Take Land Over

The Whiting county park is now an assured fact. The supervisors in their session on Wednesday of last week voted unanimously to accept the proposition of Mr. Whiting, and as the deed had already been sent on for acceptance, all that is now necessary to close the transaction is to be assured that the document is in proper form, and when so, have it registered.

Twenty-four of our twenty-five supervisors visited the Whiting tract of land in Eveline township, and were so favorably impressed with the wonderful advantages it possessed for the purpose to which it was contemplated putting it, that the sentiment then expressed proved a barometer to the later action of the board.

A few of the supervisors favored laying the proposition on the table until the October session of the board, but when this was voted down by a substantial majority and the matter of immediate acceptance considered, the vote was as before stated, and seems to reflect the sentiment of the citizens of the entire county.

A park commission was appointed, the commissioners, in the order named to act for five, four, three, two and one, years respectively. The commissioners are:

F. O. Barden, Boyne City.
W. J. Pearson, Boyne Falls.
W. P. Porter, East Jordan.
Frank Wangeman, Eveline Twp.
S. M. Rose, Charlevoix.

LET'S GO TO BOARD MEETING

VITAL MATTERS TO BE DISCUSSED THERE

Decisions Involving Thousands of Our Own Dollars Demand
Our Presence

July 9th is the date of the annual meeting of the Charlevoix school board and it is hoped and expected that there will be a large attendance, as several very important matters are to be discussed and determined.

Three officials of the board retire at this meeting and others must be elected to take their places. These are, Rollie L. Lewis, present chairman, Dr. F. H. Wilkinson, present treasurer and L. R. Smith, who was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. F. Bridge.

It is understood that the township of Charlevoix will be represented in force and this will be well, as the matters to be taken up are of interest not only to the people of the city, but the outlying districts, as well.

The possibility of purchasing the property, west of the present high school site to Grant Street, will be examined. The purchase of this property is a necessity, if a new high school is to be built; not only for school purposes, but to afford a park and playground for the people who are renting cottages and rooms in the vicinity.

In connection with the above, it is planned to start a sinking fund to provide means for the construction of a new high school building, which must be built at some time in the future. A building that would be acceptable to Charlevoix people could not be built, if the present high cost of labor and material continues, for less than $120,000.00 to $200,000.00—probably closer to the latter figure. Present conditions offer no hope of bonding the city for even $120,000.00, but if an annual sum of $10,000.00 were placed in a sinking fund for construction, in five years there would be a nucleus of $50,000.00, or enough to start the building and insure that it would not be out of date before the bonds are paid. The limit for bonding in school districts of this class is 15 years only. The school indebtedness at this time is in the neighborhood of seven thousand dollars.

The school board handles from $48,000.00 to $60,000.00 of the people's money annually and they feel that more than fifty-two people (as at the last meeting) should turn out (continued on page eight)

The South Side Circle of the Congregational Church will hold a fancy work and baked goods sale, Friday and Saturday, July 20th and 21st.—Adv. 27-11.

BASEBALL AND ETHICS MINGLE

CLEAN SPORT MEANS CLEAN LIVING

Sunday's Game Should Mark Turning Point in Players' Attitude

Sunday's game with East Jordan league team, at the North Side ball park, was considerable of a disappointment to Charlevoix baseball fans—not the less so, because it is but one of a series of defeats suffered by the local team, since the season opened, that, in the opinion of many, were unnecessary.

The first inning was a shut-out on both sides—neither team getting a man to first. In the next inning, East Jordan got to first, but died at second. Third inning: East Jordan scored one run. Fourth and fifth: nobody scored. In the sixth, East Jordan scored two runs and in the seventh, three.

In the eighth inning, Dagwell was replaced in the pitcher's box by Enos, who held East Jordan scoreless until the end of the game. Charlevoix scored only two hits on Gunderson, who seemed to have "everything on the ball." The final score stood six to eight, in favor of the visiting team.

Baseball is a fine game—perhaps the best in our entire list of outdoor sports. Its success in any community depends on two things—its backing or financial support and the performance of the players. Here in Charlevoix, as in the rest of the league towns, the financial support has been afforded. That puts it up to the players. The backers of a team have a right to expect that the individual members of that team will put forth every effort and leave nothing undone to justify the expense that has made it possible for them to represent the community as a team.

Baseball is a game that calls for a high degree of physical effort and that presupposes physical fitness on the part of the individuals who make up the team. No man who lives the life of a roysterer and waster, even for a few hours of the day, can do justice to a ball-player's job. He is not only insuring his own failure and the defeat of his team, but he is traitor to the men who have had faith enough in him and his fellows to invest money in them.

The future of league baseball in this region is therefore squarely up to the players. If they want to maintain the confidence and retain the support of the public, both in point of financing and attendance, it behooves them to walk the straight and narrow, or else—give up and make room for someone who can and will.

RULES WHICH BATHERS SHOULD FOLLOW CLOSELY

The Illinois department of health presents some "don'ts for bathers" which are applicable to every place where there is a body of water large enough to swim in. The list includes:

"Wait at least two hours after eating before swimming."

"Don't swim if overheated."

"Don't swim if you have heart trouble."

"Don't dive without accurate knowledge of the depth of the water."

"Don't struggle if caught in a swift current or undertow; the force of the current will bring you to the surface."

"Don't wade into water with the arms over your head; you will not be ready to stroke if you fall into a hole."

"Don't lean backward when wading into the water; always be ready to fall forward."

"Don't cry for help in fun; you may some time need help and not get it."

"Don't fail to learn the Red Cross life-saving and resuscitation methods. Be capable of saving yourself and your companions."

"Don't go swimming alone unless you are an expert."

Properly indulged in, swimming is unexcelled as an enjoyable, refreshing and healthful sport. It is dangerous only when foolish or careless persons neglect the rules of common sense.

SUMMERY GOOD THINGS.

Peaches in a thousand ways would never become monotonous to most of us, for the delightful flavor only whets the appetite for more. Very ripe peaches added to the freezer of cream makes a most delectable frozen dish. Mash well and put through a sieve, as any frozen bits are undesirable in an ice or cream.

Peach Cobbler.—Butter the outside of a handless ten-cent and place in the center of a deep pudding dish. Invert. Fill the space around the cup with fresh sliced peaches sprinkled thickly with sugar. For the crust, take two cups of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one salt-spoonful of salt; sift and rub in two tablespoonfuls of butter. To three-quarters of a cup of milk add one beaten egg; mix well and roll out to cover the peaches. Bake one-half hour in a hot oven. Invert on a deep plate and the cup will be full of delicious syrup, which may be used as a sauce. Any other juicy fruit may be used in place of the peaches.

Chocolate Syrup.—For those who like the chocolate drinks, this recipe will be treasured, as it is one used by confectioners and druggists. For home use one-half this recipe will make a good supply. Bottle and keep in a cool place. Take eight ounces of cocoa, six pounds of sugar, two quarts of water, and heat until well mixed and dissolved, or heat sugar and water until dissolved, then to six ounces of glycerin add the cocoa and add both to the syrup; heat and stir, but do not boil. When using, add the chocolate syrup to hot milk or water. In making sodas, add to taste.

New Potatoes With Meat Gravy.—Select small, round, even-sized potatoes, remove a very thin peeling, arrange in a casserole, season with salt and pepper, add an onion, three branches of parsley, then pour on the hot meat broth boiling hot. Set the dish in the oven and cook until the potatoes are tender and the broth absorbed. Beef extract may be used with water if no broth is at hand.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

Standard equipment of all Paige Models includes: 6 card tires, tubes, rims. Spares mounted one each side with lock and tire cover. Motometer. Double bar spring bumpers front and rear. Luggage carrier. Combination tail and stop-light.

Automatic windshield wiper. Aluminum kick plates. Gasoline gauge on dash. Eight-day Waltham clock. Electric cigar lighter. Green glass windshield. Rear-view mirror. Snubbers front and rear. Power tire pump.

We Announce—with Pride—Paige and Jewett Motor Cars!

The Ideal Paige Is Your Ideal Car!

The new, six-cylinder, 70-horsepower Paige for 1923 is incomparably beautiful, powerful and well-appointed. Bodies are creations of ultra-fine coachwork; doubly braced, ruggedly and dependably built. Not a piece of imitation leather anywhere. Rich in the small touches of big appeal. Commodious to an extreme. Throughout the car are superior chassis features hitherto exclusive to European custom practice.

In performance the ideal Paige equals every expectation. Reserve power makes you master of every situation. Swing from 2 to 70 miles per hour in high gear. Laugh at traffic. In emergency, shift gears swiftly as your hand can move; you cannot "jerk" or "clash," however in expert. Drop from high to second at 30 miles per hour, if you wish.

A new automatic take-up for silent motor driving chains postpones adjustment indefinitely. New-type, all-steel universal joints have oil-tight, sealed-in lubrication, good for 15,000 miles. High-pressure oiling insures an ever-silent, sweet-running motor.

The new Paige is thoughtfully outfitted for utter convenience—nothing to buy but fuel and oil. Read the equipment listed at left of illustration. All instruments grouped under glass panel on walnut dash. Walnut steering wheel with finger controls. Complete from stop-light to tire-pump. Don't fail to see the Paige for yourself.

The 50-H.P. Jewett Leads the $1000 Field!

For sheer amazing performance—power for weight—staunch construction and ease of handling, Jewett has no equal. Accelerates from 5 to 25 miles in 7 seconds in high. Drive it in high at 2 to 60 miles per hour.

Two hundred pounds heavier than any comparably priced or sized car! Yet drives with finger-touch shifting of gears; steers with the lightest pressure at the wheel.

New clutch and new transmission. Shift fast as hand can move; no pause or clash. Drop from high to second at 30 miles per hour.

Tour hard and fast all day without tiring; beat any car you want to up any hill you choose. Take the worst-traffic, the longest road, with utter confidence.

Jewett's Paige-built six-cylinder motor is high-pressure-oiled. Every 46 seconds a gallon of oil is forced to all crankshaft and connecting rod bearings. All-steel, oil-tight, new-type universal joints have sealed-in lubrication good for 15,000 miles. Ball-bearing steering spindles give instant, effortless steering. Rugged, six-inch frame, Paige-Timken axles and 2805-pound weight tell Jewett's sturdiness.

We say to the man with $500 to $1500 to put into his car: Investigate Jewett Six thoroughly before you buy any car. Judge it for yourself; drive it; ride in it; test it every way possible. Put it through all its performance paces. Then decide!

Both Paige and Jewett are breaking all previous sales-records. They are doing it on sheer extra value and merit. Come in and see the line before you buy, and rest your case on facts of performance!

GOOD YEAR

REFRIGERATORS

There are refrigerators, good refrigerators and best refrigerators, the Leonard is of the later class. Do you ask why?—It is on account of its scientific construction. Made by men who have been making refrigerators for nearly half a century, and who have made every improvement possible to make a sanitary, food preserving refrigerator. The plant occupies 20 acres of ground and produces 150,000 refrigerators annually. The largest plant of this kind in the world. The construction consists of eleven walls as follows: 1st—outside case of wood; 2nd—wool felt; 3rd—air space; 4th—water proof sheathing; 5th—polar felt; 6th—water proof sheathing; 7th—wool felt; 8th—water proof sheathing; 9th—inside wood case; 10th—air space; 11th—porcelain or galvanized iron lining.

Aside from the construction of the case, the utmost care is taken in the interior construction. The Leonard latest patent waste and trap pipe, the all-metal ice rack, and open wire mesh shelves, allowing free passage of air, taken all together makes the Leonard the best refrigerator made.

MOST DESIRABLE POULTRY FLAVOR

Much Depends on Distribution of Both Flesh and Masses of Fat Over Carcass.

FLESH OF FEMALE IS Milder

Exercise Toughens Fibers and Connective Tissues and Lessens Amount of Fat—Do Not Feed Fowls
Onions or Garlic.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Desirable quality in the flesh of poultry intended for table use depends on the flavor of the flesh; on the texture; on the amount of flesh in proportion to the weight of the bird; and on the distribution of both the flesh and the larger masses of fat over the carcass. Other things being equal, the flesh of the females usually is milder than that of the males, say home economic specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.
Caponizing makes the flavor of cocks more delicate, tends to produce finer and less tough muscle fibers, and increases the size of the masses of meat, especially in the breast.

Effects of Age on Flavor.

Age tends to increase flavor, at first advantageously, but later usually, dis-advantageously. Most very young birds have a flavor too mild to be satisfactory for stewing or friessing, but make splendid eating as broilers or fryers. The delicacy of flavor usually is lost in decidedly old birds. As the bird grows older, the proportion of flesh to bone usually increases, at least up to the period of full maturity. Often the large masses of flesh found on such birds can be utilized more satisfactorily than the smaller ones found on young and scrawny chickens.

Exercise affects the flavor and texture of poultry flesh, as in any kind of meat. It toughens the fibers and the connective tissues, and lessens the amount of fat. It may also affect the distribution of flesh on the carcass increasing the naturally strong, tough muscles rather than the less-used, tender ones. In some birds, notably chickens, the exercise can be controlled. Almost any poultry, however, can safely be penned for a few days before killing.

The difference between the flesh of a plump chicken and of a lean one of similar kind and age is due principally to the fat present. The skill of the fattener, from the consumer's standpoint, lies not only in producing the desirable amount of fat at the least expense for food and care, but also in getting the fat well distributed through the flesh rather than merely in masses within the carcass or under the skin. Such large masses have little value for table purposes, and unless they are carefully saved and used for cooking they are practically wasteful. When the amount of flesh is increased by the fat between the fibers the proportion of edible material is increased, and the larger masses of meat make better portions in serving.
The quality of the flesh is also improved.

Importance of Special Feeding.
Chickens fattened on a mash of grain and milk acquire a delicate flavor. Special feeding often imparts a of the Masses of Meat, Especially in the Breast.

very desirable flavor. This is found in canvasback ducks, for example, which are considered at their best when they have fed on wild celery.
Celery and chestnuts sometimes are used to give turkey flesh a special flavor. Birds intended for table use should not be allowed to eat onions or wild garlic habitually, because the sulphur compounds in these plants pass over into the flesh and give it a taste objectionable to most persons.

COAL ASHES AS FERTILIZER

Their Use Is Mainly to Loosen Up Soil and Make It More Workable—
Most Useful on Clay.

Coal ashes have little value as fertilizer, their use being mainly to loosen the soil and make it more workable.
They are most valuable on heavy clay soil, but should be screened to take out coarse material before they are applied, and should be spread evenly over the surface and thoroughly mixed with the soil. Wood ashes have fertilizing value, but should be applied before they become leached.

GOOD TREATMENT PAYS BEST

Most Profitable Beef Animal Is One That Has Capacity to Eat and Produce Meat.

W. H. Peters, professor of animal husbandry at University farm, emphasizes the fact that the most profitable beef animal is the one that has the capacity to eat and manufacture into beef the greatest amount of feed, and not the one that can subsist on the least and poorest ration.

"There are thousands of two and three-year-old beef cattle that can eat plenty of feed," he says, "but many of them are not able to manufacture much beef out of it, largely because their growth was stunted, their vitality weakened, and their beefy conformation lost through lack of proper and sufficient feed when they were calves."

"Present high prices for cattle and feed," says Mr. Peters, "make it more clear than ever before that there are two ways of securing a profit from beef cattle: through the production of a good, well-grown beef type of animal, and by keeping down the cost of production to the minimum consistent with full development."

Sows Need Exercise.
In order that the sow may come to farrowing time in proper thrift, it is necessary that she have plenty of exercise.

ANNUAL WHITE SWEET CLOVER YIELDS WELL

New Variety May Possess Important Possibilities.

When Farmer Finds His Hay Supply
Will Be Short This Crop Can Be Planted—Grows Well During First Season.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

It has been determined that sweet clover, which grows luxuriantly along roadides and out-of-the-way places, and which is grown in some sections as a forage crop, has one strain which is annual. The annual sweet clover occasionally appears in patches of the more common biennial form, either as single specimens or in small groups.
Seed of the annual has been separated, and in recent years it has been prop-

Sweet Clover Hay Curing in the Cok.

agated. These points are brought out in Department Circular 169, Annual White Sweet Clover and Strains of the Biennial Form, recently published by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The nature of this new variety, according to the bulletin, is such as to indicate that it may have important possibilities. Probably its greatest use for hay will be as an emergency crop.
When a stand of clover has been winter killed, or when for any reason a farmer finds that his hay supply will be short, this variety can be seeded during the spring and, provided time and the proper bacteria are present, will yield a good hay crop. Where rainfall is sufficient it may be seeded even after wheat harvest. It makes a good growth the first season, and experiments in Iowa and Michigan have shown that it may be seeded with oats, to be harvested after the grain is cut. It grows rapidly, and for this reason will keep ahead of weeds.

The annual has a smaller and more woody root than the biennial form, and crown or resting buds are not formed. The stems, branches, leaves, flowers, pods and seeds are indistinguishable from those of the biennial form, but during the season of seeding the plant grows more rapidly, blossoms, fruits and dies. It blooms early and ripens seed in August when seeded early. Seed of the annual form is still very scarce and high priced and, since it cannot be distinguished from seed of the ordinary biennial, should be purchased with caution.

CAMPAIGN FOR BETTER Sires

Since Movement Was Started There Have Been Many Animals and Fowls Enrolled.

Recent figures on the enrollment of animals and poultry in the "better stock—better stock" campaign, which is being supervised by the United States department of agriculture, show that since the movement was started in October, 1919, there have been 174, 194 animals and 264,945 chickens or other poultry enrolled. During this time 3,576 certificates of membership in the campaign have been issued by the department. In order to secure a certificate, a stock breeder or poultry-man must fill out a blank, which is supplied by the bureau of animal industry, stating that he will use only purebred sires. A report recently issued by the department shows that 45 states and two possessions—Guam and Porto Rico—have stock breeders or poultrymen enrolled in the campaign. Virginia leads in the movement with 1,130 certificates issued, but Nebraska has the largest number of live stock enrolled.

BEST DIVISION OF PASTURES

A 20-Acre Tract Will Yield More Grass Where Herd Is Shifted to Small Fields.

Dividing pastures into smaller fields is time and money well spent.
A 20-acre pasture divided will yield much more grass where the herd is shifted from one field to the other than if allowed to tramp on the entire field at will.

BEST CONDITIONS IN WOODS

Trampling of Soil by Different Animals Among Growing Trees
It Not Favored.

You can't do two things at once.
If the best growing conditions are wanted in a woods, grazing animals must be kept out. Hard trampling of soil does about the same amount of good in a woodlot as it does in a field of growing corn.

RURAL POSTAL SURVEY ORDERED

Post Office Heads Instruct Carriers To Make Inventories

Beginning with July 1, all rural mail carriers in Michigan as well as other states, will be required to make a 15 day inventory of the amount of business handled on their respective routes. Plans for the count were completed Thursday by federal post-office department officials who have ordered a nation-wide survey of rural mail deliveries.

Rural carriers are instructed to keep count of the actual number of pieces of mail handled, the number and weight of locked pouches carried to intermediate postoffices the weight of mail carried for delivery on loop routes and the number and weight of parcels received from the loop routes. Carriers are also to report on the value of stamps cancelled on mail collected during the 15-day period and the value of stamps and stamped paper sold by rural carriers.

The count, which is to be repeated in December for a similar 15-day period, is to determine the growth of the rural carrier system, to furnish a basis for estimating future expansions and to determine the financial needs of the rural delivery service. Every piece of mail and supplies delivered, collected or handled by rural letter carriers must be checked off during the inventory period, and carriers will be put on their mettle to make an accurate showing.

HOSPITAL NOTES

W. P. Evans, of Eastport, returned home on the Fourth, after a successful operation on a badly infected hand.

Della Maxine, daughter of J. A. Wilson, of Ellsworth, had her tonsils removed last Wednesday and will return home the latter part of the week.

Eleanor Goddard, a daughter of E. E. W. Goddard, of Cincinnati, who has been staying at Camp Winalda, near Central Lake, was admitted to the hospital for medical treatment last Friday and will return to the camp next Monday.

Mrs. Walter Hunsberger, of East Jordan, and Miss Elizabeth Nowland, of Onaway, had tonsils removed on Tuesday, July 3rd. Their condition is good.

Val Scroggie, little grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William Scroggie, of the North Side, had his tonsils removed Monday.

Robert Badolati, of Milwaukee, now attached to the crew of Relief Light Vessel No. 113, submitted to an operation on July 4th and is doing as well as can be expected.

Two victims of moonshine in a pitiable condition were admitted to the hospital last night. What a way to celebrate the Fourth.

Among those now taking physio-therapeutic treatments at the hospital this week are O. R. Walling and Mrs. Roy, of East Jordan, and Mrs. Hare and Mr. Lenorsky of Petoskey.

KILLED WHEN HIS AUTO HITS TREE

Elmira Men Meets Death Near Boyne City Monday

Zoni Lett, residing between Boyne City and Elmira, died at about 5 o'clock Monday, from injuries received earlier in the afternoon when the car he was driving struck a tree beside the road. Something went wrong with the steering apparatus and the car left the road. When it struck the tree, Lett was thrown through the windshield, his head striking the tree. His skull was crushed.

The injured man was placed in another machine and hurried to Petoskey, but lived only about an hour after reaching there. The body was taken to Boyne City Monday evening.

N. Macalunas, believed to be a Lithuanian residing near St. Ignace, had the ribs on his right side crushed in, and one hand crushed Sunday, when his car struck some loose gravel on the road near the northern city.

BODY OF AGED WOMAN BROUGHT HERE

Mrs. Katherine Young, Grandmother of Earl Young

The body of Mrs. Katherine Young arrived in this city Tuesday morning from Elmhurst, Joliet, Ill., where it has been in the receiving vault since last winter, for interment in Brookside cemetery.

Mrs. Young, who was 94 years old at the time of her death—December 19, 1922, was grandmother of Earl A. Young, of this city. A son, A. B. Young, of Joliet, accompanied the remains to Charlevoix.

FARMER GORED BY YOUNG BULL

Lou Peterson of Bay Shore Receives Bad Wounds in Abdomen

Lou Peterson, Bay Shore farmer, was badly gored by a young bull, Monday, at the Mike Glazier farm. Mr. Glazier, who was near when the attack took place, succeeded in halting the bull's rushes and saved Peterson from worse injuries.

Peterson's worst hurts were wounds in the abdomen. He was taken to Petoskey hospital. It is believed that the bull attacked the man more in sport than in anger.

AT THE MOVIES

Here's Film For Entire Family
Advocates of the clean screen will find the year's best example of a sparkling story without one objectionable feature in "The Flirt," which begins its local engagement at the Palace Theatre on Saturday.

"The Flirt" is Booth Tarkington's vivid cross-section of American life, filmed as a Universal-Jewel production with the thought to "attain and maintain the highest moral and artistic standard of motion picture production," as expressed by Will H. Hays.

Coming to the Majestic Theatre next Saturday and Sunday, Strongheart, the wonder dog, battles wolves in the north and crashes through drama and thrill to his biggest triumph. A Laurence Trimble-Jane Murfin production, packed with the things that grip you, make you thrill, throb—and leave you gasping. A First National attraction.

Jackie Coogan and Queenie, the black dog that helped him in his "Peck's Bad Boy" antics, are together again in "Trouble," the First National attraction scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Palace Theatre. But though the boy and the canine actor are great friends, Queenie does not belong to Jackie. He has two dogs of his own, an air-dale and a chow.

Dr. G. De Jonge, of Zeeland, will preach at the South Barnard church, Sunday, July 8th and also on Sunday, July 22nd.—Adv. 27-t1.

NEW PALACE THEATRE

THURSDAY and FRIDAY, JULY 5-6

First National presents Guy Bates Post in "The Masquerader," the famous stage success. The drama of a man who was lost—his double was found—and his wife who did not know. Also an Educational comedy "It's Your Move."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JULY 7-8

Big double attraction—Jewel super production of Booth Tarkington's masterpiece, "The Flirt," with an all-star cast. The year's picture event in this city. The greatest story of American life ever screened. "The Flirt" is such a story as Booth Tarkington has always loved to write. Full of dramatic situations, irresistible humor. No one knows American life as Tarkington knows it or can depict it more graphically. We earnestly advise everybody in this city to see "The Flirt." You will remember it long after you have forgotten other big features. Also Buster Keaton in one of his latest comedies, "Day Dreams."

MONDAY, JULY 9

Paramount presents Marian Davies in "Adam and Eva." A hilarious comedy is "Adam and Eva," starring Marian Davies. Adapted from a play that ran a year in New York, with the star and director of "When Knighthood Was In Flower." Also a comedy "Spooners."

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, JULY 10-11

Jackie Coogan in "Trouble." A smile and then a sob; a laugh and then a tear; that's how Jackie makes "Trouble" his finest, with Wallace Berry and Gloria Hope and Queenie, the pup of Peck's Bad Boy, is there all the time trying to steal the picture. Here's "trouble" to enjoy. Also the Hal Roach Rascals in a two reel comedy, "Boys to Board."

COMING THURSDAY and FRIDAY, JULY 12-13—Constance Talmadge in "East Is West."

COMING SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JULY 14-15—Thomas H. Ince's comedy special "The Hottentot."

MAJESTIC THEATRE

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JULY 7-8

Strongheart, the wonder dog, who thrilled the world in "The Silent Call"—now in a greater sensation in "The Brawn of the North." One of the big outdoor pictures. Also Al St. Johns in his latest comedy, "The Author."

PUREBRED FEMALES GAINING

Striking Development in Federal-State Campaign for Live Stock Improvement.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Noteworthy progress during the last three months in the federal-state campaign for live-stock improvement is reported by the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture. The most striking development is the increasing tendency for purebred-sire users to acquire purebred female stock as well. In the period of January 1 to March 31 of this year, 970 persons filed with the department signed enrollment blanks, indorsed by county agents, showing the use of purebred sires exclusively for all classes of live stock kept. This number is an increase of 254 over the previous three months and is nearly three times as many as for the same period in 1921.

Although the department has stressed chiefly the use of purebred sires, records of the "Better Stock, Better Stock" campaign show a gradual rise in the proportion of purebred female animals, including cattle, horses, swine, sheep, goats and poultry. The proportion of purebreds to the total of female animals kept now exceeds 35 per cent. A decline in the proportion of scrub females in herds headed by purebred sires accompanied the rise in purebreds.

The greatest activity during the quarter was in Ohio where 532 persons were enrolled—more than half of the total. Nebraska came second with 135 enrollments, Washington third with 120 and Kentucky fourth with 124. A new state, Michigan, entered the campaign actively. Virginia has been the premier state since the beginning of the campaign from the standpoint of persons participating. Nebraska occupies first place in number of animals being bred to purebred sires. Ohio, which at the beginning of the year occupied third place, is now second and is fast approaching the leader. The returns from Green county, Ohio, show a unique result. There were 180 persons enrolled. The live stock owned totaled 17,229 and among these there was one scrub, a sow. There was an abundance, however, of green and crossbreds, indicating widespread use of purebred sires in the county. Among the ten counties in the United States highest in number of purebred-sire enrollments four are in Ohio. One of them, Hardin county, is second only to Pulaski county, Virginia.

The most active counties during the three months' period were Hancock and Green counties, Ohio, Kittitas county, Washington, Oldham county, Kentucky, Dodge county, Nebraska, and Hardin county, Ohio. Documents received by the department from live-stock users show an increasing appreciation of the value of purebreds. Numerous disposals of grade sires to be replaced by purebreds are reported.

Profit in Winter Eggs.

The profit is made on winter eggs. Almost any hen will lay in the spring, but prices are usually lowest then, and it requires a good many eggs to pay a hen's keep in these days of the high cost of living.

The value of the motortruck as an aid in marketing farm products is now well established. In bringing this about improved roads have been a essential factor.

Ellsworth Section

Miss Bessie Prince of Grand Rapids, is visiting friends here this week. Dr. C. W. Hewitt and family, of Norwood, were in town on Monday of this week.

Isaac Logue, of Detroit, was in town last week, looking after his farm north of town.

L. O. Isaman was at Detroit, on Saturday and Sunday, and drove home a Ford touring car.

Beatrice Wieland is spending a few days with Mrs. C. L. Taisey at her Crystal Beach Resort on Torch Lake, near Alden.

Mrs. John Hodgkins of Owosso, Michigan, returned on Monday of this week, after a two weeks visit with her parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Denny and children of Flushing, arrived on Monday, for a short visit with the former's parents here.

Miss Lillian Whater, of Kalama, 200, spent a part of last week with her old school friend, Mrs. Grace McElroy and family.

Jake Klooster, of Muskegon, and Elmer Klooster, of Grand Rapids, are visiting at the home of their parents here for a few days.

Geo. Klooster of Ellsworth, Rev. Hoeman of Vogli, Mich., and the Rev. Borgman of Lucas, Michigan, motored to Rudyard on business last week.

George Dekkings and Albert Prince are at home from Grand Rapids, and are spending a few days at the home of the former's parents southwest of town.

H. H. Dupenhorst and family, of Grand Rapids, are enjoying a week's vacation and are camped on Six Mile Lake near the Dufore bridge. They were renewing old acquaintances here on Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. B. O. Shattuck and two sons, Morris and Burdelle, of Flint, are visiting friends here and assisting at the special meeting of the Holiness church. Rev. Shattuck was a former Holiness pastor here.

The new Ellsworth Canning Co. was inspected by members of the state inspection board and by members of the National Canners Association last week, all of whom united in pronouncing the plant here one of the finest north of Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Yettaw, of Chicago, arrived on Saturday, to spend a few weeks with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yettaw, here. Mrs. Yettaw was formerly Miss Rowena Williams of East Prairie, Mo., and was united in marriage to Lloyd on May 9th. This is her first visit to Michigan.

Holiness meetings, which started under canvas on Friday evening of last week, are in full swing now and are advertised to run at least for the next two weeks. The tent is pitched on the F. H. Skow residence property, between the house and the Corner Garage, and is well equipped with seating accommodations. Rev. J. D. Sturk of Ionia, is doing the preaching, with Rev. L. W. Sturk in charge of the singing, and both the preaching and singing are exceptionally good. A cordial invitation is extended to all, while a hearty welcome is assured to all who accept the invitation.

FEEDERS AVOID HEAVY LOSS

Cattle Cost Studies in Corn Belt Show Losses Are Small When Roughages Are Used.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Cost figures on 20,217 head of beef cattle fed in five corn belt states, summarized in a statement issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, show that scattering droves made good profits last season, in spite of the fact that there was an average loss of $20.87 per steer. Department investigators cite the fact that some of these droves made profits under the most adverse conditions, as emphasizing the extreme importance of watching the details of feeding and management in slump periods in the cattle business.

The feeders in the areas studied who made the most economic gains, in general, used standard rations. In Illinois and Indiana this ration consisted of corn, protein meal, mixed clover and timothy hay, and alfalfa, with some stover and fodder. In Nebraska and Iowa the standard rations consisted of corn and alfalfa hay, while in Missouri it consisted of corn, protein meal, hay and fodder. In the latter state some of the cattle covered in the study were finished on grass.

"The average loss of $20.87 per head," one of the department investigators explains, "should be looked at in the light of the fact that all feeds were charged to the cattle at farm prices for all home grown feeds, and storage prices for feeds bought." Thus the effect of the loss in question on the farm business as a whole was in some measure offset by the return from 1,000 to 2,500 pounds of marketable roughage fed to the average steer in the different localities. Even though the cattle-feeding enterprise may show a presumptive loss, there may be a profit for the farm operation as a whole, provided home-grown feeds have been produced at a cost far enough below the market price. "No individual feeder could be sure of marketing his field products at a profit, including stover and low-grade hay, if he were to choose to sell crops rather than feed them to live stock. If all feeders, or even if a considerable number of feeders, were to try such a shift, the market for all field products would be glutted, with the probable result that the farmers could not even dispose of their corn. The cattle feeder, though he knows that his business for the time being is a precarious one, hesitates to turn to crop farming as a possible relief, because he realizes that cattle feeding is the business he is best fitted for, and because he believes a recovery to profitable production is not far distant."

The studies in question were made by the United States Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the state agricultural colleges of Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri. Preliminary reports issued by the department, and by the several state institutions concerned, give in detail the quantities of feed and hours of labor used in ordinary feed lot production of fat cattle.

All reports may be obtained upon request to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., or single reports from the state agricultural colleges co-operating. Farmers' Bulletin 1218, "Beef Production in the Corn Belt," gives a discussion of feeding.

ESSENTIAL TO CONTROL LICE

Plenty of Nutritious Feed and Thorough Cleaning Up of Surroundings Are Needed.

In the control of cattle lice, plenty of nutritious food and a thorough cleaning up of the animals and their surroundings are essential to success, whatever method of control you choose to adopt.

Feeding Calves.

Calves intended for beef should begin on grain when three to four months old. A mixture of equal parts oats, bran and corn (preferably ground) is the best grain ration.

Who says there is nothing in being a knocker? Look at Dempsey.

PUREBREDS AID THE MILK YIELD

Tribute to Value of Improved Sires is Contained in Statement by J. C. McDowell.

A tribute to the value of purebred sires is contained in a recent statement made by J. C. McDowell, of the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture, who pointed out that the average production of 38,000 grade cows in cow testing associations in 1920 was 5,080 pounds of milk and 300 pounds of butter, while the average production of all cows in the United States was 4,000 pounds of milk and 200 pounds of butter. The average milk and butter yield of grade cows was 50 per cent higher than the average for all grades and scrubs taken together. The economy of production was over 100 per cent greater.

INCREASE FAT ECONOMICALLY

Best Plan is to Put Cows on an Abundant Ration That is Rich and Easily Digested.

In a herd of well-fed cows it is not practical to try to produce milk containing more fat by giving rich feeds; that is a pretty well-settled fact. In a herd of poorly-fed cows, though, the percentage of fat can be increased by putting the cows on abundant ration that is rich and easily digested. Tests in New York showed an increase of one-quarter of one per cent of fat, when the cows were kept on good feeds for two years. The increase was economical, too. There was 50 per cent increase in amount of milk produced.

"SMILES"

By Al Rollins

It was just after a rain in East Jordan. Two men were walking down Main street behind a young woman who was holding her skirt rather high. After an argument as to the merits of the case, one of the men stepped forward and said, "Pardon me Miss, but aren't you holding your skirt rather high?" "Haven't I perfect right?" she snapped. "Indeed you certainly have, Miss, and a peach of a left, too," he replied.

Miss Smart expressed no cordial wish. "I am, quite a near neighbor of yours now," said Mr. Bore. "I'm living just across the river." "Indeed," replied Miss Smart. "I hope you'll drop in some day."

"Now children," said a Charlevoix Sunday-school teacher, "I have told you the story of Jonah and the whale. Dean, you may tell me what this story teaches." "Yes'm," said Dean, "it teaches that you can't keep a good man down."—Tid Bits.

Two boys were walking down the streets of New York the other day when an open manhole caught their attention. They peered below. All was dark. There was a gurgle of water, noises from afar, mysterious and beckoning. The spirit of adventure moved them and they dropped through the manhole into one of the biggest sewers of New York. Six hours later they were rescued by the police.

It seems to us that civilization can never quiet the call of the unknown which makes boys drop down into dirty sewer holes, or lures men to their death beneath the sea, in the air, at the top of mountains, in the malaria swamps, at the far, frozen regions of the two poles. No matter how far we penetrate into the vast darkness, within whose enveloping arms truth is yet locked secure, there will be venturesome souls who will travel on and on without chart or compass looking for the undiscoverable.—From Life.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

This July eighth class meeting at 10:30 a. m. Though a stranger you will be glad if you come.

10:30, morning worship. Pastor will preach, using the theme, "Christ and Life." Splendid attendance last Sunday. Many visitors. Many of our own people who have not been coming regularly were in church last Sunday. That is fine. Start the summer right and keep it up. Dr. Allen Wilkinson will sing at this service.

Sunday school is at noon, immediately after church our service of bible study begins. We are now studying New Testament characters. "Mary, the Mother of Jesus," is a good subject to absorb our thought.

Note our announcement for the evening service: Rev. Hugh Kennedy, Ph. B. D. D., president Bay View University is our preacher and leader. He will speak at 7:30 and will lead the Epworth League service beginning at 8:30. You will be delighted to sit at the feet of this inspiring preacher. We want to see the whole church at the service. We extend a cordial invitation to all visitors and friends. University and college students will do well to hear this learned man.

Service at Greensky Hill this Sunday 2:30 p. m., preceded by Sunday school. Pastor will preach.

Service at Barnard Methodist church at 2 p. m. The Sunday school is at 1 p. m. Rev. Floyd Frook is the preacher.

Our church deaconess is with us this July and August. Miss Dickman is employed to assist us in our service with the young people of the community.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

A BIG TIME IN TOWN YESTERDAY

WEATHER WAS PERFECT—RECORD BREAKING CROWD

Many A-1 Events Enjoyed by Thousands From All Over the County and Beyond

Fourth of July was a big day in Charlevoix—big, not only as respects the crowd that gathered from all parts of the county, but in point of the attractions offered.

The weather was perfect. Nature smiled upon us in her most benign manner. Tuesday evening and from early Wednesday morning until noon, cars and horse drawn vehicles poured into town in a steady stream on all roads. A surprising number of small booths and stands, purveying everything from peanuts and pink lemonade (the good old stand-bys) to hot dogs.

Seemingly not a hitch occurred anywhere to mar the days enjoyment. Extra men stationed at the busiest street intersections handled traffic remarkably well and there were no accidents. Aside from the irrepressible small boy, who made life miserable for pedestrians and drivers with torpedoes and fire crackers, the crowd was quiet and orderly.

The program, as planned, was carried out on schedule time and much credit is due the committee who had charge of the features. Excellent hands from Boyne City, and Ellsworth kept the streets resounding to the strains of martial music throughout the day.

Four tutors from Chicago, staying at the Bartlett House, carried off the honors in the foot races. The results in the one hundred yard dash and three man relay race, in which these gentlemen participated were as follows:

100 Yard Dash
Charles McKinney—1st place.
Mark Wood—2nd place.
Chuck Thompson—3rd place.
Fully two thousand people gathered around the sides of the natural amphitheatre on Lake Street to witness the boxing contests, which were among the most interesting events of the day.

First came a short but exciting bout between Happy Marsh, of Big Rapids and Stan McCafferty, of Charlevoix, which was to have lasted four rounds but was stopped in the second by the referee, who awarded the decision to McCafferty. Both these men received $5.00 in cash for their strenuous exertions.

Next, Connie Gatliff, of Beaver Island, and Lawrence Reed, of Jackson (Mich.) Athletic Club, paired off and sparred lightly for four rounds, which the referee called a draw. They made $20.00 apiece.

Martin, of Grand Rapids and O'Brien, of Petoskey, followed and put on an exhibition of real sparring and footwork such as is seldom seen in these parts. Martin was thought by the fans to have a bit the best of it, but the referee made no decision. They fought six rounds and collected $50.00 to split between them.

Last, but not least, came young Masters Lawrence and Frank Beecher, brothers, eight and nine years of age, respectively. Frank knocked Lawrence down slick and clean in the first round but the little fellow was game and stuck it out to a draw in the fourth. They are from Whiting, Ind., and were coached by their father, who refereed this match.

In the evening the crowd gathered on the swing bridge and other points of vantage to witness the fireworks that were set off in various parts of the city. Soon, the folks began starting for their cars and the streets out of town were soon filled with a stream of blazing lights and the roar of motors. That's all, until next Fourth of July. Thank you.

to the one meeting in the year in which every person in the city of Charlevoix, and surrounding districts, is, or should be interested.

Come to criticize, if you like—but come. Criticism don't hurt—it clarifies problems and is constructive, if intelligent. The present school board would be glad if every one present would ask questions and will endeavor to answer these questions as far as possible. About two weeks ago, the school board held a special meeting for the north-siders which was enthusiastic and well attended. Make this, next meeting even better by attending and taking part.

VOTE TAX FOR SINKING FUND

SCHOOL BOARD ADDS FIVE MORE MILLS

Option on Property Lying West of Present School Site Will Be Taken

Fifty-eight people turned out to the meeting of the school board last Monday night. This is somewhat better than last year, but still, not enough showed sufficient interest in the work their board has done and has to do to encourage its members in their labors to any extent.

After the reports of the secretary, treasurer, and librarian and the minutes of the last meeting had been read, nominations were made for the offices of president, treasurer and member of the board to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of A. F. Bridge. The count of the ensuing ballot showed that Rollie L. Lewis and Dr. Frank Wilkinson had been elected to succeed themselves as president and treasurer, respectively, and that Lee R. Smith's temporary appointment to fill vacancy had been made permanent.

Various questions were put to the president, who answered them in a very satisfactory manner, the matter of acquiring the additional property required for the erection of a new high school building was discussed, and a motion to purchase an option on the various pieces of property lying west of the present school grounds to Grant Street was voted on and carried by a division of the house.

It was also voted at this meeting to add 5 mills to the present school tax to provide a sinking fund for the nucleus of a building fund to start the erection of a new building.

Various timely matters, such as ventilation of the present building, repairs and the comparative advantages of the unit system of building, etc., were discussed at this meeting. Chairman Lewis stated that the total indebtedness of the school district amounted at the present time to only $5,000.00 and that repairs for the past year had been light. The affairs of the district, he said, both financially and otherwise, were in better condition than at any time during the past five years. The superintendent's report, which was not read at this meeting on account of its length and the lack of time, was quoted sufficiently to show that the schools are in good shape, in point of prompt attendance, work and progressive spirit on the part of the faculty, tardiness having been practically eliminated. Several of the teachers are taking summer work at the universities and state normals to obtain a better standing, and these efforts will help to keep us in the North Central grouping, which means that our students may be admitted to the universities on the strength of their high school credits.

Van Pelt Place Closed

The city authorities have decided to close Van Pelt Place to traffic, during the summer months, at the Bridge Street entrance. To this end, two white posts have been set at each side of the alley, near the front door of the postoffice, and a stout chain stretched between them, in the interest of safety first.

THESE HAPPENED IN GOOD OLD DAYS

REMEMBER—When corn beef was eight cents a pound? And a suit for twelve bucks? And doctors charged a dollar? And nobody ate baker's bread? And they gave sparrows away? And nobody ever heard of pyorrhea? And there wasn't many telephones? And music lessons were only four bits? And the barber chairs were made of plush? And the best shoes were only two dollars? And a family bragged if they had a piano? And chirpologists were called corn doctors? And everybody went home at noon for dinner? And you could get a tooth pulled for a quarter? And it was a scandal if you came home in a hack?

BROOKSIDE CEMETERY NOW A BEAUTY SPOT

Much Improved, Present A Fine Appearance

Brookside cemetery never looked prettier than at the present time. Sexton Charles A. Hyers and his assistants even whisper that it is the prettiest in the state.

The new iron fence is useful, as well as highly ornamental, there being four, rustic stone columns at the main entrance and another at the turn west. Vases, filled with geraniums, crown the entrance columns. There is also a spacious gate, leading to the old soldier's plot.

Sexton Hyers is taking great pride in clearing the brook flat from the private vaults on the east side back to the line fence. "This will be all terraced, sown to grass, and will be kept mowed," said Mr. Hyers.

The sexton is of the opinion that the present combination receiving vault, chapel and rest room should in time be replaced by a better building that will further beautify the entrance. When this is done, Brookside cemetery will rank among the prettiest in the country.

TRAFFIC LAW IN EFFECT AUG. 30

NEW STATE STATUTE GOVERNS CONDUCT OF MOTORISTS

All Streets and Highways of State Will Come Under the Control of the New Act

The new Michigan motor vehicle traffic law is to become effective August 30, at which time all streets and highways of the state will come under the control of this act.

"When this act is effective what now is mere courtesy will be a law. Motorists must signal before turning and stopping. They shall 'give a timely warning signal to motor drivers by extending the arm beyond and outside of the side of the vehicle, holding the same in such position for a sufficient time to apprise approaching drivers of vehicles his intention to change the course or stop, as the case may be. Provided, however, that in lieu of such signal above required signal may be given by any mechanical or electrical device which conveys an intelligible signal or warning to another driver approaching from the rear."

The act very distinctly outlines the right of way and orders that it be carefully observed. Vehicles on a state trunk line highway always have the right of way over vehicles coming off another highway, the bill says, though otherwise, except for through traffic streets designated by city governments the driver on the right always has the right of way. The act makes it unlawful to park on any highway outside the city limits and orders that no car may come within six feet of the rear of a street car stopped to take on or let off passengers.

Penalty for violation of any provisions of the new law, which is registered as House Enrolled Act No. 58 of the 52nd legislature session of 1923, is a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment for not more than 90 days or both.

Because an effort is now being made to familiarize motorists with the requirements of the act, enforcement will begin as soon as it becomes effective, police say.

ELLSWORTH BAND TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY

May Be Regular Weekly Feature This Season

The Ellsworth band will give a concert in the streets of Charlevoix next Saturday evening.

If the music is satisfactory and terms can be arranged, it is likely that this will be a regular Saturday evening feature throughout the summer here.

The organization of a band for this city has been many times attempted but, so far, such efforts have met with very little success. If we can have the services of a good band like the Ellsworth outfit, it will be the next best thing to having one of our own and—perhaps it will stimulate the formation of such an organization in Charlevoix—this time on a permanent basis.

SEN. COUZENS IS DENOUNCED

FOR MISREPRESENTATION OF 18TH AMENDMENT

Five Per Cent Beer Sold Over Counter Means Whiskey Sold Under the Counter

A strong denunciation of Sen. James Couzens' wish for the return of five per cent beer was made by Rev. King D. Beach, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Grand Rapids, in a recent Sunday morning sermon.

Dr. Beach's subject was "The New Whiskey Rebellion" and his sermon was devoted also to Gov. Al Smith's approval of the repeal of New York prohibition laws.

Declaring that "five per cent beer sold over the counter means whiskey sold under the counter," the pastor promised Sen. Couzens "the determined and passionate opposition" of the 900 Methodist ministers of Michigan. Dr. Beach threatened "political oblivion" for public officials opposed to the present dry laws.

He said the country was increasingly suspicious of "members of congress who talk dry and then boast of their cellars of intoxicants."

Calls Senator Inaccurate Dr. Beach's sermon, in part, follows:

"Sen. Couzens has the reputation of looking into facts before he expresses his opinion or takes his stand. How can we explain, therefore, the fact that evidently the simplest facts regarding the adoption of the prohibition amendment are apparently unknown to him? The senator indicates his opinion that the eighteenth amendment was a result of war hysteria and that it was 'put over' by a few fanatics who took advantage of the unusual spirit engendered by the war to accomplish their purpose."

"Does the senator not know that the amendment was passed by a congress that was elected months before most of us had any idea that this country would enter the war, that it was ratified by 46 out of 48 states, which is by far the largest number and percentage of states that ever ratified any amendment to the constitution? Does he know that before the adoption of the amendment 33 out of 48 states had already provided for state prohibition; that 95 per cent of the territory and 68 per cent of the population were under prohibition? Does he know that the adoption of national prohibition came as a direct result of over 100 years of most violent conflict in which the issue was as plain as day and in which the liquor traffic was forced to give ground year after year and finally forced to surrender. Have not we the right to expect that our Michigan senator will at least acquaint himself with the barest historical facts regarding this living question?"

"Wet Planks Slippery" "The senator evidently needs to be reminded that wet planks have proved in recent years exceedingly slippery material out of which to construct political platforms. I promise him that he has entered a course, which, if continued, will bring him the determined and passionate opposition of 900 as seasoned campaigners as you want to find, public speakers who will go of their own expense (and count no hardship to great in doing it) into every factory and hamlet of Michigan to awaken people to the peril of his proposal."

"I refer to the 900 Methodist preachers of this state and add that they head an army of 160,000 adults who almost to an individual will fight relaxation of prohibition laws and do their utmost to bury in political (Continued on page three)

REALTORS WERE PLEASED WITH US

SO BOARD PRESIDENT WRITES TO C. OF C.

Many Expression of Satisfaction Were Heard and Charlevoix Will Benefit

That members of the Chicago Real Estate Board, who visited Charlevoix on their recent trip to the Cleveland convention of realtors, enjoyed their stay in our city and appreciated the treatment they received, is evidenced by the following letter, received by Guy Eccleston, secretary of the chamber of commerce, from Harry Goldstone, president of the board:

Dear Mr. Eccleston—I wish to take this opportunity of thanking the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce for the royal welcome they accorded the visiting delegates to the Cleveland Convention on board the "North American" and to assure you of my deep appreciation of all your kind hospitality in entertaining our delegates.

I hear on all sides enthusiastic reports of the wonderful hospitality accorded our delegates by Charlevoix, and I hope you will express to each member of your Association who made our visit so pleasant, our appreciation and desire to reciprocate when the opportunity presents itself.

Yours very truly, Harry Goldstone, President.

George R. Hemmingsway, owner of the Charlevoix County Nurseries and prominent realtor of Oak Park, Ill., through whose instrumentality the delegates to the convention stopped off here, instead of at Harbor Springs, as originally planned, is enthusiastic over the success of the visit here and, in a conversation with the secretary of the commercial association, stated that he had heard many laudatory comments on the way the realtors were treated here and expressions of admiration for the town and its attractions. He ventured the prediction that we would gain many more summer tourists from among the tourists on the North American.

MISS PEARL HARVEY MARRIES OTTO WEST

Ceremony Was Performed June 27th at Bates, Mich.

The marriage is announced of Miss Pearl Harvey, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harvey, of Bates, Mich., and former residents of this city and Boyne City, to Otto West, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George West, of Bates, Mich.

The ceremony took place at nine o'clock, p. m., on June 27th, at Williamsburg, Michigan, a brother and a cousin of the bride—Walter Harvey and Miss Ruth Yetter, acting as best man and maid of honor. The bride wore a blue, georgette crepe dress and carried a bouquet of roses.

After the ceremony, a dinner was served to relatives and close friends at East Bay, near Traverse City, where Mr. and Mrs. West will be at home to their many friends.

BIG CARNIVAL COMING TO CHARLEVOIX SOON

Moose Jubilee Camps on South Side July 17-21

For five large nights, a jubilee and celebration will hold sway in Charlevoix for the benefit of the Loyal Order of Moose.

This carnival of joy, which is now showing in Traverse City, will open here on July 17th and will be in Charlevoix until after the 21st. The attractions include a beautiful merry-go-round and Ferris wheel, Doss, the man that grows two feet in two minutes, an all-star musical comedy, Punch and Judy, and forty other attractions. There will also be plenty of music.

The Lipka Amusement Company are furnishing the midway at this carnival and the south side school grounds will be used as the site for the affair.

NOVEL METHOD OF LANDING BIG FISH

Arthur Zipp Smiles Monster Pickerel With Oar

While fishing on Pine Lake last week, Arthur Zipp and wife, of this city had a rather interesting and profitable experience with a big seven-pound pickerel.

Their boat was drifting in towards the shore, just off the ice house, when Mrs. Zipp noticed the big fellow heading in towards the beach and called her husband's attention to him. The fishy gentleman was evidently prospecting in the shallow water after crabs, that are pretty thick along the sand bar at this point, and was moving leisurely.

Mr. Zipp followed the fish with his boat and when nearly over him, took one of the oars, which was copper-tipped, and struck him smartly on the head, cutting it open. Several blows were necessary, however, before they could get the big fish in the boat.

BOY A VICTIM OF GUN ACCIDENT

SHERIFF NOVAK SHOOT'S HIS OWN SON

Youth Now in Hospital Recovering From Severe Flesh Wound in Hip

Young "Billy" Novak, son of Sheriff Charles Novak, is in the hospital this week, recovering from a gunshot wound; the result of an accident that occurred last Saturday night, in which his father figured, as the unwitting inflictor of the injury.

The sheriff and his son were in Wood Brothers' hardware store at five o'clock that evening, buying cartridges for a 25 calibre automatic pistol, which had been given to the sheriff by one of his friends.

DeForest Wood, who waited on the sheriff, passed the gun and the cartridges back over the counter to the latter, who removed the magazine from the gun, filled it and put it in his pocket. Novak then took the supposedly empty gun to put it away with the weapon in his coat and in some way the weapon was discharged, the ball striking the boy, who stood nearby, penetrating the body near the small of his back and lodging in the flesh of the opposite hip.

The young fellow was rushed to the hospital and, at last reports, was doing nicely, although it is thought advisable not to attempt to remove the bullet at this time. In the opinion of the surgeon, had the ball been of larger calibre, it would have crushed his backbone, with probably fatal results.

It is likely that the gun still had a cartridge in it from some previous loading, as Mr. Novak did not replace the magazine in the gun after loading it.

RODEHEAVER REMEMBERS HIS CHORISTER

Muriel Hewitt Receives Postcard From Great Song Leader

Miss Muriel Hewitt, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Hewitt, of Norwood, recently received a picture post card from Herman Rodeheaver, the great evangelistic song leader, reading, "To the little girl who sang 'The Old Rugged Cross' in St. Augustine—1 Corinthians, 14-15."

Miss Hewitt sang at a Billy Sunday revival meeting in St. Augustine, Fla., several years ago and this was a token of appreciation of her services to the famous singer in his work.

COUNTY'S VALUATION LOWERED

EQUALIZATION REPORT SHOWS SLIGHT DECREASE

Twelve Subdivisions Lowered—Charlevoix and Boyne City Drop; East Jordan Raised

The June session of the board of supervisors closed Wednesday, June 27th, with the adopted report of the equalization committee, giving the city of Charlevoix a decrease of $878.75 in valuation, as compared to the 1922 figures, while Charlevoix township shows an increase of $70,70. Boyne City's valuation was decreased by $260.17 and East Jordan increased by $1,335.70. Twelve subdivisions of the county were decreased. Notable features are Evanline's decrease of $403,490 and Evanline's increase of $403,155. Hudson township also shows a remarkable decrease of $262,285. The valuation of the county, as a whole, shows a decrease of $399.75 from the 1922 figures.

CHARLEVOIX AGAIN PLAYS GOOD BALL

Nearly Shut Out Boyne City in Sunday's Game

Charlevoix league baseball team retrieved its laurels in Sunday's game at Boyne City. They beat Boyne by 11 to 1 in a fair contest, characterized by good field work and excellent support.

Charlevoix scored the first five runs in the first inning, was shut out in the second and got two more in the third, when Sherlow, of Boyne City, was replaced by Solfron in the box. Their next scoring was in the sixth inning, when they grabbed four runs from the new Boyne pitcher. The lone run secured by Boyne was made in the eighth inning.

Dagwell, Charlevoix pitcher, played in fine form and was well backed up. Next Sunday, we play Petoskey here.

EX-NURSES' QUICK WORK SAVES INFANT

First Aid Methods Keep Drowning Boy Alive

Frank Wood, aged three, son of Dr. J. W. Wood, of Taylorville, Ill., was saved Friday last from drowning by Miss Thyrza W. Amos and Mrs. Margaret Tapp, of Pittsburg, Pa., who served during the war as Red Cross nurses.

Frank was found, at about noon, lying down in eight inches of water in front of his parents' cottage at Pine Point, three miles from Charlevoix. Miss Amos and Mrs. Tapp, who had a cottage close by, worked over the lad until Dr. Armstrong arrived. The latter says the boy owes his life to the quick work of the young women.

Sunday, July 15th, is the date set for the revival tent meeting to commence. A brother of our pastor, Rev. Roy Frook and a party of christian workers from Cadillac, will be here to help conduct the meetings. A sister, Miss Frook, who is a most able pianist will also be here and it is expected that these meetings will be the best that Norwood and vicinity have known. People from far and near are urgently invited to come. Those who have cars bring your neighbors. Don't forget the date—July 15th, beginning at 7:30 in the evening and will continue every night for some time.

Several families from here celebrated July 4th in Charlevoix and pronounced Charlevoix a first-class place to have a good time.

Red Crown

Vaporizes to the Last Drop

To use Red Crown is the essence of economy—not from the standpoint of purchase price alone but from the results earned.

When Red Crown is mixed with air in your carburetor it causes perfect combustion—this means the irreducible minimum of carbon deposit, consequently less fouling of spark plugs—it means less expense for grinding valves—it means a smoother running motor—it means little, if any, pre-ignition. When you use Red Crown either of money or energy. Every drop is converted into power—clean, sustained, usable power. It is obvious that 800° of heat in your cylinder heads under working conditions is all and sufficient to burn the heaviest ends of Red Crown. That is why you get such extraordinary mileage when you have Red Crown in your tank.

There Is No Waste

Frank Smith is the owner of a brand new Ford touring car.

Miss Dorothy Gornell went to Saginaw on Saturday, motoring through with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Emrey Barber.

School meeting was attended by a small crowd. The usual business was transacted and George Dougherty re-elected treasurer.

On Friday evening the families of Mrs. Henry Clark and George Clark, also Mr. and Mrs. Emrey Barber gathered at the Howard Gornell home. A bountiful supper was served and all departed at a late hour, having spent a very enjoyable time.

AT THE MOVIES

"Hollenot" Race Consumed Almost 20 Miles of Film

Nearly forty miles of film was used to produce "The Hollenot," which will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. Most of the two hundred thousand celluloid feet consumed in the picture was used to take the steeplechase which forms the climax of the story.

The race, which is one of the most exciting ever screened, was so difficult to take, owing to its rapidity of movement, that a whole battery of cameras was used to get the action from a series of different angles. As a result some wonderful pictures have been secured. You get all the thrills of a fast horse race and none of the discomforts of standing in a racing stand on a hot day surrounded by a jam of shrieking fans dancing up and down on your feet and screaming in your ears.

Majestic Theatre secures Marshall Neilan's "Minnie." Marshall Neilan's latest picture, "Minnie," released by Associated First National, has been secured by the Majestic Theatre and will be shown there next Saturday and Sunday.

SEN. COUZENS DENOUNCED

In another column the Courier prints King Beach's arraignment of Senator James Couzens' advocacy of the revision of the Volstead act. Beach's denunciation of Couzens' position is justified. "Beer over the counter means whiskey under it" has been demonstrated over and over again right in Charlevoix county. We once had a law which required the payment of a certain amount to secure a license to sell both beer and whiskey and of a less amount to sell beer alone. What was the result? Saloons took out a beer license and sold both. There is not a man in the county old enough to remember these times who does not know this was what happened and would be what would happen again if the manufacture and sale of beer or any drink of alcoholic content enough to call for more, to promote the good fellowship which Couzens wants, is permitted. Five per cent liquor is most dangerous because it is habit forming. It calls for something stronger.

Couzens says he is against the saloon. How then, would he get the stuff to the consumer. Evidently by public dispensary. He would have the state run the saloon.

TAKE A VACATION

Take a vacation, no matter how hard it may be to find time for one, this summer. Change is absolutely necessary to rest the nerve centers. And the city person should make it a point to take his vacation in the country, while the farmer and those who spend their lives on farms or in small towns should come to the city and enjoy city life for a short time. This excellent advice comes from Health Commissioner Mahoney of Boston.

Most of us are suffering in varying degrees from "nerves," a malady created by the hustle and rush of civilization—and it is increasing in frequency and intensity as we become more "civilized," whatever that means.

We of the cities are keyed up highly. We work under great nervous pressure, speeded up to the last ounce of energy. And we get the clock wound so tightly that we remain keyed up when away from work.

We rush about the streets as if going to a fire.

We gulp our meals.

We sit down at home after dinner and immediately become restless—begin drumming our fingers, wanting to "start something."

Maybe we go to the theatre or movie. Impatient to get past the people in line ahead of us. So restless that we can't keep our seats until the final curtain drops or the picture ends. That's why musical shows come to an abrupt ending. They have to. No one would be left in the house if the show ended peacefully and artistically.

All this is "nerves." Its imprint is on our strained faces, in our keyed-up walking or auto driving, in our general impatience.

When a person has a nervous breakdown, the first thing the physician recommends is "a change." The best kind of a change is a complete one. So Mahoney is right. The city man should vacation in the country. The farmer and small town resident should vacation in the city.

Contrast is nerve restorative. It is informative, broadens our vision, restores our balance, gives us the proper perspective. What does your most good on a vacation is the "change," rather than the air or rest or recreation. And, the more complete the change, the more recuperative.

The brain worker for the same reason, will do best by spending his holidays where he'll have physical labor to do—preferably camping chores. And the man who works with his muscles can get the greatest vacation benefits by giving his muscles a rest and exercising his brain, reading, thinking.

A good rule, is Mahoney's, and it can be applied in everyday life as well as during vacations. By complete "change"—doing the opposite to your routine—you can get at least an hour's vacation every day.

The South Side Circle of the Congregational Church will hold a fancy work and baked goods sale, Friday and Saturday, July 20th and 21st, at Fowler's Salesroom.—Adv. 28-22.

MAIN CIRCUS AT PETOSKEY JULY 23

Said To Be One of the Best Touring the Country

The Walter L. Main circus, with its great groups of trained wild beasts, magnificent and instructive zoological collection exhibiting specimens from the remotest corners of the world, will show in Petoskey on Monday, July 23rd.

The Walter L. Main circus is one of the oldest before the public, now making its 43rd annual tour. Two performances will be given, afternoon and evening. The show is said to be one of the best of its size in the country today.

Newspapers in commenting on their performance say: "The Main circus is a big, snappy show and was remarkable in the fact that they actually present their advertised features."

Use Hygrade gas filled electric light globes. Everybody is talking about how long they last. Any kind you want. Charlevoix Hardware & Electric Co.—Adv. 5-1f.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry MacLeod, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lance Neff, returned to their home in Detroit, Tuesday. They were accompanied by Edna Marie and Bobby Neff, who will visit there for a short time.

Mrs. Wright Carr, Len Swafford of East Jordan, H. W. Usher and daughter, Louise Ann, of Grand Rapids, and Harold and Max Bader of East Jordan, spent Wednesday in the city guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Usher.

Mrs. Harold W. Usher and daughter, who has been visiting for the past two months at the home of her parents in East Jordan and Charlevoix, leaves Friday of this week for her home in Grand Rapids. Miss Lucille Usher will accompany her for a six weeks stay.

Mrs. Elizabeth Linn, wife of Geo. Linn, formerly of this city but now residing in Flint, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Milner, in this city, last Sunday, from the effects of cerebral hemorrhage. The funeral was held Tuesday from the house. Interment in Brookside. Further particulars later.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Frank, with her son, Benjamin Frank, Jr., and her daughter, Miss Maxine Frank, of Columbus Ohio, are occupying the Stewart cottage at 202 Grant-street. They have been touring through northern Michigan, stopping at Mackinac Island, Mackinac City, Petoskey and other resorts. They are very enthusiastic over Charlevoix, The Beautiful, and will very likely spend the season here. Mrs. William F. Miller, of Columbus, is also in the party.

SUB-CHASER VISITS US ON WAY NORTH

Submarine chaser, S. C.-412, arrived in the city Tuesday evening on her way to the straits, where she will take part in five days of maneuvers, with a fleet of seven other vessels.

These maneuvers, under the command of Captain Waldo Evans, commandant of the Great Lakes training camp, are for the enlisted men and officers of the naval reserve and the vessels participating are the S. C.-412, 419, 432, the Wilamette (flag ship), Paducah, Dubuque, Gopher and Wilmington.

The SC-412 left Milwaukee Monday morning with a crew of five officers and nineteen enlisted men, mostly boys from Green Bay, Racine and Milwaukee on a fifteen day training cruise, of which the maneuvers at the straits constitutes only a part. She reached Pentwater Monday night, coming to Charlevoix Tuesday. She leaves Thursday for Harbor Springs, her next stop on the way to Mackinac Island.

The SC-412, in charge of Commander E. A. Lichtenstein, senior naval reserve officer of Wisconsin, is a regulation, 110 foot sub-chaser, of which some 500 were built during the war. She is driven by three 220 h. p. motors, which develop a speed of about seventeen knots, or twenty miles per hour. She has three propellers.

The only armament allowed on board is small arms, as according to an old treaty with Canada, guns of heavier calibre cannot be carried by our vessels on the lakes. The boys will do some target practice with rifles, while on the cruise.

Fabric and Cord tires retreaded and made like new. Bring your tire repairing to us. Benj. Brown—Adv. 27-22.

REQUEST FOR MATCH COVERS SLICK THEFT

Sol Peters Relieved of $21.00 by Gypsy Crew

Sol Peters, who works out to the Waller farm, met with but poor return for his courtesy, last week, when he was stopped by a roving band of gypsies, one of whom asked him for a match. While he was endeavoring to comply with this request, some other of the party picked his pocket of $21.00. This occurred near John Martin's place, on the Petoskey road.

The gypsies passed on, leaving an unsuspecting victim. When he finally discovered his loss, Mr. Peters appealed to Sheriff Novak, who went after the fleeing band hot foot, came up with them about ten miles the other side of Eastport and recovered the money. The dusky gentleman who abstracted his kale could not be identified by Mr. Peters, who accompanied the sheriff, so the latter let them go on their way. They claimed to hail from Oklahoma.

Professor Lee S. Correll, who has been teaching in New Bedford, Mass., is at home for a summer vacation. He spent one week in route, visiting his sister, Mrs. Belding, at Muskegon Heights.

Platt Webster, M. K. Chew, and A. B. Chew, of Hayes township, Roy Van Steenberg, of Flint, and Floyd Webster, of Charlevoix, and their families, drove over to the state park, near Boyne City, for a picnic dinner on the fourth of July.

Mrs. John Roen and children, Floyd Webster, Harold Webster and Jesse Thomas, of Charlevoix, M. R. Hand and W. L. Hand, of Bay Shore, and families, helped to celebrate M. R. Hand's birthday last Sunday, by holding a picnic dinner on the shores of Elk Lake, near Kewadin, driving over in their cars.

Mrs. A. H. Mather, who has been spending the past six weeks, visiting at the home of Mrs. Cornelia E. Bailey, on Clinton street, left Monday for St. Joseph, Michigan, where she will visit her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan W. Mather.

William Simpson and wife of Hillsdale, Michigan, who have been the guests of Rev. C. W. Long and wife, returned to their home Monday.

They spent Thursday and Friday of last week on an auto trip to the Soo. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson are delighted with northern Michigan, especially Charlevoix, and expressed their intentions of visiting here at some future date.

Mrs. Virginia Tubbs, well-known auction bridge instructor, who has been coming to Charlevoix for the past three summers, arrived at the Inn this week and in addition to her bridge classes will elucidate the mysteries of the fascinating Chinese game, "Mah Jongg." Her classes in Chicago numbered 5,000 pupils, which fact is an excellent guaranty of her proficiency.

PRIEST ART STUDIO

CHARLEVOIX, MICH.

NEW PALACE THEATRE

THURSDAY and FRIDAY, JULY 12-13

Constance Talmadge in "East Is West." Eight reels of wonderful drama, radiant romance, suffused with oriental spell. You'll see few pictures as deep, as full of thrill and humor. The glittering triumph of Constance Talmadge's career. Also a Harold Lloyd comedy, "At the Old Stage Door."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JULY 14-15

Big double attraction. Thomas H. Ince presents "The Hottentot," the comedy special of the year, with Douglas McLean and Madge Bellamy. One of the great big hits of the year. A riot, that steeplechase—when you're not laughing you're yelling. And the story—a panic when a youth who can't even stick on a rocking-horse has to ride a four-legged thunder-bolt, because his girl believes he's a famous steeplechaser. It'll have you on your feet—riding all the way. Yours for laughs, thrills and spills. Also Al St. Johns in his latest comedy, "Young and Dumb."

MONDAY and TUESDAY, JULY 16-17

Norma Talmadge in "The Eternal Flame." Greater than "Smilin' Through." The dazzling romance of a faithful wife and willful beauty in France's gayest courts. A masterpiece—a nation-wide sensation in appeal. Eight reels aglow with the wine of life. The drama magnificent.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 18

Thomas H. Ince presents Douglas MacLean in "Bell Boy 13," a rollicking farce with the "Ince punch," and a real heart interest story. Here's where we page the laughs and you register for a real entertainment. A merry mix-up in Hotel Topsy Turvy, with a thousand rooms and a thousand laughs. Also a Hal Roach comedy with his Rascals in "The Big Show." Note—matinee at 2:30 p. m.

COMING SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JULY 21-22—Cecil B. DeMille's super production, "Adam's Rib."

MAJESTIC THEATRE

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JULY 14-15

Marshall Neilan's masterpiece. Neilan never made a greater picture—yet his triumphs run from "River's End" to "Fool's First." Leatrice Joy—reflecting the heartbreaking and happiness of "Minnie," truly a living picture. Matt Moore, Raymond Griffith and Helen Lynch are in the supporting cast. Also a two reel Bull Montana comedy, "Two Twees."

DAIRY
REPLACING OLD DAIRY STOCK
Oregon County Organization Striving to Save Animals From High-Producing Stock.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
While calves from low-producing cows are saved to maintain the herds on some farms, on other farms and in other sections, where higher-producing cattle are kept, calves from low-producing cows by purchased bulls are often vented because no market is found for them as dairy stock. This is an economic waste which, according to reports received by the United States Department of Agriculture, the extension organization of Coos county, Ore., is striving to eliminate.
About thirty calves from the best stock in Coos county were saved last year by arrangements made with farm bureaus of other counties to take them when two weeks old at $12 a head, crated and delivered at the express office. Arrangements also were made recently for a representative of the Klama County extension organization to spend 30 days locating new horn calves of good stock and finding a dairyman to feed them for two weeks before shipment to farmers in his own county.
The reports also say that calves two weeks old are shipped safely as far as 500 miles, or for 30 hours' travel; day-old calves can rarely be shipped.

Economic Waste to Veal Calves From High-Producing Cows.

The reports also say that calves two weeks old are shipped safely as far as 500 miles, or for 30 hours' travel; day-old calves can rarely be shipped.

Rank Above Mere Cleverness.
In the long run patience, persistence, determination and fixity of purpose are of more value than mere cleverness.

INDIVIDUALITY IS ESSENTIAL

In Selecting Cow It Is Important to See That Strain Is of Large Producers.

It is of less importance in selecting the cow than in individuality, for in every breed there are good individuals and poor individuals. It is important, not only that the breed, but the strain or family represented be noted for large and economical production.

Provide Supplemental Feed.
If concentrated feeds are not provided to supplement the pasture, the cow must either reduce her production or draw on reserve materials from her body.

One big difference between the family doctor and the specialist is the price.

MORTGAGE SALE
Default having been made in the conditions of a certain real estate mortgage dated the 13th day of August, 1912, executed by Edwin H. Cook and Clara Cook, his wife, to John Nicholls, Harry Nicholls, Archibald Butters and Albert E. Bridge, co-partners, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Charlevoix County, Michigan, in Liber 48 of Mortgages, on page 458, on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1912, and which mortgage under date of August 27th, 1915 was assigned to Carrie E. Knight of Banks township, Antrim County, Michigan, which said assignment was recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said County of Charlevoix, in Liber 49 of Mortgages on page 573 on the 6th day of September, A. D. 1915: And, whereas the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of $774.46 of principal and interest, and the further sum of $25 stipulated for in said mortgage as an attorney's fee, and no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the money secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, where- by the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said power of sale and in pursuance of the Statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described at public auction, to the highest bidder at the front door of the court house in the City of Charlevoix, in said County of Charlevoix, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held) on the 20th day of September, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day which said premises are described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: The west three-fourths (3-4) of the northwest quarter (1-4) of section twenty-four (24) town thirty-three (33) north, range nine (9) west, of which the following described parcel of land has been released from said mortgage, to-wit: The west half (W-1-2) of the west half (W-1-2) of the northwest quarter (NW-1-4) of said section twenty-four (24), all in the township of Norwood, County of Charlevoix, and State of Michigan.

Miss May Skow has completed her studies at Taylor University at Upland, Indiana and is spending the summer at her home here.

Crowds at the Holiness meetings are increasing with each service, people coming for miles to enjoy the wonderful singing and preaching.

D. E. Clow, Eben Yettaw, Ray Dennis and George Hoogewerf, who are spending the summer at Detroit, arrived on Monday for a short visit.

Mrs. E. J. Chelles has so far recovered from her recent illness, that she was able to leave the Charlevoix hospital on Sunday and is at home again.

Eugene VanOrnam and son, Ernest, and Mrs. Frank VanOrnam and two children of Strong's Siding, Mich., visited friends here a part of last week.

The beach near Old Antrim was the spot chosen by a party of about thirty Ellsworthites for a picnic on July 4th. Another party were on Monroe Creek near East Jordan for a picnic dinner and the town was also well represented at the Charlevoix celebration.

Ellsworth won their second game of the season on Saturday of last week when they trimmed the Bay View team 5-3, and will play here against the "Gas house" gang from Mapleville on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Reserve seats are now on sale at the Ellsworth Drug Co.'s store, and rain checks will be issued in case of snow.

The annual school meeting held on Monday evening at the school house, passed quietly for the most part, although developing a five per cent kick at times. E. J. Chelles, who was appointed to succeed D. Patterson at the latter's death, was elected to membership on the board and sixty-five hundred dollars was voted to defray expenses for the coming year.

LIVE STOCK

PREVENT LOSS IN SHIPPING

Partitions in Stock Cars Separating Large Animals From Small Ones Is Good Idea.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A little time and labor, possibly a little money, expended in building a strong partition to separate the big animals from the small ones in a mixed carload of live stock frequently saves the shipper from a serious loss on the consignment, say specialists of the bureau of markets, United States Department of Agriculture. The smaller animals, such as hogs, lambs, goats and sheep are always in danger of injury from the larger animals, and this is especially true when the car is overcrowded.

Crippled animals mean a loss to the shipper, for they bring prices considerably below the regular market price for sound stock. Dead animals bring still less—in the case of hogs only about 50 to 75 cents per hundred pounds for grease. There is always the danger, too, of the small stock becoming bruised, through being jostled and kicked by the larger ones. Bruises make a carcass less valuable, as the meat inspectors in the slaughterhouses cut out all bruised spots. Meat thus mutilated is sold at cheaper grades, the depreciation depending upon how much cutting was necessary. The buyers in the stock yards know this, of course, and consequently, pay less for animals that show bruises or seem likely to have suffered in this way.

Buyers are afraid of bruised stock, and for this reason are suspicious of small animals arriving at the stock yards in a mixed carload where the larger animals are not partitioned off. Such injuries are difficult to detect in the live animal, but when small stock, such as calves and lambs, arrive in a badly soiled condition buyers usually suspect they have been trampled and bruised by larger animals, and as a rule the buyers play safe by paying less money for such stock.

MORE BROOD SOWS ON FARMS

Increase of 1,237,000 Over Year Ago Is Seen, Due Largely to Big Stock of Corn.

There were 12,424,000 breeding sows on farms April 1, the United States Department of Agriculture estimates. This is 1,237,000 animals more than on the same date in 1921 and represents an increase of 11.1 per cent.

The large corn crop last year and the unusually large farm stocks of corn are given as the explanation of the large increase in breeding sows this spring. Corn was worth more as pork than as corn, and hogs were needed to eat the corn.

The number of hogs is quickly responsive to the general economic situation, the department points out. In April 1918, the number of breeding sows was 9.5 per cent more than on the same date in 1917, due to high hog prices as a result of war conditions. The figures on April 1, 1920, show a decline of 10 per cent for the year ended on that date. The reason for this was that the price of corn was relatively too high to encourage the feeding of hogs.

FINE FORAGE CROPS FOR PIGS

Rape Is Rich in Protein, While Alfalfa Will Carry More Animals Per Acre.

Rape is rich in protein, and is almost equal to alfalfa as a forage crop for pigs. The chief advantage to alfalfa lies in the fact that it will generally carry more pigs per acre, and does not need to be reseeded each year.

Make Land Pay More. Purchased live stock on every farm would go far toward making high-priced land pay 6 per cent net on its value.

A lot of people are poor and happy not because they wish to be poor and happy, but because they haven't a chance at happiness any other way.

MONEY FROM SUMMER FLOCKS

Seven Excellent Rules Suggested by Missouri College to Increase Profits on Eggs.

Here are seven rules suggested by the Missouri College of Agriculture that will increase the profits from the summer flock:

Produce infertile eggs by removing the roosters from the flock in the summer time.

Provide clean nests and keep eggs clean.

Do not wash eggs. Gather eggs twice daily during the summer to prevent them from being heated by the hen.

Keep them in a cool dry place, away from the fire.

Market them at least twice each week.

Insist that they be bought on a quality, graded basis.

GOOD ROADS

FINANCING FUTURE HIGHWAYS

Make Plans Now and Place Transportation on Firm Foundation, Says Chief McDonald.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"Plan now the financing of highways for the future and place highway transportation, which has come to be an indispensable part of our national life, on a firm foundation." This is the advice given by Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture, for the consideration of every voter, taxpayer and legislator.

"We are starting out to construct a system of highways such as no nation ever constructed before. The nearest approach to it is found in France and Germany, and the area of neither is as large as Texas. This great undertaking is being entered into because highways are not a luxury but furnish a real service, have a real earning capacity, and have become a national necessity.

For such an undertaking to be successful, financing to care for maintenance, reconstruction, and new construction should be planned for a long period of years in advance. Changes in methods of raising funds every few years, uncertainty as to whether funds will be provided, and periods in which funds are not provided all increase the final cost of highways. Such a policy would soon bring any private business to disaster.

"Development and increase in numbers of motor vehicles and the coincident need and demand for good roads have come so rapidly that methods of raising funds have often been expedients for the time being. Consideration has been given not so much to the just distribution of the cost as to how the funds can be raised with the least controversy and the utmost ease.

"All this leads to the conclusion that the whole situation should be gone over very carefully, traffic studies made, and the cost distributed in proportion to the service rendered.

"The bureau of public roads estimates that of the $900,000,000 spent for highways last year 33 per cent was federal aid and motor-vehicle revenue. The remaining 67 per cent comes either directly or will eventually be paid from state and local taxes. It is believed that a very considerable readjustment of the source of revenues must be made so that a larger percentage will be paid by the road user and a lesser percentage from state or local taxes."

LIGHTED CIGARS DANGEROUS

Discarded Butt or Cigarette Thrown on Wooden Floor of Steel Bridge May Cause Fire.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Don't throw away your cigar or cigarette when crossing a bridge with a wooden floor, advises the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. It may start a fire that will destroy the bridge.

Many such fires are started. Most of them are put out with small damage, but occasionally a large structure is destroyed. It seems strange that a steel bridge should be destroyed by fire, but heat from a burning floor may cause the destruction of the whole bridge by softening; the breaking of one weakened member will cause the whole span to drop into the river. On some large bridges a watchman is kept to guard against this danger, and in a dry season fires have been known to occur daily.

A committee composed of a representative of the bureau and representatives of the national board of fire underwriters, the lumber and creosote industry, and the Engineering News-Record, a prominent engineering magazine, is now investigating the subject and considering the best means of protection.

Road Repair Big Industry. As more than a million men are now employed in building and repairing public roads the highway building industry is believed to have become the largest in the United States.

Warning Signs in Missouri. The Missouri state highway commission is planning warning signs along 7,700 miles of highway.

COUNTY CLERKS MEET HERE SOON

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION AT COURT HOUSE

Many Officials and Their Families Will Visit Us on July 24th and 25th

The Fifteenth Annual State Convention of County Clerks of Michigan will meet in this city, at the court house, on July 24th and 25th. It is expected that, practically all of the county clerks of the state will be in attendance, as well as other state officials and several naturalization officers of the U. S. Bureau of Immigration, from Chicago. Many will undoubtedly take advantage of the opportunity to bring their families with them for an outing. In all, it is expected that the visitors will number about one hundred fifty.

On the morning of the 24th, Mayor Bergeon will deliver an address of welcome and at three p. m. on that day the delegates and their families will be given an auto ride around Pine Lake. Business men of the city and others will be asked to donate the use of their cars for this purpose and to notify either Dr. W. W. Mitchell, president of the Commercial Association, or Charles Emery that they will be on hand. A stop will be made at the Loeb Farms and in East Jordan. A chicken supper at the Wolverine Hotel in Boyne City will be a feature of the trip, and to this supper each volunteer chauffeur will receive a ticket of admission. Following the supper, the party will drive back to Charlevoix in the early evening.

At eight-thirty, on the morning of Wednesday, July 25th, the members of the local coast guard station will give both land and boat drills for the entertainment of the visitors.

The state association of County Clerks was organized for the purpose of considering state laws affecting their work and such matters as now come under the jurisdiction of a county clerk and to provide a medium for the concerted expression of proposed regulations, based on their individual experiences in office.

The laws that come under the scope of the association's activities are such as relate to naturalization, immigration, fish and game, elections, road work, boards of supervisors, licenses, legal forms and a host of other matters with which an enterprising clerk must be familiar. At the annual conventions, resolutions are drafted and recommendations submitted to state departments. The various state officials use these reports in making their recommendations, in turn, to the legislature. In this way, many needed reforms are brought about in the laws of the state and such reforms, based on the actual experience of the members of the association, are generally excellent. The secretary of state appoints, as his branch managers, clerks in stated districts to whom he delegates certain of his powers and, through the clerk's conventions, much valuable information is secured for his office.

For instance, one of the most important matters to come before the convention at this session is the codification of the election laws. At present, so confusing and conflicting are the statutes covering this important function that the county clerks, in preparing the ballot and

HOW TO TELL WHOPPERS AND GET AWAY WITH IT

As the season of fish stories approaches, perhaps the following pointers may be of assistance to the tellers of fishy tales:

1. Size up your listener before you begin. If he looks easy, add five pounds; extra easy, ten pounds.
2. Never bring the fish home. They shrink in transit.
3. Work without photographs. Many a man has been hung on circumstantial evidence.
4. Take your wife in your confidence. Bribe her if necessary. If that doesn't succeed, try another wife.
5. Fish without a guide, a guide's memory is notoriously exact.
6. Always go to some stream or lake which no one in your town has fished. If you don't know of such a stream or lake, invent one.
7. After you've made up your story, stick to it.

arranging for the elections are greatly handicapped and delayed in their work. The result of their findings at the meeting here, this month, will be used to supplement the opinions of the attorney general and secretary of state in regard to codification and the entire data will be placed at the disposal of the legislature at its next session to be acted upon as they shall see fit.

SHOULD USE DISCRETION

DISCRIMINATION IS A POOR POLICY

But Flagrant Violators of Traffic Rules Cannot Complain
Of This

Bulletin No. 30, addressed to members of the Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, by their secretary-manager, H. J. Gray, and which we are reprinting herewith, contains some timely advice to officials of resort towns and might be profitably read over a couple of times by policemen, constables and sheriffs who have control of traffic in such places:

"July 10, 1923
To Members:—Here's some good advice from our president: 'The tourist and resorter are the invited guests of western Michigan; and therefore every possible courtesy is due them from the citizens of Michigan.'

Our laws should be obeyed, not only by our own citizens, but by our guests; and repeated flagrant violators should be prosecuted.

Discrimination, however, against the motorist who hails from some other state or from some other section of our own state to the extent of arrests and fines for petty technical violations of local traffic rules should positively be stopped.

It is up to the members of this association interested in building up a large volume of tourist and resort business for Michigan, to see to it that their local police departments, constables, or sheriffs, as the case may be, use a little good common sense in their methods of handling the motorists instead of, through personal greed, grasping every opportunity for arrest and fine, thereby creating a most unfriendly feeling on the part of the guest who has been invited to come and see us.

Several extremely unsavory cases of this kind have recently been brought to the attention of this association; and in nearly every case arrests and fines were made because of a technical violation to the extent of two or three miles per hour above the speed limit of the town through which the motorist passed on his way to some resort.

"This is decidedly 'small town stuff.'

The proper way to handle these cases is to give the motorist a courteous warning if the traffic of those towns is so heavy that a petty technical violation of their speed law becomes dangerous.

Get after your local officers and obtain their cooperation in helping create a friendly and hospitable feeling towards the guest within our gates.

H. J. Gray, Sec.-Mgr."

We believe much wisdom has been shown in Charlevoix as regards the regulation of traffic and we have never heard of discrimination against the tourist or resorter here. Some drivers for resort families, however, who have been here long enough to become thoroughly familiar with our local traffic rules, show a tendency to disregard them and in such cases no plea of discrimination can possibly be advanced. There is no reason why a local citizen, who racks the "innards" of his humble little bus by a belated stop at street intersections in a worthy effort to comply with the law, should, the next minute, be affronted by the sight of some big Packard or Pierce Arrow shooting out into Bridge street and rounding the dummy policeman at fifteen or twenty miles per hour. What's sauce for the goose is also sauce for the gander.

THEY LIKE OUR NEW AUTO CAMP

TOURISTS EXPRESS THEIR AP-PRECIATION

With Rest Room and Water Installation Completed, There Will Be None Better

Those of our readers, who have not, as yet, visited the new auto trails camp west of town, have an interesting Sunday afternoon stroll before them.

Pitched on one of the most picturesque spots anywhere in this region, the tents and motley equipment of the tourist present a picture of a kind of life that is in sharp contrast with the familiar, well-groomed, orderly and out-and-dried existence of the formal resort.

On one day of last week, twenty-four families could be counted under their sheltering canvas. Every form of tent is in use, from the familiar wall tent to the humble "pup" style of our army days. Boxes of provisions, hand baggage and a variety of other impedimenta are strewn about the smoldering embers of the fire that cooked the last meal. The youngsters play around under the guy ropes or before the flaps of the tents, while mother busies herself with the pots and pans or, with a mouth full of clothes pins, spreads the wet bathing suit or dish towel to the breeze, and Dad tinkers with the car or plays hammer and saw in the interests of greater permanency for their simple conveniences. Calous, indeed, is he who, witnessing this little wayside drama, whispers not, softly to himself, "This is the life."

The campers seem to think that their location could not be improved, as respects scenic beauty and natural advantages. Nothing but words of praise fall from their lips. One grizzled tourist stated that in all his travels over this state he had never seen a prettier spot or a better camp site. In fact, he said, "This beats anything I have ever seen."

Many people have visited the camp since its opening two years ago, but no provision has as yet been made for checking their names or the number that have made use of its privileges. On account of the late spring, the work of making the camp habitable and comfortable for its visitors was delayed and will not now be completed until much of the season has past. Some have stayed (Continued on page eight)

CHARLEVOIX WINS A GAME WITH PETOSKEY

Pitchers Battle Results in Score of 3 to 1

The game between Charlevoix and Petoskey on the home grounds, Sunday, might be termed a pitchers' battle. The score was 3 to 1 in Charlevoix's favor.

The game ran about as follows: First inning; scoreless. Second inning; Petoskey scored one run, with bases empty. The third, fourth, fifth and sixth innings were scoreless. In the seventh inning, Charlevoix scored her three runs with the able assistance of Burden and Hanna at the bat.

Dagwell had twelve strike-outs and Thomas, of Petoskey, eleven. Petoskey got six hits on Dagwell and Charlevoix got four on Thomas. Both Dagwell and Burden played exceptionally good ball. Petoskey's pitcher, Thomas, is twenty years old, but pitched this spring, so they say, for the University of Wisconsin.

This game brings Charlevoix's standing up to 500 in the league, equal with Petoskey, as compared with East Jordan's 1,000, the latter team having won every game they have played so far this season. Poor old Pellaton, with 200, is at the bottom of the list. Charlevoix plays her next Sunday there.

Monday, July 23rd, is the date when J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be at the hotel Charlevoix. Curing headache a specialty.—Adv. 28-22.

MRS. GEORGE LYNN DIES AT AGE OF 64

Cerebral Hemorrhage Ended Her Life on July 8th

Mrs. George Lynn passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas W. Milner, Sunday morning, July 8th, at six thirty o'clock. Three weeks ago, she had a very bad spell, but gained rapidly during the third week. Saturday, at midnight, she relapsed very suddenly, and she continued worse until the end. Cerebral hemorrhage was the direct cause of death.

Elizabeth Reid was born in Canada, December 23, 1859, and came with her parents to Michigan, when but sixteen years of age, and has lived in Charlevoix for the past twenty years. Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn their loss a step-son and daughter, three sisters and two brothers. The funeral was held from the Milner home at two-thirty o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Hoskins, of the Baptist Church and Rev. Quant, of the M. E. church, officiating.

Mrs. Ned Durance and Miss Erma Carey sang, accompanied by Miss Pearl Durance at the piano. Following the service, the body was taken to Brookside cemetery for interment.

The next meeting of the federation will be held at East Jordan.

SUGAR BEET FIELDS ARE LOOKING FINE

Deep Fall Plowing Has Produced
Clean Crop

The sugar beet fields are looking fine these days and the crop promises to be one of the best ever known here. Two nice settings near town are those of Louis Shapton, 10 acres and Will Straw, 5 acres, on route 1. The plants are set eight inches apart and under the skillful treatment of the Mexican experts are flourishing like the proverbial green bay tree.

The Mexican labor imported for work in the beet fields are giving most excellent satisfaction and not a kick has been received, as yet, on their work or conduct.

Those who plowed in the fall, are now seeing the wisdom of their course. This applies as well to beans and other crops as to beets. Deep fall plowing turns the worms, grubs and other pests under the soil and keeps them from getting established on the plants. It also makes bigger and stronger plants.

J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be here again Monday, July 23rd. Glasses guaranteed to fit.—Adv. 28-22.

HOSPITAL DRIVE STARTS MONDAY

BOARD PLANS TO BUILD NEW ANNEX

Institution Free of Debt, But Must Meet Year's Running Expenses

Within a few days—possibly by the first of next week, a membership drive will be started among the residents of this city for the benefit of the Charlevoix Hospital.

A year ago, a similar drive was started to clear the hospital of some six thousand dollars indebtedness and provide for the year's current running expenses. The goal set was reached and the institution is now free of debt.

This year, certain contemplated changes in the lay-out of the hospital building necessitate the construction of an addition, or annex. It is planned to remove the kitchen and dining room from the main building and locate them in this annex, to insure more quiet and provide more ward space in the hospital proper. The cost of building this addition will be in the neighborhood of ten thousand dollars and this is a high estimate.

It is also hoped to raise enough by this method, as formerly, to assist in the running expenses of the hospital for another year. The people of the town donated very freely last year, considering the rather discouraging financial outlook of the institution's affairs at that time, and it is hoped that they will do as well, if not better, in 1923.

Give freely and as promptly as possible, so that the hospital board may know at an early date what they may depend upon. It is possible that not all who may wish to donate can be reached personally by those who will take part in the drive. In any such case, checks may be mailed to Meyer A. Levinson or S. M. Rose, officials of the board.

The results of this drive will be considered by the hospital management as an indication of the attitude of the townspeople towards the hospital. This institution, during the period of its existence, has convincingly demonstrated its value to the community and it would be an irreparable loss to the entire community, should it be necessary to close its doors.

The minimum fee required for membership in the hospital is $5.00. Above this amount, the sky is the limit. Let's all put our shoulder to the wheel and make things go.

FORCED WEBSTER'S CAR INTO A DITCH

Amos Struck Two Trees and Got Off Light

Amos Webster, of this city, had an extremely painful experience last Saturday evening, at six-thirty o'clock, when the Ford sedan which he was driving, accompanied by Dave Schweitzer, on their way back from Conway was forced into the ditch about three miles north of town, on the Petoskey road.

Three or four big cars were approaching from the rear at this point, where the road is quite sandy at the sides. One of them, in attempting to pass Mr. Webster, struck the Ford a glancing blow, forcing it into the ditch, where it caromed against a couple of trees, completely demolishing the car and throwing Webster through the windshield. Mr. Schweitzer escaped with a few scratches while his companion was severely cut and bruised about the face and one arm. That either escaped instant death was miraculous.

DON'T MISS SEEING THIS FAST GAME

Next Wednesday or Thursday, the fast Onaway team will play here. Their star player is well-known to Charlevoix fans. Pat O'Hara, who last season twirled many excellent games for Charlevoix, will endeavor to defeat his former team-mates.

This game has been scheduled at a heavy expense, by our local manager, and it is hoped a good crowd will turn out to support the team. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock. Onaway has one of the fastest teams in Michigan at present.

POULTRY

MARKET FOR YOUNG GUINEAS

Best Season Is During Latter Part of Summer and Fall—Sell Best With Feathers On.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The marketing season for guinea fowl is during the latter part of summer, and throughout the fall. At this time the demand in the city markets is for young birds weighing from one to two pounds each. At about two and one-half months old guineas weigh from one to one and one-half pounds, and at this size they begin reaching the markets in August. As the season advances the demand is for heavier birds.

The usual practice in marketing guinea fowl is to place them on the market unplucked, and in most markets guineas are sold this way. They appear more attractive with feathers on, and sell more readily. Dressed, the small size and dark color of the skin are likely to produce the prospective customer who may be unfamiliar with the bird's excellent eating qualities. For hotel and restaurant trade, however, guineas should be dressed in the same way as common fowl. Better ask the dealer, before shipping, whether he wants the feathers on or off.

The Department of Agriculture has learned that if the feathers are to be left on the birds all that is necessary in preparing for market is to bleed them by severing the principal blood vessels of the neck, allowing them to hang head downward until bleeding is complete.

If the feathers are to be removed, it should be done by dry plucking. When the brain is pierced after severing the blood vessels in the neck the feathers are loosened by a convulsive movement of the muscles and can be removed easily.

TO AVOID POULTRY DISEASES
Health of Fowls Depends Almost Entirely Upon Clean Quarters and Right Feed.

Many people who raise poultry spend money for remedies for ailments in their flock which they could prevent if they would realize that the health of poultry depends almost entirely upon clean quarters and proper feeding.

Few poultry diseases are caused by anything but lack of precaution. A leaky roof causes damp litter. Lack of litter under roosts causes a damp and foul house under a good roof. Cracks in the floor or sides mean drafts. Lack of clean scratch litter means lack of exercise and reduced vigor.

Lack of balanced rations means a tendency towards digestive troubles. No grit helps to keep feed from being properly digested. Too tight quarters cause them to become damp, foul-smelling and unhealthy. Lack of ventilation causes poultry to live in vitally. Colds are caused by dusty houses and exposure to moisture and cold.

DEMAND IS FOR WHITE EGGS
An Exceptionally Keen Sense of Taste Would Be Required to Note Any Difference.

It would take an exceptionally keen sense of taste to distinguish any difference between white and brown eggs at breakfast, but human beings are such fastidious that, in the opinion of some, the difference is there just the same. In New York the demand is for white shells, while in Boston the brown egg is just as popular.

"Some men will have only Dutch Belted cattle or Hampshire hogs," said one of the poultry specialists in the Department of Agriculture. "They are color enthusiasts. The liking for white-shelled eggs may have grown from associating the egg with the white poultry, an agreeable picture suggesting cleanliness. Actually, however, the brown-shelled egg is every bit as good as the white until you arrive at the price in New York. The difference there sometimes is considerably in favor of the white."

At present all the general purpose breeds of chickens are layers of brown eggs. Some of the leading markets demand the white egg, however, and as the price favors the white product it is important to supply it if possible and at the same time produce a fowl having weight in meat.

White Holland Turkey.

to weigh 15 pounds dressed for market. The flesh is white and makes fine eating.

White Holland turkeys are sold to be the best layers, as a rule, among the turkey family. In some flocks the hens will not go broody or hatch; or if they do, it will be only after the season is far advanced. Other speed means will want to sit before laying a dozen eggs and some have raised two broods in a season. One man is reported to have owned four turkey hens which laid 261 eggs during the season while one of them raised a brood in July. Like all other breeds the white birds must have proper care and proper feed to be profitable. Colds, the and illth and general neglect will be fatal.

WHITE HOLLAND IS VERY POPULAR

While Not So Common as Bronze It Is Widely Raised—Has Many Excellent Qualities.

The white Holland turkey, while not so common as the bronze variety, is nevertheless widely raised and exceedingly popular. People who keep them long enough to get familiar with their qualities and characteristics generally prefer them to any other breed.

The origin of the white Holland is not known, according to writers on poultry, but it is believed to have been developed by breeding white birds selected from other breeds, which appear occasionally as "sports." It seems quite certain that they did not come from Holland or the Netherlands. It has come to the front as a distinct breed since about 1890. The standard weights are 25 lbs. for a cock; 16 lbs. for a hen; 14 lbs. for a cockerel; 10 lbs. for a pullet. At the same time any of these classes may be fattened to from three to six pounds above the weight quoted. Six months old cockers, or cockerets, have been known

There are refrigerators, good refrigerators and best refrigerators, the Leonard is of the latter class. Do you ask why? It is on account of its scientific construction. Made by men who have been making refrigerators for nearly half a century, and who have made every improvement possible to make a sanitary, food preserving refrigerator. The plant occupies 20 acres of ground and produces 150,000 refrigerators annually. The largest plant of this kind in the world. The construction consists of eleven walls as follows: 1st—outside case of wood; 2nd—wool felt; 3rd—air space; 4th—water-proof sheathing; 5th—polar felt; 6th—water-proof sheathing; 7th—wool felt; 8th—water-proof sheathing; 9th—inside wood case; 10th—air space; 11th—porcelain or galvanized iron lining.

Aside from the construction of the case, the utmost care is taken in the interior construction. The Leonard latest patent waste and trap pipe, the all-metal ice rack, and open wire mesh shelves, allowing free passage of air, taken all together makes the Leonard the best refrigerator made.

You are cordially invited to visit us and inspect our facilities and view the specimens of our work that we have placed on exhibition. The Priest Studio produces portraits of personality. We are prepared to demonstrate that the only completely satisfactory photograph is that taken by a professional photographer. We make photographs of distinction for every member of the family, but we specialize in pictures of children which perpetuate the charm of youth for all time. Our photographs are enclosed in Collins Oak Leaf and Medic-Burrows Folders, standard settings for the really good photographs which makes every picture acceptable to the most fastidious, and within reach of those to whom price is the first consideration.

PRIEST ART STUDIO

CHARLEVOIX, MICH.

NEW PALACE THEATRE

THURSDAY, JULY 19

Wm. Fox presents John Gilbert in "Madness of Youth," supported by Billy Dove. A strong drama of intrigue and mystery. Also Hal Roach's rascals in "The Big Show."

FRIDAY, JULY 20

First National presents Katherine MacDonald in "Money, Money, Money," the drama of a girl who sacrificed friends, home, and love for money, and the events that followed when she lost all. Also a Harold Lloyd one reel comedy "Never Touched Me."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JULY 21-22

Paramount's big super special production, "Adam's Rib." A Cecil B. De Mille picture in ten reels, with an all star cast, and the most amazing settings ever assembled. Here's a picture that strips the jazzy tinsel of the modern flapper and shows what she is really made of—that throws the spotlight on her modern muddled parents and points out who's to blame. De Mille cast, gowns and settings—the last word in luxury.

MONDAY and TUESDAY, JULY 23-24

Thomas H. Ince presents "What A Wife Learned." Love led Shiela Dorne into wifehood and a cabin. Ambition swept between man and wife. On its flood she found success—but far from him. Then the ebb tide started to bring her back. For thrill and all that makes enjoyment, see Milton Sills. John Bowers and Marguerite De La Motte in a drama as big as Ince can make. Also Hal Roach's rascals in a two reel comedy, "The Champen."

WEDNESDAY, JULY 25

Hope Hampton in "The Light in the Dark," with Lon Chaney and E. K. Lincoln. A sweeping drama, fired with the beauty of a star who blazed a permanent place in the firmament with stardust. Also a Cameo comedy, "Exit Stranger."

MAJESTIC THEATRE

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JULY 21-22

Wm. Fox presents Tom Mix, assisted by the master horse, Tony, in "3 Jumps Ahead." A tale of the western plains—where the best man wins. Here's real action for you in the most thrilling Tom Mix picture ever made. Also Buster Keaton in one of the best two reel comedies he ever made, "The Boat."

MARKET SEASON FOR GUINEAS

Latter Part of Summer and Throughout Fall is Best Time to Dispose of Fowls.

The marketing season for guinea fowl is during the latter part of summer, and throughout the fall. At this time the demand in the city market is for young birds weighing from one to two pounds each. At about 2 1/2 months old guineas weigh from one to 1 1/2 pounds, and at this size they begin reaching the markets in August. As the season advances the demand is for heavier birds.

The usual practice in marketing game birds is to place them on the market unplucked, and in most markets guineas are sold this way. They appear more attractive with feathers on, and sell more readily. Dressed, the small size and dark color of the skin are likely to prejudice the prospective customer who may be unfamiliar with the bird's excellent eating qualities. For hotel and restaurant trade, however, guineas should be dressed in the same way as common fowl. Better ask the dealer, before shipping, whether he wants the feathers on or off.

If the feathers are to be left on the birds all that is necessary in preparing for market is to bleed them by severing the principal blood vessels of the neck, allowing them to hang head downward until bleeding is complete.

If the feathers are to be removed it should be done by dry picking. When the birds are plucked after severing the blood vessels in the neck the feathers are loosened by a convulsive movement of the muscles and can be removed easily.

That was a lively social last Monday night. 65 young people met on our church lawn and had a real good time. The lawn was electrically lighted. Not one minute was lost by our recreational director, Earl Shapton. So many said, "Nothing like it to drive away the blues." Next? We have it—a beach party with a bon fire, "winnie-wurts" and rolls.

A new field has been opened up by our church and is being worked. Deaconess Dickman is the big sister for all the girls now here. Whether here as visitors or workers, young women of the community will do well to get acquainted with the deaconess. Let her help you. Let her be your social guide. We have a girl's night each Friday. Come as late as you desire; but come. A hotel manager said last week, "If my daughter were away from home I would be delighted to know some church was looking after her interests."

We have the Bay View program. Ask the pastor for one or drop a card and we will mail it to you. This Friday Dr. Higley will give an illustrated lecture on "Missionary the Indians." Next Monday Dr. Laird will speak afternoon and evening. Tuesday next Dr. Liger R. Eckhardt will lecture on "The Life of Christ." But get the program and read it for yourself.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain real estate mortgage dated the 13th day of August, 1912, executed by Edwin H. Cook and Clara Cook, his wife, to John Nicholls, Harry Nicholls, Archibald Butters and Albert F. Bridge, co-partners, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Charlevoix County, Michigan, in Liber 48 of Mortgages, on page 458, on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1912, and which mortgage under date of August 27th, 1915, was assigned to Carrie E. Knight of Benktownship, Antrim County, Michigan, which said assignment was recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said County of Charlevoix, in Liber 49 of Mortgages on page 573, on the 6th day of September, A. D. 1915.

And, whereas the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of $774.45 of principal and interest, and the further sum of $25 stipulated for in said mortgage as an attorney's fee, and no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the money secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said power of sale and in pursuance of the Statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described at public auction, to the highest bidder at the front door of the court house in the City of Charlevoix, in said County of Charlevoix, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held) on the 20th day of September, A. D.

1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day which said premises are described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: The west three-fourths (3/4) of the northwest quarter (1/4) of section twenty-four (24) town thirty-three (33) north, range nine (9) west, of which the following described parcel of land has been released from said mortgage, to-wit: The west half (1/2) of the west half (1/2) of the northwest quarter (1/4) of said section twenty-four (24), all in the township of Norwood, County of Charlevoix, and State of Michigan.

Dated June 27th, 1923.
Carrie E. Knight, Mortgagee.
Rollie L. Lewis, attorney for mortgagee, Business Address: Charlevoix, Michigan.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made for more than thirty days in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Rolo Claspell and Daisy Claspell, his wife, of Hudson Township, Charlevoix Co., Michigan, to Oxford Savings Bank of Oxford, Michigan, dated the 8th day of April, A. D. 1915, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan, on the 12th day of May, A. D. 1915, in Liber 40 of Mortgages, on page 209, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Three Hundred Seventy-seven and 2/100 dollars, and an attorney's fee of Fifteen ($15.00) dollars together with amounts paid for taxes by mortgagee as provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof:

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, on Tuesday, the 14th day of August, A. D. 1923, at one o'clock in the afternoon, Central Standard Time, the undersigned will, at the front entrance of the court house in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held, sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount so as aforesaid due on said mortgage, with seven per cent interest, and all legal costs, together with said attorney's fee, to-wit: Property situated in the township of Hudson, County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: The East half (1/2) of the southwest quarter (1/4) of section Twenty-four (24), township thirty-two (32) north, range four (4) west, containing eighty acres of land, more or less.

BEST PLAN TO RAISE CALVES

Minnesota Idea Is to Give Youngsters Good Start and Then Feed Hay and Grain.

The milk of 45 out of every 100 cows kept in the United States is sold as whole milk. Owners of the herds where milk is marketed in this way have a serious problem in raising the necessary number of calves to maintain their herds. If no calves are raised and the farmer depends upon buying what he needs there is constant danger of disease and his herd soon improves from year to year. When raising calves under these conditions some milk must be used, as there is no substitute for it.

Experiments in progress at the Minnesota experiment station show that the best plan so far worked out is to give the calves a good start with milk and then get them on grain and hay as soon as possible. The plan suggested is to feed milk in the usual way to the age of about fifty days, then if the calf is strong and vigorous gradually reduce the amount until none is fed after the calf is sixty to sixty-five days old.

Alfalfa or clover hay and a grain mixture of cornmeal four parts, bran one part and oatmeal one part is kept before the calves. They will begin eating grain and hay when about a month old and will gradually increase the amount until at the time the milk feeding ceases at sixty to sixty-five days of age they are able to get along very nicely without milk.

Calves handled in this manner will be somewhat checked in growth for a short time after the milk is taken from the ration, but will be in as good condition as the calf raised on skim milk by the time they are six months of age. The total milk used need not exceed 400 pails per cow. The grain mixture mentioned serves the purpose just as well as more expensive commercial calf meals.—C. H. Eckles, chief of the dairy division, University of Minnesota.

DAIRY POINTS

BEST SITE FOR MILK HOUSE

Not Good Plan to Get Them Too Near Cow Barn—Must Be Clean, Alry and Dust-Proof.

Milk houses must be clean, airy, dust-proof places, free from all insects and bad odors. They should not open directly into the barn, but it is equally injudicious to build them a very great distance away from the barn. Prompt removal and quick cooling are the main points to observe in handling milk. Put the milk in a well-drained spot and away from rubbish heaps, manure piles and fly-breeding places. The outer walls, if of concrete, should be from 6 to 8 inches thick; if of brick,

Milk House Suitable for a Tan to Twenty-Cow Dairy.

9 inches; if of tile, 8 inches; if of stone, 14 to 18 inches; and if of wood frame, 8 inches.

Authorities say that particular care should be exercised in constructing milk house floors. Concrete is by far the best material for this purpose, as it resists moisture, decay and wear. Concrete floors should be built of a base made up of one part cement, three parts sharp, clean sand and five parts stone. This base should be about five inches thick and should be covered with a top coat one inch thick made by mixing one part cement and two parts sand. The top coat should be troweled hard and smooth.

SAFEGUARDING MILK SUPPLY

Form of Ordinance Drawn to Guide Communities in Framing Practicable Law.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In properly safeguarding the milk supply of a community, the enactment of a suitable and enforceable law is usually the first step, according to a reprint of department bulletin 385, "A Guide for Formulating a Milk Ordinance," just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. Milk, in its composition and natural qualities, is a most useful and acceptable food, but may acquire one form or another of insanitary taint on its way from the cow to the consumer; and it is not always possible to require either producers or distributors to observe all the precautions which science has shown to be necessary, unless there is a law to back them up.

The public and officials of a city realizing this need may sometimes, in their zeal to make the new regulations strict enough, go too far and insert provisions that cannot readily be enforced or administered. Even health department officials may not be familiar with all phases of this subject, unless they have already been engaged in the enforcement of milk regulations; and in any case, whether the city is just starting milk regulation or is revising its ordinances to bring them up to date, it is desirable to take advantage of the experience of other communities.

The United States Department of Agriculture has drawn up a form of ordinance to guide communities in framing a finished and practicable law. Copies of the bulletin may be had free upon application to the department at Washington, D. C.

IRREGULAR MILKING IS BAD

Not Only Lessens Output, but Tends to Disturb Functional Activity of Animal.

Early milking morning or evening one day and later milking morning or evening another day not only lessens the output of milk, but tends to disturb functional activity and prevents a maximum yield for the lactation period.

MIXTURE FOR YOUNG CALVES

Ground Corn, Oats, Bran and Ollmeal Is Recommended for Those Under Six Months.

For calves under six months old in good condition and having a soft, melow hids, a mixture of 80 pounds ground corn, 80 pounds ground oats, 90 pounds bran and 10 pounds ollmeal, fed three to five pounds daily, is recommended.

Hard to Get Flow Back. If a cow's milk flow is allowed to go down through neglect, poor feed or any other cause, it is almost impossible to get the flow back up to the first mark.

Milk Only Good Cows. Milk more cows—but by all that's sensible, milk only good cows.

Cause of Stringy Milk. Stringy milk does not occur frequently unless the cows drink water from stagnant pools, etc.

SLEEPY

By Mildred Farmer

At the trading posts in Alaska, a queer story is told. It has been told so many times, that people are beginning to think it is a fairy tale. The manager of one of the stores there, had a son whose name was Jack, but everyone called him Sleepy, because he hardly was ever awake. He heard this story so many times that he now fell asleep every time someone told it.

One day it sounded different than usual. A trader said, "As I was walking along a narrow path, I came to a cave. I didn't see any one in it, but there were candles all around inside."

Sleepy heard this and became interested and said to the man, "Please, sir, will you tell me where that cave is?"

The man said, "You follow the path that goes up Ridge Mountain and you will come to it."

As it was early in the morning Sleepy took his horse and set out to search for the cave.

After he had ridden for a long while, he came to a large dead tree which had fallen across the path. He could not go on further while it lay there, so he dismounted. When he got off he sat down on the tree to rest. He was digging around in the ground with his heel, when he heard a clicking sound. He looked down and saw a small tin box. He picked it up and opened it and found a small glass key and a piece of paper. He unfolded the paper and read, "Go to the cave and you can have what you find."

Sleepy thought it was strange that it should tell him to go to a cave when he had already started for one, but he set out. He climbed up the mountain path until he came to a hole in the side of the mountain. And he thought that must be the cave, so he went in. Sure enough, there were the candles, placed all around. He took some matches out of his pocket and lighted them and then began to look around.

In the back of the cave was a door. He opened it and saw that it led into a long, dark tunnel. He thought he heard a moaning sound in it and closed the door. Just as the door closed he heard a harsh voice say, "Stop."

Turning around he saw an old and ugly woman. She had on a long white dress which made her look like a ghost. Her long, white hair fell over her shoulders. Her finger nails were long and curved, and Sleepy thought she looked very much like a witch. He was very frightened and didn't know what to do, when she suddenly said, "Who sent you here and what for?"

Sleepy said, "I heard that there was a large diamond in one of the rocks here and I came to see if I could find it."

She said, "You are mistaken. There isn't anything of any value here." Then she walked out.

Sleepy decided to look around. He began to wonder where the tin box came from. As he was looking around he saw a small door in the side of the cave. He tried to open it but found that it was locked. Then he thought of the key he had found and took it out of his pocket. While he was holding it, something dashed it out of his hand. He looked on the wall of the cave and saw a large snake all ready to spring at him. Sleepy picked up a rock and killed it. Then he picked up the key and put it into the lock and the door opened, and there, sparkling like a million stars, was the largest diamond he had ever seen. Just as he was about to put his hand on it, someone called, "Jack, it's time to get up." It had all been a dream.

BEAVER ISLAND MARINE MAKING GOOD

Patrick McDonough, of St. James, Scores Again

The second graduation diploma to be awarded him within three months has just been received by Patrick J. McDonough of St. James, Charlevoix County, Mich., who received a diploma of proficiency in stenography, taught by the Marine Corps Institute here. A few weeks ago he graduated in the commercial correspondence course. Following the receipt of each diploma he received a letter from Major General Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, praising his excellent work in completing the course and passing the final examination.

Patrick is a son of Thomas McDonough of St. James, and he made his home there before he joined the Marine Corps two or three years ago. In recent months he has been stationed with the Second Brigade of Marines in Santo Domingo, one of the republics of the West Indies, and he took both courses through the correspondence method while he was performing his regular military duties as a marine.

The Marine Corps Institute gives free instruction through correspondence in the arts, trades and sciences. Students of the institute are located all over the world.

MANITOU CREW ON A STRIKE

Threaten to Desert Ship Sunday at Local Dock

Because of alleged unwholesome food and lodging, the stewards, oilers, engineers, firemen and lookout-men of the steamship, Manitou, threatened to desert the boat at the local docks here early Sunday afternoon.

The crew numbered about twenty, the majority of them being high school students, who evidently could not endure the deficient appropriations. Their complaint was precisely one that created a typical hunger strike. For two days, they declared, their meals were composed of shredded wheat biscuits, oatmeal and condensed milk as a constituent. Some complained of infested bunks, and that the bedding was not changed for weeks.

It does not appear quite possible that such conditions could exist on passenger boats of modern navigation. We learn, however, that the captain was not aware of these conditions and immediately proposed a conference at the dock. After an hour of deliberation the conclusions were such as to affect a reconciliation and the crew, headed by the chief engineer, returned to their respective duties.

CARNIVAL STARTS WITH A BIG BLARE

Blazing Lights Wake Up Staid South Side

The big five day carnival, staged by the Lipka Amusement Co., for the benefit of the Moose order, pitched the first of their tents on the south side athletic field early Tuesday morning and last night all the attractions were in full swing. The kiddies swarmed over the merry-ground early in the evening and it was a sight to gladden the heart to witness their unalloyed bliss as the gaily painted string of weird looking horses swung around the brilliantly lighted circle to the strains of the barrel organ.

Cars were parked for the full length of the block on Garfield Avenue, on both sides of the street and a merry crowd thronged the midway, the familiar faces of home folks predominating. Perhaps, the biggest group gathered around the platform, where the "Injy-rubber" man grew two feet in as many minutes and stretched his arms and legs out to unbelievable proportions. What a feller he would make for St. Power's new baseball team!

Despite the presence of the carnival, none of the town's other amusement places seemed to be slighted, the Palace, Lakeside Pavillion and skating rink showing their usual quota of attendance.

BLACK COLOR IS HEREDITARY

Feeding and Management of Sheep
Have Nothing to Do With Appearance of Black Lambs.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)
The appearance of black lambs in a flock made up entirely of white sheep has been for ages, and is still, a cause for wonder and the basis of superstitions. But the study of the laws of breeding and heredity has explained the reasons for the sporadic appearance of these off-color specimens. In a letter to a farmer who reported 25 black lambs from a flock of 175 purebred Shropshire ewes, all white, and who considered certain feeds the cause, the United States Department of Agriculture gives a clear statement of the principles involved.

Feeding and management of sheep, says Dr. Sewall Wright, specialist in animal genetics, have nothing to do with the appearance of black lambs. The black color is hereditary even though it may be transmitted by ordinary white sheep. The black color in such a case is what is called a recessive character. While sheep which transmit this character at all transmit black in 50 per cent of their reproductive cells (ova in the case of ewes and spermatozoa in the case of rams) and white in the remaining 50 per cent. Thus, such white sheep mated with blacks (which can only transmit black) produce 50 per cent black lambs and 50 per cent white. All of these white lambs can transmit black.

White sheep which transmit only white, mated with blacks, produce only white lambs, but all of these lambs can transmit black. When both ewe and ram are white, but both transmit black, about 25 per cent of the lambs are black, 50 per cent are white, which transmit black, while the remaining 25 per cent are true-breeding whites. In this case it is an even chance that a given ovum will transmit black and an even chance that it will be fertilized by a male cell which transmits black, making one chance in four that both transmit black, which is necessary for the production of a black lamb.

With 25 black lambs appearing in the flock, it is indicated that about 100 of the 175 ewes transmit black, assuming that all of the rams used transmit it. If not all the rams transmit this color, then it is probable that an even larger number of ewes transmit it.

Department of Agriculture Bulletin 205, Principles of Live Stock Breeding, contains a detailed discussion of this problem. It may be obtained from the superintendent of public documents, government printing office, Washington, D. C., for 15 cents.

TEN MILE STRETCH ON M-13 TO BE LET Over Four Miles of the Job in This County

On Wednesday, July 11th, bids were opened at the court house here on 10.9 miles of Class A, one course, fifteen foot gravel road, on M-13, commencing just south of Boyne Falls and ending at the intersection of M-13 and the G. R. & I. R. R., two miles west and one and a half miles south of Elmira, in Warner township, Antrim County.

That portion of the work lying within the limits of Charlevoix county is 4.113 miles in length and in Antrim county, 5.977 miles.

Twelve bids were received, the lowest being that of Cadwell & Son, of Boyne City, in amount, $83,360.73. This figure does not cover all of the work, but only that portion on which bids were made. Other items will bring the expense of this stretch up to between $90,000.00 and $100,000.00.

About four miles of this road, lying between Boyne Falls and the Antrim-Charlevoix line, is being relocated and run on the west side of the railroad tracks of the G. R. & I. This will avoid the several crossings that occur on the present road and somewhat shorten it.

This is a state trunk line job and the award of the contract will be made by the state highway department.

May Hold Community Picnic
The business men of the town, at a meeting this week, decided to hold a community picnic at the park here, on Thursday, August 2nd, which will take the place this year of the annual barbecue.

A full day of sports, ball games, etc., will be on the bill, with band music and speeches and a general good time.

Start now to make your plans to be on hand from early until late, and bring your dinners. Hot coffee will be furnished free. Watch next week's Courier for particulars.

CHAUTAUQUA PLAYS TO EMPTY SEATS

Legality of Contract May Be Fought Out in Court

In spite of the attendant secrecy, the news has at last leaked out that Ellsworth entertained a chautauqua from Saturday until Monday. The outfit arrived unheralded, in spite of the fact that a truck load of advertising lay at the express office and a bunch of season tickets have been at the post office for the past six weeks, begging to be taken out of retirement and sold.

Some time early last winter, a young lady arrived in Ellsworth, representing the Travers-Newton Chautauqua Assn., of Des Moines, Iowa, with a proposition for putting on a 3-day chautauqua here some time this summer, the conditions being a guarantee of four hundred and fifty dollars for their appearance. The young lady evidently had no trouble in securing the necessary guarantee, as the names of eleven of the town's leading business men and women were placed on the dotted line. Several weeks ago a bunch of advertising addressed to the chairman of this committee, George Kloster, arrived, but was refused as was the season tickets which arrived by registered mail, and no notice of the date of the company's arrival was passed out until last week when the advance workers blew in and erected their tents on the Slough property, opposite the M. E. church. They opened their program on Saturday with two numbers daily, concluding on Monday night.

Now the matter of the four-fifty, minus the small amount taken in at the gate, is up in the air, with the chautauqua assn., who have fulfilled their part of the contract, threatening to sue for collection in case a settlement is not made, and interesting events are apt to transpire in the near future.

DAIRY HINTS

CONTESTS IMPROVE QUALITY

Demonstrations in South Carolina Have Done Much to Promote Dairy Industry.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

County and state butter contests, a feature of South Carolina extension work for women last year, accomplished much in the way of improving the dairy industry there. South Carolina is not a dairy state. It uses annually about $14,000,000 worth of dairy products shipped in from other states. Some of this importation is due to the fact that while there is a large amount of farm butter produced within the state, no steady demand for it has been developed. For the purpose of creating an interest in this farm-made butter, and to teach the women to make a better product, contests which were open to home-demonstration club members were started during 1921 in 11 counties.

Butter demonstrations were given in all the women's clubs, and all interested persons were invited to a demonstration by the state specialist at the county seat. Three hundred and sixty women and girls enrolled for the contests, and of these 120 sent butter for every judging. Without exception there was a great improvement in the packages brought to market and the quality of the butter sold, as the women learned to what extent the butter is affected by the temperature used for ripening and churning, the care and cleanliness in handling, and the feeds for the cow.

"Contest butter" sold very readily at the various club markets, and those who did not enter the contest were obliged to make improvement in the quality of what they offered for sale or lose the market for their butter. Extension workers report to the United States Department of Agriculture that the butter produced in all parts of the state has been perceptibly improved as a result of these contests.

POULTRY NOTES

Put your eggs in cold storage via the waterglass route.

Keep the baby chicks hungry at all times. Never feed too much.

Pinches of sodium fluoride in the feathers will rid a hen of lice.

Scatter air-slaked lime freely about the houses and yards; it will go a long way towards preventing disease.

Alfalfa meal and wheat bran are, perhaps, the most common "bases" for chick growing mash and they are hard to excel.

Alfalfa meal should be in all mash rations and it will pay to encourage the chicks or fowls to eat as much of it as possible. It makes for greater capacity.

Don't sell the hens because the price of eggs is low and prices for the hens high. Keep plenty of hens to lay eggs for home use and to sell next winter when prices are up.

EXTRA SESSION CHANGE GLIMMERS

GOVERNOR STATES HE WILL NOT POLL MEMBERS

Responsibility Rests With The Legislature Declares State
Executive

If the members of the legislature want an extra session called to do what the constitution says they should do relative to the reapportionment of legislative districts in Michigan, they must indicate to Governor Groesbeck their willingness to do what they failed to do last winter without necessity of the governor going out into the highways and byways of the state to find out whether they have changed their minds or not.

They must indicate without initiation by the chief executive, in conferences or otherwise, just what they will do before he will spend a cent of the state's money for an extra session.

These facts were made evident recently when Governor Groesbeck declared it was not his intention to poll the house to find out whether it had changed its mind. It apparently is up to the members to let the governor know, whether they are willing to do what the constitution says they should do.

"Just as I said in my statement, there will be no use calling an extra session of the legislature unless I receive some information that members of the house who were opposed to re-apportionment give some evidence of changed opinion," declared Governor Groesbeck.

"If in the next few months members of the house indicate a changed attitude and are willing to do what their constitutional duty is, there might be some use in calling an extra session, but rest assured I must have some indication of that changed sentiment from members of the house. I am not going to summon anyone here to talk it over. The legislature was here last winter and had plenty of time to do what the constitution says it should do."

a month at a time, others one or two weeks and a good many have used the camp as a one night stop-over, picking up their things at day-break and sitting on to the next stage of their journey. Many, without a doubt, could have been induced to remain longer with us had water and other facilities been available.

However, at present, water pipes are installed and the new rest room and toilet, a beautiful two story building, 26x26 feet, is nearing completion. The first story of this building is built of concrete blocks and contains two toilet sections, for men and women, approached by separate entrances. The upper part is built in pavilion style, open to the air, with lattice bracket work finished with a railing waist high and crowned by a substantial roof. On this floor, a circular table for writing purposes and to hold books will be built around a center post and comfortable chairs and seats provided. The building, when completed will present a very handsome appearance and is a convenient, substantial structure of which the city may be well proud of. Provisions may be made for a register to record the names and addresses of the campers, their length of stay and other data that may be useful to the city in advertising this camp and keeping it free from objectionable features, as regards to character of its residents.

The auto camp has come to stay. We should have had one long ago. Other towns have tried them and found them a benefit. In the face of occasional criticism, it may be said that the people who use the camp seem to be of a good sort. They are substantial citizens, mostly of native stock—farmers and business men from the lower middle west and the southern part of this state—the kind of folks that we like to have with us and who are usually a credit to any community.

INDIAN PREACHER KILLED SUNDAY

Car Struck His Buggy Just at Dusk

Rev. Louis Medavis, an Indian preacher living near Burgess, was struck by a car last Saturday night, while on his way from the Burgess store to his home, receiving injuries from which he died a few hours later.

Mr. Medavis, who is seventy-eight years of age, was driving a horse and buggy at the time the accident happened. A plumber, named Byers, approaching from the rear in his car, failed to see the Indian until too late to stop or turn out. The buggy was smashed and the debris thrown over onto the horse, which was knocked off its feet. Mr. Medavis was thrown to the side of the road, where he was picked up by Byers, who rushed him to a Petoskey hospital where he died later that evening.

Although it was about eight o'clock when the accident occurred, Mr. Medavis carried no light and this fact is pleaded as an extenuating circumstance by Byers. Some settlement, we understand, has been made with the family of the deceased. What further action will be taken has not as yet been determined.

IMPROVED ROADS

GREAT SYSTEM OF HIGHWAYS

Scheme Being Worked Out by Federal and State Authorities to Surpass
Other Countries.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

A system of highways that will serve the whole country and will be far superior to any other in the world is being mapped out by federal and state engineers. It is estimated that the system will comprise 180,000 miles of road. The federal highway act recently enacted specifically requires that all federal aid be spent on a connected system of highways consisting of not more than 7 per cent of the road mileage in each state, and that this system shall consist of interstate or primary roads and intercounty or secondary roads.

Proposed systems have been received by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture from all but eight states. They are plotted on a large map of the United States and carefully examined.

An Improved Michigan Highway.

as to co-ordination with the roads of adjacent states and service to all sections of the country. Where co-ordination is not satisfactory conferences are held with all interested state highway officials and routes adjusted.

Many states have already adjusted difficult problems with their neighbors. As an example the system sent in by Nebraska showed a big gap in an important road along the northern boundary. It was learned, however, that South Dakota would follow with a system that would fit like pictures on toy blocks. Since the federal highway act of last November became a law, only roads certain to be on the system have been approved for construction.

MUCH LOWER BIDS ARE MADE

According to Reports to Bureau of Public Roads Prices Will Be Greatly Reduced.

Early bids for the construction of federal-aid roads indicate that prices during the coming season will be materially lower than last season, according to reports received by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. While bids have not been received on any large volume of work, there is, however, enough to indicate a lower level of prices.

Grading has been bid at 20, 23 1/2 and 30 cents a cubic yard in Missouri, Arkansas and Minnesota, respectively, as compared with an average of 35 cents for the section in which these states are located in 1921.

Prices of reinforcing steel in place range around 8 cents as compared with the 1921 price of 8 or 9 cents, and bridge steel at 4 1/2 cents against 7 to 8 cents.

A few bids, for the best grade of concrete, of about $17 a cubic yard have been received in sections where the 1921 price was about $23 a cubic yard.

Prices bid for the construction of concrete roads per square yard are as follows: Ohio, $1.52; Colorado, $2.27, and Georgia, $1.38, as compared with an average for the whole country during the period 1914-1920 of $2.57 a square yard.

FEDERAL-AID ROAD PROJECTS

Total Mileage Under Construction in May Amounted to Nearly 15,000 Miles.

Federal-aid road projects totaling 663 miles in length were completed and 541 miles went under construction during May, bringing the total under construction to nearly 15,000 miles and the mileage in completed projects to 17,008, according to reports of the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture. These figures indicate that the federal-aid system grew, at a rate of more than 20 miles per day on each working day of the month. Allotments of funds to definite projects amounted to $7,828,000 during the month.

Mark Set for 1922.
Three hundred and fifty thousand miles of improved highways, extending through every state in the Union, is the mark set for the summer of 1922.

KIDS PIG CLUB NOW ORGANIZED

LOEB FARMS FOSTERS NEW ENTERPRISE

Farmer Girls and Boys To Raise Their Own Livestock Under Contract

The boys' and girls' pig club, promoted by County Agricultural Agent, B. O. Hagerman, in conjunction with Loeb Farms, was successfully launched at the farms, Tuesday. Despite the threatening weather of the morning, there were but few absentees—29 pigs being placed out of 37 enrolled names.

Visitors began arriving about ten o'clock and, by noon, thirty-five automobiles were parked on the athletic field, the attendance approximating about 175. All had brought lunches, which were supplemented with sweet milk and a plentiful supply of ice cream cones, donated by the farms. A group picture of the pig club officials and youthful members was then taken, after which, all took seats in the grandstand. Ernest Loeb made a short, introductory address, which was followed by a clear, frank statement of facts by Mr. Hagerman. Every word of the county agent's talk carried conviction.

"We are in a transitory stage here in Charlevoix county," said Mr. Hagerman. "The sun is setting on the lumber industry. Other towns have not the resort advantages of Charlevoix county. Soil surveys show that the land, as a whole, is rather thin and we believe that livestock, with the resulting fertilization, is the foundation of a good system of economical farming."

Mr. Hagerman spoke of the constructive and destructive period of a boy's life and believes that, by careful supervision at this time, many can be taught to like farm life. "It is a parent and child proposition," the agent continued; "What you folks are doing today may be the turning point in your boy's or girl's life. Child energy—enthusiasm—pep—is there. It is like steam, dangerous, unless properly controlled and directed. Of course, we can't all be farmers, or bankers, or judges; but all of you can endeavor to promote a fondness for livestock in your children while they are at this age."

The agent believes that too often the boy's pig becomes Daddy's hog—too often, the girl's calf, Daddy's cow. In order to give the children clear titles to the pigs and also to impress upon them a sense of responsibility, the pigs will all be recorded in their names and they were required to sign a contract agreeing to properly care for the pigs and to exhibit them at our county fair this fall. As soon as the sow farrows, one pig is given back to Loeb Farms, to pay for the pig taken by each member yesterday. Practical records of feeding and growth must be kept.

Virgil Bavis, of Loeb Farms, then advised about feeding. He recommended only three feeds a day—all the pig could clean up in about seven minutes; clean quarters, range and an occasional scrubbing in mammy's dish-water. He said breeders were not striving for fat hogs, but for bone and development.

The pigs were then drawn by lot, weighed and delivered. The lightest weighed thirty-three pounds and the heaviest, seventy-seven pounds.

A. H. Loeb was an interested looker-on during the entire afternoon. He said: "I am delighted with the outcome of this little venture. It will always be our policy to promote the livestock interests of the county."

Those who drew purebred, Duroc-Jersey sow pigs were: Bay Shore: Esther Priebe, Raymond Priebe, Leila Voelker, Mildred Voelker, Sims Baker, Milo Chew, Byron Chew and Claire Chew. Boyne City: Walter Kurtz. East Jordan: Alice Nowland, John Martin, Fred Martin, Theodore LeCroy, Daniel Reich, Francis Wright, Roscoe Wright, Kenneth Russell, Francis Russell, Clayton Healey, W. F. Wurm, Evert Spidle, George Secord, John Healey. Charlevoix: Raymond Snider, Albert Cunningham, Norman Dyer, Walter Dyer, Robert Winnick, Frank Winnick.

The Charlevoix County Agricultural Society has donated $25 and the Duroc-Jersey Association $25, to be divided in money prizes for the pig club exhibitors at the county fair this fall. Loeb Farms have given a fine, registered Duroc-Jersey, male pig as first prize.

TOUR NEARLY 2,000 MILES

FOLKS FROM BRUNSWICK, GA., TAKE LONG TRIP

Friends of Mrs. Gilbert Ferris Note Many Points of Interest Along the Way

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hensel and son, Harry, Mrs. A. R. Hensel, and H. C. Baumgartner, of Brunswick, Ga., and Mrs. Charles Kahler, of Union City, Michigan, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Ferris, near Charlevoix. The three ladies are sisters of Mrs. Ferris and this is the first time the four have met since childhood.

The Hensels and Mr. Baumgartner drove through from Brunswick, Georgia, in their cars, stopping at all points of interest along the way. They came over the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia and the Cumberland Mountains of Maryland, by way of the national highway, and stopped at the National Tourists' Camp, at Washington, D. C., situated on the Potomac river, where they found all conveniences provided for the tourist, such as shower baths, restaurants, facilities for pressing clothes, etc. Twice daily, sight-seeing busses start from this camp, going to all nearby points of interest, such as Arlington cemetery, Mt. Vernon, and the capitol buildings. Passengers are shown through the Mint, where the paper money and stamps are made, the Congressional library, National museum, etc.

The party noted, in every state through which they passed, that efforts are being made to enable the tourist to enjoy travelling by means of well-arranged camps, some even providing natural gas for cooking.

Want of space makes it impossible to describe the trip in full. Particular mention was made by members of the party of the wonderful scenery in the mountains through which they passed. On entering Michigan, at Blissfield, they pitched camp at Ellis play-ground, which is being turned into a tourist camp. This was one of the most beautiful camping spots they found along the way.

On arriving here, the Brunswick party had covered a distance of approximately 1,997 miles, taking three weeks to make the trip. They were accompanied, as far as St. Johns, Michigan, by John Van Dyke and William Hagerstrom in their car, the latter being en route to Muskegon to visit relatives and friends.

Miss Eva E. SUNDAY'S GAME A FINE SCRAP

DAGWELL AND MILLER KEEP FANS GUESSING

It Was a Long Trip and a Dusty One for Local Fans, But It Paid

Hits by Hanna, Cunningham and Powers, together with a base on balls given Shields, ended a fine pitcher's battle between Miller, for Pellston, and Dagwell, of our local team, on the Pellston grounds, Sunday.

The large number of Charlevoix fans who loyally accompanied the team on the long, dusty trip were more than satisfied with this favorable ending.

For eight innings, both clubs went scoreless, but, in the ninth, Hanna led off with a hard single to right, went to second when the Pellston first baseman dropped Cunningham's short fly, stole third and scored, while the Pellston catcher was throwing out Rigley.

This one run looked like a plenty, but, subsequent events proved that it might have continued a tie had not Shields worked the pitcher for a walk, stole second and scored with Cunningham on a single by Powers through the pitcher's box.

Pellston came back strong in their half, scored one run and put two men in position to score, but Dagwell tightened up and got the last two men on strikes.

Outside of Dagwell's pitching, the outstanding playing of Hanna and Rigley featured. Stevenson, at short-stop, starred for Pellston.

Thursday, of this week, Charlevoix plays Onaway here and go up against the fast shoots of Pat O'Hara who last year pitched for Charlevoix.

Harbor Springs, who defeated Charlevoix once this season, will be met, Sunday, July 29th, on the north side grounds and a fast game is assured. Charlevoix's pitching staff will be strengthened by the addition of Red Higgins, a right hander and, with Dagwell going so well, our local team will make them all hustle for the balance of the season.

EDGAR STAFFORD, WELL-KNOWN MAN, IS DEAD

Passed Away Thursday, From Effects of Cancer

Edgar L. Stafford, well-known member of this community, who died last Thursday, July 19th, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Parmelee, from the effects of a cancer of the face, was born at East Chazy, N. Y., February 24, 1844. He learned the trade of a stone mason and on May 6, 1871, was married to Miss Jennie Muirhead.

Of this union were born nine children, of whom seven are living: Robert, George and Edgar Stafford, and Mrs. W. E. Parmelee, of this city; Roy Stafford, a first officer in the Great Lakes S. S. Co.; Mrs. H. W. Ogden, of Shelby, Mich., and Mrs. H. L. Smith, of Petoskey. Mr. Stafford came to Michigan in 1863 and spent the remainder of his life in Grand Traverse and Charlevoix counties, where he was widely known for his sterling qualities, as a man of integrity and sound judgment, and has taken an active part in the development of this northern country.

The funeral was held on Saturday morning, July 21st, at ten-thirty o'clock, from the Parmelee residence, 113 East Upright Avenue. Interment was made at Norwood, where the remains were laid to rest beside those of his wife and daughter. Rev. C. W. Long, of the Congregational Church, officiated.

LEARN SIGNALS OF TRAFFIC LAWS

DRIVE RIGHT AND PROTECT YOURSELF AND OTHERS

New Driving Laws Should Be Understood by Every Driver of Motor Cars

Known as the Palmer act, the new traffic regulations passed by the last legislature provide a uniform code of signals to be used by all motor car drivers, and regulations in regard to country and town driving which, if properly observed by all drivers, will reduce to a minimum the danger of accidents.

For the benefit of motorists, we are publishing the new statute entire, and we would advise all drivers to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the act. It would not be a bad plan to cut out this article and preserve it for reference. Post it where it will be convenient for every member of the household who drives to read it over and over until he or she thoroughly understands all the provisions of the act. Remember that when two cars smash it is usually the fault of one of the drivers, and that driver or owner of the car is responsible in cold cash for all damages and all injuries. Study the law and serve it. If all do this, there will be but very few accidents.

The People of the State of Michigan Enact:

Section 1. This act shall be known as the Michigan Uniform Traffic Act, and it is hereby declared to be the expressed intent of the Legislature that the provisions hereof shall be applicable throughout the state, excepting as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of any local or municipal laws or regulations to the contrary notwithstanding. The term "highway" as used herein shall be deemed to mean and include the public wagon roads and highways, and the streets, avenues, boulevards and other public driveways within the several villages and cities in this state. The term "motor vehicle" shall be construed as meaning the same as now defined in act number three hundred two of the Public Acts of nineteen hundred fifteen, as amended, and nothing in this act contained shall be construed as contravening the provisions of the said act, excepting such provisions hereof as are expressly contrary thereto.

Section 2. Slow moving vehicles shall keep as near to the right side of the highway as possible, allowing more rapidly moving vehicles free passage to their left.

Section 3. Passing Street Cars. Within the limits of any incorporated village or city having a street railway system operating therein, including motor bus street cars, except busses loading or unloading at the curb, and on any paved highway outside of any incorporated village or city having a street railway system operating on the center of the traveled portion of the highway, it shall be the duty of the driver of any motor vehicle, on approaching in the same direction, such street car or bus, if the same is stopping or has stopped to take on or to discharge passengers, to bring his vehicle to a dead stop not nearer than six feet in rear of the rear door of such street car or bus, and to wait there until all passengers are taken on and until all descending passengers shall have cleared the driveway of such street before starting; and in case such motor vehicle had overtaken, but had not passed all doors of such street car or bus before the same had stopped for such purposes, the driver of such motor vehicle shall stop his car and remain in place until loading or unloading of such passengers shall be completed and the driveways of the street shall be cleared of such passengers: Provided, however, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to street car stopping points at or near street intersections where traffic

CAUGHT THIRTY-FOUR BASS IN PINE LAKE

One Morning's Haul for Four Fellows

How's this for a fish story? Don Shumsky, Charles Graves, Lee Alford and Rudy Rebel went out on Pine Lake, Monday morning, and, during the progress of a heavy rain storm, secured 34 small mouthed bass. When strung on a long pole, they made a fair sized burden for two men to carry. Worms were used for bait. The fish were caught just off the Loeb Point.

This is a fine catch and we congratulate the boys who in this case got only their fair share apiece. In some recent instances however, advantage has been taken of the unusual run of hms in Pine Lake to play the hog—this on the part of some local fishermen who ought to know better. In fact, in one case, the legal limit was considerably exceeded.

The Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club have worked hard to stock Pine Lake and adjacent waters with bass and other fish and there is no reason why they should be "butchered to make a Roman holiday" and taken in numbers in excess of the amount that can be personally used, or even given away.

LOOK OUT FOR WORMY APPLES

KEEP YOUR EYE ON WORK OF CODDLING MOTH

Spraying Should Be Done Immediately on Receipt of Warning Sent by State

That this will be a year of wormy apples, as a result of unusually erratic behavior on the part of the coddling moth, a pest which works serious damage to the crop in Michigan, is the warning given out this week by Prof. R. H. Pettit, head of the M. A. C. entomology department.

Special care in applying sprays at the correct time, and possibly additional spray treatments, are the methods recommended for offsetting the threatened damage to the state's apple crop.

The dates upon which spray for the second generation of the coddling moth will be effective are furnished local county agricultural agents by the M. A. C. entomology staff. These dates, which vary in the different sections of the state, are computed carefully after consideration of geographic and climatic conditions, and after observation of the actions of the moths in many cage observation stations scattered over the state.

The dates can be set only about a week before the spray must be applied and are telegraphed out to all county agricultural agents in the apple belt, who in turn inform their fruit growers.

Complications have arisen this year, however, because of the fact that the moths are not coming out in waves as is customary, but are straggling along badly as a result of mixed weather.

"It behooves the grower of apples to watch carefully and keep in close touch with his county agent this year," says Professor Pettit, "in order that he may spray at the most favorable moment when the time comes. Some commercial growers use two sprays to control the second generation—one the third or fourth week in July and the other about the second or possibly the third week in August. All growers should either use the two sprays this year or else take special care to spray at just the right time. This will probably be a wormy apple year, but the above treatment is the best insurance the fruit buyer can buy."

COUNTY CLERKS LIKE OUR TOWN

MANY EXPRESS ADMIRATION FOR ITS BEAUTIES

"No More Gravel Trunk Line Roads" Says State Officials—"All Concrete"

The County Clerks are here, making their headquarters at the Hallett Inn. The program for their entertainment, as originally planned, has been carried out, so far, to the letter, and expressions of appreciation have been heard from many of the visitors on the satisfactory treatment they have been accorded.

The drive around Pine Lake was accomplished Tuesday afternoon, the visitors being conveyed in cars loaned by the business men of the city to the Loeb Farms, then on to East Jordan and thence to Boyne City, where a hountiful chicken supper awaited them at the Wolverine. In the cool of the evening, the return to Charlevoix was made. Much enthusiasm was expressed by the visiting clerks and their families over the beauty of the region through which they passed.

During the business session, Tuesday, which was largely occupied with the routine business of the convention, Deputy Secretary of State, E. V. Chilson, stated, in addressing the convention, that it was the intention of the state highway department, in future, to build all state trunk line roads of concrete exclusively. A question box was maintained during the session and many subjects of vital interest were discussed.

This morning, the members of the convention witnessed a snappy boat and land drill by the local coast-guardsmen. The afternoon session today will be partially devoted to a school of instruction in the uniform system of accounting adopted by the state for the use of county officials. Chief Auditor J. D. Whitman and W. W. Berry, of the Auditor General's department, will conduct the school.

The secretary of the convention, is Felix H. Flynn, of Cadillac. President Robert G. Hill, two vice presidents and the treasurer of the organization are also in attendance at the convention. Among the delegates is Harriet E. Colwell, clerk of Gratiot county, one of the only two women clerks in Michigan. J. G. Pray, of Ann Arbor, clerk of Washtenaw county, surprised his fellows by the statement that his office had issued over thirteen thousand car licenses since the first of the year.

Tuesday, the convention listened to an address by Hon. F. J. Schlotfeldt, Chief Examiner of the Bureau of Naturalization, on "Our Naturalization Work," a Report of Legislative Work and Discussion of Officers' Salary Bill, by secretary Felix H. Flynn and today Hon. Andrew B. Daugherty, attorney general and Hon. O. L. Smith, assistant attorney general, spoke on "Codification of the Election Laws."

This afternoon there will be a round table discussion of the duties of the county clerk, as related to the Secretary of State's office.

NATURE CONSERVATION CLUB FORMED

Friday Evening's Meeting an Interesting One

On Friday evening, July 20th, a meeting was called in our high school building to discuss the "Conservation of our Birds and Trees," those interested feeling that the subject was vital.

After some deliberation and a number of most informing talks, those present decided upon the formation of a Nature Conservation Club.

Anyone wishing to become affiliated with such an organization will be most welcome at the home of Mrs. F. J. Fessenden, 318 Mason street, city.

The Ladies of St. Mary's church will hold their annual bazaar for the benefit of the church on the 2nd and 3rd of August, at the Parochial school. Attractive booths will be arranged and ice cream and cake served.—Adv. 30-t1.

GOING TO BE MARRIED? HERE'S YOUR CHANCE

If you are contemplating marriage or would like to be married in real style with flower girls, ring bearers, attendants and all the trimmings, here is your chance.

The Charlevoix County Agricultural Society want some couple to take the vows of matrimony before the large crowd at the Charlevoix County Fair on Thursday afternoon, September 13th.

For whoever accepts the opportunity, the society will not only furnish the minister and complete arrangements, but will also make the couple a present of many very valuable wedding gifts.

Send in your names to Secretary Frank F. Bird, Charlevoix. They will be held in strict confidence.

REFRIGERATORS

There are refrigerators, good refrigerators and best refrigerators, the Leonard is of the later class. Do you ask why? It is on account of its scientific construction. Made by men who have been making refrigerators for nearly half a century, and who have made every improvement possible to make a sanitary, food preserving refrigerator. The plant occupies 20 acres of ground and produces 150,000 refrigerators annually. The largest plant of this kind in the world. The construction consists of eleven walls as follows: 1st—outside case of wood; 2nd—wool felt; 3rd—air space; 4th—water proof sheathing; 5th—polar felt; 6th—water proof sheathing; 7th—wool felt; 8th—water proof sheathing; 9th—inside wood case; 10th—air space; 11th—porcelain or galvanized iron lining.

Aside from the construction of the case, the utmost care is taken in the interior construction. The Leonard latest patent waste and trap pipe, the all-metal ice rack, and open wire mesh shelves, allowing free passage of air, taken all together makes the Leonard the best refrigerator made.

The High-Grade Gasoline

Adds to the Joy of Motoring

THE spirit of the day is to be out in the open; to seek the by-places; to get closer to nature; here today, there tomorrow.

Hard roads and automobiles have made it possible for one to do all of these things in the companionship of his family.

The chief contributing factor to motoring is gasoline—the chief joy of motoring is to know you have a dependable gasoline in the tank. Red Crown, the High-Grade Gasoline, is dependable. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) guarantees the uniformity of Red Crown.

With Red Crown in your tank your motor sings along the road; eager, purring, at a snail's pace or at high speed, as you please.

Red Crown is always the same, no matter where you get it, and you can get it everywhere—every few blocks in the city; every few miles in the country.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Council Chambers, July 23, 1923. The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date with Mayor Bergeon presiding. Ald. present: Bridge, Eckinger, Hallett, Livingston, Marshall and Partridge. Board of Assessors present: D. F. Meach and D. S. Payton. Absent: E. A. Robinson.

Minutes of meeting held July 16, were read and approved.

Alderman Hallett offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, seconded by Ald. Bridge.

Resolved by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, that the roll of the special assessment as made and presented by the Board of Special Assessors, for the purpose of defraying that part of the cost to be borne by special assessment on the lands fronting thereon for the construction of a pavement with curbs and gutters and drainage system, that part of Belvedere Avenue, in said city, lying between the east side of Bridge Street and the east side of Alice Street, having been duly reviewed by the Common Council and the Board of Special Assessors as provided by law, the said roll be, and hereby is, approved and confirmed.

Resolved further, that the several amounts spread on said roll, be divided into ten equal installments, the first installment to be due and payable on or before the 15th day of September, 1923 and collectible directly from the said special assessment roll without interest if paid on or before maturity, and with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum if not paid at maturity, to be computed from and after the date of confirmation of said roll. The remainder of such installment to be due and payable annually on the 15th day of September of each year after the year 1923 with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum payable annually, to be computed from the date of confirmation of said special assessment roll.

Resolved further, that the City Clerk be, and hereby is directed to make division of said special assessment as herein specified and to annually certify to the City Assessor of the unpaid and matured installments as appears by said roll; and that said City Assessor be and hereby is, directed to spread the amounts so certified to him, on the July City tax roll of each year until the whole amount of each said assessments is paid in full with interest as aforesaid, against the several parcels of land described in said roll.

Resolved further, that the owner or owners of any of said lands have the right and option of paying the whole of any of said special assessments without interest if paid on or before September 15th, 1923, and when so paid the City Treasurer shall give receipt therefor and enter such payment on the said special assessment roll.

Resolved further, that to defray that part of the cost of construction of such pavement to be borne by special assessment on the paving district, as heretofore fixed in the sum of Ten Thousand Six Hundred Twenty Dollars, the City of Charlevoix borrow the sum of Ten Thousand Six Hundred Twenty Dollars in anticipation of the collection of such special assessment, and that to evidence such loan the City of Charlevoix issue its coupon bonds bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable annually, and dated the 15th day of September, A. D. 1923, in denominations and maturing serially as follows:

Bond No. 1 in the sum of $1620, due September 15th, 1924.
Bond No. 2 in the sum of $1000, due September 15th, 1925.
Bond No. 3 in the sum of $1000, due September 15th, 1926.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF MICHIGAN
CITY OF CHARLEVOIX
Belvedere Avenue Paving Bond

Total issue, $10,620

Know all men by these presents, that the City of Charlevoix, in the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, a municipal corporation, acknowledges itself to owe, and for value received, hereby promises to pay to the bearer hereof the sum of dollars lawful money of the United States of America, on the day of September, 19..... together with interest on said sum from the date hereof until paid at the rate of six per cent per annum payable on the 15th day of September of each year, upon the presentation and surrender of the interest coupons here attached as they severally mature. Both principal and interest of this bond are payable at the office of the Treasurer of said city, and for the prompt payment of this bond both principal and interest as aforesaid at maturity, the full faith and credit of said City of Charlevoix are hereby irrevocably pledged.

This bond is one of a series of thirteen bonds of like tenor and date, except as to amount, aggregating the total sum of Ten Thousand Six Hundred Twenty Dollars, numbered consecutively from one to thirteen inclusive, issued by the said City of Charlevoix pursuant to a resolution of the Common Council of said City adopted July 23rd, 1923, for the purpose of evidencing a loan made by said city to defray the expense of constructing a pavement in that part of Belvedere Avenue in said city lying between Bridge Street and Alice Street and in anticipation of the collection of a special assessment spread on the lands fronting on said street.

It is hereby certified and recited that all the conditions and things required by the constitution and laws of the State of Michigan and the charter of said city, to be done and performed precedent to the issuance of this bond, have been duly and regularly done and performed as provided by law, and that the total indebtedness of the City of Charlevoix, including the series of bonds of which this bond is a part, does not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation.

In Testimony Whereof, the City of Charlevoix has caused this bond and the interest coupons attached to be signed by its Mayor and City Clerk, and its corporate seal affixed, this day of A. D. 1923.

A. Bergeon, Mayor.
Charles H. Lamphear, City Clerk.

Vast resources make possible big value at low price in the Studebaker Light Six.

The Studebaker Light Six was designed by Studebaker engineers and is manufactured complete in the new Studebaker plants at South Bend, Ind. By complete manufacture Studebaker not only guards the quality of each part, but saves the middleman's profits, with the result that no other make of car ever built, by anyone, represents so great a dollar-for-dollar value as the Light Six.

NEVER BUY A CAR WITHOUT COMPARING WITH STUDEBAKER VALUES

In actual car value per dollar of price the Light Six is in a class by itself. No prospective buyer of an automobile should decide on anything until he has seen and driven this car.

We have a Light Six now on display in our show room. Come in and see it. Demonstrations gladly given.

MARIONETTE SHOW TO BE AT Ironton

U. of M. Students to Stage Novel Affair

The Marionettes are coming to Ironton on August 8th. These interesting little puppets furnish an entertainment wholly in a class by itself. It is difficult to explain the charm of a marionette play. Many people picture the modern puppet as a kind of an awkward doll, whose motions are wooden and angular, much like the old fashioned Punch and Judy.

Quite on the contrary, the marionette of today is so highly developed that each gesture is an almost perfect imitation of a human action. Their faces are painted with the greatest care, so that each posture of the head brings about a changed expression and even the simplest puppet requires at least 12 strings, while certain, so-called "trick" puppets often require twice that number.

The Puppeteers, students in the University of Michigan, who will present their puppet production in Assembly Hall, Ironton, on August 8th, in the afternoon and evening, have particularly specialized in these "trick" puppets. Among the interesting features of their program is a temperamental violinist, a dainty Italian toe dancer, who executes all the difficult steps of a real ballerina and two delightful, one-act plays, "The Three Wishes" and "Androcles and the Lion," the latter an ancient Roman fable, parodied by the great, English satirist, George Bernard Shaw.

MISS BALL WAS MARRIED ON JULY 19TH

Becomes Bride of James E. Kleinfeld, at Long Beach, Cal.

The wedding of Miss Carolyn E. Ball and James E. Kleinfeld took place Thursday night, July 19th, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ball, of 943 Loma Vista Street, Long Beach, California. The Rev. Walter Abbott, of the Free Methodist church, officiated. The ceremony was simple in character and Mrs. Kleinfeld presented an attractive picture in her bridal gown of white georgette crepe. She carried bridal roses and sweet peas. The couple Both Mr. and Mrs. Kleinfeld went to California from Michigan more than a year ago. The bride for the last eight months has been employed at the offices of the Southern Counties Gas company in that city, and the groom is connected with the Speed plumbing company. Following the ceremony there was a reception and as a result of carefully laid plans the newlyweds contrived to outwit their friends and start upon their wedding trip unmolested.

CIRCUS COMING TO TOWN MONDAY

Elephants, Yellow Lemonade and Peanuts Here Soon

Campbell Bros. trained wild animal shows will exhibit at Charlevoix, afternoon and night, Monday, July 30th, at Lincoln school grounds, under mammoth sun-proof tents.

This is the show that you have been waiting for. Campbell Bros. shows that have pleased the public from California to Cape Cod. The management this season has spared neither time, effort and expense in providing a diversified program of entertainment without any objectionable features.

Among the numerous wild animal acts is Lucy, the intelligent performing elephant on the American continent, then there are the man-eating, ferocious African Lions, in their large steel arena. Educated shetland ponies and dogs, monkeys, bears, and the most beautiful educated mule in the world. The arena acts consist of daring aerialists, acrobats, trapeze performers, jugglers, wire-walkers and comical clowns.

Don't forget the day and date. Performance at 2 and 8 p. m. Show rain or shine.

INTREPID WINS CHICAGO-MACKINAC RACE

Finishes First Among Seventeen Crafts Tuesday

The Chicago-Mackinac Cup Race of the Chicago Yacht Club, one of the banner yacht events of the Great Lakes, ended early Tuesday, when the Intruder, a small sloop, flying the colors of the Jackson Park Yacht Club, Chicago, and owned and sailed by John, James and Edward O'Rourke, crossed the finish line ahead of all competitors, even outdistancing the big sloop, Dorella, of Milwaukee, which was in the lead on Monday and on which most bets were placed. Her time was 54 hours, 31 minutes over the 331 mile course.

The Dorella, representing the Milwaukee Yacht Club, and owned and skippered by J. C. Van Dyke, was the first of the seventeen racing crafts to reach Mackinac Island, the finish of the longest fresh water race in the world. She finished at four-thirty p. m., Tuesday, with a broken topmast.

The Vanadis, owned by Gordon Seagrave, of the Chicago Yacht Club, which had been creeping up to the lead all day Monday, was the only craft to finish among the first nine, completing the course at 5:59 p. m., Tuesday.

PINE LAKE REGATTA COMMENCES FRIDAY

Followed By Banquet at Hallett Inn, Saturday Evening

Twenty—possibly twenty-four of the fastest yachts on the Great Lakes and many speed boats will take part in the Pine Lake Regatta, at Charlevoix, on July 27th to 28th. The races will take place in Pine Lake, over a seven mile course and in Lake Michigan, over a fifteen mile course. Courses will be arranged so that the races may be seen from shore.

All the yachts that participated in the Chicago to Mackinac cup race will be here by Thursday night, July 2nd. First prize cups, donated by the Charlevoix Yacht Club and citizens of the town, will be given to the yacht having the lowest corrected time and additional prizes to every boat that enters. All prizes will be awarded on time allowance basis, rating, measurement and time allowance to be in accordance with the current rules of the L. M. Y. A., which shall govern.

Formal presentation of the prizes will take place at the Hallett Inn, at a banquet held for the yachtsmen and their friends by the Charlevoix Yacht Club. Dancing at the Belvedere Casino will be the order later in the evening.

MISSOURI DAIRY COW FEEDS

Recommended That Animal Be Fed All Alfalfa or Clover Hay She Will Consume.

In making up a ration for dairy cows the Missouri College of Agriculture recommends that cows be fed all the alfalfa or clover hay they will readily consume, and to feed corn silage when available.

To this should be added a grain mixture if good results are to follow. A grain mixture often recommended is four parts, by weight, of corn chops, two parts wheat bran and one part either cottonseed or linseed meal. This mixture is to be fed according to the quantity of milk produced.

One pound of the mixture is sufficient for every four pounds of milk produced by a Holstein cow or for every three pounds produced by a Jersey.

It is not a bad plan, in the above ration, to mix the cottonseed and linseed meal half and half, instead of using one alone.

LET CALVES RUN ON PASTURE

As Grass Contains Large Amount of Water, Something Additional Must Be Given.

Calves dropped in the fall and early winter should be allowed to run on pasture during the summer. Pasture, however, should not be depended upon altogether, as it contains too large an amount of water in proportion to the food nutrients to insure the calves a satisfactory ration.

Feeding Cows Properly.
Feeding cows so they can exist is one thing, and feeding them so they can produce milk is still another.

Freshen Cows in Fall.
The farmers who make it a point to freshen their cows in the fall of the year know how to make money.

Unsatisfactory Methods.
Primitive methods of dairying will not bring satisfactory results under modern conditions of production and marketing.

Women are slaves to fashion, of course, but what shall be said of the vaseline-haired sheiks?

THEY STOLE AWAY AS THE ARABS DID

But Not Silently Did Carnival Strike Camp

The carnival, which closed a five day sojourn in Charlevoix last Saturday night, under the direction of the Lippa Amusement Company, has left for Boyne City, where they expect to make a ten day stay.

Late Saturday night, the sound of hummers might be heard, packing away the property of the various side-shows and booths and by ten o'clock on Sunday morning the last truck load of materials had left the grounds. To give an idea of the horse of the merry-go-round had to be packed in a separate box and the frame work disassembled. To a layman, it looked to be some job.

The carnival management put their O. K. on the town before they left. Leo Lippa, the proprietor, who used to be a newsboy before he entered the show business, said that his outfit would return next year and pronounced himself well satisfied with the results of their five nights' performance.

For the carnival itself, it may be said that not often does a cleaner, better amusement proposition appear before us. There was not a objectionable feature in any one of the attractions and this can seldom be stated of a show of this kind.

Mark Twain in his early days was editor of a Missouri newspaper. A superstitious newspaper subscriber wrote him, saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asked whether that was a sign of good or bad luck. The humorist wrote this answer and printed it: "Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and live a life of undisturbed peace ever afterwards."

Edwin Carewe presents "Mighty Lak A Rose." A symphony of life in the high and low places. "Mighty Lak A Rose" strikes the heart strings with a song that will echo for days to come. There is something in this picture that you don't see on the screen—and it will get you. Also an Educational comedy "The Conductor."

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 1

A Paramount special production, "Java Head." A big picture. Also a Cameo comedy, "Oh Sister."

COMING AUGUST 4-5—"When Knighthood Was in Flower."

COMING AUGUST 8-9—Douglas Fairbank's special production, "Robin Hood."

MAJESTIC THEATRE

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JULY 28-29

A Wm. Fox special production, "A Fool There Was," founded on Porter Emerson Brown's dramatic masterpiece. Love is love and business is business—but the vampire makes love her business in "A Fool There Was." The spark plug of high powered drama—a stirring story of startling surprises. An all star production. Also Bull Montana in a two reel comedy "Glad Rags."

THERE is a difference in tires. Only the new Goodyear Cord Tire is made of highest-grade, long-staple, high-tensile cotton, built up by the Goodyear patented group-ply method, and equipped with heavier sidewalls and the beveled All-Weather Tread. The difference shows in the Goodyear's longer wear and lower cost per mile.

As Goodyear Service Station Dealers we sell and recommend the new Goodyear Cord with the beveled All-Weather Tread and back them up with standard Goodyear Service.

officers are stationed to regulate traffic there; nor is such other intersections as are adequately guarded under the supervision and designation of the department of police of any village or city. No conductor or motorman on any street car or bus or interurban car, operating on any highway shall open a car door for the purpose of allowing a passenger to descend from the car before such car has been brought to a complete stop.

Section 4. Stop and Turn Signals. Before turning to the right or left to leave a highway, and before turning around or stopping thereon, the driver of a motor vehicle shall give a timely warning signal to other drivers by extending the arm beyond and outside of the side of the vehicle, holding the same in such position for a sufficient time to apprise approaching drivers of vehicles of his intention to change his course or stop, as the case may be. Provided, however, that in lieu of such signal above required, signals may be given by any mechanical or electrical device which conveys an intelligible signal or warning to another driver approaching from the rear. In all such cases the driver of a motor vehicle to whom such a signal has been given, as required in this section, shall bring and keep his vehicle under such control as to be able to avoid an accident resulting from any misunderstanding of such signals, and shall in all cases heed any such warning as shall have been given him.

Section 5. Right of way.

highway and any other highway at the same time, the vehicle proceeding on the state highway trunk line shall have the right of way.

(b) When motor vehicles approach an intersection of two or more intersecting state trunk line highways at the same time, the vehicle approaching on the right of the driver shall have the right of way.

(c) When motor vehicles approach an intersection of two or more highways other than state trunk lines, at the same time, the vehicle approaching on the driver's right shall have the right of way; provided, that cities may designate "through traffic streets" on which traffic shall have right of way at all intersections except those of state trunk line highways.

(d) Any vehicle proceeding on any street in a city or incorporated village, desiring to turn into another street to the left, shall turn near the center of the intersection of the two streets as practicable.

(e) The Public Utilities Commission and the State Highway Commissioner, acting jointly, are hereby given authority to designate any railroad crossing or crossings in this state as a "dangerous crossing" and when any crossing is so designated as a "dangerous crossing" suitable warning signs shall be provided and erected by the State Highway Department at a prominent place or places on the highway on each side or railroad right of way within a reasonable distance of such crossing.

(f) It shall be unlawful to park a vehicle on the beaten track or paved surface of any highway outside the limits of any village or city.

(g) The provisions of paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section shall not apply at intersections of highways where traffic is controlled by traffic officers.

Section 6. Penalties, etc. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding ninety days, or both; such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court, with costs of prosecution to be added in either case; and all police justices or any city, and all justices of the peace of any county where such violations occur shall have jurisdiction over any offense against the provisions of this act.

AT THE MOVIES

There comes next Saturday and Sunday to the Palace Theatre a picture heralded as a "milestone on the highway of art," and which bears the highest recommendations in its own right. It is "Oliver Twist," starring that adorable child actor of the screen, Jackie Coogan; produced by Sol Lesser; directed by Frank Lloyd; and presented by a company of the most distinguished screen celebrities, including Lon Chaney, Gladys Brockwell, Lionel Belmore and a host more.

The picture is described as the most ambitious in which the juvenile star, Jackie Coogan, has ever appeared, and it is asserted that in it he has registered an appeal that strikes the hearts of young and old and of all classes of picture patrons as well as those that are not usually enticed to the theatre. It is the appeal of innocent boyhood through the medium of one of the greatest stories ever penned—Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist." The plot has been followed with unusual fidelity, it is claimed, and the characterizations will satisfy the most enthusiastic of Dickens' readers. "Oliver Twist" is a first national attraction—listed among the biggest of the year.

Elaboration of detail has always marked the William Fox super-specials directed by Emmett J. Flynn, and it has been more than ordinarily emphasized in "A Fool There Was," which is the feature attraction at the Majestic Theatre, commencing Saturday.

Material and labor utilized in the construction of "sets" show a total of $75,000 on the studio books—more than the completed cost of the average picture, actor's salaries and every other necessary expenditure combined.

Aside from the dramatic value of "A Fool There Was," which none may deny, the new Fox super-special has many points of interest, especially to those who admire beautiful homes and expressive interior decorations.

Only sixteen drug stores in Michigan have taken out a federal license to dispense liquors, so that it is rather difficult, they say, for a man to fill a prescription for a little nip to use in sobering up.

"How long should a poem be?" is the subject of a discussion in an up-state paper. Well, in our opinion, it should never be less than two lines—one for the title and one for the signature of the author.

Michigan people who own shares in a Texas oil well have received word that a machine gun was used in an effort to blow the casing from it. Meanwhile, it is feared, the promoters got away.

Order for Publication

State of Michigan. The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix. At a session of said court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Charlevoix, in said county, on the 16th day of July, A. D. 1923.

Present: Hon. Servetus A. Correll, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of George M. DuBois, deceased.

Ella M. Usher, having filed her petition, praying that an instrument filed in said court be admitted to probate as the last will and testament of said deceased and that administration of said estate be granted to Simon M. Rose, or some other suitable person.

It is ordered, that the 10th day of August, A. D. 1923, at ten a. m., at said probate office, is hereby appointed for hearing said petition.

It is further ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy hereof for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

Servetus A. Correll, Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain real estate mortgage dated the 13th day of August, 1912, executed by Edwin H. Cook and Clara Cook, his wife, to John Nicholls, Harry Nicholls, Archibald Buttars and Albert F. Bridge, co-partners, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Charlevoix County, Michigan, in Liber 48 of Mortgages, on page 458, on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1912, and which mortgage under date of August 27th, 1915 was assigned to Carrie E. Knight of Banks township, Antrim County, Michigan, which said assignment was recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said County of Charlevoix, in Liber 49 of Mortgages on page 573, on the 6th day of September, A. D. 1915:

And, whereas the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of $774.45 of principal and interest, and the further sum of $25 stipulated for in said mortgage as an attorney's fee, and no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the money secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, where by the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said power of sale and in pursuance of the Statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described at public auction, to the highest bidder at the front door of the court house in the City of Charlevoix, in said County of Charlevoix, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held) on the 20th day of September, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day which said premises are described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: The west three-fourths (3-4) of the northwest quarter (1-4) of section twenty-four (24) town thirty-three (33) north, range nine (9) west, of which the following described parcel of land has been released from said mortgage, to-wit: The west half (W-1-2) of the west half (W-1-2) of the northwest quarter (NW-1-4) of said section twenty-four (24), all in the township of Norwood, County of Charlevoix, and State of Michigan.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

10:00 a. m. is a service for prayer and testimony. Spend this half hour with us. It makes a good preparation for the day's worship.

10:30 sermon. We cannot announce definitely, but we expect Rev. Quinton Walker to preach at this hour. Watch bulletin for definite announcement.

12 noon is Sunday school. The studies in the New Testament give us Matthew for this week. Matthew was a publican hated by his fellows; but called of God he became one loved by those who knew him. Read the book.

7:30 the pastor will preach. You ought to hear this sermon. It is a real life message.

8:30 Epworth League. There were two hundred attended at this hour last Sunday. Can we double it for this week? Let's try. There is a possible surprise for you in the leadership of this service. Special singing and orchestra.

Dr. Laird's message to the young people ought to inspire many to obtain the best education. Whatever one's life work may be the best possible foundation is essential for the highest and biggest structure.

A CITY BALL TEAM HAS BEEN FORMED

Plays First Game at Brutus Next Sunday

Charlevoix is to have a new city team. Its organization was completed last week and the first game will be played at Brutus, with the regular team there, on Sunday next. Far from existing in opposition to the regular Charlevoix league team, the new city outfit has the entire approval of the league team's manager and has already received considerable assistance from the leaguers in the way of loaned equipment, etc.

The line-up for the present will be as follows: Bnbeock, manager and catcher; Cunningham, pitcher; Soaprey, short-stop; Mayton, second base; Swabs, first base; McCafferty, third base; Al Jones, center field; Pete Bacot, left field; Bob Miles, right field; substitutes, Mayne (fielder) and Chet See (pitcher). It is hoped that the Charlevoix fans will turn out strong at next Sunday's game and give the boys all the encouragement possible.

The Sweet Brier Tea Room, at Ironton, will be open for the rest of the season, every afternoon and evening, until nine o'clock. Special luncheon and dinner parties may be arranged for by calling Miss Eva E. Adams, phone 171-2r.—Adv. 30-t3.

BURNS PICNIC WAS NEARLY A FIZZLE

Rain Forced the Folks to Bolt Their Dinner

The Burns family held a reunion in the city park here Sunday, July 15th, the festivities, however, being brought to an untimely end by the weather.

The fine picnic dinner had hardly been spread when the sound of thunder, over Lake Michigan, warned the assembled guests to seek shelter. Greetings were hastily exchanged and the dinner rapidly disposed of—all none too soon, as the heavy shower of rain that followed soon dispersed the merry-makers.

Among the out of town relatives present were Bernard Burns and wife, of Detroit; George Burns, Jr., and wife from Grand Junction; Lee Scroggie, wife and daughter, from Detroit; Will Williams, of Port Arthur, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kaden and daughter, of Boyne City and Mrs. Abigail Kinsella, of Grand Rapids.

Just another proof of the old saying that "Man proposes, but God disposes"—it rains on picnic days and Fourth of July anyway, as a rule.

OSTEOPATHY AND ELECTRO-THERAPY

Dr. Bert L. Adams Now Practicing
In Charlevoix

Dr. Bert L. Adams, of Newman, Illinois, has located in Charlevoix for the practice of Osteopathy and Electronic Reactions of Dr. Albert Abrams (E. R. A.).

Dr. Adams formerly was member of faculty of Chicago College of Osteopathy, and has taken post graduate courses at Chicago Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat College; Medical Department, University of Colorado; and Chicago College of Electronic Medicine.

He has practiced at his recent location for ten consecutive years, and is member of American Osteopathy Ass'n., Allied Medical Ass'n. of America, American Ass'n. for Medical-Physical Research, and American Osteopathic Society of Ophthalmology and Oto-Laryngology.

Dr. Adams has opened offices in the Charlevoix County Bank Bldg., corner Bridge and Clinton streets.

MANITOU WILL LEAVE PETOSKEY OFF LIST

Harbor Declared Unsafe for Her Entry

Recently, the steamer Manitou, knocked two buckets off her propeller while making a landing at Petoskey and had to be put on drydock at South Chicago.

Now, the management says, the boat will be unable to land there, due to low water caused by rock from the breakwater and dock cribs gradually filling in the harbor.

Government engineers some time ago made a survey and inspection of this port, but nothing has ever been done. Passengers will have to get off either at Charlevoix, or Harbor Springs and go by rail or auto to Petoskey.

Open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 12 o'clock at night. Fessenden's Kitchen, at the Drug Store.—Adv. 30-t2.

ROLLER-SKATERS AP- PEAR IN FANCY DRESS

Cincinnati Girl Wins First Prize at Masquerade

Friday night, at the skating rink, many of the patrons came masked, at the request of manager, Ed. Senmian, who offered prizes for the three best costumes.

Several interesting get-ups were noted, the first prize going to Miss Emma Woensner, of Cincinnati, who appeared in ballet costume and delighted the spectators by an exhibition of wonderful, fancy skating. Mrs. Hilda Sturzel, of Detroit, attired in Dutch costume came second, and James Sanger, perfectly made up as a "cull'd gen'l'm'n," took third prize.

Miss Woensner, who got first awards, has taken many prizes for her skating performances in her home town and other places and at one time skated with Allie Moore, the world's champion.

Owing to a number of other attractions going on at the time in the city, the attendance was not quite what it might have been but otherwise the affair was O. K.

J. R. Adams Travels in Model Living Quarters at Small Expense

Much interest has been created in the past two days by a traveling home on wheels, parked in front of the Fountain City House and on Park Avenue.

This interesting bus in the property of J. R. Adams, of Chicago, representing the American Extension University, of Los Angeles, and Chicago, whose work in this region is looking after the local students of the university, which gives courses in business law, and enrolling new members.

Mr. Adams has travelled all over the middle west in this outfit, which cannot be excelled for comfort and convenience. He is now on his way to the Soo, where he will pick up a daughter who is staying there and will then go on to Duluth, from there to Chicago, then to Indiana, where another daughter and her husband will join him and thence to Miami, Fla., which he expects to reach about Christmas time.

The bus in which Mr. Adams makes his home is mounted on a regular Reo Speed Wagon chassis, and is built of 5-ply laminated oak and other hardwoods, similar to that used in airplane construction. The entire vehicle, with furniture and equipment, weighs less than a thousand pounds, will develop a speed of from forty-five to fifty miles per hour and cost around thirty-one hundred dollars. Mr. Adams has sold his patent rights in the body to a Michigan concern, which will shortly commence their production at a location near Lansing, on a royalty basis.

The first noticeable thing as you enter the car is the door, which locks with a spring lock and is braced from top to bottom with a bow of bar steel, to prevent rattling. As the door is opened, the step drops automatically and invitingly.

Once inside, the visitor is impressed with the great roominess of the body, which is seven feet wide, seven feet high and fifteen feet in length, over all. Over the tank, which is located under the cover, just in front of the steering post, a folding board serves as a writing desk, and on this stands a vase of flowers and a homely alarm clock, encoined on a pillow to ease the jar of travel. To the left of the steering post, a refrigerator is built into the side of the car, its flat top making additional table room when the lid is down. In this, the Courier reporter observed a good stock of eggs, milk, butter and cherries, as well as freshly kept on fifteen cents worth of ice, wrapped in a burlap bag, as one could wish.

Following around the side of the car, one finds a toilet, with chemical closet and storage room for broom, tarpaulin and other odds and ends, necessary but unsightly and so kept

YES, WE HAVE NO BANANAS, SING TRAVERSANS

They have the old fashioned to-mato.

And the Long Island potato.

But, yes—

Not a banana hung over the fruit store counters of Traverse City recently. Could Irvin Cohn have but canvassed Traverse City groceries and fruit stands for a dozen of the sleek, tawny-fleshed product of the Indies, he could have corroborated, authenticated his so-called song for all time. Every weird-reed saxophone would know whereof it squeaks had it accompanied a Record-Eagle reporter on his fruit stand rounds.

"One-dozen bananas, please," he asked of the first store man.

"Yes, we have no bananas," the gentlemen in his shirt sleeves replied, as pleased at his quip as though it were a sale.

On and on, from store to store, and the same lyrical reply from grinning clerk and merchant.

That was some time ago. Jacob Dyke, wholesale fruit dealer, who supplies the city, was out, and so were all of his clients. But a car was on the way, it would be in Traverse City in the morning, and—under cover; a medicine cabinet, folding wash stand, lockers for clothing, dishes and table linen, and a gasoline stove, fed from the storage tank. The entire one third of the body, at the rear, is occupied by a commodious double bed, which folds into a davenport in the day time and has space enough underneath to accommodate a steamer trunk, a suitcase and a typewriter. At a pinch, the room can be curtained off and four to six people comfortably slept on cots, the front driving seats folding up out of the way. The bus revels in windows that are wide, screened and curtained. The panes raise and lower similar to those of a sedan or limousine, with this important difference—that they shed water outside instead of inside, such is their construction. The windshield is solid up to within eight inches of the top where a dust proof ventilator can be adjusted to meet weather conditions and completely shut-out the other fellow's dust, on the rare occasions when Mr. Adams is forced to take it.

Mr. Adams states that he has been able to negotiate, without mishap, all the detours in this northern country that he has so far encountered—and that, considering the nature of the detours with which we are familiar, is saying "a mouthful." He would not take any price for his comfortable rolling home and avers that it solves the travelling salesman's greatest problem—that of loneliness, as he can take his family with him and thereby raise his average of efficiency many per cent.

HOSPITAL DAY IS ON AUGUST 11TH

REGULAR TAG DAY WILL BE GALA DAY

City's Various Societies Will Maintain Booths on Park Avenue Next Week

Hospital Day in this city comes on August 11th, which is Saturday and will be observed in this city as a gala day.

All the city organizations, including churches, lodges, reading clubs, and various other local societies, will take part in the festivities and about fourteen booths will be erected on Park Avenue, between State and Bridge Streets, purveying farm produce, fancy work, home-made cakes, coffee, flowers, etc.

The Eastern Stars will conduct a fish pond and the Catholic ladies will serve soft drinks. Also, we are told, there will be a fortune telling booth, where anxious youths and maidens may read their fate in the crystal ball of the seeress, or in the fateful shuffle of the cards. Everybody is requested to bring their nickles and pennies. Dollars will not, however, be refused (that is, not so you could notice it).

It is hoped that the public will respond liberally at this time, which will also be tag day for the hospital. Of all the worthy enterprises in the country, the hospital leads them all. One week of its work, in the preservation of precious human life, might easily be balanced against the benefactions of a hundred Peabodys or Girdens. What if another Abraham Lincoln or George Washington should come day lie, hovering between life and death within its walls?

Society is weak in its provisions for the saving of human life. If one tenth part of the money that is spent in naval programs and army expansion or wasted through the inefficient operations of government, or that disappears through dark and devious channels into the pockets of political grafters were devoted to purging humanity of its physical ills, the millennium would be upon us. As it is, all we may hope to do is to keep this work up to a decent standard through private contribution and personal effort until such time as a more enlightened society looks upon the care of its sick and injured as a necessary function of government, of equal importance, at least, to agriculture and public education.

SURPRISE TRIP PROVES IN VAIN

DAUGHERTY COULDN'T LOCATE "KING BENJAMIN"

Attorney-General's Surprise Party Returns from High Island Baffled

Although not much publicity was given to it locally, an attempt was made, during the visit of the county clerks and the state officials in attendance, last week, to effect the surprise and capture of Benjamin Purcell, otherwise familiarly known as "King Benjamin," of rather odorous House of David fame.

Accompanied by his assistant, Orr L. Smith, and ex-sheriff, George W. Weaver, Attorney-General Andrew B. Daugherty left on Tuesday, July 26th, for High Island, via the S. S. Bruce, it being the intention of Mr. Daugherty to take, by surprise, the residents of the island (which belongs to the colony of the House of David, is located about 40 miles northwest of Charlevoix and is said to be the place where "King Benjamin" sent many of his followers to work on the farms and in the saw-mill).

The trip, however, failed of its mission, as neither the missing Israelite leader, nor any of his reputed numerous cast-off favorites could be found. One woman, only, was seen by the attorney-general and his party. She appeared in the doorway of one of the log cabins, as the unwelcome and uninvited embarked on their boat for the 40 mile trip back to Charlevoix, Friday. It is probable, however, that state officers will return to the island, later, armed with search warrants to go through the various cottages and buildings on the island.

George Bauske, head of the island, and uncle of Harriet Bauske Walker former favorite of Benjamin and beauty of Shiloh, met the attorney-general's party, upon their arrival at the island. He told assistant attorney-general, O. L. Smith, that Benjamin was not on the island and that he was being persecuted by a few, misguided people.

The fact that not one trace of "King Benjamin" has been found, during eight months of search, has led to the belief that the head of the House of David may be dead. He is sixty-four years old and, according to some people of Benton Harbor, who claim to know him well, he has been suffering with Bright's disease for a number of years. He has taught members of his colony to believe that his life is immortal and, if he is dead, it is said that this fact would be suppressed from members of the colony, to protect it from disruption over the exposure of his "false" teaching.

Assistant attorney-general, Homer Quay, said, in a recent interview: "It has been nearly eight months since the search was started and the amazing thing about the hunt has been that there has never been anything revealed which might indicate to us where 'King Benjamin' might have gone. Not only has every officer in Michigan and other states taken part in the search, but peace officers of other countries have assisted in our efforts to trace Purcell down. As a general rule, something is usually found in such an extensive search as this has been, to indicate where the wanted person might have gone. But not so in this case. The theory that Purcell is dead has once been advanced to us. But we have found nothing to prove its correctness; there is one thing which, in a way, offsets that. When Shiloh house was searched last May, we were told that he was on the high seas and that when the newspaper talk about him died down, he would return and face the charges. Of course, we have never had anything to indicate whether this statement was correct or incorrect."

Miss Eva E. Adams has extended the use of Assembly Hall and Sweet Brier Tea Room to the Ladies Aid of the Congregational Church, at Ironton, for two productions of the Marionettes on August 8th—a matinee at 2:30 o'clock and an evening performance. Adults, 50c; children, 25c. Ice cream and cake will be served after the evening entertainment. Come and enjoy this unique affair. —Adv. 30-12.

WAR ON BARBERRY IS PROGRESSING

SCOUTS GO "OVER THE TOP" IN BLOODLESS STRIFE

Nowadays, "Get Every Bush" is the Slogan—No More Wild Flivver Jaunts

During the week of June 18th, several investigators from the U. S. Department of Agriculture were in the county to commence the fight to overcome black stem rust of oats, wheat, barley and rye.

The farmers of Denmark and many of the lending farmers of this country, together with scientific investigators, have proven beyond any doubt that the common barberry is the host plant and the material factor in spreading black stem rust.

Under the direction and guidance of "Uncle George" H. Van Pelt, the agricultural experts covered a considerable portion of the county and discovered a sufficient number of infected barberries within the southern portion of this county and the northern end of Antrim county to produce a rust epidemic on all the cereals produced in these two counties.

The spread of the rust is somewhat dependent upon weather conditions—that is true, but rust is a parasitic plant growth, spread by means of spores, or seeds. These spores needing damp, hot weather to germinate. Weather conditions, however, are not the primary cause of rust, although its spread is affected by them.

The barberry bush is easy to distinguish and the Botanical department of the Michigan Agricultural College would be pleased to furnish any information necessary for knowing the barberry and how it functions in the spread of rust.

The fight against the barberry is a government enterprise of nationwide proportions and the department has issued graphic diagrams and maps showing the remarkable progress that has been made in different parts of the country in the destruction of the plant, which is accomplished by the means of simple chemicals. When the work of eradication is once commenced in a district, it must be prosecuted with great care and thoroughness, as the survival of only a few bushes will inflict an irreparable damage to the grain crops of the region.

Representatives of the Bureau of Agriculture who are carrying on the work of destroying the barberry are scattered throughout the land and the organization has now assumed the proportions of a young army. A bulletin, called "The Barberry Scout," is printed for their information and guidance and contains much valuable data and advice for the anti-rust workers. An excerpt from a recent issue of this bulletin will give the reader a fair conception of the nature of this work:

"In the early years of the barberry eradication campaign, when the supporting appropriation was ephemeral and speed was the watchword, a scout who spent more than a week in a county was suspected of having acquired a native girl and settled down for life.

In those days Mr. Scout was expected to spot the barberries from afar and to shout instructions for digging them out as his flivver chattered merrily past the location.

But times have changed. A year ago Uncle Sam, the interested states and the general public indicated that they were in for a finish fight against the barberry. This year they again said it with dollars. So the tactics of the barberry eradicators have changed. Now, instead of popping out the barberry on the fly, they go in for hand-to-hand encounter with positive instructions to mop up every bush as they go along.

Accordingly scouts assigned to some counties are likely to be there long enough to establish themselves as veterans. In certain of the wild areas, if they follow orders and stick until the last sprout and seedling has been destroyed, they will become permanent residents. No more will the old recruiting slogan of "Join the barberry hounds and tour the country" attract young men to the service. Many of them will be lucky ever to get out of the townships in which they start operations.

While this new policy of substituting thoroughness for speed may be a blow to the lads who love to stir up the dust on the open road it means death to the common barberry. In the days of old a bashful bush, hiding away in a back yard, a distant woodlot or an isolated farmstead, had a possible chance to go on breeding cluster cups for ever and anon. But under the new deal it is doomed. Sooner or later it will be salted or assaulted by some eagle-eyed scout."

LUMBERMEN CONVENE AT THE WOLVERINE

F. O. Barden, of Boyne, Retires From Presidency

The seventeenth annual convention of the Michigan Hardwood Manufacturers Association was in session last Wednesday at the Wolverine Hotel, at Boyne City. Delegates were in attendance from every corner of the state and a pleasing and profitable program was carried out.

While the home offices of the association are in Cadillac, Mr. F. O. Barden of Boyne City has been its president for the past two years. However, he stepped aside when the election of officers was held, feeling, as he stated, that he has borne the honor or long enough.

A delightful dinner was served at noon by the management of the Wolverine Hotel, after which the business of the association was taken up and brought to a harmonious conclusion.

During the repeat charming vocal numbers were rendered by Miss Helen Martin, accompanied by Miss Mary Reider, who also favored with piano selections.

LIVE FISH SHIPPED TO CHICAGO

BEUTEL COMPANY SUPPLIES LINCOLN PARK

"Bowery Bill" Reaches Aquarium With Finny Charges—It Took Wind

The first shipment of live whitefish, trout and perch that ever left this city for exhibition purposes was forwarded last week by the Beutel Fish Co. to the Lincoln Park Aquarium, Lincoln Park, Chicago.

The Park Administration Office recently sent to Manager David J. Eckinger, of the fish company, ten tanks, each about six feet long, eighteen inches wide and eighteen inches high, with screened covers. These tanks were filled with water, here, and one to two fish put in each tank, about twenty-five specimens in all; some whitefish, some trout and perch, the larger varieties weighing from two to five pounds.

These were forwarded on the Manitou last Tuesday, in charge of William J. ("Bowery Bill") Gallagher, whom Mr. Eckinger selected as being the only man who could keep the finny travelers in order. And it proved to be quite a job. Bill had to pump air into the tanks with a tire pump every little while and change the water frequently, in order to keep his charges alive.

Eventually, however, Mr. Gallagher arrived safely at the park aquarium with the fish, where they were placed in show tanks, as a part of the display. Bill says they wiggle their tails in a sad au revoir as he left the park. They remembered the hot air he had fed them.

The Beutel Company reports a heavy run of whitefish this year, the largest, in fact, in several years. The trout have not been quite so numerous. Manager Eckinger attributes this to the fact that the winter, throughout the season, has been warmer than is usual for the period.

The fish industry is one of the really important industries of the town that progresses in a quiet way, almost unnoticed during the rush of the summer season and the long period of hibernating that follows it. Charlevoix is really a fishing village, as well as a resort town and when we consider the invested capital and the number of men employed, as well as the territory served, we awaken to a new sense of the usefulness of our little community.

CENTRALIZATION IS BETTER WAY

SO THINKS UNCLE GEORGE H. VAN PELT

Believes County Should Be Governed by Responsible, Trained Executive

"Uncle George" Van Pelt has developed a new idea in county government, it being the fruit of his long experience in road work and in dealing with boards of supervisors, county road officials and the machinery of county administration, supplemented by the observations of a long and busy existence and matured by inter years of comparative leisure for study and analysis. Based on the uncontrovertible principle of efficiency through centralization of power, his argument contains the germ of what possibly may be the future ideal conduct of a county's affairs.

"A thirteen million dollar corporation in Charlevoix county—such a corporation exists in Charlevoix county. It is the county, itself. Most people are unaware of this fact and do not see the likeness of our county government in that of a large corporation. It is in every way similar to one, except for one thing—that is, the lack of an executive, such as the president of a corporation. We have our board of directors, or, as we call them our board of supervisors. The highest we pay our supervisors and members of the board of county road commissioners is from $4.00 to $6.00 per day. No corporation, or business firm of $13,000,000 capitalization would think for a moment of paying so small a sum to their executive members in their employ. Why, the man who sweeps out the office gets more than that!

I am strictly in favor of a one man government for counties, as well as for cities. This man must be a high class business man and should be able to command a salary of from $20,000.00 to $25,000.00 each year. I claim that such a man could more than save his salary by doing the business of the county in a strictly businesslike manner. At least, in 1919, such a man could not only have saved his salary, but have made at least $200,000.00 extra for the county in the road deal.

I have every reason to believe that the supervisors of Charlevoix county are as competent and as honest as those of other counties, but it is a fact that, in many instances, the newly elected supervisors in one end of the county are wholly unacquainted with those of the opposite end. Consequently, these men could not be expected to work harmoniously and to the best advantage of the county. At least I know that it was so in 1916 and 1917.

It is also a well-known fact that, in a body of 25 members, there is a goodly proportion who have never sat in a body of this kind before; that they are afraid to say their soul is their own and afraid to express themselves and who vote as they are directed by the hoses of the different cliques and those who do the most talking. Neither is it a probable fact that any one of these men on the board of supervisors ever had any training in business education.

Of course, undoubtedly all are able to compute, accurately, what a load of potatoes of 47 bushels, at 27 1-2 cents per bushel would come to. But I do claim that they are not competent to decide, for the best interests of the county, when it comes to the question of what kind of roads to build and what to pay for it, because the correct answer to this problem requires a man of experience, education and ability to determine which type of road possesses the most lasting and durable qualities and what kind would be cheapest in the long run for the county to build.

A man like this is needed to decide where to build these roads to (Continued from page three)

POULTRY NOTES

The busy hen is the one that makes the best layer.

It pays to feed the young fowls liberally until they are full grown.

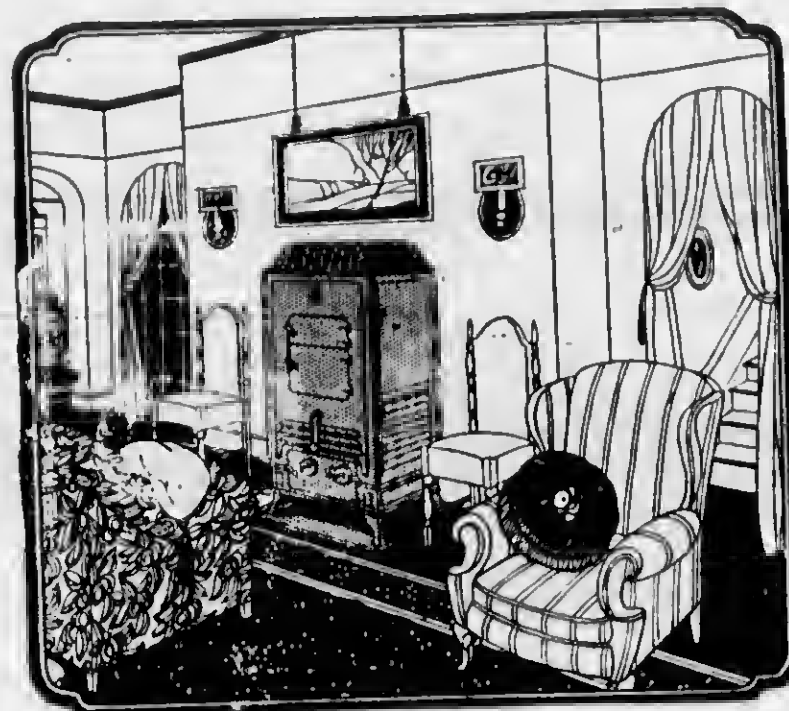

Be kind to your fowls; make friends with them and they will repay you. Fright reduces the egg yield.

Exercise makes the hens lay better, insures fertile eggs and makes the chicks grow strong and healthy.

Make the nest boxes of ample size, but not too deep. The hens, if large in size, will break the eggs in getting into the nest if it be too deep.

A hen too closely confined soon becomes restless and uneasy. Restlessness results in discomfort and the development of such vices as egg-eating, feather-pulling and cannibalism.

Have you joined our HEATROLA Club?

ONE TON of coal FREE to all who join before Aug 12th

This is our offer: To all who join our HEATROLA CLUB before August 12th we will give absolutely FREE ONE FULL TON OF COAL. The club fee is $2, which applies on the price of the Heatrola. The balance is payable in easy installments. Here is a chance to get one of these wonderful new-day heaters and a supply of fuel for the price of the Heatrola alone. Installation of the Heatrola will be made at any time specified by the purchaser.

$2 puts an Estate HEATROLA In your home! Order it Now!

All over the country, Heatrola dealers are making this offer on a limited number of Heatrolas and for the period from July 22nd to August 12th. Last year so many people waited for cold weather before ordering their Heatrolas that the factory was swamped with more orders than it could deliver. To prevent this congestion this year is the reason for this very attractive special offer.

Installed in one of the living-rooms, the Estate Heatrola supplies moist warm air to all connecting rooms, upstairs and down, just like a furnace. Beautifully finished in grained mahogany enamel, it looks like a handsome cabinet photograph. Beautiful enough to grace any parlor, in its handsome form and rich grained mahogany enamel finish.

And how it heats! Come in and read the book of letters testifying to its heating capacity. Read—not claims we make, or the manufacturers' make, but what people who have Heatrolas say about this new-day heater.

The Heatrola heats by circulating warm, moist air—not by radiation. It is just the thing for small homes, bungalows, stores, offices, etc.—with or WITHOUT BASEMENTS. And it is economical. With the fuel needed for one stove it will do the work of a furnace. It is easy to keep clean. No iron to black, no nickel to polish. Just rub it and dust it with a cloth, as you do your furniture.

Join our HEATROLA CLUB now. The number of Heatrolas offered is limited, and the club closes August 12th. So act quickly. On joining you pay $2 down. The balance is payable in easy installments. We then make an installation of the Heatrola when you want it, and we deliver to you FREE ONE FULL TON OF COAL.

Don't delay—Act at once!

CONCENTRATION IS BETTER WAY

obtain from them the greatest advantage to the most people, NOT a sectionalist, but one who has the interest of the whole county at heart—not one who would listen to the prattle of "soft-talk" of the would be "knowers," but one who, by his own experience, judgment and scientific tests is qualified and therefore not afraid to put important deals across in the right way.

Again, no corporation of any size, especially one of $13,000,000 capitalization, would even think of intrusting their business wholly in the hands of twenty-five men without some wise director at their head. It is self-evident that twenty-five uneducated and inexperienced men are not as good and efficient as one good man. If you have one executive to do the directing, the people can hold that man responsible; but, if you have twenty-five men, the people don't know whom to hold responsible and the responsible ones can pass the blame on to someone else. What we want is somebody to be held responsible, a place to put the blame, if there is any, and someone to praise, if praise is deserved. If we had had this system of county government in 1919, certain things that happened then would never have happened at all. The then board of supervisors—that is, the majority of the members of that body, would not have done what they did I think, had they not been persuaded or coerced.

I suppose that the old boards of supervisors and the new ones in particular will take exception to what I have said and, possibly, they will condemn me for expressing my views, which are entirely in accord with those that I have given in the past. If our county, under the present system, were prospering and getting to the front, there might be less reason for criticism. But the fact is that our county, instead of being the banner county of the state, which it bid fair to be in the years of 1916-1919 inclusive, is now lagging behind with Emmet county and others. And, in proof of it, I refer you to the road that is now being built from Sprick's Corners to the M. E. church in Norwood. I have not seen our old path-master, Joe Holecheck, recently, or Bill Wiles, but, I will venture to say that they would agree that for the sum of $300.00 a year, they would have kept the old road in better condition than the new road will be in when finished. Just imagine, building a state road only twelve feet wide and the greater part of round stone, from the size of pig-cou's eggs up to that of a small turkey's egg.

The eastern side of the state is just as far behind as we are in the race. In fact, most of the counties of Michigan and other states are lacking good roads. If we had a good concrete road, twenty feet wide, eight inches thick, with reinforced edges and a curb, eighteen inches deep (which could be done at a less expense by reducing the thickness in the center of the road between the curbs) the tourist traffic would use it and not go around us, as at present.

Every county should send representatives to Springfield, Ill., to examine the "Bates Experimental Roads." There they have 63 sections of roadbed, 100 to 250 feet in length, representing as many types of recognized road construction, including asphalt, vitrified brick and various mixes of concrete.

The tests began in March, 1922, twelve to eighteen thousand army trucks, equipped with solid tires, being used in the experiments. Beginning with the bare chassis and cab, loads were increased until the maximum legal load for the state was reached. Hundred of trips, at varying weights and speeds were made over given stretches of roadbed, including 22 sections of brick, 17 of asphalt and 24 of concrete. Of these, 4 1-2 per cent of the brick, 17 2-3 per cent of the asphalt and 41 2-3 per cent of the concrete sections successfully sustained all the imposed traffic.

SUCCESS IN HATCHING EGGS

Care and Attention to Detail Are What Makes One Man Succeed Where Another Fails.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Between making or losing money in raising chickens there is only a narrow margin. Contrary to many persons' ideas, no magic road leads to success in this work. Care and attention to detail are what make one man succeed while another one with similar equipment fails.

The following suggestions on incubation are given by poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture:

Have everything ready beforehand, and start your hatching operations early in the year.

A well-ventilated cellar is the best place to operate the incubator.

The machine should be operated according to the manufacturer's directions.

See that the incubator is running steadily at the desired temperature before filling it with eggs. Do not add eggs to a machine during incubation. Turn the eggs twice daily after the second and through the eighteenth day. Cool the eggs once daily, according to the weather, from the seventh through the eighteenth day.

Turn the eggs before caring for the lamp.

Attend to the machine carefully at regular hours.

Keep the lamp and wick clean.

eighteenth day until the chickens are hatched.

Eggs saved for hatching purposes should not be subjected to high or low temperatures.

In cold weather place from 10 to 13 eggs under the hen; in warm weather from 13 to 15.

Always try the hen on china or nest eggs before setting good eggs.

Given proper care and attention, the hen is the most valuable incubator for the farmer.

Use insect powder freely to exterminate lice when necessary.

February, March, April, and May are the best months for hatching, depending on the section of the country.

If several hens are set in one room, it is desirable to confine them to their nests.

Straw and hay make good nesting material.

Broody hens should be moved to the permanent sitting nest at night.

While corn is a good feed for sitting hens, water, grit, and dust baths should also be provided.

All eggs should be tested by the seventh day, which often makes it possible to reset some of the hens.

SELL POULTRY TO CONSUMER

Specialists Believe It to Be Most Profitable Method of Disposing of Best Fowls.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There are three general ways of selling poultry—direct to the consumer, direct to the retailer, or to commission merchants for selling on the open market. Selling direct to the consumer is believed by poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture to be the most profitable method of disposing of high-grade goods, for the charges of the middlemen are eliminated. Very often the producer is situated so that he can build up a retail trade among the families of a neighboring town or city, delivering his goods once or twice a week, or oftener if desired. In this way he can obtain a substantial increase over prices paid in the open market. Especially is this true in the case of strictly fresh eggs. Often it is possible to find customers in a town or city within reasonable hauling distance, taking eggs and poultry to them at regular intervals. Hotels, restaurants and clubs are good customers which can be supplied in this way by grocery and provilance.

and trouble of private trades, but the returns usually are not so large, except when dealing with certain commission houses that have built up a fine trade along certain lines. BOWEL TROUBLE IN POULTRY

One Good Way to Prevent Allments Is Not to Feed Anything Solid for Seventy-Two Hours.

"To prevent white diarrhea and bowel trouble, chicks should not be fed any solid feeds for at least 72 hours after hatching," says Harry Emberton, head of the poultry department of Oklahoma A. and M. college. "During this period, however, they should receive sour, skim milk when taken from the incubator, and this should be kept before them all the time. In addition to the milk they should receive some fine sand which acts as a grit."

"When beginning to feed solid feeds, feeding should be little and often. A commercial chick feed scattered in a dusty cut litter accompanied with some rolled oats or Johnny cake or a mixture of these feeds with hard-boiled eggs makes a very good feed for starting young chicks. Care should be taken not to over-feed them."

THE BRITISH DRY BILL

When Lady Nancy Astor's liquor restriction bill passed the house of commons by a vote of 257 to 10, it was after a hard fight, and after it had been amended until it seemed to the voters as harmless as a kitten.

Intoxicants may no longer be sold to persons under the age of 18 for consumption on the premises. That is to say, father may send Jimmy to rush the growler, as soon as Jimmy is big enough to run down the street with a pail. But father—or mother, as is quite common in London—may no longer order a glass for the nipper while having his or her own drinks in the pub. Nor can Jimmy, grown to the mature age of 17, walk up to the bar and order his own hard liquor.

One of the tooth-extracting amendments provides that a person over 16 may order beer with a meal. The ancient British right to enter a pub with bread and cheese, in one's pocket and secure a glass of beer to wash it down with has not been lost. Another amendment is that the sale must be "committed knowingly" to be an offense. Probably if Jimmy, at 17, says he is 18, the bartender will not be obliged to demand, nor Jimmy to display his birth certificate.

The measure looks pretty mild to victims of the Volstead act, and if it had not looked mild to the British M. P., it would not have passed. But it means more than it seems to mean.

It gives the child of the British workman half a chance at a sober childhood and youth. The sober youth, grown to man's estate, will be more willing to see dry measures passed than the voter who is tied to alcohol before he casts his first vote. In 30 years, the chances are, Britain will be dry.

ALASKA—A GREAT STATE

Everyone knows that Alaska has great undeveloped natural resources and potential wealth. Discussion of the utilization of its treasures has been going on for a long time. The hope that they will not be selfishly wasted and that they will not be exploited has been crystallizing in awakening public attention. President Harding's trip has made Alaska a real land in the minds of its millions of fellow citizens. Its beauty and attractiveness appeal to the whole nation.

Secretary Hoover voiced this new interest the other day, saying:

"Within the next three months we shall effect some measures that will co-ordinate Alaska better than heretofore, so that out of this we may do something worth doing. The greatest thing we might do is to establish happy co-ordination to build a new country so that Alaska will have a greater mission and vision to America than control of her fisheries and lands. She has the building of a great state."

Alaska is not a remote treasure house to be emptied of its store and abandoned. It is finer material than that, and needs only wisdom and justice in its handling to make of it a strong and beautiful part of the

DODGING LIGHTNING

The picnicker or camper who fears lightning may derive some comfort from the words of the director of the Blue Hall observatory in Muskegon. He says that only 10 flashes of lightning out of every 100 come to earth. The other 90 pass harmlessly from cloud to cloud. Of those that come toward the earth only one out of 100 strike a person.

He also gives a few rules which make for safety. One is to get under cover when a storm threatens and to lie down if it is not practical to get indoors. Another is to keep away from a tree with thick foliage while there are lightning discharges. It is well, too, to keep away from an open doorway or an open window. Lightning sometimes follows currents of air, especially rising warm air.

Incidentally it is hopeful, to be told by an authority that lightning rarely kills outright. Prompt resuscitation measures frequently succeed in restoring a lightning-stricken victim to consciousness.

Coming in the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday.

Mankind owes a great deal to the power of motion pictures for taking one back through the vista of years bygone and showing how things were when "you were a lad and I was a lass."

Now comes Douglas Fairbanks and takes folks back eight hundred years and reveals to them "how things looked and how people acted when chivalry was at its zenith. He accomplishes this notably in his latest United Artists Production, "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," which critics pronounce the greatest motion picture ever made, and which is coming next Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace Theatre.

The joys and sorrows of the ailing Twelfth Century in England have been lived all over again in this modern day before the camera and the portrayal is deemed absolutely accurate, this whole production being based on every fact available in all the records extant.

FARM LIVE STOCK*IMPORTANT WORM DISCOVERY

Zoologists Find That Carbon Tetrachloride Is Effective in Destroying Parasites.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The toll exacted from the live-stock industry by internal parasites such as worms is enormous, and because of this drain on the herds and flocks the zoologists of the United States Department of Agriculture kept up an unrelenting search for chemicals and treatments that may be used to combat these organisms. Recently they have discovered that a certain chemical once used in medicine as an anesthetic and now used variously as a fire extinguisher, cloth cleaner, insecticide, and solvent for fats and gums, is very effective as a destroyer and expeller of intestinal worms. The name of this chemical is carbon tetrachloride.

The effectiveness of this chemical against certain round worms has been announced by the department, but what may be the most beneficial use has just been brought out by tests on animals infested with hookworms. In the case of sheep the minimum effective dose has not yet been determined, but all the doses used, from 12 cubic centimeters to 48, in each case given in two ounces of castor oil, removed all stomach worms and all hookworms. It has been equally effective for hookworm in dogs and horses, and has been used with success against some of the various kinds of worms that infest the digestive tract of pigs.

The fact that a species of hookworm also affects man makes this discovery of the efficacy of this chemical against hookworms in various animals of interest to medical men as well as to veterinarians and live-stock growers. Medical men are now trying it out at several places as a possible cure for hookworm disease in man, and it gives promise of success. As a result of the work so far completed, scientists in the bureau of animal industry consider that this drug will prove of special value in the removal of the various kinds of blood-sucking worms in domestic animals.

FEED FOR FATTENING STEERS

Corn and Corn Silage With Cottonseed Meal and Alfalfa Favored at Iowa College.

That corn and corn silage, supplemented with cottonseed meal, alfalfa hay and salt make the best ration for fattening steers was shown to Iowa farmers recently. Steers fed this ration made substantial gains in experiments at Iowa State college and although they were ordinary steers they made $3 per head. This indicates that the feeding business, properly handled and where good-quality steers are started with, will pay the farmer a profit.

Other roughages, such as clover hay, corn stover and mixed timothy and clover hays were experimented with. The red clover ration made a good showing but the other roughages lost money.

Cottonseed meal was used to an advantage in these experiments and made a fine balancer for the ration. In speaking of the use of this protein feed for steers the animal husbandry men say that during the last 12 years it has been used in experiments at the rate of three pounds to 1,000 pounds of steer. It was fed for a period of one to six months with corn silage and good results were obtained.

Cottonseed meal, however, as a hog feed has caused some doubt as to its value due to toxic qualities but the Iowa station has found that when fed in rations where cottonseed meal is used at the rate of one part to four parts of ration no harm has resulted.

CHARLEVOIX TEAM CLEANED BRUTUS

Score of Sunday's Game Was 3 to 2, Our Favor

The Charlevoix City team played a winning game at Brutus on Sunday last and justified their right to a warm place in the hearts of local fans.

Cunningham was the star of the day, with eighteen strike-outs to his credit, as against the pitcher for Brutus, who had twelve chalked up to him. The Brutus team didn't get a run until the 9th inning. McCafferty walked to first, struck by a pitched ball and hits by Soaprey and Babcock brought him in in the 2nd inning. Charlevoix's second run was scored in the sixth, when Humphrey singled and came in on Cunningham's two base hit. The seventh and eighth innings were scoreless for everybody.

In the 9th inning, Brutus scored two runs and the game looked very threatening for Charlevoix with two men on bases, one man out and the score a tie. But Babcock stopped a run by a spectacular bare-handed catch and his next wallop at the pill brought Soaprey, who had walked to first, home, to make the score 3 to 2, our favor. Brutus players were struck out in rapid succession in the next and last inning.

The Charlevoixians played good ball almost to a man. The work of the colored first baseman, of McCafferty, Jones and Soaprey, was also worthy of mention. At one point in the game, Soaprey knocked down a line drive with one hand and caught it with the other.

The next game will be here, next Sunday, with some team and the line-up of the local team will be the same as last week, with the exception of one fielder. Fans should turn out in force, as the new team needs encouragement and support.

"SALE" and "bargain" are attractive words. But there is something more attractive in Standard Goodyear Service. For one thing, it is trustworthy. When you buy a Goodyear Tire from us authorized Goodyear Dealers, you know we'll help you get all the mileage out of it. That's real economy. "Bargains" sometimes aren't.

As Goodyear Service Station Dealers we sell and recommend the new Goodyear Cards with the bonded All-Weather Tread and back them up with standard Goodyear Service.

STARVE MITES IN HEN HOUSE
In Tests Made Parasites Were Still Alive After 113 Days in Abandoned Building.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

It takes several months to starve the mites in an infested chicken house after the poultry has been removed. In tests made by the United States Department of Agriculture some mites were still alive after 113 days in an abandoned hen house. The nests indicated, too, that the mites live longer in damp locations than in very dry conditions, which accounts, in part at least, for the idea that mites are worse in damp, badly ventilated houses.

The only way to get rid of these pests is to break up their hiding places. Dust baths will not control them. Roosts should be taken down, and all unnecessary boards removed, and infested houses the mites are to be found everywhere, including the roof. For small coops a hand atomizer will do for applying insecticides such as sprays, but for larger houses a bucket pump, knapsack sprayer, or barrel pump is desirable. A rather coarse spray should be applied from all angles, and driven thoroughly into all the cracks. The floor also should be treated, as many mites fall to the floor when roosts are being removed.

Commercial carbolleneum, which consists essentially of a high-grade anthracene oil, has proved very effective against mites. The killing power of this substance, which is derived from coal tar, lasts for several months, and mites which may be inclined to come in from other buildings are repelled for a long time. This material costs, ordinarily, $1 a gallon, but as its results are superior to those recorded with any other material, and the treatments required are fewer, its use is strongly advised.

Grude petroleum, while not so effective as carbolleneum, retains its killing power for several weeks, and in most places is very cheap. Since it does not dry into the wood so rapidly it is more likely to soil the fowls and the clothing. Both of these materials can be sprayed better if redened with kerosene at the rate of about 1 part of kerosene to 3 parts of the other materials. Both often contain foreign particles which should be strained before the spraying is begun.

It has been found that one spraying with either of these materials often will completely eradicate the mites, but ordinarily it is advisable to make a second application in a month, and in some cases a third treatment is needed. Poultry should be kept out of the houses until the material is well dried into the wood. It is advisable to spray or paint chicken coops a few days before putting broods of young chicks into them.

AVOID CROWDING OF CHICKS

Bad Practice With Fowls of All Ages, but Especially With Very Little Follows.

Avoid overcrowding. It is bad practice with fowls of all ages, but especially with youngsters. Chicks with mother hens or in brooders often are crowded at night. When they get out in the morning nest of them take cold and this often develops into roup, which is usually fatal in the case of young chicks.

Five Poultry Factors

There are five major factors in profitable poultry production, says N. E. Chapman, poultry specialist at University farm—breeding, feeding, housing, management and care. "These are the essentials; combined they will put the poultry business on a practical business basis," he says. "A start can be made with hatching eggs, day-old chicks or a few head of breeding stock of high production. The surest way to success is to grow into the poultry business."

No Success Without Honor.
The man without a code of honor is like a ship without a port, and is just as certain sooner or later to go to pieces on the rocks.

"Snow Followed by Clearing"

By ROSE MEREDITH

© 1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Snow—followed by clearing—rising temperature—northwest gales," read Miss Amanda Harper to her nephew that March morning. Anthony looked out of the window and granted: "My experience has been that snow is always followed by clearing—sidewalks!"

"Gracious sakes, Anthony, when I was young I didn't mind clearing off sidewalks—keeps the blood in circulation, and anyway, the ladies' and society's meeting down at Emmeline's, and you will have to clear off for her walk, too."

"Of course, auntie, I'll get at it at once—I've an important engagement at two this afternoon, and I'll have everything ready for the meeting before I go. Good thing I'm a lawyer who practices in his own house—if I had an office down street I would never get there on time!" he laughed good-naturedly as he left the table and stood by the window looking over the morning mail. Outside the world was wrapped in a white drift of snow which had fallen steadily for eighteen hours. How many times he had shoveled the path around the house and then the broad sidewalk in front of the house. Next to the house was "delectable ground," for Anthony's old sweetheart lived there solitary, except for a couple of servants. Their break had come on the very eve of their wedding fifteen years ago, and the heart was so deep that neither one had ever married. Anthony measured the long, lonely years by the winter snows that had fallen; in summer he rarely even glimpsed Rose Mary Gray, for she always spent the summer months with relatives at the seashore, whence she returned in October looking very brown and golden-haired, but her eyes were always sad.

"Fools!" sharp-tongued Aunt Emmeline said of the two.

"Poor souls," the more gentle Amanda would murmur, as she saw them pass laughingly by each other, Rose Mary with the slightest inclination of her fair head and Anthony with the stiff removal of his hat.

"If they would only look at each other just once—" groaned Miss Amanda that March morning as she shot a glance over toward Rose Mary's big square white house, which stood between the two big Harper houses on the main street. She was looking to see if old black Anous was clearing the snow from Rose Mary's walks, but the level stretch was unbroken. Something must have happened to Anous, for he was most faithful, and it had always happened that whenever Anthony reached the end of his own sidewalk, Rose Mary's would be cleared so he could proceed straight on to Aunt Emmeline's and clean that off. He might have hired the work done, but he really liked the exercise.

Anthony, hooded and muffled for the work, went out with his snow shovel. As he shoveled the floor whiteness and the blood went tingling through his veins, old dreams came a-trodding him. If he and Rose Mary had married, they would have been living in Rose Mary's house and their children might have been playing in this very snow. At this moment, Anthony dug so violently into the snow that he caught the shovel on the pockets of the iron fence and split it badly. His first thought was to go back for the other shovel, then after he had gone a dozen paces he retraced his step and went on shoveling, and that moment of indecision changed his whole life.

Driven by the unguessed memories and bitter remorse that he had not humbled himself to the ground to keep his beautiful love, the man worked furiously, half blinded by the mist before his eyes; for an hour he shoveled, forgetting that he had not crossed the stretch between his house and Rose Mary's.

Three women watched him breathlessly.

Miss Amanda saw him when he retraced his steps on the cleared walk and fell to shoveling again. "He is crazy—he thinks he has passed Rose Mary's house—and he believes he's shoveling Emmeline's walk. Oh, my!"

Emmeline at her end of the block saw him finish clearing Rose Mary's path and come dazedly on to her home. "Lapal sales! I never knew him to do that before—if the ladies hear about it the meeting will be lively!" she chuckled.

Rose Mary watched him with shining eyes and a face kissed by the north wind into rosy blushes. "Ah, Tony—Tony, you must care a little!" she whispered as he went on toward his aunt's house.

At last he stopped. He thought he was getting cold, for never had he been so tired after shoveling off the two walks. He waved a greeting to Aunt Emmeline, and plodded on toward home. As he passed Rose Mary's gate a loved voice—how long since he had heard it—called him—"Anthony—Tony, stop, please."

He whirled about. The watching nuns saw his eager, bewildered face beneath his lifted cap. "Thank you, Tony, for clearing my walk," she said. Yes, Rose Mary had spoken to him again after the bitter years!

"For clearing your walk?" he repeated. "That is very little—that I can do," he said humbly, for he did not understand.

"Tony—there is so much to tell you—forgiveness to ask—will you come in and have some lunch with me?" She was blushing now as he opened the gate and followed her up the fanny wriggle footpath she had cleared from the front door. "Anous is sick—and when I saw you—you clearing the snow away from my walk—I was sure that the snow on your heart had melted and that perhaps—" she turned on the doorstep with outstretched hands. "Coming, Tony?" she faltered.

"For always?" he said boldly, as he followed her into the light and warmth of her home, and her love.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Ernest Duffy, who was admitted to the hospital July 22nd, for medical treatment and observation, died Wednesday morning, August 1, from causes unknown. A specialist called from Chicago, was unable to determine the nature of the malady that terminated Mr. Duffy's life. The body was removed to See's undertaking rooms this morning. The funeral will be held at Loeb Farms, Friday, at 2:00 p. m., interment at Charlevoix. The deceased was employed at the Loeb Farms.

Miss Eva Lafreniere, of St. James, Beaver Island, had her tonsils removed last Wednesday and has now returned to her home.

Harry Watkins, of Charlevoix, had the misfortune to badly mangle his hand, while fixing his car one day last week. He was admitted to the hospital for treatment and has returned to his home.

Walter Gibbs of Chicago, a member of the yachting delegation that took part in the recent regatta, was admitted to the hospital Saturday, suffering from abdominal neuralgia. He was discharged Tuesday and left for Chicago in a much improved condition.

Mark Hanna, who had his tonsils removed at East Jordan, last Monday, was brought to the hospital on that day, suffering from hemorrhages. He returned to his home on Tuesday, much relieved.

Jane Elizabeth, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colon McKenzie, died last Sunday morning at the hospital, peritonitis having set in, following an operation for appendicitis, performed some ten days previous.

The hospital garden is looking fine these days. When one reflects that some sixty wagon loads of quack grass roots and rocks have been removed from this land and two plowings made, its condition is remarkable. Three crates of beans have been picked from two rows and twenty-two quarts have been canned. Peter Jensen, janitor, is the "man behind the gun" and proud as a peacock of his charge. He has had an able assistant in Miss Cable, who has personally done much towards the development of the garden.

CAUGHT ALLIGATOR IN CHANNEL

Colored Boy Finds Him Under the Pier

This is an alligator story and that it shall not lack any of the usual concomitants of such a tale, we have a colored man who figures as the savior of the animal. And the scene—no turbid, Florida stream with palms lazily waving, touched by soft zephyrs from the Southern seas, but the prosaic channel between Lakes Michigan and Round.

In short—Constant Booker, who holds the job of porter for S. M. Rose's barber shop, while swimming in the channel off Harry L. Oldham's place, last Sunday, at noon, spied the strange beast in the water, just under the edge of the pier. The reptile was only about eighteen inches long, but to the startled colored boy he seemed some eighteen feet.

Booker yelled for help and clambering for shore, procured a stick and a rope and, with the help of a bystander, soon had Mr. Alligator pinned down and hors de combat. Later, it proved, that the alligator had escaped from the yard of his owner, Harry L. Oldham, and, following his natural instincts, sought the water. So bathers, who possibly caught their breath, upon reading the headline of this article, may calm their fears. Mr. Oldham doesn't intend to let his pet do any more roaming.

CHILD'S DEATH MAKES MANY SAD

Little Jane McKenzie Was Untimely Victim

An operation for appendicitis, performed about two weeks ago last Monday, resulted in the death, last Sunday, at the Charlevoix Hospital, of little Jane Elizabeth McKenzie, the four-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colon McKenzie. Although every effort was made to save the child's life, peritonitis set in, with its usual fatal ending.

The little girl was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie and the deepest sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved parents in their time of great trouble.

The funeral was held from St. Mary's Catholic church, Tuesday morning, at 9:00 o'clock and the remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery here.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY" WAS RECONSTRUCTED

Gunplay, Horsemanship and Foot race in Herristown

"In Old Kentucky" was staged Thursday evening when Sheriff C. H. Nixon, undersheriff Ed. Helman, "Ike" Van Ocker and Al Wood, of Cadillac county as the cast. The scene was in Herristown and the action included gunplay, horsemanship and a footrace between Wood and the sheriff. The last act was staged in the county jail.

Al Wood, a genuine Kentuckian, has been arrested in Charlevoix county for alleged moonshining. He didn't like to stay in jail so he climbed out. A warning was broadcast to all officers in this part of the state.

Sheriff Nixon heard the fugitive might possibly be in Cadillac. He went to the house in Herristown where the man was supposed to be and sure enough, there was the man.

Wood wouldn't wait while Nixon took him to jail but started off across the commons at a rapid pace, his training in the Cumberland mountains serving him in good stead. The Kentuckian weighs about half as much as Sheriff Nixon, but despite that handicap, the sheriff kept pace for 80 rods and then winded, he started shooting into the air.

Wood accelerated.
Isaac VonOcker came along on a horse.

"Do you want him?" inquired Ike.

"Oh no," answered the sheriff, "I just wanted to see him run." The sarcasm was not lost on Ike and he spurred up his steed and overtook the jail breaker.

It is believed Wood is also wanted in the Upper Peninsula for attempted murder, it being alleged he shot a deputy game warden.

HARDING WAS A GREAT LEADER

DIVINELY CHOSEN FOR TREMENDOUS TASK

Far-Seeing Statesmanship and Super-Qualities of Heart and Mind Were His

The death of Warren G. Harding, twenty-ninth president of the United States, which occurred last Thursday at the Palace Hotel, in San Francisco, marks the passing of one of those great souls which an all-wise Providence provides to guide humanity in critical times of world-wide confusion and peril.

Just so surely as was Abraham Lincoln divinely chosen to bring the American people safely through the terrific stress of civil strife, threatening to overturn the very foundations of the social and political structure, so did Warren Harding appear at the most critical period in our generation with qualities and character suited to the great needs of the hour. "The captains and the kings depart, the tumult and the shouting cease" and a great, wise, patient soul arises from the mists of post-war chaos, hatred, jealousy and greed to gather up the broken and scattered threads of our national life and weave them once more into a sound and perfect fabric. Conceivably, a Roosevelt might have swept us into an Asiatic war, complicated by class struggles at home and strained relations abroad—a Wilson might have fixed upon us the habits of absolutism and broken down forever those wise checks upon too great concentration of power that our fathers created to preserve to us the blessings of freedom in thought, speech and action that constitute the very essence of Americanism.

The people of these United States, during the critical years following the close of the great world struggle, have been like swimmers in the surf who have ventured beyond their depth. The libertinism of war, like a mighty underflow, has threatened to sweep them far beyond the life-lines of political and social sanity, of those principles of morality, justice and freedom established by the strivings and travail of millions of American citizens and sanctified by the blood of martyrs and heroes. The late president was as welcome to a nation and a world plunged in doubt, skepticism and fear, class strife and party hatred, as the life-guard who appears on the shore to the struggling swimmer. His task was left unfinished, but his shining example has put heart and hope into the people who loved, trusted and honored him, as a president, and, for more important, as a man, and ready, willing and capable hands, trained by his far-seeing wisdom are already pursuing the course to which he so steadfastly held.

The record of his achievements in office is a modest one, but their lack of sensational features detracts in no way from their vast importance. According to the closest students of American affairs during the period through which we have just past, the following constitute what might be called the "high spots" of the Harding administration:

Re-establishment of peace with Germany and Austria.

The calling of the arms conference which approved the naval limitation treaty and the four-power Pacific pact.

Ratification of the treaty with Columbia resulting from the partitioning of Panama.

Revision of the tax and tariff laws.

Restriction of immigration.

Farmer aid legislation with particular reference to easier credits on more liberal terms.

Establishment of the budget bureau.

Veto of the soldier's bonus bill.

Extension of the program of aid for wounded, sick and disabled veterans of the world.

Advocacy of American participation in the world court.

Dispatches at the time this article is written state that the funeral train, bearing the body of the late president, passed through Chicago at 5:50 p. m. Monday, witnessed by one of the largest throngs of people that has gathered in that city in many years. The train arrived at Washington, Tuesday, where the body will lie in state in the capitol until after the state funeral services on Wednesday, when it will be taken to Marion, Ohio, the birthplace and (Continued on page two)

GALLON OF GAS TO BE A GALLON

TWO PER CENT SHORTAGE TO BE BARRED IN FUTURE

After September 1 A Gallon Will Be A Gallon in Michigan According to Ruling

Whitney Watkins, commissioner of agriculture, announced Wednesday that beginning September 1, a gallon of gasoline and oil in Michigan must be a gallon and not 2 per cent less allowed under previous rulings. If the ruling announced by the commissioner is made, it will go into effect upon the same day as the amended law upon weights and measures, which eliminates the word "knowingly" from the former law.

Since 1913, a tolerance of five and four-tenths cubic inches has been allowed in the measuring of each five gallons of gasoline and oil, according to Watkins. Inspectors of the department declare 90 per cent of the containers and pumps were found to be taking advantage of the allowance and giving short measure. In 2 per cent, the shortage was larger than the allowance. About 5 per cent of the pumps were giving over-measure.

If 90 per cent of the pumps and measures can be made to measure the lesser amount so closely, it is possible for them to measure a gallon exactly, Watkins declared, in making his notification that the order will be issued, effective September 1.

Allowing a gallon of gas a day for operation of each automobile, the forces in the office of the commissioner found that the tolerance meant a loss of 6,000 gallons a day. This means, in the course of a year, a loss of a half million dollars a year to auto drivers, declare the figures.

Under the former law, it was practically impossible to prosecute for short measure because of the word "knowingly" written in the law, says the commissioner. The amended law, with knowingly stricken out, becomes effective September 1 and Commissioner Watkins promises vigorous prosecution of givers of short measure after that date.

AUTO LICENSES HALF-PRICE SEPTEMBER 1

This Helps Buyers of New Fall Models

On and after September 1st, of this year, automobile licenses for 1923, either on old or new cars, may be purchased for one half the regular rate, according to County Clerk Charles H. Emrey, in a statement to the Courier representative, Monday.

This provision is designed to enable purchasers of 1924 models, most of which appear on the market in the fall, to make their purchases now and enjoy the use of their new cars during the remaining driving months of the year, without the inequitable burden of the full year's tax for the short period now remaining.

PICKED MOTORISTS FOR COPS

FIVE HUNDRED SPECIAL OFFICERS APPOINTED

Kane County, Ill., Regulates Traffic Without Arrests—Moral Suasion Used

A novel plan for traffic regulation without arrests has been inaugurated in an Illinois county this summer and so sensible (though possibly radical) are its main features, the working-out of the scheme will doubtless be closely watched by traffic officials and motorists throughout the country.

The following account of this new stunt is contained in an Associated Press dispatch appearing in the May 22nd issue of the Chicago Evening Post:

"The golden rule and 500 special officers are going to enforce a new regime in motordom in Kane county this summer, according to plans of Sheriff Wilmer Orr. The 'do-unto-others' idea is going to be hung up all over the county, a cardinal principle of the system being that rules will be enforced without arrests.

Sheriff Orr has appointed 500 selected motorists from Aurora, Elgin and other cities in the county to become an organized part of the county's traffic police department. They will be "assistant" sheriffs, augmenting the regular motorcycle police. Their duties will not be confined to upholding the law. They are dedicated to accord fellow motorists all possible service and courteous treatment, and to especially take care of all visiting motorists "who act decently and with proper consideration of the rights of other motorists and pedestrians." Sheriff Orr has instructed deputies "not to arrest a motorist unless you believe you have to."

The deputies will serve without pay. They were appointed to "iron out the many wrinkles and eradicate the evils of the traffic problem, and also to give aid, service and protection to the decently acting motorists," according to James Lino of Aurora, originator of the Golden Rule Motor club.

There will be no set speed limit, the motorist using his judgment and taking into consideration the condition of traffic and the road he is on. "Slow pokes" will be taken from the traffic on hard roads when they are crowded and held until the line has passed—unless they agree to step along. Signs along the highways will advise a speed of fifteen to thirty miles an hour, or whatever speed deemed best considering the traffic condition. Persons learning to drive must use the back roads. Pedestrians on hard roads will be requested to take the left side facing traffic. Motorists found driving without tail lights or both head lights burning will be sent to the nearest repair shop.

"This movement is a blow at the practice of some counties of making wholesale arrests of motorists in order to obtain the fines," said Mr. Lino. "Kane county's automobile clubs are desirous that other clubs throughout the state follow their play, to the Golden Rule Auto club will grow state wide."

FORMER PASTOR HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Methodists to Hear Bishop Theodore S. Henderson

Dr. John W. Hallenbeck, now of Detroit, but formerly a pastor of the local Methodist church, will preach Sunday morning next here. Dr. Hallenbeck will be remembered in the city as the minister who built over the church. In his tireless efforts he did much of the real labor himself. He will also be remembered in the rural sections by his evangelistic work in school house, town hall and everywhere.

Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of the Detroit Area, is the speaker to the young people at 8:00 p. m. This will be a rare treat. Not often does a Bishop get to our city.

Visitors and residents are urged to avail themselves of this extraordinary opportunity.

Carry a complete line of wrenches in your auto kit. They are always needed in case of break down. We have them. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 31-4f.

Charlevoix Hospital Day, Saturday, August 11. BUY A TAG.

PREPARE TO BE TAGGED AUG. 11

DO YOUR PART TO HELP THE LOCAL HOSPITAL

Besides the Tags, Money May Profitably Be Spent at The Many Booths

Don't forget that next Saturday, August, the 11th, is hospital tag day in Charlevoix. Bring your pocket books when you come down town during the day, or in the evening, and be sure and have something in them. For some one of the corps of young ladies who are going to help in distributing the tags is going to pin a tag on you sooner or later. So be prepared. This is in a very worthy cause, the worthiest, perhaps, to which you have ever been asked to contribute, or will be, as nothing transcends, in local importance, at least, the care of our sick and injured, and everyone should do his or her level best to help it along.

By the way—young ladies, who can spare the time and would like to help the hospital meet its current expenses during the year, are asked to volunteer for distributing the tags. Applications may be made to Miss Addie Holley, at her Gift Shop, on Bridge Street, where a supply of tags may be obtained.

The Charlevoix Hospital Auxiliary will assist the general board by conducting booths on Park Avenue, on Saturday next. The American Legion Auxiliary will serve soft drinks and ice cream; the Catholic Ladies, coffee and sandwiches; Marion Center Grange Auxiliary, farm produce, fresh eggs, butter, cheese and fresh vegetables; the Rebekahs, lemonade and home-made candy; the W. C. T. U., fine home-made pies—cream, butterscotch, fruit, and other kinds. The Woman's Relief Corps will sell flowers and the Order of the Eastern Star will conduct a fish pond. Many valuable articles will be sold; also, things of special interest to the children. Booths will be open from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Other attractions are promised that will interest both old and young. Some clubs will make cash donations; others affiliated with the auxiliary will assist the above-mentioned organizations. The finest kind of enthusiasm is expressed throughout the organizations and many private individuals are supporting the effort in a way to make August 11th a real success for the benefit of the Charlevoix hospital.

It has been planned to hold a parade during the day; either in the afternoon or evening, but this is dependent upon the possibility of securing music for this purpose. As this point is unsettled at this writing, whether or not there will be a parade cannot as yet be authoritatively announced.

Postoffice Closes for One Hour

As a mark of respect to the memory of our late President, Warren G. Harding, all postoffices in the United States will be closed for one hour during the exercises attendant upon the burial of the late president at Marion, Ohio, which will take place at 3:00 o'clock, Central Standard time, Friday, August 10. Charlevoix postoffice will comply with the request.

If its in the line of auto accessories, we have it. Most complete line in the city. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 31-4f.

PROCLAMATION

The funeral and burial for our late beloved President will be held in Marion, Ohio, on Friday, August 10th, beginning at one o'clock in the afternoon, standard time. It is right that we should put aside else, and so far as possible, participate in the observance of these last rites.

It is therefore requested that all public and private enterprises in the city, and all individual pleasures and engagements be suspended between the hour of Noon and Three o'clock of Friday, August 10th.

Let us pause during these hours and pay our heartfelt tribute to the life and memory and public service of President Harding and let our minds be centered in thoughtful contemplation of the sorrowful events of this day.

Dated, Charlevoix, Michigan, August 8th, 1923. Arthur Bergeon, Mayor.

WOODS, REAL "HARD GUY," IS SENTENCED

Will Serve Six Months for Bootlegging at Ionia

Albert Woods, East Jordan bootlegger, who figured as star in a real-life melodrama of Kentucky feud days flavor down in Wexford county two weeks ago, was sentenced last Saturday, by Judge Mayne, sitting at an extended session of the May term of court, to serve from six months to a year in the Ionia reformatory, with a recommendation of six months.

Woods, who hails from the wild and woolly state of Oklahoma, is reputed to be a "bad man" with an alleged criminal record and was arrested early in the spring, by Sheriff Novak, for plying his nefarious trade in and around East Jordan. While awaiting trial, in March, Woods escaped from the jail here and was recently apprehended in Cadillac by Sheriff Nixon, of Wexford county, a dramatic account of this capture appearing in last week's issue of the Courier.

Sheriff Novak left Monday with his prisoner for Ionia, where the latter will have a nice long period of quiet in which to ruminate on the futility of life in general and bootlegging in particular.

THIRD DEFEAT BY EAST JORDAN

LOCALS LOSE SUNDAY BY A 4 TO 2 SCORE

Play Boyne City Leaguers Next Sunday and Cheboygan the Following Wednesday

Although both pitchers allowed but four hits, Dagwell, pitching for Charlevoix, lost to Johnny Gunderson, of East Jordan, Sunday, at the County Fair grounds before a large crowd. Gunderson's support was better than that given Dagwell, although the former had better control when in a pinch, striking out 19 Charlevoix batters.

Rigley, Hanna and Harryman played excellent ball for Charlevoix, and Red Higgins hit one on the nose for three bases. Much credit should be given Hanna, our local second baseman, for playing so well when in no condition to do so, he not having fully recovered from a recent operation.

This is the third defeat suffered at the hands of East Jordan, but no doubt will be the last, as Charlevoix cannot afford to have a small town get gay with them. The two teams meet again at the Gleaner's picnic at Eastport, August 16, also September 3rd at Charlevoix and possibly at the county fair.

Boyne lost Sunday to Pellston, 7-0, and Petoskey went down before Harbor Springs 9-0. Boyne City with a greatly strengthened lineup, play here Sunday, and the fast Cheboygan team will be met here next Wednesday.

LARGE SUM INVESTED IN ROAD-MACHINERY

County Maintains Three Supply Stations

Some interesting facts about the county's road work. To most of us, the value of machines and tools in this branch of the county's activities will be quite a revelation. The figures were taken from the books of Clerk Peaselee, of the Board of County Road Commissioners.

The road equipment of the county inventories at about $35,000.00. This sum covers not only road working machinery but tools, dynamite and supplies of every description, located at the three road depots in Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan, officially known in their order, as named, as depots Nos. 1, 2 and 3.

The almost complete division of the county, naturally created by Pine Lake, stretching for nearly eighteen miles north and south, makes necessary the division of the road work and supplies and tools into three departments, thus avoiding the necessity of moving heavy and cumbersome mixers, scrapers and other road machinery over long distances and making possible simultaneous operations in the different sections of the county.

HEADED A BOAT RESCUE PARTY

REP. R. L. LEWIS HELPS TO SAVE FIVE LIVES

Locates Struggling Sailors with Car Spot-light, Then Speeds For Aid

Two men and three boys, the amateur crew of a storm-beset sloop, last Friday night owed their lives to the timely appearance and rapid action of R. L. Lewis, state representative, who came upon their boat, driven nground and overturned off South point by a gale that would have made an attempt to swim ashore disastrous.

Mr. Lewis and his wife, driving along the shore in an automobile, were attracted by a call for help through the darkness. Playing his spotlight into the lake the motorist finally located the sloop with five persons clinging to its upturned side. Speeding back to the coast guard station two miles away Lewis found that the station's one regular boat had just gone out on another call, but with Capt. Francis Partridge and another member of the guards who remained at the station he hurried back to the sloop.

A small boat, located by the life-savers, was launched into the storm and the sloop's crew, nearly exhausted by their battle of several hours against the waves, were brought ashore.

Although expressing their deep gratitude to their rescuers the five refused to give their names, saying they did not want relatives to learn of their mishap.

The ill-fated vessel proved to be the thirty-foot sloop, Columbia, owned by Dr. R. S. Morris, a member of the medical faculty of the University of Cincinnati, who, with four of his friends, had left Old Mission, Thursday morning, bound for Harbor Springs, where they were going to enter the races. Rainy weather and the treacherous reefs of the South Point proved to be too strong adversaries, however. Calm weather, earlier in the day, slowed them up so that they were unable to make the harbor. During Thursday evening, a rainstorm came up and the party, unable to get their bearings and unfamiliar with the coast hereabouts, landed on the South Point reefs at about eleven p. m.

Friday efforts were made to get the boat off with the assistance of the gas boat Josephine. As the small craft proved unequal to the task, arrangements were made with Harry Oldham, owner of the S. S. Bruce, to draw the sloop off. The Bruce proved to have sufficient power but had difficulty in getting close enough to the wreck. It was necessary to pass two hundred feet of line to get hold of the sloop. The crew of the Bruce were assisted in this operation by three men from the coast guard station and two young men from town who had gone aboard as spectators but proved to be able amateur seamen.

Dr. Morris' boat was badly stove in, sinking as it slid from the reef. While being towed from the Point to the harbor, which was reached after two a. m., the top of the thirty foot spar was completely under the surface. The U. S. S. Sumac raised the boat in the harbor and Roy Ranger is in charge of the repairs.

YELLOW AND BLACK LICENSE PLATES FOR YEAR OF 1924

Yellow and black license plates will be issued in 1924, according to information received recently. The background will be yellow while the numbers will be in black. The entire plate will be larger than the green and white one now in use, and it is said, will enable motorists better to read the numbers.

A change also will be made next year in the date of the reduction in cost of licenses. This year licenses may be had at half price in September, while next year the reduction will be in April. This change is expected to greatly alleviate the work during the first weeks in 1924. Many motorists would wait until spring to get their licenses if they could get a reduction then.

home of the late chief executive, and laid to rest in the family plot, in Marion cemetery, on Friday, August 10th, beside the bodies of his mother and sister, who die in 1910 and 1913.

One of the first acts of President Coolidge was to issue a proclamation, appointing August 10th, the date of the interment, as a day of national prayer and mourning, the country's citizens being adjured to meet in their respective places of worship "to bow down in submission to the will of Almighty God and to pay out of full hearts the homage and love and reverence to the memory of the great and good president whose death has so sorely smitten the nation."

Warren G. Harding, twenty-ninth president of the United States, was born at Corsica, Morrow county, Ohio, on November 2, 1865. He studied law, but took up newspaper work at Marion, Ohio, in 1884 and became president of the Harding Publishing Company, publishers of the Marion Star, a daily paper. In 1891 he married Florence Kiang of Marion. He served as a member of the Ohio senate from 1900 to 1904, and was lieutenant-governor of Ohio 1904-06. He was Republican nominee for governor of Ohio in 1910, but was defeated by Governor Harmon, re-elected.

Mr. Harding was elected to the U. S. senate in '14. He was one of those who opposed the ratification of the Treaty of Peace with Germany as presented by President Wilson. The treaty contained the Covenant of the League of Nations and Mr. Harding joined with the senators who objected to the United States entering a league in which they were obligated to defend and protect the territorial integrity of member nations, as provided by article ten.

Mr. Harding was the nominee of the Republican party for president in 1920. He won the election by an overwhelming majority, the electoral vote being: Harding 404; Cox, 127. He was inaugurated March 4, 1921.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Walter Teboe, of East Jordan, was brought in Wednesday, suffering from a gunshot wound. The gun was accidentally discharged, while carrying in a wagon in which Mr. Teboe was riding. The discharge blew the flesh from his right hip, but, luckily, did not injure the bone.

The little son of Carl Mitchell, of the Chicago Club, had his tonsils removed at the hospital, Monday.

Little Joan Byers, daughter of Albert Byers, who came to this country with her parents, some nine weeks ago, from Scotland, was brought to the hospital, Monday, in a serious condition with some unknown intestinal disorder. She is now under observation.

Mrs. Ada Nickola, of Central Lake, had an abdominal operation performed yesterday. She is doing very nicely.

Arthur Lehman, a guest at the Beach Hotel, is at the hospital today in a serious condition, suffering with internal injuries received in an automobile accident that occurred last evening, near Horton Bay.

Clarence Hunt, from Bellaire, had two large growths removed from his head last night.

Mrs. Tom Nistor, a summer resident of the Belvedere Resort, has been sending ice cream and cake each Wednesday afternoon, for the patients and staff of the hospital.

TOO MUCH GLARE OR TOO LITTLE LEEWAY

Such Are Counter Pleas of Collision Victims

A week ago Monday night, two cars sideswiped each other on the Petoskey road, just inside the city limits, as a result of too much spotlight and hogging the road.

The parties were Phil Baldwin, of Harbor Springs, driving north in a Nash touring car, and a bunch of joy-riding colored gentlemen from Mackinac City, bound for the dance at the Bank Hall here, one of them a conductor on the Michigan Central railroad. From $200 to $300 damage was sustained by the cars, the Maxwell sedan, carrying the colored party, itself badly smashed, tearing a wheel off the touring car. Only slight injuries were suffered by the occupants of either car.

The driver of the sedan claimed that Baldwin's spot light confused him while Baldwin makes the counter claim that the sedan didn't give him a fair half of the road. The accident happened at about ten p. m.

RESORTER IS BADLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

Arthur Lehman Thrown From Overturning Car

A car, owned by Julius Gilbert, Park Avenue resorter, turned turtle last night on the way in from Horton Bay. At one of the dangerous sand turns that make driving this road at night a hazardous feat.

Arthur Lehman, of Peoria, Ill., a summer resident living at the Beach Hotel, who was driving the car, which he had borrowed from Mr. Gilbert, was thrown out and was picked up by a passing car and brought to town, to the residence of Dr. Greensfelder, on Park Avenue, from which it was impossible, on account of his condition, to remove him until this morning. He is now in the hospital here, suffering from internal injuries and in a very critical condition.

HOTEL CHARLEVOIX CHANGES HANDS

Purchased by Dr. C. J. Winder of Eaton Rapids

The Hotel Charlevoix, one of the oldest and best hosteleries in northern Michigan and our city's only year round hotel, will soon be conducted under new management, the present owners, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Auld having effected a deal with Dr. C. J. Winder, a practicing dentist of Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

In the deal the Auld's take over the 52-acre farm, stock and implements at Eaton Rapids, known as the Hill Crest Orchard Farm, located one-half mile west of that city, on which is located a beautiful new home and 15 acres of ideal producing orchard.

The exchange is to take place August 15, when Dr. Winder and family will come to Charlevoix and place his son and brother in charge of the hotel.

The deal will result in Charlevoix losing one of its best known and estimable families, who since their long residence here have gained the esteem and respect of the entire community.

Dr. Auld first came to Charlevoix in 1888, succeeding the late Dr. G. W. Crouter, and continued in the practice of dentistry until the spring of 1921, when failing health compelled him to give up his work. During the past two years he has conducted the hotel continuously.

AT THE MOVIES

The play, which originated the famous expression, "The world is mine," is now a screen drama. This is "Monte Cristo" from the pen of the immortal French author, Alexandre Dumas. It will be shown at the Palace Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. William Fox produced it and it is said to be an even greater production than former ones which have come from the Fox organization.

Coming to the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. From the grandeur of the Court of Louis X in "The Eternal Flame" and the enchantment of the turreted East in Robert Hiehn's "The Voice From the Minaret" to the underworld of New York City may seem a long step for any motion picture star, but the versatile Norma Talmadge makes it with her latest drama, "Within the Law," one of the most powerful crook plays ever brought to the screen.

As Mary Turner, the little shop girl around whom Bayard Veiller wrote his tremendously successful stage production, Miss Talmadge is said to perform the finest emotional work of her career.

With an all-star cast, which includes Milton Sills, Anna Q. Nilsson, Frank Campeau and Walter Long, "The Isle of Lost Ships," a First National attraction directed by Maurice Tourneur and produced by M. C. Levee, is coming to the Majestic Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. Crittenden Marriot wrote the story, which is declared to be one of the most unusual ever seen on the screen.

With the poetic touch which characterizes all Maurice Tourneur productions, this novel story has been picturized in a weirdly realistic and beautiful manner. Lovers of the unusual and picturesque will find "The Isle of Lost Ships" one of the most diverting pictures ever shown here.

The extent to which a person will go to satisfy their craving for dope or booze was shown when a man whose name and home could not be learned was placed in the city lockup. The fellow had in his possession several cans of canned heat which he had been eating, the alcohol contained in the mixture satisfying his craving for booze. It is said that some persons use this mixture in sandwiches and others just eat it.—Potoskey Evening News.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10

First National presents Katherine MacDonald in "Refuge." Thus begins a romance of enthralling interest. A story of intrigue, daring adventure, of a fight for a throne and a woman's love. Also a Cameo comedy, "Broke."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, AUGUST 11-12

Norma Talmadge, artist incomparable, as the woman scorned in "Within the Law," her fourth great picture of the year. The famous American play provides one of the greatest roles of the decade, and is said to be one of First National's best pictures of the year. Also a Cameo comedy, "The Dude."

MONDAY and TUESDAY, AUGUST 13-14

Jackie Coogan—more adorable than ever—a merry little soldier of misfortune, who romps through a play of sunshine and shadows, with his fiddle and his pig, his bowl of spaghetti and his too-big trousers—you'll laugh till your sides ache at his antics. That's Jackie Coogan in "Daddy." Added attraction, Larry Semon in a two reel comedy, "The Fly Cop."

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY, AUGUST 15-16

Wm. Fox presents "Monte Cristo." The world is mine. Alexandre Dumas' masterpiece, translated into giant screen spectacle. Acclaimed by critics the country over as one of the motion picture triumphs of the age. A wonderful picture.

WARREN G. HARDING

Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. Pacific time, Warren G. Harding, beloved president of our great nation, and a resident of Marion, in the state that has furnished six of our chief executives, passed away peacefully as he was listening to the reading of the wife who had been so dear to him. Apoplexy was the direct cause of his demise.

President Harding never will be forgotten by the world. It was he who called the famous Washington conference which cut naval armament, established a logical balance of sea power, and put the world in a position in which no successful sea war could be carried on without the sanction of earth's most intelligent and humane nations. He was the friend of a broken world, and undoubtedly would have remained in the presidential chair until March 4, 1929, had not death claimed him. He had a sane, sensible and logical plan for the redemption of Europe, and was merely waiting for time to assuage the animosities of the old world in order that the voice of the United States might be better heard.

Michigan, rock-ribbed Republican state, loved Harding almost as it loved Roosevelt. It loved his manner of looking before he leaped. He was the first American president to visit Alaska and to speak officially in Canada. The state which has sent only one Democrat to the United States senate in 70 years, and then only because of a desire to drive a scandal out, never will forget the kind's race of Marion—the same Marion which sends its citizens into this resort section every summer.

His demise is a blow to the world.

in view of the present European crisis, but, fortunately, the people chose vice president in November 1920, who has the courage of his convictions, and who will "carry on" for Harding even as Roosevelt did for McKinley.

GETTING LOST

The story of a man lost for sixty hours in a northern Michigan swamp which, according to local authority, is only about two miles wide and six miles long, will recall to many walkers their own experiences in getting "turned around." There is a great difference among individuals in their liability to the form of bewilderment. Some people have a faculty by which every turn they make in the course of their wanderings registers itself in their minds, so that they always know which way they are going, while others will lose their bearings whenever they venture out of sight of familiar landmarks. When persons of that type awaken to the knowledge that they do not know the way home, they are likely to be seized with panic and add to their loss of direction, a loss of common sense, courage and the power of decision. They are so panic stricken that even the possession of a compass does not help them, and old woodsmen have testified to the fact that people in that state of mind will forget whether it is the blue end or the bright end of the compass needle that points north.

For all such persons, the first thing to do is to sit down and consider the situation until calmness succeeds terror. The chances are altogether against the aimless wanderer who turns out for every obstruction and merely weaves a complicated path of loops and curves which often bring him back to the place he started from and rarely arrives anywhere else. A straight course in any direction will in a state like Michigan, always bring a walker out on a road, a trail, a stream, or a hill top that will solve his problem.

MICHIGAN ROADS—SUPER-IMPORTANT

In the routine of yesterday's news was the announcement that the State Administrative Board has authorized the Highway Department to build a few more miles of paved roads. There ought to be a great many such announcements—limited only by the maximum funds available for highway development. Until Michigan's roads are superior, or at least equal to, the roads of every other tourist-state in the country, there is no such thing as raising "too much money" (one of Governor Groesbeck's complaints against a two-cent gasoline tax) for permanent and effective paved road development. Indeed, Michigan's road needs—if she shall maintain her summer playground supremacy against intense competition by many other states—are so definite that the adequate and equitable financing of a sufficient road program puts the mooted "gasoline tax" at the top of the program of the next Michigan administration.

The summer tourist who "loves" the charm-places of the East finds nothing comparable with Michigan's natural attractions. Perhaps this primarily explains why Michigan's tourist traffic is now estimated by the federal government as an annual $100,000,000 asset—(an asset worth conserving and developing to our utmost resource). But despite our splendid Michigan road development in many important directions, this same summer tourist finds road development in the East that puts us definitely upon our mettle. Frankly, it is something of a jolt to leave 2,500 miles of uninterrupted paved way through a dozen eastern states, and, for example, to land on "M 16"—the main artery from Detroit to Lansing—which, except for a few short stretches, would not be tolerated even as a detour in other states. There are, of course, miles and miles of beautifully developed Michigan highways in our western and northern areas—highways that equal anything in the land. But a chain is no stronger than its weakest link—and we still have too many "weak links."

Perhaps our construction methods, in some of these instances, have been sadly wrong. Certainly the state has been prodigally liberal in its provision of highway funds, to date. But our problem is not alone to locate these funds. It is to correct them and "continue the march." That calls for still more funds. Whence shall they come? To get them solely by tax on contiguous farm lands would be unspeakable injustice. The primary contributors should be the users of the roads. These are the motorists. The best method of measuring road usage yet devised is a tax on gasoline consumption. The last man to object should and would be the motorist himself. A two-cent "gas-tax"—figuring "gns" consumption as low as ten miles to a gallon—would cost a motorist but $1.00 for the privilege of running over 500 miles of good roads. Could any present and essential convenience be cheaper? Many an eastern state charges that much toll to cross a single bridge—and nobody objects!

The road problem is a serious one in Michigan—particularly with an eye to the stupendous prize of the nation's marvellously expanding summer tourist traffic. Nature has given us an edge, in lure to this traffic, over any other state in the land. But we must, wholly do our part. Road building methods are vital—some of our methods have been superb in result—some have been pathetically rotten. But underneath everything is the need for a permanent method of equitably and adequately financing of creation and upkeep. Straight as a pike-staff, this still points to the gasoline tax. It is a vital Michigan need—and the need will grow upon our convictions in proportion as we acquaint ourselves with the road-works of our competitors in summer hospitality. It would be silly to reply that a constitutional "gas" tax cannot be drawn. Of course it can—here as in 35 other states. It will be equally folly to make this issue the toy of politics. Our needs are obvious. So is their answer.—Editorial, Grand Rapids Herald, July 19, 1923.

HOT WEATHER GOOD THINGS.

A good-sized fowl is not always made tender by ordinary cooking. The following method is a good one: Cut the fowl in pieces at the joints, wash and dry, roll in seasoned flour and fry brown in hot fat. Put into a baking pan, sprinkle over it one-half cupful of celery and two tablespoonfuls of minced onion. Cover with hot water; place another pan over it and cook in the oven until tender. More water may be needed if the chicken is an old one.

Cottage Chicken.—To two cupfuls of cooked chicken, cut in pieces, add one cupful of cooked macaroni, one-half a large canned plumato, one-half of a grated onion. Prepare a white sauce, using one cupful each of milk and chicken broth, three level tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour with one teaspoonful of salt; mix with the first combination and cover with a rich biscuit dough. To keep the gravy from going into the crust, place an inverted cup or small bowl, well greased, in the center of the dish before pouring in the gravy. The gravy will thus go under the cup. Loosen the crust and remove the bowl before serving.

Watermelon Cocktail.—Cut a chilled melon into thick slices, remove the seeds and cut out with a vegetable stamp or a potato cutter into balls or slumps. Sprinkle with a little powdered sugar and serve in stemmed glasses as a beginning for a luncheon or dinner.

Peach Betty.—Use the soft crumbs from the center of a stale loaf of bread. Mix three cupfuls of crumbs with one-half cupful of melted butter. Have ready a pint and a half of sliced peaches. Put the buttered crumbs and fruit in layers in a baking dish, sprinkle each layer with sugar, grated orange or lemon peel. Bake one hour. Cover the dish during the first half of the cooking, but remove to brown the crumbs. Serve hot, with sugar and cream. Apples may be used in place of peaches, or any juicy fruit.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain real estate mortgage dated the 13th day of August, 1912, executed by Edwin H. Cook and Clara Cook, his wife, to John Nicholls, Harry Nicholls, Archibald Butters and Albert P. Bridge, co-partners, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Charlevoix County, Michigan, in Liber 48 of Mortgages, on page 458, on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1912, and which mortgage under date of August 27th, 1915 was assigned to Carrie E. Knight of Banks township, Antrim County, Michigan, which said assignment was recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said County of Charlevoix, in Liber 49 of Mortgages on page 573, on the 6th day of September, A. D. 1915.

And, whereas the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of $774.45 of principal and interest, and the further sum of $25 stipulated for in said mortgage as an attorney's fee, and no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the money secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said power of sale and in pursuance of the Statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described at public auction, to the highest bidder at the front door of the court house in the City of Charlevoix, in said County of Charlevoix, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held) on the 20th day of September, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day which said premises are described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: The west three-fourths (3/4) of the northwest quarter (1/4) of section twenty-four (24) town thirty-three (33) north, range nine (9) west, of which the following described parcel of land has been released from said mortgage, to-wit: The west half (W1/2) of the west half (W1/2) of the northwest quarter (NW1/4) of said section twenty-four (24), all in the township of Norwood, County of Charlevoix, and State of Michigan.

Dated June 27th, 1923.

Mrs. Mary Martin, of Traverse City, who was visiting in East Jordan at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. LaClair, called on Mr. and Mrs. J. Moblo and son, Carl, and daughter, Mrs. Alfred Raymond, one day last week.

ATWOOD

Miss Percus VanDerStreek is visiting friends in Central Lake.

As the special meetings are closed at Norwood, there will be preaching every Sunday morning at 10:30.

The families of Frank and Clifford Brown are entertaining friends and relatives from Marion, Ind., and Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

Fred Malleader, of Birmingham, Mich., dealer in real estate and farms called on Ethaa Joliffe on Monday, to make arrangements for the latter to list farms in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bos, formerly of Atwood, but now of Chicago, came by auto last Thursday, for a week's visit with relatives and friends. The trip was made in just 16 hours, Mr. Bos at the wheel every minute. 14 gallons of gas and a Chevrolet 490.

ANTRIM CITY

Arthur Steel got his new bicycle last Friday.

Mr. Stott and family were visitors at the Stool home Sunday.

Mrs. Jack Smith went huckleberrying with Denais Sunday.

Mr. Stool is selling some of his early potatoes to Mr. Knight.

Alfred Brooks and Russell Spear went to Muskegon to work last Tuesday.

Bernice Stott went to church at East Jordan with the Brooks family, Sunday.

Mr. Brooks is doing some carpenter work for Rev. Hewitt, at Norwood, this week.

Mr. Chapman, of Rochester, Mich., was here to look at John Simon's farm, one day last week.

Harry Masoa took Elliott, Effie, Martha, Robert and Frank Masoa to the circus at Charlevoix last Monday.

WILDWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Crawford and little daughter spent Sunday with relatives in East Jordan.

Mrs. Brooks, and her niece, Mrs. Jas. Wilson, visited the former's old home, Harbor Springs, last week.

This community, with all the rest of America, was shocked to hear of our president's death in San Francisco.

Miss Ellen Crawford, accompanied by Mrs. Frank, of Bellaire, and Mrs. Hammond, of Traverse City, left on Monday for an auto trip through the upper peninsula of Michigan.

Mrs. Duncan Crawford returned last Friday forenoon from Ypsilanti, where she took a summer school course, graduating from that college with her life certificate.

Mrs. Crawford will teach in Flint again next year.

ROCK ELM

Miss Sadie Metz is home from Mt. Pleasant, to enjoy a few week's vacation with her parents and other relatives and friends.

The people of this community were saddened by the death of Ernest Duffy. He was a Rock Elm boy, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of all.

Last Friday, while riding on a load of buzz poles with his father and two younger brothers, Walter Toboe, received a bad gun-shot wound. He was carrying a loaded shot-gun on his lap when a cream can that was on the load started to fall off, and in catching the can the gun slipped from his lap and discharged, making a bad flesh wound in his hip. He was taken home and a doctor from East Jordan was called to dress the wound, after which he was taken to the hospital at Charlevoix for care.

He is reported to be doing as well as can be expected.

BIG CROWD AT COMMUNITY PICNIC

Talk by Judge-elect Parm C. Gilbert Greatly Enjoyed

The Community picnic on Thursday, August 2, proved, in spite of numerous rival attractions, to be up to the standard set by previous gala days here, and a splendid crowd was on the picnic grounds to see the sports and games, and listen to the speech by Judge P. C. Gilbert, and to eat popcorn and peanuts and drink lemonade.

Both ball games were interesting in spite of the one-sided scores. The talk given by Judge Gilbert was one of the best ever given here. The band music was A-No. 1 and the field sports were above normal.

A feature of the latter was the work of little Ona Elzinga, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elzinga, of Attwood, who took first prize in the race for girls 12 years or under, the race for girls 16 years or under and the ladies free-for-all.

John Hennip's tug-o-war team won from the team captained by Edward Vandenberg, after a heart-breaking struggle. Elwood Yettaw demonstrated that he could eat more bananas in less time than any competitor and John Brown made the rest of the field look like "also rans" in the fat man's race.

Dutchtown was easily from Bay View in the morning's ball game and in the afternoon game Ellsworth lost 20-3 to Bellaire, in spite of thirteen safe hits combed off the delivery of Bechtold, the Bellaire pitcher.

The weather was ideal for the event and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves, so "there's that."

Ladies Relief Corps Enjoy Joint Meeting Held Tuesday

Fifteen members of the Ladies Relief Corps of Central Lake, and three of the five remaining members of James A. Sexton Post, also of Central Lake, met on Tuesday of this week, with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis DeLine at their home here, for dinner and for a social and business gathering.

The three Civil War veterans who were able to attend were W. H. Greenman, of Central Lake, a member of Co. B, 9th N. Y. artillery; Lewis Williams, of Ellsworth, 9th Indiana infantry and Lewis Delia, who served as a member of the 3rd N. Y. artillery and of the 19th New York infantry.

The forenoon, following the arrival of the guests, was spent in needle work and talk by the ladies and in talk by the men, and a splendid dinner was served by the hostess at 12:30. Plans were laid during the afternoon for attendance at the National Encampment, which will be held at Milwaukee, Wis., September 2-8, and the party broke up towards evening, their cars ringing with the heartiest good wishes of all.

ENTERTAIN NORTHERN MICHIGAN DRUGGISTS

Annual Convention of Rexall Dealers August 15th

W. F. Donaldson, of the Ellsworth Drug Co., is busy making plans to entertain about fifteen druggists and their families on Wednesday, August 15th.

The occasion is the convention of Rexall dealers of the northern Michigan district, which embraces from Traverse City on the south, to the Straits on the north.

The convention will be held at Big Fish Inn and will consist of a forenoon of social activities, with dinner at noon, followed by a business meeting. This will be addressed by the State Sales Manager of the United Drug Co., and the meeting will be dismissed following a light lunch.

This is the second meeting of this kind to be held in this district and Mr. Donaldson is making an extra effort to make it excel the preceding one, which was held at Petoskey.

Canning Factory Operating

The Ellsworth Canning factory began operations on Wednesday of last week and, although starting on a small scale, are gradually picking up speed.

Work is being done on string beans at present and a force of about thirty ladies are at work at present, this number, however, being gradually added to as the force get more accustomed to the work.

Having discovered that they cannot maintain a home and a car at the same time, a good many men appear to have solved the problem by making the car their home.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Worse and worse. Solidified alcohol, spread on rolls, is being used to get a bun on, according to a Lansing dry agent.

It was all right to give a Fordson tractor to the Ball Mountain boy to keep him on the farm, but wait till it earns him the price of a runabout to drive away in.

The story of the Flint motorist who turned aside to avoid hitting a dog, and wrecked his car on a telephone pole, shows that it might be safer for pedestrians to lend a dog's life.

A Cadillac woman, who experienced a lapse of memory eleven years ago, has just learned of the world war. As soon as she is strong enough, the doctor says she may be told about the peace.

Higher prices for this year's potato crop are predicted by the Michigan potato growers' exchange at Cadillac, but of course the wiser growers will not count their predictions before they are hatched.

A Saialac county farmer claims that he shot a gray timber wolf which was molesting the stock on his farm, and at the same time he saw five or six others. Our own conviction is that he just shot the one, and it scattered.

When a cow at Mesick died of an unexplainable ailment, its body was found to contain a quart of bolts, washers, screws and pieces of wire. The warning issued by M. A. C. that it is unsafe to allow cows to graze behind your Ford, thus proves to have been only too true.

Motorists on the paved road between Kalamazoo and Augusta found the pavement apparently on fire at one spot Sunday afternoon. The fellow near by, with a flat tire and an empty gas tank, who was making the air blue, will be asked to explain, it is said.

An amateur cornetist who has been disturbing the night at Kalamazoo with his blowing, has been requested by the police to finish it before the neighbors retire. It is such a nuisance to have to climb out of bed, after you have got well settled, and maybe go clear out into the damp yard in your bare feet, to shoot somebody.

Michigan retail ice cream dealers served 28,892,889 more dishes of ice cream during the year ending July 1, than they did in the previous year, and some one computed that these dishes, placed edge to edge, would form an unbroken path from Lansing to Jacksonville, Fla. The path should, of course, be marked, however, so that travelers will not mistake it for the Dixie highway.

WAY TO AVOID LEAKY TEATS

Good Plan to Apply Colloidal After Each Milking—This Closes Up the Opening.

The only way to prevent leaky teats is to smear colloidal on the end of the teat after each milking. This closes up the opening and before the next milking it must be removed. This is bothersome, but may be used to good advantage where the cow loses a quantity of milk.

WOODPECKER TRANS- FORMED TO BLACKBIRD

A Miracle?—No, Just a Slight Mishap

Nature faking again? Not on your life—this actually happened. Sunday noon, when the much better half of "Scoop," the Courier news-hound, returned from her morning devotions, she noticed a lady-woodpecker, perched on the chimney's edge, cocking her head this way and that and chattering vigorously, while soot bestrewn the roof around the chimney.

On entering the house, a distinct chirp, chirp could be heard in accents of deep distress. Out came the dining-room stove pipe plug, down came the soot, but no presence followed the doleful bleat that told of an imprisoned victim within the wall's black recesses. A liberal use of matches, aided by a flashlight, failed to disclose the whereabouts of the frantic unfortunate but, carefully traced by sound, his position was finally determined in the kitchen pipe. This, of course, had to come down and from one of the sections, hastily yanked apart in the back-yard, dropped a queer creature in the shape of a yearling woodpecker but as black as any blackbird that ever burst from a king's pie or graced the cover of a shoe-paste box. He seemed kind of mad about something and with a few disgusted coughs sailed away into the top of a tall tree, like a sooty comet, without so much as a "thank you." Its a safe bet, though, he won't fool around any more chimneys. Hope to gosh, if he does, it'll be somebody else's chimney next time. Mama Woodpecker, volplaning from the roof-top, joined her erring child and could be heard, shortly, "bawling him out."

Carry a complete line of wrenches in your auto kit. They are always needed in case of break down. We have them. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 31-tf.

HOSPITAL BOARD MEETS AUGUST 15

Report of Year's Work to Be Published Then

The annual meeting of the governing board of the Charlevoix Hospital, which was set for August 1st and held on that date, was adjourned until August 15th.

Nothing of special interest or importance was taken up at the August 1st meeting, as not enough outside members were present to hold an election of officers and it was thought better to adjourn and send out notices to all members of its postponement to the later date.

In the first issue of this paper, following the annual meeting on the 15th, a full and detailed report of the operations and condition, progress, improvements, repairs, etc., for the year of 1923, will appear.

LOST EACH OTHER ON THE WAY HERE

McLeans and Walkers Find Their Host Away

John and Clifford McLean of Cleveland, Ohio, arrived in the city a few days ago to visit their brother, Kenneth McLean, on West Hurlbut Avenue. At Detroit, they picked Kenneth McLean's sister and brother-in-law, C. S. Walker and wife and the two parties proceeded north with the intention of keeping together.

At Lansing, they lost each other and after fruitless hours of search and appeals to the police for help, came on to Charlevoix—the McLean party arriving at 6:30 p. m. and Walker and his wife trailing in at 9:30, only to discover that Kenneth McLean and his wife had gone to Cleveland to see them. So there was nothing to do but wait for their hosts' return and they are now camping out in Kenneth's house waiting for his return.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cork and daughter, Helen, spent Sunday with Oliver Schaeffer and family near Ironton.

Quite a few of our people are busy picking cucumbers these days. They are wishing for rain to help out the crop.

Mrs. A. J. Bolhuis returned from her trip to Holland and Grand Rapids on Monday. She was accompanied by Mr. Bolhuis's mother, Mrs. Vanderdrink, and his sister, Mrs. Karsten, husband and family. Mrs. Bolhuis reports a fine visit, having attended a large family reunion while there.

Mrs. Howard Gornell was much surprised last Thursday evening, when a crowd of relatives came in to remind her of her birthday. Those present were Mrs. Henry Clark and family and George Clark and family. The evening was spent with music and games and a bountiful supper. Needless to say it was an enjoyable time.

PHELPS

Mrs. C. Drost is in the hospital at Petoskey.

Alfred Smith, of Charlevoix, spent a few days at the P. A. Mascho home.

Mrs. Mary Haines was a business caller in East Jordan, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Francisco and son Levi were Sunday dinner guests at the F. Mason home.

Dick O'Neill has charge of the marketing association in the absence of Mr. Timmer.

Friends of Mrs. Sam Straw are glad to know she is slowly on the road to recovery after a long illness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Timmer entertained as their Sunday evening guests, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kass, of Ellsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Mascho attended revival meetings at the Saint's tabernacle near Charlevoix, on Sunday.

Mr. Ball, traveling salesman for the Traverse City Fruit and Produce Co., was a business caller in Phelps Tuesday afternoon.

Wilbur and Leslie Himebauch, accompanied by W. Eastcott, of Ellsworth, drove to Mancelona, Saturday, for huckleberries.

Dr. Edw. Secar and W. E. Fisher, both of La Grange, Ill., who have been camping on Lake 26 for the past three weeks, left for their home Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Maddock and daughters, Mabel, Margaret and Mary, called at the C. Stevens home Sunday. Little Margaret and Mary remained for a few day's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klooster, of Atwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Karsen and children of Holland, were dinner guests at the F. R. Klooster home, Wednesday evening of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Timmer left Wednesday morning for McBaine and Cadillac, where Mr. Timmer goes to attend the manager's annual meeting of the Potato Growers' Exchange.

Little Miss Edith Klooster was an Ellsworth caller Wednesday, where she goes to take music lessons. She was accompanied by her little friend, Maggie Bos, of Barnard, who is visiting her for a few days.

Fred Falting and Dick O'Neill are the ones chosen to serve on the board of directors for the Phelps Marketing Association. Lawrence Boss and Frank Matchett, of Barnard, are the retiring directors.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Klooster and children were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Ed. Boss home in Barnard. In the evening they attended the special services and the Methodist church in Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Horrenga and daughter, Dorothy, took supper at the home of their daughter, Mrs. John Timmer, Wednesday evening of last week. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Louisell and family drove to Bellaire, Sunday, where they visited relatives. Mrs. Louisell's mother, Mrs. Routley, returned to Bellaire with them after a two week's visit with her daughter and family.

NORWOOD

Albert Parsons and family, of Ellsworth, were Sunday visitors in Norwood.

Mrs. Faye Light is spending a few days at her parent's home in Charlevoix.

Harry Pearl, of Chicago, is expected this week to visit Norwood friends.

Albert Hull and wife and Frank Chvatil and family were Sunday visitors at the Bud Hull home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Turner and daughter, Muriel Deloris, from Grand Rapids, are visiting at the Dr. C. W. Hewitt home.

Helen McCall returned to her home in Charlevoix, after a week's visit at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Richardson.

Mr. Gillett, of Ellsworth, did some mason work for J. B. Kirby last week, and this week is plastering some rooms for Merrill Richardson.

Muriel Hewitt entertained nine young people from Charlevoix, Friday evening, and the whole party attended the ice cream social at the town hall.

The ice cream social at the town hall, Friday night, was well patronized. We noticed that nearly all of our summer residents were there, and the Ladies Aid Society netted $23.45. Thank you. Come again.

The Dr. Hewitt property is undergoing extensive repairs with the addition of a wide veranda on the west, bath room, garage, gravel driveway, walks, shade trees, and numerous other improvements, and when completed will be one of the finest summer homes in Norwood.

Why the Good Old Remington Pump Gun Still Outsell all Others

There's a new 20-gauge model, too—the best of the light-gauge guns. See it at your dealer's

ASK any of your friends who shoot a Remington 12-gauge Pump Gun—there are lots of them—what it is that has made this the favorite 12-gauge ever since Remington brought it out in 1900—the first solid-breech hammerless repeating shotgun ever produced.

Or better yet—if he'll let you—borrow his Model 10 and take it out in the fields or down by the water for an afternoon and try it for yourself.

Fire arms experts always comment on the precision and finish of the Model 10—the result of 245 separate inspections in the Remington plant.

And they remark that the receiver is machined out of solid steel—instead of made of stamped steel metal or a cored casting as is done with many shotguns.

But the man who goes out for a day's sport or to get a few ducks or rabbits for supper isn't so apt to say anything about these technical features.

He'll tell you that the Remington Model 10 shoots harder and straighter than any other 12-gauge he ever had in his hands, has an action that never balks or clogs—and seems to get better the longer he uses it.

If you're in line for something specially good in a 20-gauge—

Get your dealer to show you the new Remington Model 17. This is a hammerless, solid-breech pump action, too. Chambered for 2¾ inch shells which gives it the power and range of a 16-gauge. It is comparatively new—but already many old-timers swear by it as a "real man's gun."

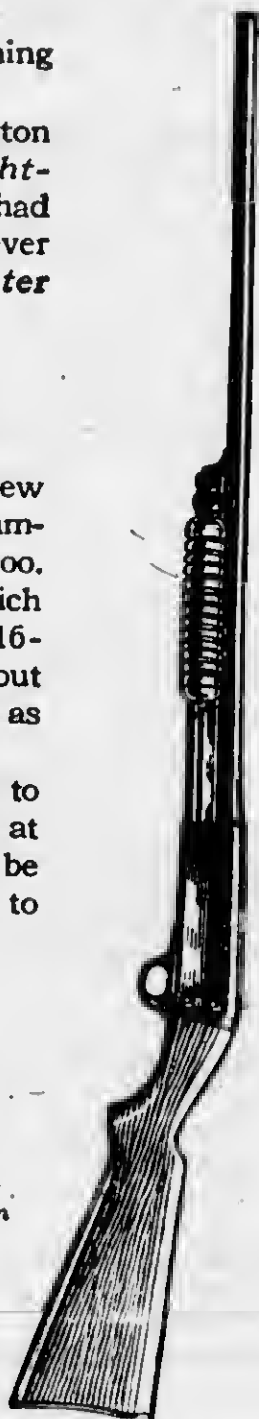

The first time you get a chance go to the gun rack at the store and look at these Remingtons. Your dealer will be glad to tell you anything you want to know about them.

PROTECTS BUYERS OF FARMS

PURCHASERS MAY HAVE LAND EXAMINED

New Certification Act, in Effect August 31st, Will Be Optional

Considerable interest was developed in the recent session of the Michigan state legislature by the proposal for the certification by the State Department of Agriculture of all improved and unimproved land sold in Michigan. As finally passed, the provisions of the act are made entirely optional. The evident purpose of this type of legislation is to protect buyers of Michigan land from misrepresentation of unscrupulous land sharks, and to restore the confidence of the buying public in Michigan real estate.

To Be Handled By Big Men

Administration of this new statute, which will be come effective August 31, is placed in the hands of a three-man commission, composed of L. Whitney Watkins, state commissioner of agriculture, R. S. Shaw, dean of agriculture at M. A. C. and R. A. Smith, state geologist.

The new commission will examine and license the inspectors who will conduct the certification surveys. Any farmer or land owner may secure the services of these approved inspectors, who will examine his land, study the agricultural conditions of the community, and issue a report in which a recommendation is made regarding the agricultural adaptabilities of the land studied, its market conditions, climate, and recreational and tourist possibilities.

Report Is "Checked Up"

This preliminary survey which is paid for directly by the land-owner, is then checked up and verified by an inspector maintained by the state for this purpose. If he approves the report of the first inspectors an inspection certificate is issued, which becomes a legal document and accompanies the deed to the land.

The commission is also empowered to create a list of accredited dealers who agree to confine their selling of improved Michigan lands to lands which have been certified and who agree to conform to the provisions of the act.

Carry a complete line of wrenches in your auto kit. They are always needed in case of break down. We have them. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 31-11.

FAREWELL RECEPTION GIVEN AULD FAMILY

Friends and Neighbors Unite in Good Wishes

A reception was held in the parlors of the M. E. Church here Tuesday evening for Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Auld, who leave today for Eaton Rapids, where they have a farm for which they have traded the Hotel Charlevoix to Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Winder.

The ladies of the church, assisted by members of the Queen Esther Society, conducted a farewell program of speeches and music, after which delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Auld was presented with a beautiful photographic view of Charlevoix and friends and neighbors of the doctor and his wife joined in expressing their regrets at their leaving Charlevoix and wishing them all possible happiness and prosperity in their new venture.
